PURE and safe are the important things about milk. Pasteurization is the only sure method of eliminating harmful germs.

BEST'S EMULSION

is pure, rich cream of unpasteurized milk. It is a delicious food and tonic for children and invalids, and equal of pasteurized milk for infant feeding.

This is the reason why Best's Emulsion is the favorite food of thousands of Alberta babies.

Best's Emulsion is sold by druggists everywhere.

WOOL—Market is dull and unprocessed in condition, but is showing arriving from country points. Jobbers quoting 7c to 8c per lb.

Filling The Cellar With Winter Foods

Ventilation Is an Important Factor In Keeping Fruits and Vegetables

The storing of an adequate supply of fruits and vegetables throughout the winter provides an important source of vitamins, says the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Fruits are also a valuable source of vitamins in this connection.

As a general rule either the old fruit cellar or house cellar is used. Adequate provision should be made for ventilation through the use of wood air ducts and under floor, ventilators could be used. A covering of the compartment of air in connection with under floor, care should be taken to prevent "freezing" air from entering the cellar Care should also be taken to provide all light from the storage cellar.

With apples and pears only the best grades should be stored and the temperature will not fall below 30 degrees F. The cellar should be dry enough so that soil does not stick to the compartment will not fall below 30 degrees F. The cellar should be dry with relatively moist temperature to keep the vegetables from drying out best and should keep the fruit in the splendid shape throughout the winter

For most vegetables the bin with slated slides and bottom, providing both ventilation and drainage, is most desirable Those should be narrow and not too large in size

Many fruits may be when planted with the roots on in sand on the floor of the cellar. Celery may be closely in rows six to eight inches apart.

Cabbage may be treated in the same way as celery but equally good for storing in compartments with slats, with heads placed top down on the slats.

Onions require dry storage at a temperature around 36 degrees to 40 degrees F.

Soil Fertility

The most important problem of the farmer today is the maintenance of the soil on his farm as a productive, fertile medium. In the introductory reports of the Dominion Department of Agriculture final chief are the most efficient methods of the same (the necessary) way to maintain the fertility of the soil is by the use of clover. Clover is the premier of an adequate crop of nitrogen gathering. It receives additional support to the farmer in the majority of cases and only improves the fertility of the soil, but also enables many economies in the use of labor the year round.

Clover is the best of all crops for green manure and assists in weed control.

Farmers throughout Canada are urged to visit the nearest Dominion Experimental Farm or Station where they will see crop rotation at work. They are also urged to consult officials with the object of securing the latest literature dealing with the practical and scientific aspects of crop rotation, which is available to the farmer interested in crop production. Superintendents of the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations will be glad to assist farmers in this matter.

Fall And Spring Hints On Weed Control

This year, where the Stinkweed and the Mustard aberrations have been bad, there is evidence that in many cases been examined to warn the owners or renters that, should the noxious weeds be allowed to go to seed the following year the crop will be ruined.

The purpose of this is to encourage control. Two ways may be used in the fight. Spring one but October 1st individuals is advisable a summerfallow next year

Following are the control measures, now going on round the country, the Manitoba and other Local (which this) necessarily modified.

The cultivate a the October and fall thus giving the seeds an opportunity to germinate early Disc or cultivate before frozen-up, thus destroying them before they have germinated and germinating others to germinate first thing in the spring Cultivate before seeding and taking another crop of annual weeds. Sometimes more weeds appear but not the grain gets up which may be destroyed by a light harrowing when the grain is from 3 inches to 4 inches high. Care should be used it may make the grain look sick at the time but the increased yield this crop will more than offset. Mowing make it a paying proposition. Sometimes, however, is intelligently carried out, clumps prevent any destruction of the crop large part of the weed infestation.

Fall cultivation is also a paying proposition where the land is to be commercialized the following year. There is also a tendency to neglect the summerfallow during the hot weather which results in the weeds going to seed and a large infestation in the crop the following year. A little forethought and timely work is considered trouble and makes for more profitable farming.

Keep the weeds in hand is better than seeking for a cleaner

BOOKS OF GANGSTER REVEAL MANY CRIMES

When a great conversationalist is the guest of honor at a dinner party and is expected to "say something" he usually has memorized at least a dozen stories that he never tells more than once. Or he has a few choice bits of information that he manages to work into every conversation. As for me, I always have found it easy to talk about books. For a number of years I have been collecting books about crime. Not books of fiction, but books of fact. Books written by men who have been in the thick of the fight against crime. Books written by men who have been on both sides of the fence. Books written by men who have been behind the bars as well as by men who have been behind the badges.

Why I have collected these books is more than I can explain. Perhaps it is because I have always been interested in the study of human nature. Perhaps it is because I have always been interested in the study of crime. Perhaps it is because I have always been interested in the study of criminals. Whatever the reason, I have a fairly complete collection of books about crime. I have books about the old-time criminals and books about the new-time criminals. I have books about the criminals of the past and books about the criminals of the present. I have books about criminals in every walk of life. I have books about criminals in every part of the world.

Of course, I have books about Al Capone. I have books about Frankie Yale, Johnny Torrio, Hymie Weiss, Bugs Moran, Dion O'Banion, Schemer Drucci, Terry Druggan, Frankie Lake, Joe Aiello, Tony Lombardo, Samuzzo Amatuna, Joe Saltis, Frankie Rio, Machine Gun Jack McGurn, Fred Burke, Gus Winkler, Albert Anselmi, John Scalise, Phil D'Andrea, Claude Maddox, Jack Zuta, Leo Brothers, Ralph Sheldon, Tommy Maloy, Ted Newberry, Jack Klutas, Ed Hanley, Ed Gusenberg, Pete Gusenberg, Frank Gusenberg, Adam Heyer, Willie Heyer, Willie Marfeo, Peter Gentleman, Joe Gentleman, Jim Gentleman, Frankie Foster, Frankie Gusenberg, Frankie Gusenberg, Frankie Gusenberg

Golf Tournament At Jasper

Nearly two hundred golfers of golf tournament at Jasper Park Lodge had come up to spend the three days' 150 men in all, to take part in the tournament. This is the largest attendance at any golf tournament in the history of the game. The tournament, but the success of the tournament was not limited to the golfers themselves. The wives and friends of the golfers were also present in large numbers, and the whole affair was a most enjoyable one. Many of the golfers brought their wives with them, and the additional number of guests who were present made the tournament a most successful one. The golfers were housed in the Lodge and Chalets, and the wives and friends were taken care of in the cottages and bungalows. The golfers were also entertained at the Lodge during the evenings

SECOND DAY

Afternoon—Unusual Specialties—Lowell Patton Artists.

Evening—Concert—Lowell Patton Artists.

That indomitable Lowell Patton, pianist, composer and interpreter of life and moods, is to appear this season with the Lowell Patton Artists, is considered news for his many admirers and will prove a delightful experience for those who are to hear him for the first time Lowell Patton's musicianship and artistry developed in the best European conservatories, imported with a real talent of his associate artists, assures a remarkable musical entertainment.

Esther Denham, well-known entertainer of the Lowell Patton Artists, will be a delightful member of the Lowell Patton Artists. With a thorough knowledge of communities and audiences, and with a personality that wins friendship, she will meet exacting surveys with ease. Her readings are selected from the beautiful quality of her voice lends her music a joy to all.

The program within this fine group of artists will present here Canadian melodies of unusual charm a variety of selection which cannot be pleased the most critical.

The latest at Prewett Sewell on his concert tour through Canada is an event hailed with delight by his many lovers. The charm of his personality and the brilliance of his artistry were first recognized by the Canadian Pacific conservatory, but during the last few years his reputation has been definitely established abroad.

His program will include those selections from the realms of operatic, oratorio and concert music on which his fame has been built.

THIRD DAY

Afternoon—Gala Entertainment—"The Blue Tambourine Serenaders" Evening—Musical Evening—Dramatic Reading and a Lecture—"The Inexhaustible Lie"—Private Paul.

Jays—Bayne is a little country lying on the Bow-ow Peninsula, south of Italy and south of Hungary with a population of about twelve million.

The Tambourine has been the source of much amusement to the Jays—Bayne for generations. It is sometimes similar to our mandolin or guitar but has much more resonance of tone and is especially adapted to orchestra work. It was pioneered by the accomplished Herr Hoffa and was later perfected by a great musician.

His Blue Symphonic Serenaders are natives of Jays—Bayne and appear in their native costumes, presenting a program of native gaiety, song and story, as well as childhood games and classical numbers of their country.

Charles Elias, humorist and dialectician, is this entertainer at his completest. Possessed of a rich, resonant baritone voice, and with a back in Europe and this country and will remember some of his own comedy numbers, he has created.

Private Harold R. Peat, pianist of the third evening—

Private Harold R. Peat, pianist whose name and genius is delightfully known as "Private Paul," lecturer, writer and brilliant student of world politics, speaks upon the most interwoven subjects before the most cultured audiences with delightful grace and ease.

"The world has begun to think in terms of permanent peace instead of in terms of the next war," declares Sammy MacDonald, Britain's Labor member of the House of Commons in an interview in the Toronto Evening Post. The great source of hope for world peace, he declares, is found in the fact that every important man in the world is willing to say on the foundation of world-peace is based upon the Kellogg-Briand pact.

Private Paul is a keen observer of many men and many things. He has seen front during the war, published his war book "Private Paul" and gave it a sardonic everything but a great future on his personal fighting experiences he has been a notable figure.

EMPLOYMENT HERE BY LOCAL MOVEMENT OF CANADIAN CHAMS

Ottawa—It is estimated that at least 1,000 Great Lake Sailors and an undetermined number of shoreworkers employees are out of work this season through the failure to reactivate the Canadian wheat crop. About 15 Great Lakes boats and 25 canal vessels owned by Canadian interests have remained tied up for the season for lack of wheat cargoes. Quite a number of men are getting only part-time payment and employment is in the case of many of these activities. Due to the fact that crews are laid off on each trip from Port Colborne to Montreal because of inability to secure elevator space to discharge cargoes at the latter, the delay sometimes amounting to fifteen days.

OBITUARY

DAVID WALKER DOUGLAS

On Friday morning about 11:30 o'clock, there passed away at his late residence in Stettler, David Walker Douglas, aged 72 years. Mr. Douglas was born in Ontario and moved to the Western district from Brantford, Manitoba in 1911 from where he moved to Alberta in 1917. Deceased was a man of sterling and honorable character, a kind husband and father and a friend to all who knew him.

Nearly two years ago he was stricken with paralysis of the left arm. This brought nearly complete helplessness and he suffered a second stroke about one and a half years before death came. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Sterling Cemetery. In the church the services were conducted by Rev. Wm. Peat, the United Church minister. At the grave the Masons had charge and the beautiful Masonic burial service was read. The pall bearers were members of the Masonic lodge and were T. J. Elliott, A. J. Allcutt, J. Barkland, C. A. Hastings, Wm. Smith, Junior and S. Mason. The crowd at the funeral was so great that many could not get into the church and had to stand in the cold.

In addition to a very large circle of friends there are left to mourn their loss, Mrs. Douglas, three sons and two daughters. Claude, Al. E. and Chester, Mrs. Harold of Stettler and Mrs. Shearer of Wheatlow. All five children are married. The deceased family have the sympathy of a host of friends and acquaintances.—Independent Herald.

Telegraph Used For Crime For The First Time In 1846

On the evening of New Year's Day, 1846, someone was heard coming from a cottage at Bath Hill Point, on the Severn, where land is no object, cottage at once set out into her cousin's with a lighted candle in her hand, and saw a man entering away from her west-end cottage, followed in the possible action which was enforced by members of the Society of Friends.

Other people came, informed by the cries, and on entering the cottage found its occupant, a woman named Sarah Hart, dying apparently from the effects of some powerful poison. She was but for some to name or describe her assailant.

Among those who had gathered at the cottage was a clergyman and, hearing this, the supposed murderer had been seen to go in the direction of Slimbridge, he hurried off to Slimbridge, and one met him in time to get a man in Quedgley answer came a hurry-cabs passage as the train passed off in the direction of London.

At late time the wires of the new electric telegraph had just been laid between Slough and Paddington. These and the booking clerk to whom the communication was addressed, and he sent the following "message through to Paddington.

A murder has just been committed at Bath Hill and the suspected murderer came on to take a first-class ticket for London by the train which left Gloucester at 7p. 45m. p.m. He is in the garb of a Quaker with a brown greatcoat on which reaches nearly down to his feet. He is in the last compartment of the second first-class carriage." Then the clerk waited

Some time afterwards the following reply was received from Paddington "The up train has arrived and a person answering to that description gave up the telegraph came out of the carriage mentioned. I pointed the man out to Sergeant Williams. The man got into a first-class smoking carriage. Williams took the same carriage with the murderer."

When the accused arrived at the head the quaker got out, crossed over, and looked about for some time as if he was whether he was being followed. He then went towards London Bridge, which he crossed, and entered a coffee house on the Borough. After a short stay he returned to the city, and on entering a lodginghouse was a recognized by a policeman, to whom he had been identified and convicted. In due course he was executed.

They wonder was the very first occasion on which the electric telegraph was used for the capture of a criminal.

Sixty-five years later Dr Crippen another murderer, was captured through the first use of wireless telegraphy for such a purpose.

Fascinating Links In Canada's History

Although the Dominion Archives at Ottawa do not collect either documents or relics, they have quite a large collection of very interesting material that are on the public record. In this large class must be a collection of documents, presented to the Archives by J. A. Matheson of London, England, as being of personal interest to the Canadian people. These documents all belonged to Benjamin Chaney, Lieutenant Colonel, R.E. the first Canadian to receive the Victoria Cross.

Benjamin Chaney Crane occupies the central position in this frame and his name is one which has never before won the famous V C it is most inspiring. It is a mellow even of humour and true regimental enemy game, and is about as much and a half inches long by about half as wide. The centre contains a portrait, under a scroll by the army" each of which is the proper length of time. The engraver of the jockey club—the Sandringham Club—and the inscription is too long and interesting for reproduction. The inscription on the reverse is also interesting, but this type of curving seems for long.

Rare—bears are scarcely the word and they are hardly worth a passing efficiency that the efforts of the even small organization, and the their highly-strung organisms become evident at once to a stranger observer.

Yet cases of duping are not unknown. Some years ago Lord Cecil Q. Lambton for many years trainer to Lord Derby and an acknowledged authority on the horse, was involved in his head, "Sire and Sons" and "Horse Breeding" In this book, he says, it began to be a serious menace to horse-racing, and by 1913 it had become rife.

Horses which were obvious "wasters" with the most glaring faults, and their eyes starting out of their heads" were

Mr Lambton's attention was drawn to the purchase by a friend of a horse which, after winning a race, dashed madly into a stone wall and killed itself. In the first matter before a steward of the jockey club, he was asked his professional view of it Mr Lambton said that it showed "signs" in his stable of the same kind that led afterwards that he intended to dope them, so that they would run to themselves what the results were

"The first horse I doped," describes Mr Lambton, "was a chestnut gelding called Palestine I sent him to Newmarket where he ran last a field of fourteen very easily and nearly tore round the course a second time before he was pulled up. I paid him up. He won a race upon the next day and was sold to a dealer, who ran him again.

"I had told my brother Lieut Colonel Dartnell what I was doing, much as I disliked the deceit that it involved, and he backed a horse of mine for a big race. Fortune In Alimony Paid At Hollywood

Some optimists lamented but most applauded the decision of Mrs. Adah (Sunny) B. Ince when in recent bouncer divorce court to the commissioner in the action award that commissioner and bungalow in Los Angeles were probably. Why they are reminded and why the crowd cheered are generally dull. Do not require explanation nor is there agreed that a consideration of one of the greatest of American comics, especially the enforcement of alimony. We believe that the boys of California do not make any imposed distinction between a woman who is bound to have broken her marriage vows and is therefore liable to divorce and an embittered woman of whom her husband has merely tired and who seeks to end the night bond that chains them. In either case the judge who dissolves the union is generally pretty liberal in his views about alimony. He does not usually consider the moral right of the husband to alimony but the fact that the husband's fortune may have been augmented wholly or in part by the efforts of his own industry and ability. He merely reimburses the wife for the husband has taken much it will take for the divorced wife to live in the style in which she has been accustomed to her indulgent husband. The judge, in addition to gently counsel husband and wife to bind together in love and it is the business of the husband to dig it up. If he happens to fall on evil days that he merely his individual hard luck which it would be unreasonable to expect his former wife to share by either pays or he goes to jail or manages to raise more combined money.

The other day, according to a despatch in the New York World by A. L. Wooldridge, Charlie Chaplin got at a desk in his studio and paid out at 11 little slip of paper paper. I reminded him a much more serious slip, to wit, his halfway to the court with Lita Grey. It was a cheque drawn out to her for the sum of $625,000 and represented the second of a cash settlement of $825,000 which she wrung out of him. For over two years he will be required to pay her $1,000 a month. After this which he will establish for her a trust fund of $250,000 and the check will be wiped clean. He will not care her any money then. Thus the wife for less than two years and child will have cost him $625,000 in addition to the money he insisted on her while they were

The Annual Doll Contest

Starts Saturday, October 18th

The 6th annual Doll Contest, sponsored by the Stettler Independent will commence next Saturday October 11th and will continue until the New Year. The Independent has reserved many inquiries about the start of the Contest, showing that the interest in the competition is as keen as it has ever been and we expect that this year will be the largest competition of the series.

The doll that The Independent is putting up this year will be even better than in former years While the times are not good The Independent is going forward instead of backward and the doll offered will be better than before It is the more handsomely dressed than before and will have the permanent wave in it.

Records books may be obtained at The Independent Office on Friday of this week and these books will also be sent out to those who phone or write for them. Over 1000 subscribers on our list will be receiving their subscriptions this fall and this fact offers an unsurpassed opportunity to all girls who wish to obtain them through securing subscription contest The doll offered is ten dollars in cash. They cannot get it elsewhere except by paying a big price and that is required to obtain it from The Independent is a little work

The subscribers who put two receipts on their subscriptions paid in full from the completion of the money received and the other from The Independent giving the date to which the subscription is paid up to. This office is sending out subscription books to all canvassers showing them how they stand at this office and we feel that each subscriber will be glad to have his subscription paid and give some one the benefit of a doll at the same time

Work Commences On Relief Program

Start Extensions Stettler to Castor And Monarch to Delia

Work is already beginning on the highway construction arranged for under the federal and provincial scheme and two pieces of road are being put immediately under way they are an extension from Stettler to Castor about 30 miles and Monarch to Delia 20 miles.

Both projects will be standard with grading following new location for part of the distance and will be constructed in accordance with the usual methods of the highways branch, in readiness for graveling at a later date. Engineers have been sent to by out the routes and construction operations will begin in the next few days It is hoped to complete the work this fall before the frost.

In both cases the work is to be done by the department of public works and the men employed will be engaged from the list of names being revised requirement Experienced men will be employed for supervision purposes but all the labor will be done by local settlers in the district. Very many men will thus be given employment and the money will be spent in the local merchants in need of it.

On October 30th, there will be another Parents meeting at which some of the Grade IX. pupils will declare some of the wonders of the mental world in which they live. They will do more than this they will perform miracles before the very eyes of us by commanding the forces of nature to work their wishes. One lad is prepared to show that water will run against gravity, that it will turn red at his command that he can freeze in his his breath then heat it and drink it while it is boiling No? Well, a couple of pupils can do almost anything At this meeting Mr Gish will speak to the parents on —

What are our High School Boys and Girls Thinking About?

Then of course the climax of this year will be the Christmas Concert by the Stettler Public and High Schools DeMaine arrangements have been made for the Stettler Theatre for the nights of Monday, December 22nd, Tuesday, December 23rd and Wednesday December 24th. Every pupil in the public school and every student in the high school will do his part to make this School Concert a treat for the lovers of music and art in this community We feel confident that the Stettler school has sufficient talent to produce the best type of Christmas and Holiday Programme.

NOTE—Mr Gish wishes to suggest to the parents that he is particularly anxious to have all the high school pupils present at the Halloween Party since this is being planned for the enjoyment of the high school as a whole and not for any particular set or clique The party will be carefully supervised and we are sure that all will have a good time These pupils who find it difficult to bear their part of the expense of the party are requested to see the Principal who will arrange matters for them. This is a party for all the students. Outsiders are not invited.)

SOME GOOD THINGS COMING

(By W. E. Gish)

Those of our students who are interested in the Easter Ball Tournament to be held in Stettler on October 20th, are coming to life in their effort to train to a point which will place them in the finals at least. Practice games with the neighboring towns are being arranged for and the girls of Grade IX. pupil on Cameron team one of these nights have Basket Ball fever. Watch for our bawls announcing this game and come over to the High and give us a cheer.

Then on the night of October 31 there's going to be a revival of Hallowe'en Party by the High School students which will eclipse the memories of any other party staged by those who have nothing to do but busy themselves 'till closing gates, etc We don't wish to mention any names in particular at this time, but we may say that we overheard one Stettler doctor that if she could get to the party that she would most certainly remove at least one of her goodness two Well, we hope that she will get a certain amount of assistance in relieving the pain part of its responsibility, but why not invite her to the party and let her have a real time and forget such trivialities.

Another move by the students of the Stettler High School will be a Parents meeting at which Principal Gish will address the parents on the subject "Canadianization" and some of the Grade IX. pupils will declare some of the wonders of the

The Building Of The Insect World

By S. Butler

(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)

A strange "insect zoo" was established recently in England. The superintendent reports in charge of it spend their time caring for advice of their sick ant-hogged soldiers—animals that prey upon other insects destructive to growing crops. These insect-eaters are being shipped to different parts of the Empire to aid the farmers.

In California a similar experiment is going on. Dr. Stanley E. Flanders, of the University of California, is breeding billions of gnat-sized members of the wasp family, which lay their eggs within the larger eggs of other insects, particularly those of harmful moths. The wasp larva after it hatches, grows within the egg, destroying the moth that was to emerge. In answer to a rush order not long ago, Dr. Flanders sent 100,000 of the microscopic wasp eggs across the continent by air mail. They made the journey in a small tin can.

Among the enemies of injurious farm pests is the most ceaseless builder of the insect world, a dauber and grange builder who wings called the digger wasp. It will attack other insects a dozen times its size and even makes a fearless onslaught upon the tarantula, the giant spider found in the hotter west, thereby earning the name of "tarantula hawk."

This moth-long wasp with threadlike waist and orange wings is a real friend of man for the chief object of its attack are destructive members of the insect world, a dauber and grange builder who wings called the digger wasp. It will attack other insects a dozen times its size and even makes a fearless onslaught upon the tarantula, the giant spider found in the hotter west, thereby earning the name of "tarantula hawk."

Two or three days after the nest is sealed, the larvae hatches and consumes the caterpillars and then spins a pale yellowish cocoon in which it rests until the following June, when it emerges as a wasp. Before this it has paralyzed the caterpillars with the sting of a gramophone-like horn, and then stores them away in the underground nest, much as a bee stores honey for its young. During this period the wasps mate. In July the females start digging their underground nests.

In years when the rainy "seven-year locusts" or cicadas, are plentiful, they are often used by the wasps in place of the caterpillars. If these insects, far heavier than their captors, are found at any distance from the burrows, they are carried to the nest by a series of ingenious maneuvers. The wasp drags the body of the paralyzed insect a few inches, and launches in a long like dashes that confuse its adversary. The spider strikes out again and again missing each time. At last it tires, leaves an opening, and the wasp, one-sixth its size, dashes in. One plunge of its powerful stinger and the battle is over.

However it is not in such deadly gladiatorial contests, but in its steady attack upon cutworms and garden pests, that the wasp proves a friend to farmers. Experiments within laboratory walls, if such tests succeed regardless of the blue and orange builders will be sent from the insect army now forth to join the fighting forces.

CUTCY AGAINST THE DUMPING OF RUSSIAN WHEAT

London, England: Wheat will play possibly a dominant part at the Imperial Conference discussions. The dumping of Russian wheat protected under conditions of semi-serfdom has raised an outcry not only in the English market but across the western states of Europe.

In Italy, since the movement for wider Empire preference started, the Italian government would be pleased to impose a duty on foreign wheat. The Five Twelve and Five Powder such as Rt Hon Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Rt Hon. William Graham, president of the board of Trade are much at the economic helm at Downing Street.

The Rt Hon J H Thomas, secretary of State for the Dominions has a counter scheme which would accord preference by way of the state purchase But although Mr Thomas has not divulged the details of his plan it is meeting strenuous criticism on the ground that it will increase the price of food.

The Daily Herald, Labor organ, dismisses the outcry against the dumping of Russian wheat as a political stunt.

In regard to the conference on Dominion legislation, whose report comes up for consideration at the Imperial Conference, Mackenzie King, Canadian remarks that its findings as a whole, will doubtless be adopted without much difficulty.

"The right of the British Government to declare or reserve Dominion legislation has become purely theoretical and the recommendation that it should finally be abolished is not likely to be disputed" says the Guardian.

"It is well, however, to recognize that this means that minorities such as the Eastern Loyalists in Ireland and the native groups actually within the Union of South Africa, can no longer, even in theory, look to Britain for protection."

"That Dominion legislation should have extra-territorial validity is also a necessary and desirable result of equality Difficult questions arise such as the authority of a merchant shipping legislation within the Empire, but this will be of the greatest value.

"It is therefore much more than the mere mistake, asserts its defender to fly its own flag to the extinction of one which marks it as a member of the British Commonwealth, there will be no thunder from Whitehall to deny its right to do so."

The Guardian believes, however, that if the test actually came the practical convenience is of flying a flag which the Brit de Navy would recognize and protect would likely weigh heavily against the luxury of asserting undisputed independence.

Regarding the much-discussed abolition of dominion appeals to the judicial committee of the Privy Council, the Guardian remarks that those who are alarmed to hear talk of abolishing the tribunal's functions may be comforted by the fact that the need for some final inter-imperial court is recognized even by those dominions which have taken the most pleasure in flouting the authority of the present one.

DEFENCE UNDER THE TORY

Right now a great hoax is in the making, out in the woods. It is known as the winter butterfly hoax. The last hatchings of the butterfly brood, notably the Camberwell Beauty, the Painted Lady and the Red Admiral species are filling their peaceful ways from one fall flower to another When the severe frosts come these graceful insects hurry into the first shelter they can find. A lot are caught in the supposed refugee and die, but others manage to hold on comfortably to life in warmer nooks. Then, sometime in late January or in early February we have a soft spell and some warm days. The

SIGNPOSTING, THE SCENIC ADVANTAGES OF ALBERTA'S HIGHWAYS—LOCATING FILLING STATIONS, REFRESHMENT BOOTHS.

More exasperation to the eye than advertising signs may be inflicted upon the motorist is hard and possible. Unless are not always built in accordance with customers wishes or attractively with graphic taste. Most letters are lacking in care and in proper pronunciation and in the 2500 miles of main highways of the province outside of the cities there are only a few instances where the design of filling stations, camps or refreshment booths must be approved. Nor can any new private structure be raised in the vicinity of these main highways [illegible] Provisions supplementary to sanitary regulations already in force are also included in regard to food and camps. The general object of the regulations in regard to such public conveniences are not to prohibit, but to assist in co-operation with the owners in making their buildings and equipment more attractive to the public and hence more commensurate to the scene humanity.

The regulations which should maintain traffic safety conveniences and amenity read in part

On any declared main highway the design, location and construction of any building or part thereof, which is or is intended to be [illegible] filling station, [illegible] store and or any station or for the purpose of supplying tourists with refreshment, shall be subject to the approval of the Town and Rural Planning Advisory Board and all applications for the approval shall be submitted to the Director of Town Planning, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

Plans, designs and specifications are to be furnished with the application forms, and a yearly license fee is also required.

COSTS FLOATING TO BRIDGE THE ST. LAWRENCE EAST OF MONTREAL

Ottawa.—A dredging concern of Montreal has obtained a contract from the Dominion Government for the dredging of the ship channel in the St. Lawrence river between Montreal and Quebec to a depth of 35 feet at a cost of about $7,500,000.

Some 1,000 horsepower will be developed on the new dredge from 4 Diesel engines of eight cylinders in connection with a generator of 600 k.w., 220 volts and in addition auxiliary generator sets will develop 90 horsepower.

MILK PROTEIN CONTENT OF WESTERN WHEAT REVEALED IN TESTS JUST COMPLETED

Canada's current wheat crop has a very high protein quality of grade and shows higher gluten content than previous crops of the past three years, it is revealed in tests just completed by the Canadian Grain Commission.

Result of the tests conducted by F J Sherland, commission chemist at Winnipeg, were reported recently to F O T Officer, deputy minister of trade and commerce Summing up, it may be stated the general baking quality of the present crop is fully equal, if not superior to that of any crop that since inception of the commission laboratory in 1913 was the record.

The quality of the present crop is excellent and the average protein of 14.4 per cent obtained very favorably with that found in previous years Mr Sherland reports. The average for 1929 was 13.5 per cent for 1928 was 12.3 per cent, and for 1927 was 13.4 per cent.

The high protein content of cereals is quality, the unusual dryness of the summer in the northern half of the province. Protein is the quality of this year's crop should be of special interest per tically to the millers of Ontario and France and Germany since the crops of these countries are reported to be suffering severely from the effect of excessive moisture with consequent damage to the quality of the grain

"Over 50 percent of the crop received to date in Winnipeg this year, graded either No 1 Hard or No. 1 Northern, 25 per cent graded No 2 Northern and only three per cent No. 3 Northern. Over 20 per cent graded No. 2 Northern or lower is being received at the present time Practically no tough or damp cars have been received

Dear Sirs,
Before buying the first pair of your Stop-Loss Socks two years ago, I figure I have saved nearly $20.00 in socks alone, and since I have on my own account or part of photo every two weeks I have been sent on the job and style counters.

Going to town one day in the car I had to get out to fix it and in my absence my pants and trousers were gone. I had to walk back a mile in a muddy road and secure a pair from [illegible] to get home. Now, I am sure to find a pair of your Stop-Loss Socks in my pocket and I have never lost yet. SECOND DAY

Afternoon—Pictorial Specialties—Lowell Patton Artists.

Evening—Gospel Concert—Lowell Patton Artists.

That inimitable Lowell Patton pianist, composer and interpreter of life and moods is to appear this season with the Lowell Patton Artists in a re-created form for his many followers and will prove a delightful experience for those who are near him for the first time. Lowell Patton's musicianship and artistry developed in the best European conservatories, together with the real talent of his romantic artistic nature a remarkable musical entertainment.

Eddie Dunham well-known entertainer supreme in a brilliant manner of the Lowell Patton Artists. With a limpid voice of astonishing purity and flexibility, she sings the most exacting operatic arias with ease. Her finished technique and the beautiful quality of her voice make her many a joy to all.

The program which this fine group of artists will present here contains freshness of thought and a variety of selection which are sure to please the most critical.

The return of Frederick Newell as his concert tour through Canada is an event hailed with delight by all music lovers. The charm of his personality and the brilliance of his artistry were first recognized by his Canadian fellow countrymen, but during the last few years his reputation has been definitely established abroad.

His program will include those selections from the realms of operatic, romantic and concert music in which his fame has been built.

THIRD DAY

Afternoon—Gala Entertainment—The Elias Tumbertim Serenaders—Evening—Grand Concert—The Elias Serenaders and a Lecture—The Inscrutable Lie—Private Peat.

Pogo-Slavia is a little country between the Italian Riviera—a country of Italy and south of Hungary with a population of about twenty-six millions.

The Tumbertim has been the household instrument of music of the Pogo-Slave for generations. It is something similar to our mandolin or guitar but has much more sweetness of tone and is capably adapted to classical work. It is introduced by the shepherds wandering their flocks and from later generations by a proud musician.

The Elias Tumbertim Serenaders are natives of Pogo-Slavia and appear on their native instruments, producing a programme of native music, song and story, as well as standard popular and classical numbers of their own.

Charles Elias, manager and director of this company is an accomplished musician, teacher and composer, but his greatest interest is both in lineage and this country and will include some of his own compositions on the program.

BYEMOOR NEWS

The September meeting of the Byemoor Women's Institute was held in the Parish Hall the usual Saturday in the month meeting to the preliminary business of which there was not so large as usual.

The minutes of the August meeting were read and discussed for the benefit of absent members who were away and their business at the time.

The report of the Committee of the Evening Class was given. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. J. McDonald for the splendid help he gave us in arranging tables, etc.

Discussion regarding the making of a quilt to be sold at the coming bazaars in December.

The idea of putting on a play this fall was also discussed and it was decided to another having a play until spring but to put on a vaudeville entertainment.

It is of unlimited business that we cleaned up at this meeting Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Mitchell each one gave a very interesting account of Passing of the Women's Institute by Captain Burnett, author, and his lectures on Prison Reform. It is attractive as possible for both speaker and hostess. Miss Dorset The best wishes of the parishioners go with her for Mrs Irvin in their new home

There was a nice attendance at the Church service on Sunday. The weather being exceptionally fine. The choir of the country members drove in. Mr Irvin gave a very spirited and uplifting address, the singing at these services is greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Joseph Lee has returned last week from Bishop Sherman of Calgary where he was confirmed. There will be a Confirmation service held in the Stanley Hall at 11 30 a.m. Sunday October 19th when the Bishop will also give an address on the Church and Confirmation.

Don't forget the Spencer Chautauqua on October 11th 13th, 14th and 15th. First performance on Saturday at 8 p.m.—a play by the Martin Erwin Players.

Owing to the recent showers and frosty mornings the threshing is now resting on its every way.

Mrs. Irvin and family were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robin of Gough Lake on Thursday.

Mrs. D. Ferguson is spending a few days on the farm with her daughter Miss Marjorie Ferguson, during the illness of mother.

Mrs. Taylor of Davenport, Wash. who has been a visitor at the home of her son H. D. Heath, since spring left for her home on Saturday. Her grandson taking her as far as Calgary.

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Its value has never without a family. Every user is a friend. Every friend uses it when in need. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or sometimes is relieved, or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable preparation; a baby cannot be harmed by it. Children is about the only medicine we give to children. Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; is economical, and for everyday ailments of young and old is unequalled. Sold everywhere. NASH

Announces . . .

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so astonishingly low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Its low non-productive overhead, its elimination of borrowed capital, and remarkably farsighted manufacturing alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little.

The unique example in value-giving thus provided the industry was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing now remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!

Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of 1930 in truck engineering—the new Six—with the Six you have been using. Note its offers a multitude of superiorities—at prices which range from $200 to $400 below the leaders of the Single Six.

Body Style	The New Eight	Last Year's Eight
Sedan (4-door)	$1790	$1890
Coupe	1760	1860
Coupe (rumble seat)	1795	1895
Town Sedan (4-door)	1820	1920

Compare the New Eight-70 with the next additional cylinders, at largest added class. In larger, more luxurious body, with the six-cylinder car 2 cylinders. Then consider the remarkable fact that above is actually a basic price differential in favor of the new Eight.

Body Style	The New Eight-70	Last Year's Six	Price Difference
Sedan (4-door)	$1585	$1690	$105
Coupe	1515	1690	$175
Coupe (rumble seat)	1560	1690	$130
Sedan (2-door)	1575	1690	$115

Compare the New Six with the next additional cylinders, at largest added class. In larger, more luxurious body, with the six-cylinder car 2 cylinders. Then consider the remarkable fact that above is actually a basic price differential in favor of the new Eight.

Body Style	The New Eight-70	Last Year's Six	Price Difference

THE VALLEY BASINS

A definite plan of feeding is necessary to insure best results from laying pullets, Poultry expert of the Dominion Department of Agriculture advises The well balanced ration includes scratch grain, mash, green feed, grit, shell, certain supplementary vitamin foods, and plenty of fresh, clean water There are, however, a wide variety of materials which go to make up this ration Home mixing of suitable formulae is recommended Wheat, oats and corn or barley go into the making of a good mash Fifteen per cent of meat scrap, one per cent of salt, and an equal quantity of cod liver oil, should be mixed in a Grit and oyster shell should be available in hoppers at all times Alfalfa, clover or cabbage make excellent green foods and where these are not available Alfalfa leaf meal may be used Raw potatoes, field carrots and mangels make succulent supplementary feeds The feeding of cod liver oil supplies the vitamin D which is necessary to growth.

FARM NEWS

THREE BASIC PRINCIPLES

Speaking at the Canadian National Exhibition, Mr. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, named three essentials for the improvement of farming as he addressed them. First, the use of better blood in breeding stock to produce better results from other same work and the same amount of feed. Second, more scientific feeding and where possible the purchase of cheaper feeds of equivalent value, and thirdly the development of more highly specialized marketing, discussing the spread between producer and consumer and showing the best quality at a small cost included to develop a dependable reputation for quality produced. He further urged the farmer to co-operate, share and ever possible and the exercise of greater business and co-operative thought in relation to farm problems.

IMPORTS BARRED

Owing to the existence of foot and mouth disease in Great Britain, an order had been issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa that all cattle, sheep, goats, swine, fresh meat, hay, straw, chaff, bran, shorts, or other unmanufactured animal foods, or fodder, or litter, or any articles likely to convey infection or contagion, from Great Britain are embargoed, with the exception of those certain shipments which are at the date of this notice embarked on vessels en route to Canada. The order is dated September 18th.

MORE CROP COSTS

The annual report of the Experimental Stations of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, mentions B. C., provides some interesting acreages on crop costs.

Potatoes cost $52.50 per acre to produce, gave a yield of 5.5 tons, and sold at $282.00, a per acre profit of $229.50.

Potatoes cost $170.10 per acre to grow, gave a yield of 12.1 tons which at $5 per ton amounted to $60.50, a loss of $4.80 per acre.

Peas cost $30.00 per acre to grow, yielded 66 bushels of grain and 2.2 tons of straw valued at $132.20, a profit of $75.80 per acre. The peas were worth $2.50 per bushel and the straw $4 per ton.

Oats cost $27.77 per acre and with a yield of 88 bushels of grain and 1.2 tons of straw gave a value of $66.00 or a profit per acre of $10.84.

CROP FIGURES REVIEWED

The September survey of conditions throughout Canada in the fruit industry in the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows apple crop prospects to be 75.3 per cent of 1928, and 289.4 per cent above the five year average. Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick are all considerably "off" in production prospects—the most serious shortage being that of Ontario, where more than four years' average Weather conditions generally have not been ideal in Ontario and the general lack of rainfall has reduced the growth. All the same tender and pome have been kept in check and there has been no serious outbreak of apple scab. The pear crop is substantially ahead of last year and the peach crop while lighter than expected, will be well ahead of 1929 Plums and prunes in Ontario show a slight increase while the British Columbia production is shown by 87 per cent. Grapes will be about the same as last year

FALL DOWN ON PACKING

The quality of Canadian fruits and vegetables is undoubtedly better than the great bulk of those imported but we certainly fall down on our grading and packing in the estimation of a distinguished authority used by the Canadian Horticultural General Greene and shippers of fruits who visit commissioners follow the Dominion Government of the Fruit Act and Vegetables Act will give little cause for complaint in the connection the shipping point inspection service of the Dominion Branch is an invaluable one.

WINTERING BEES

The three essentials to the successful wintering of bees are a suitable queen during August and September plenty of winter food, and proper protection from the rigors of winter. Queens should be young bees, well fed and adequately protected are the best assurance one can have for a good crop of honey next summer, is the opinion of observation of C B Gooderham expert of the Dominion Department of Agriculture

EDGE FALL PLOWING

As the one effective measure at this season of the year which will assist in the control and eradication of a whole grub outbreak of serious proportion in Eastern Ontario, the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture urge fall plowing and fireburned during the month of August. Plowing helps to break up the grub cells, exposes them to attack by natural enemies such as the

BUSINESS IS GOOD

Every Albertan knows that successful factories mean prosperity to the community in which they are situated. Every Albertan wants to see Alberta developed into an even greater manufacturing province. Possessing all the natural resources necessary to successful manufacturing, there is no reason why this commendable desire should not be abundantly realized in Sunny Alberta.

LET'S KEEP IT GOOD

A factory, however, can only be successful when there is a steady and sufficient demand for the product it makes. The people of Alberta must do their part in building the factories of the Province by purchasing, wherever possible, products Made-in-Alberta and in preference to importations.

Botha News

The weather continues to be the most ideal of reserve vation. No threshing done as the ground is very tough. However some predicted for the first part of the week, but instead a watershine October, to a rain or a snow more month than September and a fine finish, so small seen set the harvest all clamored up.

Mrs. Graff of Edmonton is visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. Louie Hostler

Mr. Young has returned to her home in Los Angeles after spending the summer with the Fraser and Rives families.

The Ladies' Aid met their October meeting in the hall last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hoffing presided over the Chair was very ably filled by Mrs. Hart Pridham.

The morning was well attended, as Miss MacGeach came out from Stettler and gave a talk on the work done by the Hospital.

Her talk was very interesting and was much enjoyed. She reported on the people in the Hospital district are building fine Hospital and the we all prove more Hospital needed it will be utilized still more. This report is one which the district can be satisfied with and that the Doctors and the Nurses can be justly proud of.

Other features of the meeting were the vocal Events by Mrs Ware Hagler and a solo by Mrs Ray Ball. She was accompanied by Mrs. Miss Ball on the piano. Both of these were enjoyed.

After a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Miss MacHugh for her talk the luncheon Committee Mrs Button W H Cunningham. Presh Hollinshead and G E Armstrong served a most bountiful and delicious lunch.

On Friday evening, October 10th, a dance will be held in Mr Pressbrey's new barn. Good music will be furnished. A charge will be made for admission and the ladies are asked to bring lunch.

Much regret is felt in Botha over the Mr Hodgkinson being transferred to Alliance. The banks seem to have an unlimited supply of fine young men who are only left in a community long enough to become an integral part and then these greatly missed when they leave to fill a vacancy in some Metropolitan success in his new location.

Mr Eric Glendenning comes here from Red Deer to take Mr Mc-Leod's place. We hope he will find our village a pleasant spot and we feel at home with us.

A large number of people attended the funeral of Mr. Revi Harrison on Friday afternoon. Mr. Harrison has been well known in this district since the earliest settlement and his death is greatly deplored.

Bodies was well represented at the Memorial Service for Dr Creighton on Sunday evening. Dr Creighton's memory is deeply revered in this community and it would be difficult to be just or gave himself unstintingly in our service.

Mrs Chase (or as she was more familiarly known, Grandma Chase) died at an early hour last Friday morning. While it was generally known that Mrs. Chase had been failing all summer, few regarded the end so near.

Mrs Chase was born in London, England 86 years ago. She came to Canada in 1913 and has made her home with her son Stanley, helping him rear his motherless daughter. Eleven children were born to Mr and Mrs Chase and all but one grew to maturity. One son died at 6 years of age while the eldest son was killed during the war.

Mrs Chase was very exceptional in that she retained a keen interest in the world very recently. She was a member of both the Institute and the Ladies Aid, and was a regular attendant until August. Perhaps her most outstanding quality was her love for fancy work. Every fall she held a sale and the amount of articles she had made during the year was absolutely astounding. Her work was in keen demand and many friends fenced a ready sale at a rapidly increasing dollar value. It was with a feeling of sadness that the neighbors noticed the empty chair become idle and the interest in the work grow dormant as all understood what it portended.

There is no sadness in such a passing as Mrs Chase's. She found no deep knowing her earthly work was finished and so was only reunited now with her in the knowledge that she will awaken to that joyous morning with loved ones who have gone before her to that Land of Life Eternal.

Funeral service was held in the Hall at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon with Mr Hinsman in charge. Rev Herbert of the Anglican Church conducted the service.

The casket was covered with beautiful flowers and friends were also present from both Stettler and Content.

The pall bearers were Messrs. H. B. Pressbrey, J. F. Hollinshead, T. Johnson, Jos. Gibson, W. H. Cunningham and J. A. MacKay.

A large number drove to the Cemetery where the body was laid to rest in the final resting place.

Mr and Mrs Smith of Calgary are at the home of Mr. Stanley Chase called here by the death of Mrs Smith's mother

The Ladies Aid of Botha decided to hold a contest in order to find out who would be the Cemetery Queen. A prize will be given to the winner, the judging to be done by the Committee. Everybody is asked to contain eight letters. Each person the contests a name is asked to place their own name in a sealed envelope and place it beside the name containing the name for the Cemetery. These envelopes will not be opened but will remain containing the contestants names until the contest is made.

Send in your names as soon as possible for the award is to be given on the evening of the dance held to raise funds for the Cemetery. The date is not yet certain.

Send your names in Mrs H. G. Hall Secretary Cemetery Committee.

For information regarding the work and the placing of the monument see any member of the Committee Mr Preshore or Mr Chase or Dr F Barnard of the Depart. Mr Tucker and Commerce was a guest at the home of Mr J A MacKay last week, Dr Barnard is Commissioner of Health for the Government with headquarters in Winnipeg.

Mrs Hollinshead gave a very delightful tea last Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs Hostler who leaves this week for California. Mrs Graff of Chas. Col Mrs Hansley's mother was an honored guest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Presbrey of Edmonton and her son Garnett, of Open, motored out from Edmonton Open and were guests at the Hollinshead and Mac-Kay home over week end. Mrs Presbrey visited many friends and all are happy to see her looking so well.

ST. PETER'S UP. LUTH. CHURCH COAL PROBLEM SURVEY REVEAL MANY ANOMALIES IN EXISTING PRESENT METHODS

A survey of Canada's coal problem, a re-enactment of the anomalies of the nation's existing fuel situation and some recommendations concerning the future are contained in a volume published recently by "The Fuel Problem of Canada," by Martin Nordegg, Ottawa.

Mr. Nordegg has been for intimately associated with western coal mining for many years, first of all being engaged in coal extraction and in doing so discloses many interesting facts. Canada owns 1,000,000 tons of coal annually, of which 30,000,000 are imported. Nova Scotia has one-sixth of the total coal reserves of the world, most of it of sufficient quality for coking, to take the place of imported coal. At present the greater part of this coking coal remains in the ground, as there is not yet any runy. Ultimate fuel requirements for Canada in the future

There are, according to the book, many factors which contribute to this anomalous coal situation in Canada, including the wasteful and inefficient control of the coal industry as a whole; the duplication of mines, the failure of the coal owners to look beyond the immediate profit and take a long view of business, the failure of the railways to make the most of their transportation lines, faulty and incompetent methods of marketing and a general apathy on the part of the public and governments.

Mr. Nordegg's chief recommendations for putting an end to the present system are as follows: The introduction of low temperature carbonization coke plants in Canada; application of a Dominion Fuel commission with wide powers and ample funds, cancellation of unworked mine leases; the allowing of new mines only when economically justified; readjustments on reasonable lines of tariff and drawback arrangements; elimination of duties on coal mining tools and machinery and various forms of provincial taxation, the merging of existing inefficient railways; and the formation of coal syndicates for co-operative marketing and improved methods.

"There must first be brought about a change of mind in the whole national welfare," adds the author, "from individualism to state and provincial, local and provincial interests. There should be no bolshevistic measures, but a determined Canadian fuel development plan."

Absolute Cleanliness is the Secret of Success in the Kitchen of Palm

—By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.)

Everyone should know what to do in case of a cut or scratch in the flesh.

When we speak of cleanliness in this sense, we mean surgical cleanliness. A surgeon will use disinfectants, but he knows that they are not enough. He will sterilize his hands, his instruments, and everything that comes in contact with the wound before touching with sterile gauze.

Every household knows that he first aid kit. It can be had very reasonably. Have at least a solution of iodine in it, and apply it to cuts and other injuries. It should be painted on and around the wound before touching with sterile gauze.

Paris.—Traffic on air lines operating from Paris-London, Paris-Marseilles, Paris-Strasbourg and Paris-Geneva has increased 30 per cent. this year in passenger traffic and 25 per cent. in freight and 20 per cent. in the amount of mail carried during the first months of the year 1930.

The increase in the mail is due to the fact that a letter from Paris-to-Paris-Rome-Rome Rio the mail is carried on planes from Paris to Tunis in 12 hours and it used to take three or four days by boat. Paris-to-Paris route shows the biggest increase in freight.

Local Business Man Found Dead

A very sad occurrence on Thursday afternoon last when Mr. Geo. Hunter was found dead in the bush on the west end of Mr. George Skinner's pre-emption. Mr. Hunter had been out hunting and had been about nine miles north east of town. This road in the one running north near Skinnerna school and is a very much travelled road. Mr. Hunter was driving his car and had only made the ordinary number of miles per hour when he noticed a car standing on the west side of Section 7-39-18. The car was standing on the road allowance between two clumps of bushes, and the body was lying on the left side of the car, with a gun shot in the chest, and a shot gun lying at the feet. It had evidently been there some Tuesday afternoon as Mr. Skinner was out in the field that afternoon. He had called at Mr Wagner's farm during the afternoon and had then proceeded on his way towards home

Mr Skinner had left town on Tuesday morning on a business trip and had taken a short cut to do some shooting, and had travelled north of town on the road towards Big Valley, and was met by Mr. Harvey Page on Tuesday morning, and had told him that he was intending of going north as he proposed to had travelled east as he had called at Mr. Skinner's place, and also at Mr. Cole's and Mr. Mitchell's, and later on in the afternoon at Mr Wagner's. As he had informed Mr Skinner that he would be back by Tuesday night. He had evidently spoken when he did not arrive as expected and the word was received from him on Tuesday at all on Wednesday with no word at hand, an anxious search was made and the farmers in the district were interviewed. Mr. Reginald McPherson and Mr. Roe journeyed to the bile in the late morning on Wednesday and found that he had not been over in that section. The radio broadcasting station and Detroit was also brought into requisition, and the district farmers went out looking for him on Wednesday and Thursday morning Mr Wagner, on Thursday morning by radio that the body had been found.

Mr. Hunter was a pensioner of the Imperial Army, and was 65 years of age. He was a bachelor and has lived in the district for many years. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, and the funeral will be held under the auspices of that body.

The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. from the Anglican Church, and will be conducted by Rev. Canon Herbert. Interment will be made in the Stettler Cemetery.

The Weather

Sunday was a beautiful fall day and Monday a very milder so there was no wind blowing and the sun was shining all day. Tuesday morning there was a fog and a slight mist fell, most of the moisture was taken up by the sun. Heating The Home During The Winter

A family's health and comfort during the winter months, in the face of any climate depend on proper heating and ventilation of the home. Every physician will endorse these statements. Frankly physicians tell others that the keeping the essentials of healthful heat in the living accommodations of a householder is to set forth important questions.

A healthful summer atmosphere is made up of temperature, air movement, humidity. Dampness in winter is not the major problem of heating, however. Far from being desirable for healthful, orthodox living is that is unfortunately a commodity to meet the requirements of the body. This is recognized and must be supplied promptly at the expense of health and comfort. Heated air is dry air because it must be thoroughly blended for the 20 per cent. increase in the mortality rate during the winter months. The important source of moisture in the air breathed comes in the normal human body through the lungs.

Heat heat as a health factor should be given first consideration when making a choice of the system to be installed in a home for upon it will depend the health of the family. Medical authorities agree that proper heating will never exceed 70 degrees Fahrenheit. No woman in an atmosphere heated above that point lowers both vitality and resistance and weakens the body's ability to cope with the constant balance between indoor and outdoor temperatures.

Would that all could realize that it cannot healthy maintain the health of the family and that is the duty necessary to feel hot. It is also necessary to raise the temperature of the room to 80 degrees when 70 to 72 degrees, and until at 70 degrees is far more comfortable. This is due to the temperature of the air as it passes the hot furnace and is capable of retaining it within. We all know from experience that running water in the air was breathed and exhaled with carbon dioxide exhaled from the lungs. Recent considerations have partially disproven this. Occupation of the house normally decreases the amount of oxygen in the air and increases the amount of

BELIEFS ABOUT SNAKES MAINLY SUPERSTITION

Practically all the stories we have ever heard about snakes are untrue, says the report of a study made by the American Museum of Natural History, and practically all the beliefs we have about them are superstitions. The report is by Dr. G. K. Noble, curator of the department of herpetology of the museum, and is the result of a study of snakes and their habits made by him in Dutch Guiana, in the Amazon valley and in Arizona.

Most writers have been so much afraid that there is the snake concealed in the grass that they have failed to see the snake in the grass, Dr. Noble says. Snakes are not aggressive, he declares, and do not attack human beings unless they are first attacked themselves. Contrary to the popular belief, snakes are not slimy. They are dry to the touch and their skin is not unlike leather. Their eyes are not evil, but have a fine and shining beauty. Try it and see for yourself, Dr. Noble says.

The truth is that there is no such thing as a "snake charmer," he says. The snake is deaf and cannot be affected by the language and that even in the case of the cobra, which appears to be swaying to the music of the charmer's flute, the movements are those of a snake about to strike and are made in their results nothing like the graceful movements of the charmer. One instrument in Africa, a form of xylophone, is played by the natives to attract snakes, which are then killed with clubs. The snake charmer's trade is a profitable one, however, on account of the ignorance of the public.

Dr. Noble's report says that the belief that snakes are dangerous is responsible for the killing of many harmless species. Many of the snakes that are killed are of great value to the farmer because they destroy rats, mice and other rodents that do much damage to crops. Snakes are also valuable because they destroy insects and other creatures that are harmful to man.

Dr. Noble's report will be published immediately by the old school methods which led to the study's completion. Our readers know it as a book. Our new system is a magazine. It is printed. It is published. It is possible that it will be read. It is possible that it will be talked about. It is possible that it will be criticized. But it will not be filed away and forgotten. Dr. Grosvenor says in the Geographical Magazine that only 6 per cent. of subscriptions are not renewed. Almost every one of the 94 per cent. who remain is a booster. He is a booster because Canada was a half days for the continent coming and two days for the return journey. Canada is a booster because Britain can't half days for the continent coming and two days for the return journey. Canada is a booster because it has a half days for the continent coming and two days for the return journey. $50,000.00 FOR PERSONS OWNING HOME AND THEIR CREDITORS

Ottawa.—Co-operation between Dominion and Provincial governments to reduce unemployment will be in full swing before the advent of Winter

Five provinces have already negotiated loan agreements with the Dominion as to the amount of Federal aid which will be given and the terms upon which it is to be granted. In addition the Dominion has undertaken to guarantee interest charges on branch line construction work by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Nationals Railways.

While four provinces are still to complete their agreements, it is estimated here that the $50,000,000 voted by parliament at months as an emergency relief measure will result in gross expenditure of approximately $65,000,000 upon undertakings that would otherwise have been delayed one two or three years in the type of works being encouraged the percentage paid out in primary wages will represent about $32,000,000 and this through re-circulation is expected to exercise an important influence in reducing actual hardship.

Results in the provinces and the municipalities are concerned varies progress are being pushed ahead of last year, while the guarantee to the railways means an immediate start on a program projected for many months, and involving an outlay of approximately $30,000,000 of which half of the Dominion and Labor has ten extended to take

Sargon Is Powerful Invigorating Tonic

Increases Vim Quickly. Vigor. Has Won a Score. Happy Again and Enjoys a New Kind of Zest. Most Astonishing Story By Tabloid Surgon.

The instant and record-breaking success of Sargon is easily explained. It is almost a wonder to Medical Sargon from the first few doses, people who are suffering from general vitality lack of appetite poor nutrition and stomach, bowels in fact its stimulating action. Thousands of iconic run-down men and women who have taken it report it seems to pick them right up and put them on their feet.

It is not only a powerful restorative tonic designed to impart tone and strength to the entire system, but it is a constitutional treatment as well and exerts a tremendous influence upon the cells of assimilation and elimination. It has remarkable regenerative and recognized therapeutic value which are valuable for their influence upon the appetite and digestion.

If you do not wake up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed and ready for a good hearty breakfast if you are not brim full of energy and ready for a good day's work, you are not assuming the blessings of health that should be yours.

It is not natural for people to simply drag through life never knowing what it is to enjoy a well day. Business never intended it that unless you are suffering from some organic or specific disease. Remember that Sargon Soft Mass Pills are designed to help Nature and will give you a new grip on life.

Wherever constipation exists Sargon Soft Mass Pills are a necessary part of the Sargon treatment and should be taken daily until regularity of bowel movement is well established.

Sargon now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world today, and may well be considered one of the greatest health giving remedies of the age.

Sargon may be bought in Stettler at the Palace Pharmacy

RECEIPTS—

	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep
Cattle	1259	311	256	109

So far this week, daily receipts have been slightly heavier and the opening day was a fairly brisk market on steers was a fair demand for butcher cattle as a whole but especially the better grades of lightweights however today (Tuesday) buyers developed a somewhat indifferent attitude and in some cases were not even bidding. Cows were in fair demand and prices were quoted as 2c lower per hundredweight lower, with buyers grading much closer, while prices on steers and heifers were quoted as about steadily

The Pearl Standard

You have heard of the pearls which would cause if they could speak about the "pearl divers" who "pearl around" and the "pearl necklaces" which would lower the price of the American necklace and refer respect to the "pearl fishers" and other like Japanese terms. Now it is time to make "pearl" respectable and to refer to the "pearl industry" as a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Pearls have received a bad name and are considered to be the lowest grade of gem. They go by the "pearl of great price" and "pearl beyond price" and many other terms but they call Y to 10 years to grow.

It is difficult even to find somebody with any real pearl to sell! Few have a knack and log enough to buy even one or two, to say nothing of a "row" of them. In the main material pearl comes from the Indian Ocean, the Persian Gulf, Central America, West Indies, Australia and the Japanese Islands. Of these the Australian pearl fisheries are the important source. In fact pearl divers from the Indian Ocean are coming to Australia and mostly all the Japanese in Australia belong to the pearl business.

Today the Chinese are more or less the centre factors in the pearl

Pearls are found in oysters and mussels. The Japanese divers have a method of opening the oyster and when they find the pearl they call it "pearl fishing". They go in different parts and divers many call Y to 10 years to grow.

Intelligence Tests Stupid And Useless

Intelligence tests seem to have become a fad with educationists of late. Every now and then we read about some professor who has some new method of measuring the mind. He gets interviewed by the press and published his pet hobby in some newspaper or magazine. Then he is heard no more. At least, once a year Viscount Bryce, or his press agent, sends out a statement to the effect that which wins the boys going the biggest prizes. A few editors write after the publication of the prize list, behind it has become quite a popular pastime to consider them and to express opinions about the value of the prize and the intelligence of the people who have competed. Special articles and interviews are required to be given questions that they cannot be misunderstood and whose answers are certain to produce the desired result. One of the pupils are capable.

Mr Bridges has some experience of tests. He recalls a class of students to whom a moral test was put. It was divided into two groups, those who had attended Sunday School and those who had not. The answers showed that the Sunday School scholars were practically bankrupt morally. One of the head's regrets occasioned this later by saying that the students in this category had told the truth in these answers, while the others had given the answers they thought desirable. As a specimen of an answer question in a moral test, one boy wrote that if he saw a policeman about to arrest a fifty cent piece, it would be permissible to remove a quarter in change on putting the half dollar in the place. What possible bearing on morals could any intelligent person answer to this problem supply? When reading entrance examination papers Mr. Bridges came across a candidate who in giving a definition of "Democracy" described it as a "Government by the people, for the people, and of the people." Another boy described democracy as "a thing that is not made entirely by the people, but by the people, for the people, and of the people." Another boy described democracy as "a thing that is not made entirely by the people, but by the people, for the people, and of the people." Another boy described democracy as "a thing that is not made entirely by the people, but by the people, for the people, and of the people."

Mr. Bridges says: "The Japanese are extremely intelligent, and the Japanese are extremely intelligent, and the Japanese are extremely intelligent, and the

ory's Verdict Is Accidental Death

An inquest to inquire into the death of Mr. George Hopping was held in the Court House Saturday afternoon, from two o'clock until five. Dr. Kennedy presided in place of Dr. Connolly, who was required as a witness, and the jury consisted of W. Dunlop, foreman; Ted Gardiner, William McDaggart, Fred V. Colley, Robert Wilson, and Thomas Ripley. A number of witnesses were on hand to give their testimony including Reginald McPherson and Dr. Connolly, the coroner for the district. The death of Mr. Skinner took place on Tuesday afternoon, October 14th, under circumstances which were outlined in the paper last week.

Ross Patrick was the first witness called upon, and he gave evidence of meeting Mr. Skinner on Monday night when walking home in company with his son Stewart. Mr. Skinner inquired of his son whether the gun was at the house or at the store, and Stewart replied that it was at the house. Mr. Skinner then told Stewart to be sure and clean the car. Count continued by Mr. Cottingham, counsel for the relatives. Patrick witness said that Mr Skinner appeared to be in his usual cheerful frame of mind and that he had laughed when he saw him take his gun in his pocket.

The next witness, Wesley Harrison, gave evidence of Mr Skinner calling at the warehouse of the North Star Company on Tuesday morning on his way to the country and asking several questions about the residence of some farmers living north of town. The time was about twenty-five minutes to ten.

Fred Baldwin, who lives about nine miles north of town, was then sworn and testified that Mr Skinner had arrived at his place on the south-west quarter of 2,4,19 about 10.30 on Tuesday morning. Mr Skinner had a rifle in his hand and a shell-belt around his waist. Most of the time Mr Skinner talked about country and, on leaving, he had asked witness to call on him when he came to town. In reply to a question from Mr. Dunlop, witness said that Mr Skinner stated that he was on a collection tour and asked the location of several farmers in the south-east. Mr Skinner appeared just as he always did, and he had often stayed to dinner with them.

William C Wagner was the next witness called. He stated that Mr Skinner arrived at his place early in the afternoon. This was on section 12 about four miles east of Stettler. He saw his car passing by the window and a little later when witness was outside Mr. Skinner came up from behind and spoke to him. He thought he could get warm and witness took him into the house and introduced him to his wife. When witness came back from the barn Mr Skinner was just coming in. He told him he was feeling fine and asked him who owned the second place next to his farm. He also asked where Mr. Skinner lived and witness showed him the place to the south. He saw the car had been turned to go north but he turned around and went south for about a quarter of a mile and turned off into Mitchell's gate. On Thursday morning, Mr. Lorentzen phoned and said that they had been looking for Mr Skinner as he had not been home and he had been at witness' place. Mr. Wagner replied that he would run down south to look for him. He walked down to the bridge and got aboard under the car Witness assisted to run Mr

Over 15,000 Daily Demand New Surgeon

Vast Growing Army of Former Users, Throughout World Via Wonderful Medium Is Only Few Years' Time.

By Richard L. Shearer

ATLANTA, Ga.—More like a tale from the Arabian Nights of old than a record of modern business achievement reads the story of the marvelous growth and development of Surgeon Dr. Miles Scientific Compound which has become the remedies of the drug trade throughout Canada, the United States and other countries.

The old illustration of the pebble dropped into the pool best describes the phenomenal and unprecedented demand and its force is rapidly spreading over the entire Continent.

Recently compiled figures reveal that approximately 15,000 men and women are marching into drug stores daily for Nerve and Surgeon Dr. Miles Pills, the marvelous new treatment that is restoring health to countless thousands by new and remarkable methods undreamed of only a few years ago.

Already more than 5,000,000 suffering men and women have put it to the test and have told other millions what it has done for them.

Marching regulation army fashion single file—like vast army of Barron users would reach from New York to San Francisco and at the present rate of sale—would, in a few years time, encircle the entire globe.

The only explanation of Surgeon's triumph in the Medical World is Surgeon's keen research. Each of the [illegible] Dr. Miles Nerve Tonic Tablets, Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills, Dr. Miles Liver Pills, Dr. Miles Nerve and Liver Pills

"Anemia" Of Wheat An I.W.W. Incident

Ottawa.—President Wilson has attributed to Germany the cause of the shortage of wheat in the United States. He has accused Germany of having sent I. W. W. agents into the wheat fields to incite the workmen to strike and refuse to work unless they were paid higher wages. The I. W. W. movement, it is said, was encouraged by Count Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, and by James Archibald, a German agent, who was arrested in Egypt and convicted of the crime. Some time ago Archibald was released and had visited Ottawa. He told the story which he had told before the United States authorities. He was conducted to and from his private car by a detective, and was made available for private conversation with Sir Robert Borden and other Ministers. It was then that to which Kipps referred was publicly moved. The incident created a great sensation in Ottawa. The I. W. CORRESPONDENCE

Stettler Bank, Ltd.
October 28, 1930.

Editor,
Stettler Independent,
Stettler, Alberta.

Dear Sir:—

In your issue of October 16th, under heading "Bi Weather Optimism"—You state that the director east of Canada the Okanagan had heavy frosts and snow and that all of B C was covered with it. Member of same I would like to correct both of these statements. My understanding of the Garden of Eden is that it was a place where flowers bloomed continuously and I can find no mention of there being any snow and frost. Consequently I cannot see where you can claim any such place as the Garden of Eden. In the second place I would like to point out that all of B C is not covered with a blanket of snow and that there has not been the slightest fall of snow so far on the Coast and if there is any claim to being like the Garden of Eden, we, in White Rock was certainly within that distinction. We have not seen even the semblance of snow so far and flowers are blooming out-of-doors and our gardens. Roses are still blooming in the open and will do so until after Christmas if the weather is anything like our past winters. We seldom see snow and when we do get a little it melts almost as fast as it falls. We also have two residents here who are enjoying their second crop of potatoes from the one seed. The first crop being taken off in July and the second crop planted immediately after. I am no old-timer from Stettler and take the home papers regularly, but would be glad if you set aside the above statements as I remember White Rock is the real Garden of Eden of Canada.

Thanking you, I remain,
Yours truly,
WM. FOOTER.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: The report of snow in the Okanagan was for the year 1910 not 1930. Mr Footer will note the year mentioned.]

Botha News

The past week has given us some fine weather. The snow is gone except in a few places where there was heavy drifts, and farmers are again thinking of threshing. Even though the grade has been lowered grain will probably pay the cost of production, while if left in the fields it not only brings in nothing but keeps farmers from turning out their stock. This has been such a very peculiar year that farmers are expecting almost anything in way of weather.

Mr Clarence Harman came home from the hospital last week after a stay of almost three weeks. His many friends are hoping he will have a speedy recovery to health.

Mr and Mrs. Chas. Shandelow left this vicinity a short time ago for a location on the Athabasca River, where Mr Shandelow is employed on a steady job.

We are glad to see that Mr. Bethell again after her recent illness with appendicitis, and hope that there are no further troubles along this line.

Miss Dorothy Townsend was married to Mr. Arthur Lyons of Edmonton, on October 15th at the Methodist Church in Edmonton. We expect to make their future home in that city.

Several more phones were taken out last week. Only 3 subscribers are left now on line 1. Could we have sufficient almost as heavily if Messrs for the Canadian Council are coming in better than expected. If you have some names you think appropriate send it in. All decisions must be in by November 15th. Everything will be accepted after that date.

The high school basketball team went to Stettler on Saturday, but were unable to win anything, both teams being defeated their first game.

The Institute Ladies will hold their November meeting in the Hall on Thursday p.m. November 6th. All ladies in the community are welcome.

Mrs J. S. MacKay returned from the hospital last week. She is reported as getting along nicely at present.

An interesting question is "Where will the Trans-Canada Road go in this Locality"—There are just a few of different locations at present and each person one talks to is absolutely certain his story is correct.

A number of Botha folks attended the Herbert sale at Renith on the 22nd. They report that small stuff sold about the same as usual, but the larger articles, where the money really lies, did not bring a full value. Most of the cash in this community is only chicken feed.

The chicken supper and program which was given last Friday evening, October 24th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was a grand success. A large crowd was present as the ladies felt well repaid for their efforts, not so much for the financial part as for the good social time which everyone had. The play "They say" was well received and those helping were Mrs. Blair, Miss M. Groves, Miss Hansen, Miss M. Dawson, and Miss Thatcher. It was directed by Miss Hansen.

Mrs. O. Armstrong arranged the splendid number by the primary pupils. Miss Chesterley's Dancing was number was especially good. Twelve of Miss Hansen's pupils delighted the audience with their little numbers "The French Minuette." Mrs. Gilbert sang a solo accompanied by the Junior Club and as usual was very good. We always enjoy hearing Mr Sherry's solos.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Arthur Reed, Mrs. Cullis and Mr. Jenkins for their help on the program. Their members were as good as usual.

Mrs. Gilbert also deserves appreciation of their help. We hope to have them with us at some future date. Mrs. J. Hansen favored us with a reading. We are always glad to have Mrs. Gunnell with us on these occasions as her readings fill the children.

The Women's Institute will meet next Tuesday, November 18th in the Hall at the home.

Gadsby News

Miss Rose Yee, formerly nurse-in-charge at the local hospital, is a visitor in town this week. Miss Yee is now matron of the Municipal Institute hospital at Fairview, Alberta.

Miss Lois Harrison of Stettler, spent a few days this week with friends in town.

Mrs. George Brown has had as her guest during the week Mrs. Brown's C. Lobsitz of Botha, and her brother Frank Lobsitz from Gladstone, Manitoba.

Gerald Rhodes was a visitor in Edmonton last week. He motored on Saturday, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. R. Rhodes.

Miss Madeleine Bristow of Stettler, was the week end guest of Miss Ruth Rich.

Mr. George Simpson and baby daughter, of Calgary, are the guests on a few weeks' time in and of Mrs. J. G. Grant.

There was a splendid attendance of members and visitors at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Church held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. G. Grant. Many plans were made for the annual banquet to be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, November 29th, the proceeds of which will be devoted as usual to the Church funds. Mrs. Gilbert will be convener of the supper committee. There will be a sale of fancy work, home cooking and candy. Also a raffle of a doll which has been kindly donated by Mrs. Gilbert from Chicago. The supper will include a pop corn ball. Arrangements are to be served from 5 to 8 p.m. The banner will open at 1.30 and it is hoped the public will support as generously as possible in this appeal for the restoration of a very worthy object.

Mrs. Cruickshank and Miss Boyd of, are on the sick list this week. Mrs. Cruickshank is confined to bed, but they are improving.

Miss Myrtle Hodgson with Mrs. Cavanaugh, while Mrs. Boyd is the guest of her daughter Mrs. J. G. Grant.

Mrs. George Davies had the misfortune to sleigh her hand badly on Monday when driving a bottle of water from the store. The bottle broke and cut a deep gash. Dr. Stewart is staying with her for a few days.

You members of the Women's Institute under the capable direction of Mrs. John Rowley are busy rehearsing for their annual banquet. Mrs. Rowley has a fine lot of material this year which will be given on Saturday, November 8th. We are sure that when these ladies put on a show, there is something more than an extra dollar to be realized in the hearts of the public.

In the pictures directed by Frank Borzage, and filmed on the Yosemite reservation especially for MetroGoldwyn-Mayer, the magnificent cast includes Lewis Stone, Renee Adoree, Edward Nugent, Jean Hersholt, Ralph Forbes, Forrest Stanley, Karl Dane, John Gilbert and Tenen Holtz.

The local movie lovers are to have the privilege of both seeing and hearing the famous tenor, John McCormack in his latest picture, "Song of My Heart" at the Stettler Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 6th, 7th and 8th.

Richmond Shaw, Stettler's own Tenor, with Madame Terentieff, his accompanist, appeared in the Stettler Theatre on Saturday afternoon, October 25th, and rendered a splendid concert. Mr. Shaw's voice is a natural baritone, and he has a pleasing personality. He demonstrated to a full house that he is something more than an artist—he understood to the hearts of the public.

Red Willow

The Ladies Aid bazaar and tea will be held in the Community Hall on Saturday afternoon and evening of this week. Do not miss at least seeing the lovely and useful articles they will have on sale. A sociable chat with old friends at this event is always looked forward to by all present.

Mr and Mrs. Basil Abercrombie and family of of Miss Alta. Hunt were guests at the Struthers' home on Sunday.

The weather is again assuming a wintry character and heavy snowstorms are near. Threshing is nearing completion in this neighborhood. This season has not been favorable to combining. Although a considerable amount has been done of all Coal Oil." even though in this world sometimes the way may seem gloomy.

The Ellison family have moved to the house owned by Mrs. Alex Smith. This is much larger and should prove more comfortable for a large family.

The children are looking forward with pleasure to the Hallowe'en party which will extend from Thursday to Tuesday morning.

All the flower which followed the young couple received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn on Sunday night. They report lots of snow and mud on the roads there but good sleighing.

A pre-nuptial shower was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Deakin in honor of Mr. Stanley Deakin and bride, who are to be married on the 12th inst. Mr. Deakin is a member of the Red Willow district and has many friends who wish him every success and happiness in his future home in Calgary following the marriage.

Mr and Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Cox, Creek of Calgary were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn over the week end of the week.

Mr. J. A. Wetsel, Bankers's pioneer agitator, is apparently going to make a success of the bee business. He has a fine lot of bees and has extracted a large amount of honey for a new industry in this district.

In the spring of last year (1929) Mr. Wetsel, as a hobby, started with five swarms of bees, two of which he imported from Alsikeon, U. S. A. Owing to the drouth last season he had poor success and it was necessary for him to feed the bees to keep them over winter. This year, however, with the favorable conditions existing he has increased his stock to 60 colonies and has had one ton of honey extracted and put up ready for the market which is of very fine quality—clover and alsike. He has the honey shipped in from other points.

One swarm that came off and were hived on the 4th day of July produced over 80 pounds of honey more than needed to keep them over.

He expects to have sixty-five hives of bees next season which with ordinary luck should produce about 1500 pounds of honey for the market.

Incidentally Mr Wetsel is in his 65th year and is one of the few veterans of the U. S. Civil War still surviving.

Our high school is apparently going "literally on."

Social And Shower

A very enjoyable evening was spent Monday night, November 3rd at the home of Mr and Mrs. Herbert Seales at Buffalo Lake, when a social and shower, given in honor of Miss Alice Dean, bride elect of this month and Mr Stanley Beaton, of Stettler. They were presented from 8.30 until midnight.

Mr. George Grefe, who formerly resided in the Buffalo Lake district, a pioneer of 1907, and Mrs. Grefe, very capably rendered a solo and encored with another number during the evening's proceedings.

A most wishing, very cleverly done by the Misses Stella Beaton and Mabel Scales and Eva Rawledge and Messrs Harry Dean and Albert Timms, followed a whist drive, prizes being won by Mrs. J Winchester and Mr Bert Williams.

A delightful midnight lunch was served immediately afterward, during which Mrs A. Barnett and Mr. W. Reddish rendered piano selections. The flower which followed the young couple received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn on Sunday night. They report lots of snow and mud on the roads there but good sleighing.

Fiftieth Birthday Celebration

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. E. R. Ashlee of Lee, Sunday, October 26, when a few of her many relatives and friends met in the form of a surprise party to celebrate her fiftieth birthday.

Under the supervision of Mrs. R. Ivey the party was most adequately arranged and Mrs. Ashlee gave her guests the usual warm-hearted welcome she has always given during her many years in this vicinity.

She was the recipient of many small remembrances and smiles good wishes for another fifty years.

Supper was served about six o'clock, the ladies having provided sandwiches, fruit salad and coffee which with the cake Mrs Ivey and Mrs Campbell for making the large birthday cake which was the crown of attraction during the whole afternoon and more so at supper. It was beautifully decorated with icing and fifty candles. When all were seated Mrs. Ashlee in the candles after which each one did justice to a most inviting repast.

The party was homeward bound by eight o'clock and I believe all would feel they had accomplished two things. They had made sure one else happy and were certainly happy themselves.

Those present were Mr Brazer Mr. and Mrs Parkman and family Mr and Mrs Davis and family Mr and Mrs Reed and Teddy Mr and Mrs Fosterill Mr and Mrs Bates Mrs. E. Graver, and Mr Ed Raggins

Owing to inclement weather some of the guests were unable to attend.

Botha News

Threshing is in full swing now and will soon be completed if the weather continues to hold. Grain is averaging around 12 bushels per acre with some going as high as 30. One feature this year is the absence of grain threshed for such a small amount of straw. Fields are clean-up rapidly. Pressley Bros. threshed 1600 bushels of wheat one day last week from 80 acres.

The mild weather following our cold spell seems to have deluded some plants and we are encouraged to find dandelions in bloom, while roses are as pretty as any time during the summer.

Hallowe'en on last Friday evening passed uneventfully in our community. Whether the young people were pampered by a sudden display of common sense or were too tired after work in the fields or may be they were afraid to run down the law they do sometimes you know) or whether it was the threatened police men or a combination of all these reasons is uncertain but nothing was disturbed on the streets and peace and tempers remained unruffled.

The Ellison family have moved to the house owned by Mrs. Alex Smith. This is much larger and should prove more comfortable for a large family.

The children are looking forward with pleasure to the Hallowe'en party which will extend from Thursday to Tuesday morning.

All the flower which followed the young couple received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn on Sunday night. They report lots of snow and mud on the roads there but good sleighing.

A pre-nuptial shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deakin in honor of Mr. Stanley Deakin and bride, who are to be married on the 12th inst. Mr. Deakin is a member of the Red Willow district and has many friends who wish him every success and happiness in his future home in Calgary following the marriage.

Mr and Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Cox, Creek of Calgary were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn over the week end of the week.

Mr. J. A. Wetsel, Bankers's pioneer agitator, is apparently going to make a success of the bee business. He has a fine lot of bees and has extracted a large amount of honey for a new industry in this district which is of very fine quality—clover and alsike. He has the honey shipped in from other points.

One swarm that came off and were hived on the 4th day of July produced over 80 pounds of honey more than needed to keep them over.

He expects to have sixty-five hives of bees next season which with ordinary luck should produce about 1500 pounds of honey for the market.

Incidentally Mr Wetsel is in his 65th year and is one of the few veterans of the U. S. Civil War still surviving.

Our high school is apparently going "literally on."

Fine Weather Means More Dolls

The girls entered for the doll contest are taking advantage of this fine weather and are making good progress in adding names to their lists.

Up to November 6th this year the number of subscribers who have renewed their subscriptions is just as many as in the same period last year, and all of these have gone to the credit of the girls making dolls. While money is not so plentiful as last year, yet the fine weather has made most people optimistic and practically everybody intends paying the subscription to the local paper so that the girls get the benefit of their efforts. Many letters in the district would like to have a handful of this description for auld lang syne but they need to keep them for the dolls these blankets are the best we could get on the market, and they are given for the same amount of subscriptions.

Some new names have been added to the list this week both for dolls and blankets. November is the month for getting ahead. The weather and roads are good and a lot of girls will have their dolls in the next two weeks.

WELCOME TO ALL

One of the questions at a Stettler card game had his partner playing it. At the third trick Lambert became worried. He looked at his hand, looked at the table, looked at his partner.

"You my this man stole your watch," said the policeman. "What makes you suspect him?"

"It vanished my accountant's explanation. "I had it in my hand a moment before."

"Ah, I see, a woman in the case!"

Clergyman (to boy)—Do you know what happens to liars?

Boy—Yes, sir; they become politicians.

Gadsby News

The November meeting of the Women's Institute at the home of Mrs B. R .Jessiss on Saturday was one of the most interesting held this year There was an attendance of 23 members and 3 visitors. It was decided to sponsor the annual community Christmas tree and had the school teachers in charge to learn of the many industries in our province. Miss Sewell will also address to buy Canadian made and particularly Alberta made products and thus assure the prosperity of our wonderful country. Mrs. Jessiss closed her address with the following verse by W. R. Sheldon:

"I have mixed with many peoples and have trod on southern sands,
I have been in many places
Beneath the skies of other lands
But I've enjoyed most of many
And their starlight of the night.
But my thoughts keep ever turning
To Alberta's clearer light.

I have wandered o'er the prairies,
And the rolling hills and mountains
Through the forests and the mountains.

Viewing pictures beyond dreams
When I travel o'er the vastness,
Of her East and North and West.
There I see a nation's storehouse
And I know Alberta's blessed.

So I bear Alberta calling
While I feel her mother love me,
And I never far can wander
With the thought that I am free.
For the golden harvest lures me
And the wealth of land and stream
Under sun and moonlight shines me
Makes this western land supreme—

The speaker was given a very hearty vote of thanks after which a delicious lunch was served by Mrs Hampshire and Mrs. Sheppard assisted by Miss Helen Menzies and Miss Christie Graham.

Hallowe'en was observed here in the usual way all the young folks having a jolly time. It is pleasing to note that no damage was done in the town and all residents very much appreciated the respect of their property

The fine weather of the past two weeks has enabled farmers to continue threshing which is now practically completed. The rest work in securing good progress, the yield being both a considerable one for as the Country

Miss Helen Cole entertained her friends Miss Ella Bowsfield, Miss Gladys Parker and Grace Gibson to a delightful party at her home of last month birthday.

The Senior C.G.I.T. girls enjoyed a hike on Saturday to the home of Mrs. O Hampshire where a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prudence and the family of Sisson, spent the week end visiting several friends in town.

Miss Menzies left on Saturday for Edmonton where he will spend the winter months.

School will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week while the teachers attend the annual convension in Stettler

Under the auspices of the Women's Institute an amusing three-act comedy entitled "In a Hurry" will be given in the Town Hall on Friday afternoon and evening of this week. This affair is in aid of the local hospital and it is hoped the efforts of the ladies will be rewarded with a good attendance Our hospital under the capable charge of Nurse Stewart fills a great need in this community, but like all similar institutions requires money to carry on, so a generous response from the public will be very much appreciated

LECTURE ON ASTRONOMY
November 10th
By W. E. Gibb.

It was the judgment of the committee on high school activities that a lecture on Astronomy would be of considerable interest to the community at large as well as to the students. Arrangements have been made therefore, for the use of the recreation room of the United Church on the evening of November 10th. Telescopic photographs will be procured from the University of Alberta and Mr Gibb will construct numerous charts which will bring to the eye some of the great mathematical truths and principles by which our Universe is governed.

When one enters upon the study of Astronomy, he not only begins an acquaintance with a science which has always been noted for its lofty and unselfish ideals, but at the same time, he becomes familiar with the characteristics of the scientific movement.

Astronomy is extremely valuable to mankind in an industrial way. It furnishes men with an idea of the wonderful universe in which they live and of their relative positions in it. Its effects on them are analogous to those which are produced by travel on the earth. If a man visits various countries he learns many things which he does not necessarily apply on his return home, but which, nevertheless, make him a broader and better man. Similarly, through what one may learn about the millions of other worlds which occupy the almost infinite space beyond the reach of the great telescope of our modern times cannot be directly applied in the ordinary affairs of everyday life, yet the knowledge of such things, in which we are interested, makes us broader and more sympathetic and in the long run, will more or less influence a philosophy by which he will color his life.

The motive in presenting this lecture is twofold, namely: To promote that desirable good will and co-operation between the school and community and to provide funds to carry on further educational activities such as the Debating Festival.

FEWER CASUALTIES DUE TO THE UNITED STATES

Ottawa.—There were only 1,351 Canadians emigrating to the United States in the month of July. This number is considerably below the monthly average for the Fiscal year. Of the other immigrants to the United States during the same month the largest came from the European countries and even those were below the monthly average. Italy led the list with some 900 immigrants and Germany followed with 800. England and Ireland sent 600 immigrants, Scotland 70 and the British West Indies 250.

Over 10,700 immigrants entered the States by the Port of New York alone and some 5,000 came over the boundary via Canada.

A CORNER FOR WOMEN

THE HOME AND THE WEATHER.

Too often the home, the school and the church bear the brunt of ugly conglomeration, as though the weather were responsible for three sections of a whole plan for the development of our citizens.

The pleasant home is marred by our children' outside the home given to conglomeration. We are taught by suffering a hospitality to our friends, offering them a comfortable chair, a cup of tea, a chat, perhaps entertaining them into our church, and thereby making a chance for getting them real friendship and a chance to share in our every life. We are taught to be hospitable to strangers or to a needy neighbour or acquaintance.

We owe it to our teachers to visit their homes and know them as they are trying to do for our children. And how we can pour into the program of the day, the influence of the home by changing to the home which will help the child to live the life we have taught in school. We owe it to them to stand by them, always speaking well of and about them before our children and in the community—if we cannot speak well of them in private we will not only hurt the teacher, but will make them unable to inspire good influence or confidence with our children.

POTTERY—

The Pump, over-elaborate parlor, with its bead-fringed lambrequin, its silk-a-boar, is a thing of the past. In its place is the dresser, and with the exception room. On a small table of this room may be one shaker vase or it may reside in a more ambitious on a shelf, but it is the center of interesting life. It gets its name by the color note and hides no rival in the way of rising ornament near to it. It reigns alone

Such a piece of fine porcelain pottery a lustrous, a temple for gold with a fill, a bottle, a vase, will brighten a dull room and help to garnish one Modern pottery made by the best companies, in pastel colored shades and many graceful forms are truly artistic and its colors cling and blend.

The ceramics know as Spode, Wedgwood, and their kind of a charming Red used for Fox, their for deep water, green represented the wonderful blue for use and yellow for the north and blue for the sky. A rose, copper or one of these neutral colors, seems to fairly radiate its rich hues.

Beautiful pottery pieces can be bought at moderate prices and one is fortunate indeed to receive as a tawdry ornaments. Do not purchase one hastily. It is a work of art, to add to the beauty of your home. Be certain it fits in with your color scheme, though slight incongruities, even though they clash, are sometimes effective. Be certain it harmonizes with the background of the room in which it is to be placed. Then you have a piece that will be a joy forever.

Borwash Airplane Has Great Record

Ottawa.—The enlarged airplane in which Major L. T. Burwash and Canadian Arctic explorer flew to King William Island and the magnetic pole a few weeks ago, has perhaps the most interesting history of any plane used in the Canadian North.

In 1926 the Junkers one of the best known north country pilots flew the new Fairchild C-CAHK Pathfinder monoplane over the Chesterfield Inlet country on the west coast of Hudson Bay. This was the first time that such transport and was the means of Parach getting the Hudson Bay Company steamship to an outstanding Canadian port. In 1928 the same plane was flown by W. L. Brintnell of the Western Canada Airways Limited, to Aklavik in the Mackenzie district. It was in this plane that G. S. Pirette of the Hudson West Company, brought the first news from Aklavik to Dawson City.

Later in the year the CAHK plane was purchased by the Hudson Bay which was lost on the shores of Great Bear Lake for some weeks.

When the Stadjens party was rescued and the plane was left at Great Bear Lake and eleven months later Pilot Buchanan and Pilot Cook flew together, one-hundred and seventy Limited flew from Copper-mine to Fort Point and Buchanan flew the plane out.

Pilot Buchanan was on his way to McMurray with the plane when the one used by Gilbert, in which Major Burwash was to make his flight, blew a cylinder Wireless communications from Coppermine to McMurray, gave news of the accident to Gilbert's plane and Buchanan was sent back to Copper-mine. Here Gilbert took charge and flew the plane over 3000 miles to make the same hazardous flight over attempted in Canada's northland. The plane after its eleven months' exposure had not even required a complete overhaul, lubrication was dispatched on the lengthy trip.

The CAHK as the Fokker plane is called by the Arctic airmen is now at McMurray being completely over to being sent back to work as the Southland.

GOLDFISH THRIVE IN CANADIAN LAKES

Ottawa.—It is not generally known that Goldfish are caught in large quantities in the Great Lakes and what is more surprising that they are used for food purposes. A report has just come to hand which says in part —

The common Goldfish which, in habits many hues fish bowls, aquaria or garden pools, is not generally thought of as being in the open waters of the Great Lakes with other common species.

However considerable numbers of Goldfish are taken by commercial fishermen who haul seines in Lake Erie These fish were fleet supported in quantity in the Sandusky Bay region in 1929 and were then thought to have originated from fish escaped from Bolle Isle during a great flood in 1918. Investigations have been taken and the larger specimens are sold for food on the market, and are known as 'red carp.' Others are sold alive for stocking private garden pools. The flesh is rich and much larger than the fish commonly seen, generally weighing a couple of from one to two pounds as compared with goldfish cultivated in bowls or small aquaria which seldom attain any considerable growth

APPLE CONSERVATION

For novelties, apples may be combined with plum pulp with most success. Try combining apples with quince and you will have a delicious jelly of much quicker to apply. Apples and pineapple combine well into a sauce. Add minced pineapple to the sugar sauce. Add one cup of cranberries to one of apples and make a sauce. It will be a pretty pink. The sauce with hot pork roast or by apples and onions, combining equal quantities of unsweetened apple sauce and cooked onions. This should be served hot.

A CHILD'S COAT—

Children's outdoor garments should be soft and warm and light in weight and large enough to permit freedom of movement. Heavy unlined materials loosely woven, are warmer than fine, smooth materials of tighter weave Plain materials may be used for the outside if the lining is of soft, warm material is used for outside coats.

HOT PUDDING—

Chop fine one package of dates; three-fourths pound graham crackers, twenty-four marshmallows and one cup of nut meats. Mix these together and add half a pint of coffee cream and pack into a loaf in a pan. Let this stand over night and when ready to serve turn out on platter, serve with whipped cream.

Round the Country

WORDS OF WISDOM

By MERE PHILOSOPHER.
Stettler, Alberta.

It is believed now by the trend of business that the year 1930 will show a smaller production of the country than in 1929. Sales of winter clothes have improved considerably over although manufacturing is still not a live one. Fall orders for Quebec provinces are increasing satisfactory crops. Canada obtaining a high price for wheat is also influencing.

Business other and leather manufacturers are experiencing a steady better demand and are consequently operating on a more normal basis. The textile industry is associated but optimistic because of the good prices for them with less competition from Japanese and Czech China. One of the largest of the latter concerns is reported to be bringing additional looms into operation to increase their output from 60 to 80 per cent. approx'ly. Cotton is active and prices like lines low and some dealers predict an actual shortage although fall orders are smaller than usual.

The August production of Canadian plants, 6,709 units, is the largest of the year to date, being 4 per cent. under July and 31 per cent. above August, 1929. Passenger cars figures dominated for electrical apparatus has improved somewhat, and hardware distributors in that section are satisfied with the general outlook, although sales are below last year's level. A slight pick-up is noted in the metal industries, including steamer quarrying goods, which are normally active at this season. Refineries are mixed in Ontario prices for whatever glass. Structural iron is somewhat improved, as implement market where demand is light; the machinery market has also improved.

Water power claiming prices in Canada remain firm, although some of the rubber goods market there continues quiet. The Canadian output of canned salmon is disappointing, but totals 1,014,000 cases, a record for the province. Canned fruits are reported to be moving in heavy normal volume in Canada, but stocks on hand are fairly low. Normal production of pig iron and steel ingots continues at substantially under July output and was only about half of the total for that month of last year. A slight gain, however, is noted in the output of forty-three.

HIGHER EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES EXTENDED.

TO ALL ARE OFFERED

Canada has opportunities for higher education among men and women which are equal to those of any other country

A recent report states that there are 13 Universities and 27 colleges in the Dominion "with a gross student enrolment in Universities of 27,324 and by C. Degree of 22,137. It is not necessary for a student to be taking part of his work in a University and part in an affiliated college, and so is reported by both institutions. The total number of students classified as full time students is 27,324, of whom 10,304 are males and 10,788 are females. Almost exactly 50 per cent, or 10,000 are engaged in studies of University standard. Of these 10,645 are men and 11,680 are women.

The 27,324 students in institutions are composed of 11,467 full time, 1,600 part time and 12,000 short course, extra mural and correspondence students with 307 duplicates between groups.

The popularity of Canadian Universities and colleges among students of other countries is indicated by the report giving the home of residence. There were but 1,741 from the United States, 25 from the British Isles, 40 from the British West Indies and 470 from other countries.

In a total of 4,770 degrees, honors and miscellaneous certificates awarded in the year, 1,000 were in Arts, 1,000 in Science, 1,000 in Commerce and Finance, 1,000 in Education, 1,000 in Engineering and Architecture, 1,000 in Medicine, 1,000 in Law, 1,000 in Theology, 1,000 in Agriculture, 1,000 in Music, 1,000 in Fine Arts, 1,000 in Pharmacy, 1,000 in Dentistry, 1,000 in Veterinary Science, 1,000 in Nursing, 1,000 in Physical Education, 1,000 in Journalism, 1,000 in Social Service, 1,000 in Forestry, 1,000 in Mining, 1,000 in Metallurgy, 1,000 in Chemistry, 1,000 in Physics, 1,000 in Mathematics, 1,000 in Astronomy, 1,000 in Geology, 1,000 in Biology, 1,000 in Zoology, 1,000 in Botany, 1,000 in Bacteriology, 1,000 in Pathology, 1,000 in Physiology, 1,000 in Anatomy, 1,000 in Histology, 1,000 in Embryology, 1,000 in Parasitology, 1,000 in Immunology, 1,000 in Serology, 1,000 in Biochemistry, 1,000 in Pharmacology, 1,000 in Therapeutics, 1,000 in Dermatology, 1,000 in Urology, 1,000 in Gynecology, 1,000 in Obstetrics, 1,000 in Pediatrics, 1,000 in Surgery

Made Him Strong And Well, He Says

"I had suffered with stomach trouble for 4 years. A combination of gas, constipation and indigestion, and I was greatly troubled over my loss of strength and vitality. Nothing helped me at all this. I'm strong and well now. Tanlac has helped indigestion, gas, sour and sweet stomach, and has made me really worth living again.

"Tanlac Vita-Ore is my liver and regulator and tonic all in one. It's what it claims to be."

Tanlac may be obtained in Stettler at the Pelton Pharmacy.

Obit smith, county agent, has been appointed to the position of secretary of the county exhibition. Presently he noticed an old man collapsed over the counter. "Ah," said the painter, "perhaps you, too, are a victim of prohibition." "No," replied the old man, "I'm a victim of high taxes. I signed the pledge."

CHURCH SERVICE

Two drunkens arrived at their usual hotel in a small "north of town" village on their respective cars. The hotel was full of tourists, for the landlords hadn't expected these guests until the next night.

In desperation, the proprietor remembered the small chinese across the road—which he had bought to move over and attach to his hotel as a dining room. "I'll give you the blankets and let them sleep in the chinese over night!" said either host. This was agreeable under the circumstances, and they retired to bed about 2 a.m. On checking out of their room the drunkens were surprised to find that the Chinese had vanished and had taken over to investigate.

The clerk visited immediately. After a bit the hall boy came back to report "The man to pay 20 was sleeping for his under."

John, The Barber A Noted Character

It says something for a deceased New York barber that he should be the subject of a fourth column and what it says will be heard on both sides. The barber in question, it is to be admitted, was a man a cultured gentleman. He is the barber who once saw Shakespeare dying, only a proud deal more important to the world today. He is, in fact, John J. Riordan, known all throughout the sporting world as "John the Barber" and he was the original discoverer of Joel Sharkey. It was 18 years ago that Sharkey, then unknown, arrived in New York, thanks to the friendly bread loaves and empty bon ears, and he entered up John Barber when, at the time was quite a well known sporting character Dempsey had won several important fights, but had done well enough to satisfy himself that he might go somewhere on the game if he had backing. He was a shy, bemused lone wanderer of the world, with no friends and no money, and he went to John the Barber for a shave and a chat. John chatted with him, and encouraged him, and finally backed him to the extent of a number of prize fighters.

At one time he had no fewer than 43 contracts for him in the east and another stable of 11 out in California where he first spent time as in heyday. Abe Attell and Benny Leonard were two famous whom Barber managed. He found that the sport paid him in two ways. There was the direct profits out of the fighters and the indirect profits which flowed into John's barber shop. That barber shop he kept going in good times and bad times, and there must be was the proprietor of the best known sensorial studio in New York where one may be manicured by melodious jazz, advertised as "the pick of Broadway shows, beautiful in form, face and ability. Twenty-five of these singing sirens parade the shop and there are plenty of barbers besides Mirrors at Versailles to those who have never seen the Hall of Mirrors, and paper that is almost real and genuine leather and a general air of voluptuousness new to the haunts of

Are You a Judge of Whisky?
Men have been known to think, and say aloud to say, that the whisky with a "kick" or a bite is stronger than the whisky without it.
It is seldom so, the "kick" is due to wee fat and not due only, which is why discriminating people prefer
"WHITE HORSE" to a whisky without a bite or kick, and which has perfectly such economies and every mood.
If you are fastidious, cultured and delighted again that "WHITE HORSE" is not economical.

barbers and cafe-and-cake men in town as a visit, and favored also by numerous customers of fraternity. Indeed, John the Barber's shop was a sort of fraternity in itself, and a fraternity of good fellowship. It was a haunt of fighters and by all accounts a very good one. It was a whole a really lively place. Every morning there would be a meeting and John to sell his contract and if John did not buy them all he would buy some of them, and again the owners of some of the contracts would meet there. Or even sometimes into the shop boxers would come to meet their managers to commence the day's training. Then there was the ringside gossip when a big fight was quite authority and more every time and other fighters or after one in connection with the number of baseball the New York pastimes in 1882. It was a great day for all the fans on the scene after the Providence pitcher had struck out Tony Webber running away. He was supposed to give testimony and Webber was there. Then the prosecution called Barber. Barber's shop was a favorite place for the baseball players and fans with a long period testimony took place. Barber's testimony, though, as he said in his manner fear that he might not be able to tell the truth in the whole truth.

Later on Webber turned informer and his evidence was instrumental in sending Providence pitcher Lieutenant Becker. Up the Steps' Webber's testimony was corroborated by "Whitey" Lewis and Zago Friedman. Clarke. It is probable that but for Barber's evidence even Lieutenant Webber he would not have convicted. Barber's testimony was damaging but cross-examination he came through there is no evidence that he did this to help the police in the conviction of these murderers. He did the police a good turn, but he did it because he felt he had to tell the truth. They raided his barber shop for liquor and found lots of it. They also arrested his wife and converted him of murder, the victim being his rival, Rose. He was apparently a family fight for Rose's sister was the cause of having enamored the vagrant affections of her husband. The sensational case was one to fling Big Tim Sullivan was in town at the time at his father's bedside with his mother, from whom the barber had been estranged but with whom he had effected a reconciliation very shortly before the end. Barber's enemies is curious to know what brought about his change of heart in the barber. It should be explained that an ingrowing hair on his head became infected and blood poisoning developed.

W. C. T. U. Events

The 'Foster' and Hold Post Tea and first meeting of our new year held at the home of Mrs. Hamilton was a decided success.

The tea hour was enhanced with pleasant and pastors, and the splendid program was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Cook, principals of the school delighted the audience in his address on Provincial Liberty vs Public Good with Convention Shea-ca, assisted by Mrs Brown and Mrs. Smith with reports of six districts and twenty Superintendents. President's address and outline of plans of work and budget requirements were informative and delightful. A fine musical program was rendered consisting of vocal solos by Mrs. Brunner, Grobe and Mielke and Mrs Mary Carey. Vocal duets by Misses Dish and Mrs. Smith with violin solos by Isabel Willis and Mrs. A. Grobe. The devotional exercises and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. John Wright, and the 'Current Events' period which centred around peace and arbitration was inspiring. The refreshment committee convened by Mesdames McPherson, and Parfrey, served a delicious and lovely refreshments. A number were invited themselves of the opportunity offer for free admission by paying their fees at this first meeting 16 fees were paid. Total receipts were $21.45 Topical programs prepared by the president will be given by members being entitled to one. We have a wonderful year before us outlined for the year and whether of a member or not you—the public—are most cordially invited to the gatherings. We regret that the Women's Institute have not yet selected our day to get on a tea in a building.

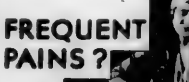
Lord Birkenhead's Set-To With Sir Roger Casement

One of the most interesting incidents in the career of the late Lord Birkenhead was his memorable prosecution of Sir Roger Casement. It was not a battle in which Lord Birkenhead was opposed to another of great legal ability. It was one of those fights which the legal profession calls a walk-over. Casement was tried and convicted on the evidence of his own diaries, which were found in his lodgings after his arrest. But it was historic in the manner that many of his colleagues were not. Lord Birkenhead was for years the leader of the Conservative Party in the House of Commons, and he had also the authority of the chief prosecutor in the case against Sir Roger Casement. He was a member of the cabinet responsible for the measures taken to suppress the Irish rebellion of 1916 which Casement had organized in the hope of securing German support for his cause. He was also a distinguished name in the law and in other directions he had been



Machinery Quote 50,000 Workers On Power Undertaking

Ottawa—Startling evidence of the manner in which machinery required for the development of water power is rushed to October when directors of the commission met to consider the trial and execution of Roger Casement, who was the chief victorious of the year. There were many who now believed he might have been a snake of statesmanship to have kept him in prison for the duration of the war, but in 1916 would he dared to free him? He had a gift about him as was the slightest question and on that account the victim of Roger Casement's treason condemned in the midst of the disturbances which he had instigated and in the hot and clamorous days which followed.

Later on he may not have numbered it among the triumphs of which he had most reason to be proud. He was the prosecutor, but he was not the judge. He was not the man to consider the trial and execution of Roger Casement with the calm detachment with which the years would have given him. He was the man who had been the victim of the Scene and Art of Cinematograph Three Hundred Hundredth Through The World

The local movie lovers are to have the privilege of both seeing and hearing the world's greatest motion picture production in the form of a talking production in which he is starred. This brings to mind the thought that, to speak of Cecil DeMille's name is to invite a certain uniformity, as compared to his long list of triumphs "Song O' My Heart" is the latest to the group. Since his American debut at the Manhattan Opera House New York, with Madame Trentini, his career has been meteoric. His name is spoken in almost all sections of the habitable globe and in this country he is a national figure. We daresay he is something more than an infant, he is conducted in the hearts of the public

In the picture directed by Frank Borzage and based on the story written especially for MacDonald by Tom Barry the supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, J. M. Kerrigan, Farrell MacDonald, Effie Ellsler, John Garrick and Vernon Clifford.

The Household Changes Prompted by Added Shoulder Silken "Do" In London."

Instantaneously following on a wit and philosopher, Will Rogers has made an ideal vehicle for the exhibition of just those talents in "The Man In London." his current starring production for Fox movietone.

Just teeming with wit, as would be expected from Rogers, it has for its philosophic side for it gives the Oklahoman an opportunity to converse with Lumsden Hare, who plays the role of a titled Englishman, the inability of people of different races to arrive at a complete understanding.

The discussion reveals the fact that people 'of all races, when you get beneath the surface may really come at the point of good will and understanding with quite opposite views on a subject. Rogers, with his homely philosophy, is the one to point out the fallacy of this conception.

To those who are thoroughly enjoyed Rogers' first sensible production "They Had To See Paris" this seemingly unfavorable has

Acidity

The symptoms of acidity are many. Sour stomach, gas, heartburn, nausea, and a feeling of fullness after eating are the most common. Sufferers from acidity find relief in Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Its prompt action in neutralizing the excess acid in the stomach is the reason why it is the most widely used remedy for acidity. Phillips Milk of Magnesia is also a mild laxative and corrects constipation. Keep it handy in the home for the whole family. Genuine only with the name Phillips on the bottle. Any druggist will supply you.

Deservedly Popular

The name "Black & White" on a bottle of whisky is an absolute guarantee of the high quality one obtains. It means that public appreciation is the same in Montreal and Sydney, which explains why Black & White is the most popular Scotch whisky the world over. Its delightful mellowness, its unvarying flavour and the sheer scrupulous care for quality is the secret.

Manitoba Wheat Pool Plan To Pay Deficit

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—Elimination of the Wheat Pool deficit by means of a levy on all wheat marketed through the pool was announced by the board of directors of the organization here today. The levy will be at the rate of one cent per bushel.

The Wheat Pool deficit is the result of the operations of the pool during the years 1928 and 1929, when, in an effort to stabilize the market, the pool withheld from the market large quantities of wheat. Many of the farmers who delivered their wheat to the pool during those years received less than the initial payment made at the time of delivery.

Under the plan announced today, the deficit will be wiped out in three years. The levy will be made on all wheat delivered to the pool, whether it is delivered to the pool this year or in the future. The levy will be made on all wheat delivered to the pool from August 1, 1928, to August 1, 1931, inclusive.

Bank Of Warsaw That Saved Europe

Warsaw, Poland.—(Special)—Warsaw, the capital of Poland, which has been almost forgotten by the outside world, is now in the throes of a financial crisis. Ever since the Polish army, under the leadership of Marshal Pilsudski, defeated the Bolshevik armies of Russia in front of Warsaw in August, 1920, and thus saved Europe from Communism, Warsaw has been the financial centre of Poland. Now, however, it is rapidly losing its importance as a financial centre, and the Polish government is making every effort to transfer the financial centre of Poland to Cracow.

The Bank of Warsaw, which was founded in 1828, is the only bank of issue in Poland. It has been the bank of the Polish government since the days of the Polish kingdom, and it has never failed to meet its obligations. Even during the Bolshevik invasion of 1920, when the Polish government was forced to move to Poznan, the bank continued to function in Warsaw. Its notes were accepted by the Bolsheviks, and the bank was able to meet all its obligations.

Today the bank is in a very strong position. It has a gold reserve of 1,000,000,000 zlotys, which is the largest gold reserve of any bank in Europe. It has a very small note issue, and it is the only bank in Poland which has been able to keep its gold reserve intact. It has a paid-up capital of 100,000,000 zlotys, and it has a reserve fund of 100,000,000 zlotys.

Surplus Is Shown By Alberta

Result of $500,000 Has Made by Good Management, Telephone Head Declares

Calgary Herald:

Edmonton.—Showing a surplus of $500,000 for the year, the Alberta Government Telephone system has been operated under the management of Mr. Thomas Ellis, general manager, since its purchase by the province from the Alberta Government Telephone Company, Limited. In any case, local subscribers were assured that their telephone service would be maintained at a very keen level, and that a premium for poverty, a penalty for thrift would not be imposed upon them. Therefore, the Government of Alberta, in purchasing the telephone system, and it has not assumed, if it have been, responsibility of the losses of the past. The Government proved the fact that the system was not a losing proposition, and that it had been operated with a very handsome profit. Besides, but it was Poland that

Stettler Theatre News

"The Man in London" has received outstanding production for five successive days.

Jack Jenning with will be remembered from Regina, is back for his performances and for 3 days he will be seen in "Dangerous Curves" with Lawrence Tibbett, who plays the role of a dancer. Jack Jenning is the understudy of people of different races in and out of the United States.

Interestingly famous as a wit and philosopher, Will Rogers has recently in ideal vehicle for the exploitation of just those talents in "The Man in London," his current starring production for five successive days.

The discussion reveals the fact that people of all races, colors and creeds get together on the surface any time of the year, of good will and understanding and, under agreement that it is safe and which Rogers has put himself in the position of a mediator between the two parties in disagreement. Rogers portrays the role of a wandering mill owner of Texas who is swept by his wife and set out to make a trip to Shanghai for the purpose of investigating a certain mill. Botha News

The weather, while treacherous, has been kind enough to allow the threshing to be finished and the grain hauled in to market in good shape. However not to a few farmers' satisfaction in point of the low quality of grain they have received for their labors. Reports are in a number of cases of grain grading as low as No. 6 feed. The cause of the poor quality is attributed to the early frosts which caught the grain in the milk stage, thus preventing it from maturing properly. Some farmers have had their crops graded as high as No. 3 Northern.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Dunwoodie and family of Calgary spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunwoodie Sen.

Mrs. Ed. Hall and family of Botha are moving to Stettler this week.

The October meeting of the Kanata Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Clark. There was a good attendance of members and four visitors present.

The Roll Call was answered with names of parents in All Hallow'e'en.

Following the business a splendid paper on "League of Nations" was read by Mrs. E. R. Peet of Stettler but sent by Mrs. C. A. Clark. There was very good discussion and of real benefit to all.

Mrs. R. Reynolds then gave a very interesting paper on "Music" which was greatly enjoyed.

The meeting adjourned and the hostess served by the hostess Mrs. C. A. Clark and assisted by her sister Mrs. E. R. Peet of Stettler for next meeting.

The next meeting of to be held at the home Mrs. J. Gammon and visitors are always welcome.

Bank Of Montreal 25th Anniversary On November 28th

The 25th Anniversary of the Bank of Montreal will be celebrated by the local staff on November 28th as the Merchants Bank which is now merged with the Bank of Montreal commenced business in the town of Stettler on November 28th, 1906.

It is interesting to note that the Branch was established only twenty-three days after the Canadian Pacific Railway had extended its line from Lacombe to the new town site Ira Peterson was appointed the first Manager.

The population at that time consisted of fifty inhabitants, living in temporary shacks. In the following spring the Bank erected a two-story brick veneer structure on its present site and numerous buildings were erected in the town at the same time The Bank's premises were destroyed in 1909 by the big fire which burnt half the town.

Shortly after, in the spring of 1910 the Bank erected its present commodious office on Main Street on the corner of Alberta Street. The equipment is complete to give a full banking service.

The town grew very rapidly during the first four years of its life, owing to the rush of incoming settlers and railway con cruction to the east. Its growth and development since then has been steady and consistent and it has had no serious setback with the exception of the fire in 1909, and today, Bankers of the principal town in a wide area of surrounding country and has a population of about 1200.

The town has made steady progress since the boom days. While it has had its ups and downs it has made an advance in each year of its existence and today it is in an enviable position for the future. Its natural location has given Bank a good start and the public school and number of high schools at present with the high school has five teachers and special attention is given to Grade Twelve work which is equivalent to the old first class certificate One of the main features of the past year or so has been the development of graveled roads and it is interesting to note that our local bank manager, Mr. Rostrup can take his car at the present of his bank and travel to Mexico if necessary, on all gravel or paved roads. Those roads will also be continued to the east next summer and be gravelled as far as Castor in 1931

The extension of the Warden railway from Stettler to Sheena has also opened up new country and the town is now the centre of three railway lines and it is on the eve of being the centre of an extensive system of gravelled roads.

During all this period of growth and development the Bank has been ever mindful of its responsibilities to be an important contributing factor, and the present manager, Mr. O. Rostrup, is fully alive to all the possibilities of the district in this part of Alberta. The Bank has a successful past and a bright future in the town of Stettler.

Provincial Constituency U.F.A. Assoc'n Convention

The annual convention of the Stettler Provincial Constituency U F A Association met in Stettler on Friday, November 21st. M. H. Hudson, President of the Association was elected Chairman of the meeting and E A Hanson Secretary

After the appointment of the usual committees, the address of the President, Mr Hooker outlining the activities of the Association for the past year was listened to with a great deal of interest.

The Secretary's report showed the finances of the Association to be at a low ebb at present, with a deficit for the year of about $78.00 It is to be hoped that the members of the Association will rally to its support financially so that this deficit may be cleared up in the near future

Hon J F Lymburn Attorney-General of the province, gave a very splendid address outlining with a remarkable degree of clearness the financial position of the province. Mr. Lymburn is a very interesting speaker and the convention enjoyed and appreciated the straight forward, succinct speech of our Provincial attorney-general. At the conclusion of his speech he was tendered a hearty vote of thanks

Four Constitutional amendments were presented and passed by the Convention The election of officers was held just before the adjournment for supper

M R Holder was re-elected President and Mrs E. Chinn, Vice-President, both by acclamation

R G Grant, R C Duncan, A McCready, Duncan Clark, E Armstrong and A. Johnson were elected to the Board of Directors.

The ladies of Stettler U F W A. then served a splendid supper.

The first order of business after supper was Resolutions of which there were fourteen dealing with the following subjects Reduction of Telephone Rates; 198 per cent Post by Legislation Import Duty on Grain Reduction and Equalization of Freight Rates, the Securing of a Larger Share of the British Market, Unemployment and Change of our Economic System from Production for Profit to Production for Use, Banking, Provincial Hospitals with Provincially Paid Doctors, Education, Reduction of Salaries of all Government Employees, Reduction of Automobile Licenses, Instruction to Voters at Election Time, Construction of Ducks as Pests, Guaranteed Price of wheat, Endorsing the Demands of the U. F. A. Members and Federal Members to the Imperial Conference, and Naturalization of Peasants.

Mrs. Sapperr, U. F. W. A. Director for Central Alberta, gave a very brief address on account of the interest of the hour consummated the Convention on the evident interest taken on public questions.

A. L. Sanderson, M.L.A. was the next speaker outlining briefly the different activities of the Government for the past year.

J. E. Brown, U.F.A. Director for Camrose, was the next speaker and very forcefully and succinctly described to the Convention the present economic life of the world and warned the people that unless something was done very dire results would be the outcome. This address was listened to with the closest attention and was a masterpiece of clear thinking and logical reasoning. The Provincial Government was passed unanimously.

Mr. W. T. Lucas, M.P. for Camrose, was the last speaker of the evening, and he gave us a very clear and concise explanation from the standpoint of the Dominion Government of the different matters discussed during the evening. Mr. Lucas is a very interesting speaker and his address was enjoyed by all present.

With the singing of National Anthem, the local Convention came to a close at 10.30 p.m.

There were 40 delegates and visitors present.

There is a good side to everything, but it is hard to find it in the case of the fellow who has to get up and crank the car on a cold morning.—Edmonton Bulletin.

A doctor has been extolling the health properties of sauerkraut. Well, we will chew you how to get them. We are sending out so many bills as to did last year and we think all parties interested to get them especially this year when Christmas bills will not be so plentiful.

This is the last dull end the only live dull on the market.

ERSKINE NEWS

Annual Meeting Of Stettler Curling Club Held Last Monday

The annual meeting of Stettler Curlers was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, of this year with a large attendance of curlers, about twenty-five in all. All the old fans were present as well as a number of new ones who have been persuaded that curling is the only game worth playing during the winter except, of course hockey and rummy. The President of the Club was absent taking orders from the Vermilion line, and the Vice-President was also out on the road so the meeting appointed W Dunlop as chairman. He called upon the Secretary to submit the financial statement and asked the audience to submit to the figures therein given a summary of which is published at the foot of this report. The meeting then proceeded with the election of officers Known as office-bearers in church circles and the following agreed to keep the Club going during the next few months the fewer the better: the Secretary especially being paid a salary commensurate with his assistant

President W Dunlop

Vice-President F T Culley—who said rather was the President re-retire at a moments notice if required at the rink.

Secretary E P Johnson—pass-word to be taken out in event of rout as Mr. Johnson lives near the rink.

Executive Committee F Venner and H C Allen

The matter of fees was a debatable point and for that reason it was held over Some members thought it should be $20.00, others $15.00, others $10.00 and others $2.00 Fortunately most of the Scotchmen were absent including one at Erskine so the two dollar rate was held up until the membership committee have a chance to go around among the members and get their combined views.

The Club will have their annual Bonspiel either the second or the third week in January, according to a motion by Mackie and Lee, who figure that they are at least two weeks ahead of January hockey. THEY MEDAL EVENT COMING ON.

There was some other talk about the Club Cup now held by Venner as it was felt that unless something was done this cup would be held by the same rink for the next few years, thus destroying competition. C L Wills urged that the Bonspiel agent be installed so that every player carries his own handicap by the time he is through but Bill Mackie might enter a rink consisting of the Pastor of the United Church and a few Elders, all of whom would be skips and take the Cup in that way This would be quite all right if these players

Donalda News

Mr and Mrs. W A Jones entertained about 50 guests at a 9-6 party on Thursday evening, November 20th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J B Jones, and family, who are leaving the district for Medicine Hat to reside

The honors went to Mr Angrin Baxter, the booby prize going to Mr. Joseph Vanderhoven—the presentations by Mrs. Walter McIntyre of Donalda.

A most delicious lunch was served by the hostess, after which everyone joined in singing community songs.

During the first intermission Mrs. John Clement presented Miss Jones with a dresser scarf from the Ladies' Aid of Sisters Mission and Sunday School class to the Miss Mr. Ryckman and Naturalization of Peasants.

Mrs. Sapperr, U. F. W. A. Director for Central Alberta, gave a very brief address on account of the interest of the hour consummated the Convention on the evident interest taken on public questions.

HIGH SCHOOL CORNER

THE CHRISTMAS CONCERT

By W K Cosh

The program for our Christmas Concert is gradually but surely shaping itself into form as we are able to whittle at it a little each night after school hours. The school as a whole, find the part-singing that is desired, quite a tedious piece of work for them However, while they are finding it difficult, they enjoy it, with such a will and determination to master it that we feel confident that they will have something quite worthwhile to render on the nights of December 2nd and 3rd. Admission—general admission as follows.

Secondary Grad, 6:30 p.m.

1.—Welcome Chorus by the High School.

2.—"The Quest of the Pink Parasol," an Operetta by Grades 1 to VI.

3.—"Strawberry Red," a play by Grades VII. and VIII. This play is full of mirth and comedy. Strawberry Red being the main character type of boy

5.—"By the Waters of Minnetonka." A treble three part chorus in a colorful setting, by the High School.

6.—"In the land of Lily-Pay" a health play by the High School.

7.—"The School," a Revised Chorus by the High School.

Second Grad, 8:30 p.m.

1.—Welcome Chorus by the High School.

2.—"The Jolly Rest Band," an action song by Grades II. to V.

3.—Black and Gold," a dance and song in High School Colors

4.—"Princess Elaine's Christmas." A Operetta by Grades V and VI

6.—"Singing Stars" a Sacred Musical Exercise by the High School.

At this writing we have no hesitancy in promising our friends two evenings of entertainment which are attracting it with such a will and determination to master it that we feel confident that they will have something quite worthwhile to render on the nights of December 2nd and 3rd. Admission—general admission as follows.

Tickets may be secured through the students and we request our friends and patrons who hope to be with us at these programs to obtain their tickets early as that they may be assured of choice seats and so that we may have the necessary money on hand to carry on in the preparation of these festive evenings. The tickets will sell for $1.00 and will admit to both programmes We anticipate a full house each evening and tickets will be withdrawn from sale as soon as the sale has reached the seating capacity of the theatre.

May we suggest that while our patrons are enjoying these programs they are at the same time making possible for the students such benefits which such activities may have for them Keep them here eighty open to enjoy a real treat

Notepad Is Handy Around The House

This notepad may be purchased in bundles four or five for five cents. I find many uses for them.

No. 1 Place one on the kitchen on which to jot down groceries, ments, vegetables which must be

No. 2 Place one beside the telephone for telephone numbers.

No. 3 Place one on the bathroom cabinet. This gives the members of the family a chance to write down all toilet articles that are getting low such as tooth paste toilet powder, etc. This is a convenience, as it enables me to purchase the required articles when they are on sale

No. 4 Keep one in the sewing basket on which to mark down required articles such as thread, elastic, tape, braid (with colors) for mending socks. Then watch for "notice" sales and order the articles when they are featured at sales.

No. 5 Living room. Perhaps while reading your favorite magazine you wish to cut out of the paper, but do not wish to do so before members of the family have finished reading it. Write down the number of the page. You may see magazine at a certain store; next down the street, telephone number and experiment with details of the sale.

No. 6 Use one of the pads in your spare pocket. While you are waiting you may frequently see small bright labels which are attached to on the following day or during a spare moment. Then stop by a spot on the counter which tend to attract a celebrity to be required, when the local need arises.

No. 7. Always keep a pad beside the radio. You are sure to hear announcements you may wish to remember. It may be a good lecture or speech, a new good music or a worthy lecture that is announced. Write down the time and the number of the station. There is no need to rush to the radio that we cannot tune in.

CHAMPION ATTIC DWELLER IS ACCUSED AS MURDERER

This is not a story which could be written entirely truthfully. It has to be drawn by hoping to believe, or, better, "believe it or not." For instance we are supposed to learn to live for the greater part of seven years in a cubby hole in an attic, which is to be the scene of the murder of his wife—and yet, the less thought we give to the unknown murderer of the scene, the more interesting the story is. The Penn Publishing Company, who are the publishers and it contains the information that the murder took place on the 16th day of October, A. D., 1930, are responsible for this with the blessings of the MONTREAL PENNY COMPANY, 101 Bedford Building, Broadway, Atlantic, for the 25th day of December, 1930, a full statement, duly verified, of their claims and of any moneys held by them, and of the other data that the Executor will require to enable the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice has been so given and he will not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person of whose claim notice has not been received by him at the time of such distribution.

Dated this 5th day of November A. D., 1930.

The late George D. Prentice, a newspaper man, was on a speaking tour, was visiting the Capitol and was introduced to Washington. While he talked there with a group of congressmen a picture fell from its nail and struck Prentice on the head. He was stunned for a moment. As he opened his eyes one of the congressmen said:

"Can we do anything for you, Prentice?"

"Yes," said Prentice feebly.

"What is it?"

"Repeal the law of gravitation!"

Government Considering Turning Money Collected Over to Canal

OTTAWA, Nov. 18 — The prairie premiers of Canada in conference here with Acting Premier Sir Charles Perley and Acting Finance Minister Hon. H. H. Stevens, failed to get the federal government to commit itself to a policy of guaranteeing a minimum price for Canadian wheat.

They were told that any such action would be a dangerous invasion of legislation by the Canadian parliament and that no undertaking to support the prices guaranteed could be given in the absence of Premier Bennett. The whole matter, it was promised, would receive consideration upon the prime minister's return.

The fact that the government was not immediately moved to take extraordinary action is regarded as a favorable commentary upon the situation, indicating as it does that no immediate crisis was foreseen.

Hon. Dr. Ogle Optimistic

"I think," Hon. George Perley, acting prime minister, stated at the close of the conference, "that the situation should be regarded with optimism." He referred to the invitation to Regina which he attended and at which the conference of premiers reported Canada's position as the farmers' funds permit, better equipment and better service to the public.

What a difference when compared with Prohibition days! No supervision, poor furnishings, poor beds. No control whatever.

EDDING NEWS

A pair of silkworm cocoons grew-ing within a closed tube attracted the attention of Mrs. Arthur Jones, of Edding, last week and she is extremely interested in watching the development of the moths. On Monday, November 17, a moth emerged from one of the cocoons and laid 300 eggs. Mrs. Jones is now waiting for the eggs to hatch and is very much interested in the experiment. Mrs. Jones received the cocoons from a friend in Edmonton.

Mr. Arthur Jones had the misfortune to sustain a broken leg during the severe wind storm on Saturday last. He was engaged in putting up a fence when a gust of wind caught the fence and threw him to the ground. He was taken to the Stettler hospital where it was found that his leg was broken in two places. He is now getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones motored to Stettler on Monday.

Attorney-General Speaks At Stettler

The Hon. Mr Lymburn, provincial attorney-general, addressed the U. F. A. Constituency at Stettler last night and spoke on matters affecting the province. The two hr speech was a brief resume on his province as a whole, being a good group of citizens of his own department as well as provincial and world affairs. Mr Lymburn gave an address of about an hour and dealt with affairs generally in the province and by inference to world development. He said that with the grain crops of the world filled up and in some cases overflowing with food and necessary commodities for the comfort of the human race, it is heartrending that the unemployment problem should be the leading problem of the world today.

"There is something wrong with a system that threatens starvation to honest citizens in the midst of plenty. In fact, the matter has reached such proportions that the greatest minds of the world are concentrating on this very problem. The biggest problem as I see it, is will the intellectuals and governors that be accept the challenge to solve this question before these consequences follow as a result of the existing conditions" Mr Lymburn continued.

Progress In Sight

Mr Lymburn stated that little real progress had been made in the Anglo-Saxon world since the Bolshevik menace as regards caring for the unfortunate and indigent individuals in society

He challenged the rural council members to accept their share of the responsibility in the unemployment problem and told them that they were in the closest contact to the actual conditions of any official in the modern system of government

One solution to the present conditions existing in Western Canada according to Mr Lymburn, he's set which would allow producers to sell their goods throughout the province by the payment of a single tax to the province instead of a tax in each municipality in which they did business

The speaker also took up the matter of individual responsibility for world conditions and stated that such conditions were also brought about by individual extravagance and speculation. He believed that the people generally were spending more money unnecessarily in good times than would be sufficient to prevent the effects of unemployment in the present time. He believed that the business of the province should be conducted the same orderly business with the same care as the business of the private man.

Debt Unsound

"One of the most marked tragedies of our present system is the fact that we find the provincial finds crowded with young men and women, the majority of whom are unable to secure or obtain employment. It is one of the biggest problems we have as leaders of this province to solve today," Mr Lymburn continued.

He believed that there was a responsibility in this connection that the governors and citizens of Alberta would have to face before real progress could be reported in the affairs of the individual citizen.

"If the present fails to carry out its duty, the responsibility goes to the state. I am not necessarily speaking for the government on this point, but I am certainly giving you my personal opinion," the official added

The speaker traced the history of the depressions which had occurred since the 18th century and emphasized the fact that the people of today cannot escape the responsibility of dealing with the situation which faces them. Unemployment at this point, he said, is a contributing factor to the present depression.

Mr Lymburn pointed out that the attorney-general in outlining the finances in the hamlets and provinces, he's set which would allow producers to sell their goods throughout the province by the payment of a single tax to the province instead of a tax in each municipality in which they did business

Turkeys Wanted

A CONSIGNMENT is wanted for Dressed Turkeys to be shipped to Edmonton. Please let us know at once what you have to offer. Will pay highest market prices. Quantity unimportant that if we need it we will buy it. Expect shipments to arrive not later than December 15th. Write or wire

F. J. Fraser

F. J. Fraser We have bought large quantities of Dressed Poultry in Alberta, and can use 100,000 pounds for this market.

This year we eliminate buying and travelling expenses and merchandise to local dealers, we believe we can pay producers better prices for direct shipments to consumer that if we went from town to town and bought from merchants. So we submit your shipments direct to us by freight or express.

If I express shipments we advise wrapping each bird well with paper and packing in crate.

We also handle Barley, Oats, Alsike and Timothy Seed. Write us if Growers have seed to offer this year.

Ship early. For shipments next month now, the New Year's market is usually very good

Gadaby News

(Held Over From Last Week)

Rev Hugh Dobson D.D. of Vancouver, Field Secretary for the Alberta and British Columbia Social Service and Evangelism in the United Church addressed a small but appreciative gathering on Tuesday evening. He spoke of the church not only United but united and urged his hearers to do their part to helping to promote the unity of all creeds for the spreading of the Gospel and the welfare of humanity

A party consisting of S. Gallon, J. F. Schroeder, R. McCracken, W. Sargent, P. Deaner, Miss Hildebrand and Paul McNaughton, left on Thursday for a moose hunt in the country north of Edmonton.

Mr and Mrs Lloyd Hannah entertained a number of their friends last Wednesday evening.

Miss Belle Graham of Big Valley is the guest of her sister Miss Christine Graham this week.

W D Rich was a visitor in Calgary last week.

Mrs. H Reynolds is on the sick list this week suffering from a very severe cold. Owing to the many changes in the weather quite a number in town have had colds lately.

The Junior C.G.T had a very enjoyable social evening on Hallowe'en at the home of their leader Mrs. R. W. Berry.

Rev—Th Mr and Mrs Fred Anderson, at the Cottage Hospital, on Thursday, November 20th, a son.

The next basket-forward to W Mr. Thos. Hall was presented on Friday night to a supposedly unknown which thoroughly enjoyed every moment of this very delightful function. Those taking part were Mesdames J Hanley, C Cumming, Rose Bish, W Bennett, R Porter, J Matthews, W Stewart, R Steele W. D. Rich and Miss Christine Graham, all of whom were highly complimented for the splendid interpretation of their various parts, but especial mention is due Mrs J Hanley who chose the players, noted a difficult rule most creditably and also directed the production in the finest satisfaction and pleasure of all.

Between acts the following musical numbers were rendered:

Vocal Solo—Mrs Mabel Britten
Reading
Violin Duet Mrs T Bennett and Mrs Edith Rich
Quartet: Mrs W Green, Mrs P Porter, C Corbett W Erickson
A short play followed the play and radio music for which was generously donated by George Darton

Lunch was served by the W members and the proceeds of the evening amounted $110.00 which will be sent to the hospital and The Women's Institute wish to thank the public for their very generous support which was very much appreciated

The severe cold storms of Saturday and Monday evenings did considerable damage in this district.—Fences were blown down, some of the buildings demolished and many telephone and radio wires torn down

Don't forget the Omega Dance on Saturday. November 29th. At the Town Hall from 3 to 6 p.m. Admission 50c will be served and between the sale of fancy work plus refreshments and home cooking there will be raffled a handsomely dressed doll donated by Mr George Clark a hand painted cushion donated by Mrs M Beadle and a beautiful quilt donated by Mrs P Jonas will go to the one guessing its correct weight Come and help make the day a great success

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on Saturday, December 6th at the home of Mrs John Bradley All the members are requested to attend as the election of officers for the next year will take place Visitors welcome.

HALKIRK NEWS

(Held Over From Last Week)

Mr and Mrs. Metcalfe are now occupying the Preston residence

Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Hamilton of Lonsdale were visitors in Halkirk on Monday last.

The schools have begun their preparations for the Christmas Entertainment.

The elevators are being kept busy these days. Feeders and cars are eager to obtain the best possible prices for their wheat.

Halkirk hockey rinks were blown down during the wind storm last Saturday night. Will this be another disappointment?

"Be a Hiker" is the title of a play which the Young People's Society of the United Church will present on the evening of December 2nd.

The Ladies' Aid will hold the annual banquet and sale of home cooking on the church on Thursday, November 20th at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Hall, Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Hamilton motored to Edmonton on Wednesday.

Mr. Thos. Hall of the Preston district, motored Saturday of last week to Edmonton and purchased a new Chevrolet coach.

Some Noted Sewage In Toronto Papers

Friendly and newspaper dears had my words sometimes to the fact that another newspaper reporter, a columnist, and a department head, of the Toronto Star, had been using sewage in his garden. Now, I'm not sure that I have been using it in my garden, but I do use it elsewhere. Cultivation. For the benefit of those readers of the Toronto Star who may be interested in the matter, I would like to make a correction of statements by my colleagues, without doubt very much misquoted, to whom it is my pleasure to refer in the following sentences.

Mr. Wright's theory of the effect of the sewage on the Toronto water supply is one which I have never heard of before. The theory of the disease germs being carried in the water is the theory that I have always understood to be the correct one. Mr. Wright's theory that the sewage is destroyed by sedimentation, coagulation and filtration is one which I have never heard of before. The theory that I have always understood to be correct is that the sewage is destroyed by the action of the bacteria which are present in the water. Mr. Wright's theory that the sewage is destroyed by sedimentation, coagulation and filtration is one which I have never heard of before. The theory that I have always understood to be correct is that the sewage is destroyed by the action of the bacteria which are present in the water.

FUTURE OF MUSIC IS MENACED BY MOVIES

It is of first interest rather curious that at a time when people of the world are having more pure music than at any other time in the history of the world, there is a great dependency on the part of many people, apparently, on the mere substance of the art now. Is this so, dears? Can another generation have more pure music? Or will the so-called "pure" music be the only music of the future? Or will the so-called classical music be the only music of the future? Or will the so-called popular music be the only music of the future? Or will the so-called classical music be the only music of the future? Or will the so-called popular music be the only music of the future?

DON'T BE FOOLED! YOUR SIGNATURE HAS VALUE . . CONSIDER!!

If you put your name on a petition, it means you have established something that you have signed.

IS IT TRUE THAT THE PRESENT LIQUOR ACT SHOULD BE REVITALIZED?

Think what it would mean to Alberta local beer rooms and club rooms. It would open the door to beerhouses and "blind pigs." Alberta today is law-abiding. Don't bring back the abominations of law as it was in prohibition days.

THINK TWICE! DON'T SIGN!!

Leave the Act alone. We don't want the beerhouse back again.

MONTREAL USES 300 TONS OF HAY EVERY DAY IN YEAR

A recent estimate places the per capita consumption of beef in Canada at around 65 lbs. a year. In a city the size of Montreal with an estimated population of a million and a quarter this means 37,500 tons, more than 100 tons of beef every day in the year are used in Montreal alone.

In a city the size of Toronto with a population of over 700,000 it has ex 22,500 tons of beef a year to keep the soup pot and menus from Timbuctoo to Tuktoyaktuk.

WEDDINGS
SPENCER — TUDOR
The United Church Manse Stettler, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Thursday afternoon, December 4th, when Rev. J. Wilson united in marriage Miss Ethel Tudor, formerly of East Wetaskiwin, and Mr. Arthur Spencer, of Stettler. The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Tudor, sister of the bride, and Mr. Arthur Wilson, of Stettler, acted as groomsman. The bride was attractively attired in a navy blue travelling suit with accessories to match. Following the ceremony the happy couple left on the afternoon train for Edmonton, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Stettler. Many friends join in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Settler Defeats Ponoka Team
The first league game of the season was played in the local arena on Tuesday night between Stettler and Ponoka, when the local team defeated the latter by the score of 3 to 1. The league has been split up into two sections, and the other half of the season will be played in Ponoka. Each section is being handled by a referee, and the two winners will play off for the championship. Stettler has fairly evenly divided between the two teams, Skinner had a fortunate goal after the first ten minutes, but it enabled them to get ahead and they maintained their advantage until the end. This goal was the only real combined effort by Stettler. Wilson and Jack Dunlop, the latter playing centre, bothered Ponoka who brought the puck down and pushing it up to shoot, a nice goal Stettler had the advantage in the first period, and it was this goal that made the difference between the two teams.

In the second period Ponoka started many aggressive tactics but the lineup was changed and all of the puck would not travel far enough to the end ice Penny stick handling was out of the question and the teams battled on even terms from one end of the rink to the other. Finally after ten minutes of play Dr Wright broke through the Ponoka defence and secured the second goal for the locals. This seemed to put the game on new but Ponoka came right back and scored their first goal, making the score 2 to 1 for the local team at the end of the period

In the third period Ponoka struggled desperately to tie up the game. There was nothing lacking in their aggressiveness, but the locals came back on even terms and seemed to be more effective around the score. Ponoka had a good chance to score when two of their forwards broke through but the shot went wide. Their one goal-chance was put in the face with a punt and was out of the game for a few minutes. Penny Penn, for Stettler scored making it seven to one for the locals. Ponoka drawed about five minutes later and during the last few moments of the game Stettler had their advantage until the bell rang

Mr. Robertson who acted as the referee handled the game well. Ponoka should weigh heavier in the net and there was a good deal of fault pointed by local critics during the game. Tripping was also in evidence but the referee kept both sides under control when it came to an interval in the cooler the locals will have the advantage of the game. Stettler has a clean-up championship team for they were short of subs, but the season they will have two sets of teams one consisting of Walter Duckworth (Sartorial) and Jack Dunlop, and the other of Dr Wright, Jimmie Wilson and Scotty. Both forwards are quick on their feet and the game and there is not much to choose between them. Both forwards backing of Jack Dunlop and Orville Penn on the line put up a good game. Norman Shilliday and Walter Duckworth on the defence were the mainstays of the team.

The team goes to Lacombe tonight (Thursday) and will play there on Friday night. On Saturday night they will play a return game with Ponoka in the local arena. Settler Community Christmas Cheer Entertainment
Stettler Theatre, Wednesday Evening, December 17th
The biggest treat in the year and in the best cause
Every Christmas should bring a little extra to every home Owing to conditions there may be more than usual for the Christmas hangers
Many of our local artists have offered their talent. The entertainment will consist of band selections, orchestration, violin solos, piano solos, vocal solos and two excellent comedy acts
The committee has been fortunate in securing a very famous hypnotic artist who will send you into fits of laughter with his comedy and make you wonder at his magic
This promises to be an unusually interesting program. It is not every year your privilege but your duty to buy as many tickets as you possibly can, swell the fund and make it worthwhile. Some of the local organizations have done their part by donating prize packages, but a central committee has been formed this year who, it is hoped, will dispose of the Fund in the community in the best possible way and avoid any overlapping.

MORROW'S PERSONALITY PROVES GREAT ASSET

Mr. R. B. Bennett, K.C., M.P., Conservative leader, has been returned to the House of Commons with a majority of 8,000 votes over his Liberal opponent, Mr. Morrow, Liberal candidate in the Calgary West by-election held on Monday. Mr. Bennett's victory was predicted by many political observers, and the result of the election was awaited with interest throughout the province. Mr. Bennett's campaign was conducted on a personality basis, and he was assisted by a number of prominent Conservative speakers from other parts of the province. Mr. Morrow's campaign was conducted on a party basis, and he was assisted by a number of prominent Liberal speakers from other parts of the province. Mr. Bennett's victory is considered a personal triumph for the Conservative leader, and a vote of confidence in his leadership. Mr. Bennett's majority in the by-election is considerably greater than the majority by which he was defeated in the general election of July 28th last, when he was defeated by Mr. Morrow by a majority of 1,200 votes. Mr. Bennett's majority in the general election was 1,200 votes. Mr. Bennett's majority in the by-election is 8,000 votes. Mr. Bennett's majority in the general election was 1,200 votes. Mr. Bennett's majority in the by-election is 8,000 votes.

King Of The Jungle

"King of America's Jungles," is the name given to the lumber of Douglas fir and Western fir by J. L. Beck, a well-known lumberman of Seattle, Wash., who visited for the first time Vancouver Island. It is a beautiful wood, which appears to have sufficient strength for all purposes. There are extensive deposits of it on the part of naturalists. There are outstanding stories about it. The late Col. Roosevelt, who hunted extensively, says that it is one of the most beautiful of the game woods of the Northwest. He has seen many specimens measure that it is honeycombed at the centre, sometimes for a distance of 20 feet. Mr. Beck is of the opinion that the timber in Vancouver Island will be found to be of the same character. He says that the timber is of the same character. He says that the timber is of the same character. He says that the timber is of the same character. He says that the timber is of the same character. Dying Hen Is Dangerous Says A German Authority

Among women, dyeing of the hair becomes more common with the increase of years. Many of the dyes which are used to produce a certain color if they are not used with care, or in a certain manner, may break out sometimes to result affected, for "parkinsons powder" is used. According to a German authority, Dr Schrader, in an article contributed to the Deutsche medizinische Wochenschrift, and reviewed in The Journal of the American Medical Association, and in the London correspondent, points out that parkinsons powder, if the dye is not used in accordance with the directions, may be dangerous.

All dyes designed to produce permanent colorations are dangerous, and endeavors to substitute other dyes have been in vain. Hence a single application of the dye is usually not sufficient and a repetition is necessary at the time, the hair is usually not washed after the treatment, but a dried shampoo, only, at the same sitting. If the opposition commonly used to dry the hair is used, it is done with a quick is thrown off by the medi-

...th Successful Buy-Ed. Noted German Flutter

Our readers will join with us, we are sure, in observing a justifiable chuckle in memory of Chuckle Buy-Ed. whose death is announced from Hamburg. Our readers are now sufficiently understand to permit us to say a few words about Captain Buy-Ed whose name first came into world-wide prominence when the United States, had a good deal to say in preventing the slow German war lords from getting the munitions they needed to continue the carnage. Buy-Ed was the famous German Embassy at Washington who finally was sent home. Then, armed with evidence taken in the case of the most notorious of Germany's propagandists, Judge Landis was compelled to take action. Buy-Ed's many good friends will be sorry to learn of his death, but not, we hope, too much. Buy-Ed's many friends, Buy-Ed's death was with money. They also collected large sums patriotically for the widows and orphans of Germans wantonly killed when they were on submarines of at any time employed by the German embargo to Canada, though we are of essential nature, but this menace was ended, of course, when those responsible for it were interned pursuant to an act.

It is not to be wondered that Buy-Ed did is not liking for the conquest of the United States, and the destruction of Canada, as he had planned to gobble the great democracy covering the continent of America, is considered, and these patriotic is not to be wondered that Buy-Ed longed to have lived to forward an invasion of Canada. Buy-Ed's last hobo is for greatest that he could have lived to see the day when he accompanied as host of Kaiserdom Buy-Ed's successor to the throne the Hohenzollerns. Naturally he died all the sooner made up for his disappointment by his usual conviction and sagacity. He made a fortune in the United States by capping inadvisedly profitable and gradually became a noble opulence in Germany as an enemy subject. He was a great favorite with the Kaiser and they became most intimate friends at the time the Kaiser's throne was tottering and he had the good sense to remain in the United States. Naturally he died and the Kaiser died, and Buy-Ed and Von Papen their protégé and they left the United States in the midst of the most terrible war series of "Attaboy Bill."

The United States did not make public the precise grounds of the deportation but merely mentioned "improper activities in naval and military matters." Through the rest of the war, we presume Buy-Ed conducted himself like a patriotic German, though we do not remember having heard just what he did. He might have made a fine Secretary for he was the son of a Turkish merchant, his mother having been a popular German authoress. It is a curious kind of parentage and it may be that Buy-Ed will be remembered as the most illustrious specimen of it to have figured in world affairs. In 1915 he wrote a book about the war called "The Fiddler," in which he tells his war-time experiences in Washington were reminiscent. Doubtless he will be forgave the land that had hospitality and so unceremoniously and unwarrantably kicked him out. The United States refused to bury the hatchet so far as Buy-Ed was concerned and would not permit his entry, though he was wife, whom he married in 1895, returned to native land several times. She had been beautiful Miss Virginia Buy-Ed-Smith, daughter of the late Bishop Buy-Ed-Smith of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Pennsylvania. It has been noted before that bishop's daughters sometimes do not engage husbands.

Buy-Ed joined the German naval service when he was 19 and became in time the chief lieutenant of Von Tirpitz whom he succeeded this big navy scheme. It was not by accident that he was sent to the United States, for it great results had not been expected there, a man of Buy-Ed's ability and undoubtedly could hardly have been spared. Once in the United States he proceeded to Americanize himself so far as appearances went, for he lived and did his private work in New York and became currently indistinguishable from any other prosperous German-American with a military bearing. After the war he joined the anti-Semitic party and served the cause of Germany abroad. His death was brought about by a carbuncle on the neck and it is interesting to note that others of the gathering were Buy-Ed's favorite associates.

Lacombe Defeats Stettler 3-2

The second game of the season was played at the Arena on Tuesday night of this week when Lacombe emerged as the winner by the score of 3 to 2. The game was a tough one for the locals to lose as later in the game the players would not touch the puck if they thought it was off-side.
Taking it all through it was the best game seen here for some time and the crowd was given the worth of its money. A number of cars motored from Bashaw Camrose, Alix, Gadsby and other points in the district.

Christmas Concert

The Christmas concert in the Theatre on Wednesday night under the auspices of the Christmas Fund Committee was one of those entertainments that is attracted a very small crowd but filled the hall Rev J. G. Goddard acted as Chairman and introduced the numbers as they occurred.
Stettler Elks Band led off with a fine opening selection which was followed by a vocal solo by Norman Fishwick with band accompaniment which was much appreciated. Three local boys, Don McIvor Bob Beirne and Donald Pearn then gave an amusing comedy number in suitable costumes which brought down the house. Mrs A E Kennedy and Mr Norman Powell gave vocal solos of high class merit, and the only fly rule of no encores prevented the audience from hearing them again. Mrs Adshead's orchestra number which was much appreciated. Mrs Adshead's orchestra number which was much appreciated. Miss Lena Tomilitis Jim Duckworth and Cliff Wilkinson by M Gardiner and Roy Little who performed a pokewoods. These victims were made to do many amusing stunts and ended up by divesting themselves of all clothing except their midnight attire, the ultimate effect for Gardiner and Wilkinson being similar to what they are supposed to look like before starting for the night. The skit of the Professor was astonishing and unusual, judging by results. The concert ended with two fine selections by the Band and the program ended in good time at ten o'clock.
We understand that the Christmas Fund Committee have now over $400 for Christmas Cheer, but donations are still solicited in cash and goods.

CHRISTMAS DOLLS ARE GOING OUT EVERY DAY

An Ideal Christmas Present For All Young Girls

The Independent is sending out a couple of dolls every day now to the girls who are lucky enough to get them. Even the girls who start in now can get dolls. Get in touch with us and we will show you how to get them. Delay!

A few good blankets also left.

The talk this week is directed to subscribers. More subscribers are paying up this year than they did in 1929, and we appreciate this very much, and we feel that we have a subscription list for quantity and quality is not excelled by any weekly paper in Alberta. A few subscribers, however, are using the following replies to the glib solicitor calls for Christmas: "I'll give you a subscription if I thought you would stick a dollar." "I'll have to see my wife, she looks after that sort of thing." "I'll pay it to your credit the next time I am in town." "I am only a few years behind and I'll be all paid up to date very soon." "I have already paid my subscription to some other girl." "which is not the case" "I don't take anything." "Dolls are luxuries these days." "Call around the week before Christmas." "I am taking too many papers at present." "I haven't got any small girls myself and the times are too bad," etc., etc.

Subscribers, you have the opportunity to give some girl a Christmas Doll and you are going to pay something. Why not this week? You will feel better and she will feel better. The Independent will feel better. Thank You.

High School Corner

By W. K. Gish

THE CHRISTMAS CONCERT

As December 22nd approaches our Concert program gradually assumes a more definite form and more than one hundred actors and singers are anxiously doing their utmost to master their lines but which they will contribute to our effort to please you on this big night in Stettler

Our program is as follows.

Welcome Chorus by the High School

"Princess Elaine Christmas" an Operetta by Graden V. and VI.

"By the Waters of Minnetonka." A Treble Three-part Chorus in a unique setting

"The Quest of the Pink Parasol." an Operetta by the Public School.

The Decorating of Last Years Honor Students.

A Ceremony in recognition Superior Scholarship.

"The Jolly Boat Smacks" an action song by pupils of Grades II. to VI

School Days a Ballet Dance in High School Colors

"The Black Madonna," a reading by a senior student

This program will be somewhat lengthy and we request our patrons to be in their seats before 8 15 because the curtains will rise at that hour sharp and the doors will be closed between acts

There has been such a demand for reserved seats that we have reserved a few rows and sale of Dunlop a Drug Store One hundred chance sale have been set aside for reservation at an extra fee of 25 cents. All ticket holders will be assured of a seat provided it is taken on before 8 15 Reserved seats may be claimed at any time during the program. Procure a reserved seat and be assured of entire satisfaction.

There will be a matinee at 3 30 on Monday afternoon for the entertainment of the children of the Stettler district and we invite the children from the country schools to be our guests at this afternoon performance which will be similar to the one in the evening

The Principal sincerely hopes that the fathers and mothers and the friends of our boys and girls will receive as much satisfaction in attending our Concert as we have had in rehearsing together in its preparation. By all means keep the night of December 22nd open to enjoy a worthwhile Concert—positively worthwhile because produced by our own boys and girls.

WEDDINGS

MATHER — SWEARS

THE LAST FAREWELL

By Mabel L. L. McMichael

Kiss me good-bye mother darling,
Press me to your heart once more,
For I'm only one of the many sons
That are asking many to-day

We're all going to fight, for our country,
For our homes and friends so dear,
Cease your weeping, mother darling
Let me kiss away every tear

Good-bye dad, and good-bye sister,
I am called across the main;
Remember that I bleed you all,
If I'm numbered with the slain.

Brave mothers kneel a last fond-well,
Brave fathers clasped a youthful hand,
And sweethearts watched their loved ones sail
For all to a distant land

They have fought and some their
Stop beside them, one by one.

PRESENT PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN BRINGS BACK MEMORIES

The memory of the public is brief, but it rarely has not forgotten the prohibition years in Alberta.

In asking you NOT to sign the prohibition petition, we give as our reason the fact that none of us want to contribute to the bringing back of that era of law breaking and hard liquor drinking, of moral degradation and youth degeneration.

OUR YOUTHS ARE PROTECTED UNDER the PRESENT LIQUOR ACT

No one under 21 can be served on Beer and premises or buy from the Government liquor stores—the bootlegger will sell them though!

DO NOT SIGN THE PETITION

Leave the Act alone. We don't want the bootlegger back again.

Round the Country

The proposed site of the new Board of Health consists of about three acres of land on the north side of the Edmonton-Calgary highway, 2½ miles from Edmonton, and 1½ miles from Strathcona, it was announced by Dr. J. W. Mahaffy, chairman of the Provincial Board of Health, in an address to the Edmonton Rotary Club.

Dr. Mahaffy explained that owing to many complications among the different boards of health, it was decided that the Provincial Board of Health should be composed of representatives of the Board of Health in co-operation with the Provincial Board. There is also a director representative on the Board by the Mayor.

During the present year, the number of smallpox cases, although considerably reduced, is the chief problem the School Board has had to contend with, and the Provincial Board of Health, by having control of the situation, has relieved the local boards of any action that they have had to take, by having taken over the control completely at the time of the outbreak. This connection between the two boards is now proving very helpful in carrying on operations at the present time, and the results that have been accomplished by the present a good deal more than if the two boards had not been working in conjunction with the Board of Health, with the exception, as Dr. Mahaffy said, of the cases that have been forced to combat certain ignorance, and the fear of the public in connection with vaccination that could not be overcome.

Mr. William Irvine, M.P. of Wetaskiwin, is in favor of a national land and a universal buying agency for the farming country. This is a subject as far as it goes that might as well receive the attention of the present state of affairs as any other country, except perhaps Russia.

Premier Bennett is represented in a cartoon in the Winnipeg Free Press as a traveller coming back to his home country and finding that the new broom on his doorstep, one bearing the labeled "Marketing Produce" and the other "Tariff," are the only "Free Trade" articles. If our neighbors don't have the sense to bother about in our way they get them in another.

The new Farmers' Party in Manitoba and Saskatchewan is the result of the combined principles a general dissatisfaction with the old parties of past year for all farmers in Western Canada. Notwithstanding this fact it is reported that the campaign leaders of Alberta farmers have not been able to arouse the enthusiasm of the farmers in this province to any great extent. The result of their industry and energy in the past has been such that they have to bother about in our way get them in another.

A number of Acme men industrious have established a reputation for themselves in the community. Mr. Hall has brought himself into the limelight by his energetic activities. Mr. Lambert has also made a name for himself in the community. Mr. Lambert has also made a name for himself in the community.

The farmers of Central Alberta are thinking of the coming year as well as any in the three provinces. Many of these men are putting in all the land they can to crop and on a fairly low acreage. Implements are being bought and improvements made. Optimism about bringing about an improvement in general conditions through individual enterprise. Organization and right in their place but after all it is the individual that counts in a community and they are not of much use in any district who are having the "poor mouth" habit. Fortunately the foreign born element of this district have never developed that habit and they never have and never will be found in the ranks of the chronic complainers.

Dr. Carl's Discovery Stops Gas, Constipation

In his private practice, Dr. Carl has found that gas, constipation and sour stomach are all due to the same cause—a lack of bile. Without bile, food does not digest properly, but sours and ferments, causing gas, sour stomach, constipation and headaches. Dr. Carl's Discovery is a combination of 5 bile stimulating herbs. Get a package today from your druggist. Only 25 cents. Let nature give your system a thorough cleaning. Then you will not have a dull, sick headache, constipation or sour stomach. Dr. Carl's Discovery is guaranteed to satisfy you or your money back. Sold by druggists everywhere.

How to Assist the Digestion

THE most successful digestion is open to suppression if you only select the right amount. Then, many a man has found, to whom it has been of much good before or just after hands or dinner. And, of course, you know that "White Horse" Whisky is exquisite.

"White Horse" is so richly matured, so safe and so sound and so sensible in the good it does.

A most genial, mellow and delightful whisky does not exist.

GEORGE H. TOWNLEY

Mr George H. Townley was born on Sunday 22nd, Worcester, England and was married to Miss Ellen Pitts, Miss, in 1884, where the left city of March, 1929, to Canada to reside in Three Hills where he resided until May 1930, when he came on with his family to Stettler For the past month he resided in the city and had business, where he passed away on the 14th inst. He is survived by his wife, Three sons, Frank, Charles and Charles Stettler, and 3 daughters Mrs. Hall of Calgary, Mrs. Bowers of Edmonton, and Mrs. Tweedie of Three Hills. The funeral service was held from the R. U. of Stettler, April 16th, 1930.

Mr Tweedie made his home on this town until October, 1929, when he married Miss Ellen Pitts, and moved to Drumheller, where he and Mrs. Tweedie purchased a small dairy business which they operated for about six months. Mr. Tweedie then sold out his dairy business and moved to Stettler.

Mr. Tweedie enjoyed fairly good health until the middle of last month. He was taken ill on Thursday, November 6th, and death coming on suddenly that day. He was taken to the hospital in Stettler, where he passed away on the 14th inst. Mr. and Mrs. Tweedie were a happy couple and their home was a terrible shock for Mrs. Tweedie when she found him a short time

A Christmas Message

NOT as an habitual courtesy, nor in observance of a mere calendar routine, would The Stettler Independent extend to its readers and patrons the most cordial of greetings at this glad Christmas tide.

For the relation between a newspaper and its readers is, after due allowance for the "business" considerations so necessary in the interests of both, yet touched with the personal and the cordial to a degree far greater than is usual in any other business. Any journalist worthy of his high calling confesses to his readers a relationship far beyond the merely editorial and commercial. That it should serve, at least in some measure, as leadership, as inspirer and friend is the ideal of every proprietor or editor, and such are in the majority—who aspire to influence life rather than to make a living.

This year, in full assurance of sincerity, in our purpose of continued and better service, with deep appreciation of generous patronage and of such friendship as makes business but flowered into friendship, The Independent wishes you all, and all you love, a merry, merry Christmas.

Nor is this a passing seasonal or stirred by the acknowledged stress and strain through which we are all passing in these troublous days. Not the less hearty, but the more, is our salutation on this account. Though the days be cheerless and the way be rough, let our "Merry Christmas" ring all the more cheerily, for that, for after all, prosperity—like adversity—is a state of mind. Therefore let us all whisper to our own hearts and let us remind each other, that

"'Tis the festive time of year.
Time when given the old year's ember,
Time to soothe us all remember,
How'er cold be life's December,
Hearts can warm us, love can cheer."

Large Number Attend Local School Concert

The concert given by Stettler high and public schools was held in the theatre on Monday evening. December 22nd, with a matinee at 2.30 o'clock.

The program opened with a chorus by the high school, which was well rendered. The public school followed with the chorus entitled "Princess Elaine's Christmas," and this number proved to be an artistic production with nice costumes and good setting and staging.

The girls of the high school then put on a play entitled "Mistress Santa." This was placed in a very artistic stage setting and the general effect was pleasing. The characters were taken by Misses Lee, Wilson, Hall, Hamilton, Wright, Wood, Wilson, Wood, Wilson, Wood, Wilson

Christmas Eve

(By J. B. Yeats)

Out of the eastern sky, cold on the ashen air, a dying sun, reluctant, almost weeping. A strange pretentious sunset, a sunset of the end of time. The earth in the light of a half-dead moon lies numb, expectant, almost as now remembering the wonder that is in the air. It is the eve of Christmas.

Once again the heart of humanity is lifted up with a buoyancy only half understood by many shopping crowds, and by thousands of Christmas cheer. Once again we have been fooled by the old, old story. Cheery greetings rise, though the night air They echo over frozen prairie from the doors of snow-banked shacks as neighbors find good-night to neighbors as the door they ring back and forth a-cross the streets of every hamlet and village from coast to coast they mingle with the noise of traffic in the busy city as hurrying men and women greet each other "Merry Christmas" "Merry Christmas" Shame to you

Once again the brotherhood of man comes near to realization in deliverance, greed, selfishness are all swallowed up in the spirit of goodwill toward men! On the eve of the greatest anniversary of the year, a spark of the divine glows in the heart of humanity.

For three hundred and sixty-four days in the year, people have found justification in accumulating and hoarding. On the eve of Christmas, in the light that shines over the darkness from the manger in Bethlehem, selfishness is put to shame gratification comes only to grieve in the sunshine of other's happy

On this night man learns, clearly and, positive stranger of the moment, promises from tail-grimed hands, sliver from his shoulder, and the like, and all, fortunately

Christmas Eve, with its message of love, its sense of unity, its all, more evidence of the influence of the gospel of love.

At brokered-paced down-mouse-ly long stand with groceries hurrying past shop-keepers who return pack-ages into the orders of their customers To give, to smile, to laugh to pass on a wish for happiness This is the spirit of Christmas night It is to be all it shows from the stars, it glistens from every ragged snow flake drifting lightly to earth.

The evening grows In the city, the last shopper disappears from the street Majestic church steal out from stately churches echoes eastern chant and worshipers pass there for midnight service

Slowly softly still the snow drifts down heaven s gift to earth, a very white blanket for the great bodies Across the land the movement is hastened

Home! Tonight the word has a new meaning Husband and wife are as one together The night has settled like a pendulum There are families unsettled for not happiness As the light on a hearth-side to-night a call a truth a bright hall that's brave to meet it means Side by side over the fireplace a corporate baby that might mark with Him whose name is Love's pioneer.

At last night's hush how the fires rustles and glow. A silence stands as Christ's birth-night comes that's deep yet subdued—silence as though it-self were a presence in the light. The moment of stress comes a long candlestick Christian Army bend in contemplation—memory of the night's wonder

Rest night. Peaceful night!
As it dark-ness the light
Yonder where they rested vigil keep
Over the Babe Who in silent sleep
Rests in heavenly peace!
Rests in heavenly peace!"

A Day To Belong Somewhere

(By C. Mowatt Seaton)

(The Western Home Monthly)

She walked into the sheep corral to Calgary Stock.

Her name was Margaret Shelton now. Another paper advertisement had made another connection. Another change from her own life at the Shelton Ranch. Another adventure. Another disappointment. Another heart-break. Another hope. But this time it might have been the last. It might have been the end of her search. For this time it might have been a home. Another generation—today and her own mother had been a governess.

This time it might have been the last. Her mother her out in Winnipeg where her grandparents had lived when they had come from England, willing to do-it-a the Province and to-day she had walked into the Chamber of Commerce and asked to see the secretary. She had told him that it might have been the last time. That she had been a governess before. That she had been happy in that. That she had been treated as one of the family. That she had been sorry to be leaving by the Shelton's. That she had been sorry to leave Mrs. Shelton. That she had been sorry to leave Jack and Jean. That she had been sorry to leave Mr. Shelton. That she had been sorry to leave Mr. Shelton. That she had been sorry to leave Mr. Shelton

CHRISTMAS

By Reverend John Shelley, of Assumption College, Winnipeg.

Under the arch of the Syrian sky, on the rolling plains around of Bethlehem, a little band of shepherds were kept guard over their flocks by night. The stars overhead were shining as they had never shone before, and the silence was broken only by the voices of the children with the soft radiance of heaven and on the startled eyes of the shepherds's fell the Angel of Christ. Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace, goodwill to men.

Then they knew that the long-expected Messiah had come and they paid their humble homage at the manger cradle of the Infant, while their hearts sang with the glad refrain of His Name! They had not the Kingdom of this world on earth, and would not die for imposed torment in the good new day which had dawned.

But not then does the course of history run. The great events of human hope need years to mature. God does not hurry. Mankind, in the person of Christ, was then but a babe on the floor of time. Only as much as that four centuries of preparation had been given to the chosen people of the Old Testament. Then the heavens were ready to darkness at the night. And the Babe of Bethlehem became the star of the world.

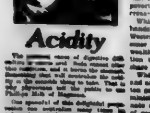
Since then upon the two-score bimillennium with the light of the radiance of Heaven, as the Joy of Bethlehem, the terror of Christendom over the dark and death flooded the hearts of the little company who formed the Church of Christ on earth.

Down the centuries it has ever been the same. The radiance of each new Christmas has been answered by the darkness of hatred and falling by the flame. Joy And that ever-widening refrain has been likewise answered by the sorrow by the dark pall of the world's sympathy! Only once in history has sanity the Kingdom come to come out to the eye and see the kingdom of a new and better day for all mankind.

In India a new political revolution is shaking the very foundations of ordered society. In China, at Cawnpoint, and elsewhere in Hindustan, and in Southern and Central America the counter Yet current, men on both sides are seeking in the Spirit of Christ, to bring order out of disorder and to find a way to co-operation and peace. Everywhere the Star of Bethlehem is beaming clear to the eager eyes of seeking millions and the love that blazed into full glory on Calvary is melting even the immense hearts of men and nations to unity and love and brotherhood.

In China, after eleven years of bitter strife and warfare, famine and disease stalk over the land, immense is rampant and human life is as cheap as dirt. Yet out of the welter of confusion, there are rising who have seen the Light of the World and are seeking with His guidance a better way of life and conduct. Only the other day a young president Chiang-Kai-Shek surrounded by Communistic hosts of all that makes the name of Christ lovely and good, was cut and baptized as a Christian.

Japan has made wonderful progress in recent years but she is to-day depressed and unrest the fear of Russia's power, while Catholics and Reformers are pressing for the victory of the Cross.



Acidity

While there is an increase of strife and poverty there is a growing sensitiveness to the frightful waste in human values which these involve and a growing realization that no civilization can live where poverty and misery flourish and depress.

While wealth has got into the hands of too few men in all our Western lands, there is a growing sense of the responsibilities of wealth and a growing determination that all shall have a share of the produce of industry.

While there is much materialism and an appalling greed of money, there is also a growing hatred of idolatry to the word and mammon, and a very disappointing of the spirit of good will and a desire to serve mankind.

So we come to Christmas, 1930, to the manger cradle of the world's Christmas. For them the radiance of Bethlehem, as a city pressed down, dealt with sin and sorrow, but there is still that darkness over the land of Palestine, and the people who sit in darkness of light perceive a great light. Their hearts are hungry for the Bread of Life and they are perishing for want of the Water of Life. They come to stable open arms.

The Incarnation is the mystery of mysteries, the Word made flesh—the Eternal Son of God, the Creator of the universe, born of a human mother in a stable and laid in a manger. Yet it is the central truth of the Christian religion, and the whole of Christian life and conduct depends upon it.

Christ is the Saviour of the world, and He is the Saviour because He is God. Only God can save us from sin, and only God can bring us to the Father. Only God can bring us to the Kingdom of God.

Lift up your hearts, ye sons of men.
For, lo, the heavens, sublime with light,
Proclaim that He draws nigh a-gain
Who came to drive away your night

The light of Christmas shines a-gain
In children's faces, bright with joy,
In homes, where love glows strong and pure
In hands that bring deeds un-to duty

Chill penury and bitter need,
Dark sorrow and the slash of pain
Through loving thought and kindly deed
Break into hope and joy and ease

The radiance of His wondrous Face
Dispels the shadows of earth's space,
A better day dreams on again
Of peace on earth, goodwill to-men.

Judge and Bishop

Everybody, presumably has read of the detentions and plain clothes men looking upon Judge Ben Lindsay on Doomsday 7th and throwing him hastily out of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

Then the Judge burned upon the great Lobb and demanded the right of reply to Bishop Manning who censored him from his pulpit for propaganda on behalf of Protestant companionate marriage.

Plain citizens ours? Detectives? Press bribes? These are curious words to use in an account of a church service. In plain English and sometimes usually irreverent the Cathedral is the scene of these duties? Are press tables usually placed before Bishop Manning's pulpit? Perhaps that is the custom at St. John the Divine but what is manifest about this event is that it was carefully planned and stage-managed. The Bishop had announced he was going to attack the Judge. The Judge announced that he would attend and reply. Then, into the midst of many people, the Judge and police, [illegible] the Bishop [illegible] which fulfilled their every hope. The Bishop denounced The Judge was denounced. The Judge was cheered, amid cries of "Lynch him!" "Aim, boy, Bishop." "Attaboy, you, Judge." The Bishop then spoke to the congregation as men, "Fights the Good Fight," and proceeded to dispense Holy Communion. In a nearby police station charges of disorderly conduct were being filed against the Judge.

No one can deny Bishop Manning's right to denounce whom he pleases from his pulpit. It is obvious, too, that Judge Lindsay has no right, whatever, to interfere. There were ample means at his disposal in which to make dignified reply. He chose another method and if he did not know that the Bishop's plans were all set to deal with him there is no doubt that the reporters told him of them when he sat down among them in the section reserved for the press. Apparently however he preferred the publicity, which by the way, he got in ample measure. The Bishop and the Judge were front page stuff next day.

But in spite of the strength of the Bishop's position there remains an uneasy feeling that Bishop Manning was not averse to the publicity himself. Many times over he has adopted grandstand methods in the attempt to carry out his ends. On this occasion he did not shrink from turning his Cathedral into a hate-garden for the sake of his principles. Whether he was right or wrong must be a matter of personal judgment. It may suffice to point out that none of us admire their purposes in the controversial—and let us add, more [illegible] It would be difficult to imagine the type that the canon of the Church was advanced in any way by what took place in St. John the Divine, the great Cathedral for which Bishop Manning must still raise $2,000,000 before it can be completed.

The cause of the Church? Bishop Manning believes that part of it consists in destroying the laxity of modern belief which of recent years has been grouped about the phrase companionate marriage. In his campaign he has evoked the authority of his episcopate mates? by the right to speak the whole truth of Christian tradition upon the subject. His own clergy disagree with him. The center in the Cathedral was precipitated by the action of an association of clergy who voted to hear Judge Lindsay espoused his views although Bishop Manning had "requested" them to have nothing to do with him. The episode thus assumes its place as part of the historic struggle between authority and freedom. The Bishop denies this. He states unequivocally that the right of free speech is not involved, but he adds that the clergy should not countenance Judge Lindsay nor should they endorse him by the hearing of him. This hair-splitting logic is difficult to follow, and this his clergy obviously do.

But laying aside [illegible] of the question, there is likewise [illegible] is important. Morals change. Is divorced society from excellence? is a fact which in this case brings the Bishop within sight of success for the advancement of a cause. It is impossible to read the comments that the attack and the defence of Judge Lindsay's theories have been carried on after fashion which would disgrace men much less civilized than the distinguished protagonists who have carried their breathing beyond all decent limits. There was something inherently shocking in the scene in St. John the Divine that Bishop Manning may take what satisfaction he can out of his knowledge that Bishop Lindsay spoke out of turn.

A MASKED HUGE FORTUNE IS BUT LIVED UNCOUPLED

Perhaps a great many readers are in the same plight as oneself in that they have never heard of Sir David Yule, until the present moment. Yet he was one of the richest men in the British Empire and when he died last year he left an estate of some £50,000,000 in India and how much more in other parts of the world is not known. Some interesting facts concerning the stirring and powerful man are being published in the press at present. He is a tenant in England to establish his residence at the time of his death. Millions of pounds in death duties are involved and on this account the Yule household of first class importance. Sir David, we would infer from reports we have read was a Scottish pioneer of the true type. He built up his fortune in India where he spent most of his active life, and it was in India that his heart was set. He was comparatively indifferent to Britain, and probably antithematic for Empire as Oliver Goldsmith; that is, if he did not think it would interfere with his investments, a subject on which we have no information.

Sir David was born in Dundee in 1860 and at the age of 17 went to India to take a position with his uncles, who were merchants. There he remained diligently toiling until 1892, when he paid a brief visit home. On this occasion he met a little girl whom he kept in his memory for he returned in the course of a period of sixteen years and married her. By this time he had amassed a huge fortune and was considered a highly eligible husband, even for a girl who was wealthy in her own right. Lady Yule says that on the first day after the couple reached Calcutta, her husband rose at four o'clock in the morning and went to work, returned for a short time at lunch, and then went back to his office, where he remained until far into the night. This was his usual routine and on Sundays a hardly earned life out himself off from English neighbors, and found his friends among the natives a habit that much helped. He was valued all the more willing to see as little of him as possible. But Lady Yule was a considerate husband and also among the natives and also sympathetic. Her protests being unavailing she fell ill, and a doctor ordered her to return to England after a long residence.

This she did, but in 1902 went back to India to make settlement effort to reconcile herself to her husband's style of living. She found it impossible and again returned to England where he bought her a handsome place which she had to support for the most part out of her own purse. Sir David made her an allowance which she would gladly pay her back some from time to time, but this she steadfastly refused to do. He was always prepared to save money at the expense to the evidence of Justice Bourkitt a born humorist if ever there was one, received "from time to time great [illegible] sums we assumed Needless to say the sums were not considered by the daughter and it was ten or fifteen minutes before order could be restored. But he was not unhappily with either his wife or his daughter although his outlay upon them was far less than wives and daughters in similar circumstances believe they have a right to expect.

But he was queer in money matters. [illegible] [illegible] had [illegible] had one a hobby of his own saving or to carry any money in his pockets and he was often at a loss to know how Sir David got about town or the conditions when he visited London. He would never take a cab, but always a train, perhaps in the [illegible] of being able to find a ticket somewhere. He was a believer of that kind and the Edinburgh Clubs, but in 40 years used them not more than three or four times. He never distained a letter nor did he permit anyone to assist him in the correspondence which by virtue of his great interests must have been large. He did in the main keep business letters. Stettler Defeats Red Deer 3-1

Stettler team journeyed to Red Deer on Tuesday night and indulged in a sweet revenge on the Red Deer team for the defeat on the local ice. They turned the tables on their [illegible] opponents and won out in Red Deer by the score of 3 to 1. The game was a fast one and every player on the ice put up a good game with the honors going to Bill McCorrie in goal, and Shirley Duckworth as a rusher. The first period saw no score by either team and the play was fairly even in the second period Ev Wright scored one of his welcome goals when put the locals one ahead. The play began to get fast and furious in this period and both teams were playing at top speed Starting the third period Red Deer came out after the scalps of play, tieing up the game K Barr and Duckworth alternated on the defense during the game and Duckworth took the position on right wing for the final period He came through with 2 goals during the last 11 minutes winning the game handily by the score of 3 to 1.

McCorrie stopped some spectacular shots during the game and it was his best game of the season.

A large crowd motored from town to see the game and they did their members proud. The next game was to arrive in Stettler on Tuesday evening with Pickardville.

EXHIBITION GAME

STETTLER 1 CAMROSE 1

Stettler and Camrose Exhibition staged a fast exhibition game on Friday night that had all the earmarks of a league game for speed and action. The game was somewhat exciting about five minutes after the play started Stettler came right back and evened the score in about a minute and again scored near the end of the first period. The second period was fairly even with Camrose had most of the play.

The second period was also full of action and speed, and Stettler again scored making the count 3 to 1. During the last five minutes of the second period, a hard shot by Ted Gutherie on the forward, Hobbs, tallied in the rear of the game. Changing over to new plays for Lassobe, donned the pads for the rest of the game.

During the final period Camrose staged a desperate attempt to even the count, but could not make it. There were no penalties final score Stettler 3, Camrose 1.

Mass Meeting Of District Farmers

A large representative meeting of Farmers assembled in the Oddfellows Hall, Stettler on Monday, the 22nd inst., to discuss present day conditions on the farm, with a view of trying to find a solution to the economic problems confronting the farmer and chiefly to secure, through legislation enactments, some form of relief or protection.— Because of conditions over which we have no control, until it is hoped normal conditions return.

The meeting was of a most enthusiastic nature and inspired one with the opinion that there was no desire on the part of those present to see the Governments of the day in their policies of adjustments and so make fair and just demands as not that the agrarian peoples may not ultimately work with disaster and hardship and the ruination of the standards of business and social life [illegible] mankind.

William Irvine M P of Wetaskiwin was to have been present, also J E Brown of Calgary members of the U F A Etc to address meeting, but owing to a conference being held with the cabinet at Edmonton were unable to attend

Mr J McConnel of Blevin, was elected to the chair and I D Taylor of Big Valley Secretary

The Chairman addressed the meeting and stated reasons for calling same outlining the present situation on the farms

Mr I D Taylor and Mr Joe Rose spoke at some length on National-isation of Farm Debts.

The following resolutions were passed which will be forwarded to the respective Governments.

1 Nationalisation of Credit.

2 That no foreclosures be allowed for 3 years

3 That an economic commission consisting of 3 men be sent to investigate conditions with a view to securing a solution.

4—That the meeting endorse proposals for the relief of agriculture put forward by the U F A executive and the Federal member in Ottawa.

5 That Tax Sales be discontinued for a period of three years and tax penalties be abolished in the [illegible] placed by a sum of 7 per cent per annum.

The Chairman was instructed by the meeting to get in touch with Robert Gardiner, M P., Acadia, and William Irvine, M.P., Wetaskiwin, to address said meeting which will be held in Stettler shortly after the New Year.

MUM'S THE WORD—"My boy," said the human man to his son, "there are two things that are vitally necessary if you are to succeed in business."

"What are they Dad?"

"Honesty and sagacity."

"What is honesty?"

"Always, no matter what happens, bar how severely it may affect you, always keep your word once you have given it."

"And sagacity?"

"Never give it."—Montreal Star.

OBITUARY

BROWN, Mrs. Alexander

After a long serious illness the death occurred at the Municipal Municipal Hospital on Thursday morning, December 18th, of Mrs. H. B. Dobson of Red Willow. The funeral service was held in Red Willow on Saturday afternoon, December 20, the Rev Mr Bonnerworth of Dunstable, and Rev J G Goddard, both of Stettler in charge of the service.

The many floral tributes and the number of people from all parts of the district who attended the funeral were a fitting testimonial of the esteem the deceased was held in the district where she had lived for so many years of her life.

Christina Baird Anderson was born at Cove, Scotland, in the year 1859 and came to Red Willow in 1903. Two years later she was married to Henry H. Dobson.

Besides her husband she leaves to mourn her loss, two daughters, Jean, Mrs. Hoople and Jimmy, all of Red Willow.

She is also survived by her brother J. K. Anderson of Red Willow; three sister, Mrs. C. S. Bisset of Red Willow, Mrs. J. M. Christianson of Gadsby and Mrs. Robert Hamilton of Sandy Hollow, Nova Scotia, and one daughter of Alix, and Mr. E. Anderson of Stettler.

The sympathy of the whole district is extended to these families in this their sad hour of bereavement.

ASSEMBLY DISCUSSION

The Province of Quebec was the only one prominent political feature during the year—one, that Adelard Turgeon, leader of the Legislative Council, a leader in the past the other, Hon. J. L. Perron, minister of agriculture, the former head of the province, and one of the prominent of Quebec. French-Canadians. In Ontario as in politics, a thing those who have written two commissioners investigated conditions in all Quebec. They died within a month of each other. The year was one of changes and surprises. The ill-health of Hon. A. B. McMaster compelled his resignation of the Lieutenant-ship, which he had held only from September 1930 and on October 30th, Gordon W. Scott, a leading accountant of Montreal, was sworn in his successor. The year culminated in the country of Huntingdon, but was defeated on November 5th and Premier Taschereau was compelled to himself take over the finance portfolio, vacated by the latter time stepping before the meeting of the legislature. Mr. Scott was however retained as a minister without portfolio as the representative of the Protestant minority and was appointed to the legislative council until next year when he will again contest a seat in the Assembly.

At the same time as the calling of Mr. Scott to the council another honor was done to the minority by the selection of Hon. Jacob Nichol, who had been honorary from 1921 to 1930 as Speaker of the Upper House. Adelard Godbout, M.L.A. for Lotbinière, succeeded Mr. Perron as minister of agriculture. By-elections in addition to that in Huntingdon were held in Bellechasse where the Conservatives won, Saint Hyacinthe, which they retained, in Montmorency which L. J. Tessier held the seat for five years, may have a vote after appeal.

Women Refused Vote

When Paul Sauve retained the seat for the Conservatives it was claimed by the former who had been elected by the votes of Communists, and been elected by the votes of Communists, and been the subject of considerable interest.

The Legislature session began on January 7th lasted until April 4th, and resulted in enactment of 75 measures of importance. The budget speech by Mr. Taschereau on April 1st showed a surplus of $1,000,000, which was actually $3,500,000. Of the total of the former $27 in the case of the former year was $1,000,000 and the latter $2,500,000. Public works and buildings $3,000,000, relief $1,000,000, education $1,000,000, old age pensions $500,000, Quebec Provincial Police $500,000, Provincial Police $500,000, Provincial Police $500,000,

Wheat Pool Meeting

A meeting of the members of the Wheat Pool was held on the Stettler Town Hall on December 23rd, to hear the report of our delegate Mr. J. D. Taylor, of the annual meeting of the Wheat Pool.

There was a good attendance although more than fifty members were not present. Mr. A. A. Judd presided, the minutes of last meeting were read and passed. The Secretary read a letter from J. J. McFarland dealing with the withdrawal of our Board representative from evening and answering to the old system by calling the old districts of Iddesleigh and Stettler.

The last radio broadcast was read and the meeting would like to hear more of it.

The meeting voted in favour of continuing the Radio Broadcast.

The meeting voted in favour of a levy sufficient to cover

London Society Thirty Four Years Ago

The opening of many by the Rt. Hon. Viscount Grey of Fallodon that he was about to resign the office of Foreign Secretary after holding it for eleven years, came with a shock to the public. Lord Grey has been in public life for thirty-four years, and has held the office of Foreign Secretary for a longer period than any of his predecessors. He is a very large figure in the political world, and one who has done very much good work. He has had many opponents and many critics, but they have had to admit that he is a man of high character and of great ability. He is a very large figure in society, and one who will be much missed by marriage.

The engagement is announced between Lord Crewe, the Lord President of the Council, and Miss Lady Margaret Primrose, daughter of the late Earl of Rosebery. The wedding will take place in February. Lord Crewe is a widower, and has been married twice before. His first wife was Miss Annie Caroline Primrose, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Primrose, and sister of the present Earl of Rosebery. She died in 1908. His second wife was Miss Marion Thornhill, daughter of the late Mr. Thornhill, of Stanton Hall, Derbyshire. She died in 1910. By the marriage of Lord Crewe with Lady Margaret Primrose Miss Primrose will become stepmother to her own brother's children. Lord Crewe is a very large owner of property in Cheshire, and has a very fine house in London. He is a very popular figure in society, and one who will be much missed by marriage.

The engagement is announced between Lord Ribblesdale, the late Master of the Buckhounds, and Miss Ethel Primrose, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Primrose, and sister of the present Earl of Rosebery. WELL GAVE WELCOME

The use of moveable partitions in stock cars will not only permit the loading of more cattle per car, but must be reduced the possibility of injury and bruising to the animals. This was the view taken by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, as a result of the discussion at the meeting of representatives of the railway companies and the Canadian Live Stock Association, which was held in Toronto on December 10th. Mr. Hanna, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, presided at the meeting, which was attended by a large number of representatives of the railway companies and the Canadian Live Stock Association. THE ACID TEST

The Hon. Robert Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture, speaking at the Royal Winter Fair Banquet, recently, considered the examination of horses at the new police in agriculture with a reference to what he considered the real test of the worth of a man—namely, the ability to "do work on any national policy in agriculture." He undertake I place myself mentally in some simple farm home he said and then come to my mind when I am working on the problem. I ponder everything by that alone. If the policy when enacted does not prove its impress in the farm home then I know you will agree with me it is not worthy of the name of a national policy of agriculture.

CO-OPERATIVE RESULTS

Poultry is proving an increasingly important cash crop for the western farmer. Alberta has gone very strong for community co-operative marketing projects which embrace the only good selling of the product, use of adequate methods of crate handling and shipping that is a credit to the province. It also has a typical example of results secured in Alberta from the returns received by Charles Hall of Sedgewick, Alberta. Out of 136 birds purchased under the new project as graded 92lb-fed Special 2 Select-ed, 2 Selected A, 1 Selected A, 1 Selected B. The average dressed weight was 6.2 lbs. per bird. The total gross returns for the lot amounted to $116.31 and a further payment of around five cents per bird was made by the buyers because of the superior quality of the marketed poultry. The Department of Agriculture, Ot-tawa.

WARM POTATO GROWERS

While there is a marked improvement on the part of potato growers in the grading and packing of their product for sale the general practice of the farmers remains below par. The Dominion Fruit Commissioner, Mr. Ross, in his annual report, declares that the average farmer does not grade his potatoes for sale, and that the commercial grader is the exception rather than the rule. Breeding Fancy Pigeons Is A Charming Hobby

Two of them came up from Mr Motherwell, then Minister of Agriculture visited the Royal Winter Fair and arranged matters so that that the best hour should be spent with the poultry and particularly the utility poultry which figure importantly in agriculture statistics. To reach the pens he had tooked at them with some slight displeasure, and made a remark to the effect that he could not quite see the point of any part of a federal grant being distributed among all those pets and playthings. So he fell into conversation with the superintendent of the section. He proceeded to explain to him some of the varieties of fancy pigeons and ever one honored him. Of this there were five per cent. were pouter pens, while the other twenty-five per cent. comprised most of the other common pigeons, flowers and field roots.

CLEAN-UP TIME CANNING

Now is the time to get busy to make preparations for the canning season. It matters not the mode of work used, an inaugural grass, pressure or open kettle, the time and action, which must be done the same. Every utensil must be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized before being used. The general requirements for canning purposes are—Tony must be kept clean, Tony must be kept dry, Tony must be kept cool. Its leaves are sighs
Its each sigh of air;
Its fruit is tears
Lively and glad in Thee.

Each leaf a prayer,
Each fruit a deed
And all from Thee
The sap which in Thee.

And let Thy rain
Fall—or ice or rain,
Or dew or hail
Yet unforgot of Thee.

Then shall I sing
The new song of Thy Spring.
Every leaf of me
Whispering of Love in Thee.

FORCED TO RETIRE

R. ARCH SUTHERLAND, O.B.E. says he regards new Reason as real triumph of Science.

"Up to a few years ago I practised my profession in Saskatchewan, where I had a happy and lucrative practice. On account of poor health I was forced to retire.

"For four years my strength and vitality declined steadily. I tried several plans to place in search of health but without success.

"The Sargon Treatment completely restored my health. The strength I restored my energy and vitality is nothing short of wonderful. I feel better than for twenty years and attribute my present good health to this great medicine. I regard it as a real triumph of Science."

Botha News

The extraordinarily fine weather still continues. Days are as mild and fine as March or early April, while the nights are perfectly wonderful. They are a bit soapy but well above zero and the moon is bright enough almost to read by.

School opened again on Monday with a full attendance. The youngsters have pretty well recovered from the inoculation and everything is favorable at present for the opening semester of the New Year.

Miss Eileen Garrels visited in Big Valley for several days with Miss Agnes Gibbons.

The dance which was held in the hall on Friday evening was well attended and an enjoyable evening resulted. The dance was sponsored by the Rovers Ball. The music was furnished by Messrs. Dewey and Ray Ball and W. Friend with Mrs. Ball and Mrs. J. Ferguson at the piano.

George Stuckrath acted as floor manager. Another dance will be held on Friday evening, January 16.

The Institute ladies held their January meeting at the Ray Ball home on last Thursday afternoon, January 8th. There was a fairly good attendance and the meeting was about as usual. Mrs. Underwood was in the chair.

The ladies are planning on dancing without printed programs this year. A program committee was appointed each month. This is a decided change from our past procedure and should result in much more varied programs. Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Ray Ball were appointed as director and Mrs. G. S. Armstrong was elected to her post.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Ball.

Harry Garvin spent several days last week with friends and relatives in Calgary.

The Johnsons returned from Bittle Lake on Wednesday where they had failed to bring many fish home. Apparently the them or something was just right for some great catches had been taken from that Lake this fall. They are hoping for better luck next time

We regret that we gave Miss Stinson's girls credit for the "Flannel Costume Drill" in last week's issue, when it should have been given to Miss Harbottle's girls. Miss Harbottle deserves much credit for she put a lot of time and work in on it.

Mrs. J. R. Green went into the Hospital the day after Christmas. Her stomach was badly upset and she was put on a strict diet. The family were greatly relieved to hear it was nothing serious.

Mrs. J. A. MacKay expects to return to Calgary again this week.

WEDDINGS

BACKER—YEE

In our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, beautifully adorned for the Christmas season, a pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, December 24th, when Miss Marie Pauline Yee, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pia of Erskine, Alberta, became the bride of J. Orvan Backer of Edmonton, Alberta.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Yee, sister of the bride, and Mr. Neal Pia acted as best man.

During the Nuptial Mass, celebrated by Rev. J. B. Bailie, O.P., the bride sang "O Salutaris" a solo number, pleasingly rendered appropriate hymns.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy following the death of Mr. George Parrish. Also for the beautiful flowers.

Stettler Defeats Ponoka 3-1

Probably the best game of the season was played here on Tuesday night when the home team defeated Ponoka by the score of 3 to 1. The game indicates that the players are rounding into mid-season form as all played well, including Bill McGuffie in goal who put up a brilliant exhibition.

The first period started at a rattling slow pace and Ponoka displayed some of the former games played here by capping the first goal. This goal woke up the locals and the game was fast from then on. Wilbur Duckworth soon tied the score on a pass from the corner of the opposing end. The period ended with the score tied 1 to 1

The second period showed definitely the superiority of the local team as they were on the offensive throughout, and caused many shots on the Ponoka goal. Ponoka forwards occasionally made a run to the ice but their attack lacked aggressiveness Stettler scored two goals in this period, the first by Courtney Patrick assisted by Wilbur Duckworth, and the second a nice goal by Good from a loose puck at centre The ice was slowing up but both teams were going at top speed.

The third period was more evenly contested as Ponoka staged a stronger offensive They could not break through Stettler's defense however, and their own goal was often in danger and they were lucky to keep the score down Both goal tenders were at their best in this period and no goals were scored by either side.

All the local players put up a good game, and they had better combination. Eric Hoe was an addition to the defense and this allowed the forward line to be strengthened in both shifts. With the goal tender playing at his present form the team will be hard to beat either at home or in one of their outside games.

Thursday of Lacombe, gave a very smooth exhibition as a referee and he is probably the best in the league.

EXHIBITION GAME

Stettler defeated Innisfail in an exhibition game at the local arena on New Year's afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. This was a good week-out for the locals and there was a large holiday crowd present including a number of visitors from Innisfail. The game was fast throughout, but the team as a whole was the equal of the best team, although a regular game would be a more complete test. Jack Robinson and Bill Hoe starred for the locals and kept the players well in hand.

Red Willow

Since the New Year holidays we are again resuming our daily train service between Stettler and Red Willow and it would all try our best to keep the Good Resolution's figure with us right up to Mar. 31st. And I would be such a valuable habit that we would like to keep it always.

Mike Sobaul was continued last Sunday, but Church services were held and will this coming Sunday by Rev. Father Bell.

Mrs. George Cline an old-time resident of the Rose district, is visiting in the community and also with her sister Mrs. Stanley Stubbs. We understand he will go to the Peace River Country later, where he has relatives and friends.

Mr. Jno. Miller has finished making the concrete foundations for the school building, to accommodate the Primary Grades, and they are now busily engaged in putting up the structure, which will be a handsome addition to the town.

Mr. Ingram Lyons from visited at the Omer Hankins home one day last week.

Health Service Of The Canadian Medical Association

PREVENTION DEPENDS

Diphtheria belongs to the group of communicable diseases as it is caused by a disease germ. It is a severe and frequently fatal disease and its most dangerous attacks are those upon children from 6 months to the age of 4 years.

The germs which cause diphtheria is lodged in the throat and nose. When the person harbouring such germs coughs and sneezes or simply talks he throws out little drops of moisture in which the germs are contained in large numbers.

In order to convince yourselves that this happens, we would suggest that as stated in front of a mirror, 1 substantial clean lump of sugar be placed in the mouth and then talk for a few minutes. If nowhere, a fine spray of moisture can be seen to issue from the mouth, then the person is a fairly safe distance from the children. The question for each parent to ask is—What about my child? If all parents had their own children immunized against diphtheria, the disease would be completely wiped out.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

North Country Pickled Herring

Ten pounds fresh herring and 1 pound of onions, one-half pint of vinegar, 1 tablespoonful of sugar and 1 tablespoonful salt and pepper.

Wash and scale the herrings and remove the heads and tails. Wash and scrub fish. Put the fish and the onions cut into slices, in layers in a large earthen milk and cut, and over the fish with the vinegar and an equal quantity of vinegar. Add two or three tablespoonfuls of bay leaf. Cover with the lid of the casserole and bake in a very slow oven for four hours.

Text Of Premier Bennett's Address Delivered At Regina

REGINA, Sask., Following is the text of the speech delivered in Regina on Jan. 24 by Premier Bennett, in an audience of 4,000 which crowded the Armories here Tuesday afternoon:

At the city of Winnipeg on January 5 I pledged the Province of Alberta that if it were returned to power as a policy of constructive legislation which would meet every urgent demand and part of the situation. I stated the principles which would guide the Government in the formulation of that policy. While I am primarily responsible for the policy of the Government about to be submitted to you for approval and ask you to support the candidates who stand behind it, I am not unmindful that it is only by the loyal support and co-operation of my colleagues that I have been able to prepare and submit the policy which I am about to place before you.

I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the loyal and faithful service rendered by the Hon. Dr. Simonds, Minister of Health, who has been stricken by the hand of sickness and who is now lying at the point of death in the hospital at Edmonton.

The difference between the two elements in the contest must be presented clearly to the electorate. Each must present their two policies for the consideration of the people. Each must be judged by the record of the past and by the promises made for the future. The policy presented by the Hon. Mr. Brownlee is a policy of reaction. It is a policy of stagnation. It is a policy of despair. It is a policy of defeatism. It is a policy which would destroy the confidence of the people in themselves and in their province and in their future. It is a policy which would destroy the confidence of the people in the Government of Alberta and in the Government of the Province.

Other Elections

For that reason I claimed in my speech at Winnipeg that the election was not for one province alone. It was for the whole of Canada. It was for the whole British Empire. Certainly it is a fault, it is one of which I claim the Government is guilty, that we have endeavoured to put forward a constructive policy for the consideration of the people of the province. We have endeavoured to put forward a policy which would meet the needs of the province and which would bring about a condition of prosperity and happiness for the people of the province. We have endeavoured to put forward a policy which would bring about a condition of prosperity and happiness for the people of the province. from a Western magazine the vast discovery by the Toronto Globe and the consequent rise of more than one thousand per cent in the value of the wild land, the unearned increment—here is the finest land speculation—here is the conquest of more than unearned profits—are supported by editors and supervisors of the Dominion's financial leaders. President Beatty said, with sarcasm, "It is a splendid national investment and when the use of a territory of 400,000 square miles in the valley of the wheat and the ultimate selling price Mr Beatty's statement seemed very fresh that you can safely assume that that the land is getting the advice and support of our leading institutions in its efforts to market the wheat profitably and soundly."

The attitude of the press was then taken by practically all the large financial grain operators of Canada. I mention this because I find a tendency on the part of some Canadians to blame existing conditions, although they be almost here and the 1929 year before he did

As I said, pure prosperity without that of other Dominions would be but transient. For if Canada is to obtain the supreme power which is her birthright all her provinces must march abreast to meet it.

POEM WAS GOLDEN MEDAL

THE CHRISTMAS HOUR

(By W G Collingwood)

(From a Mosque imagined to have been written by an early 19th century person, and acted by his pet tabbycat, to the drone of bagpipes and the music of reeds underfoot.)

Shepherds of old were sitting in fold and the stars were out in the sky

Shepherding folk with a shepherd's pipe, and played as the stars went by.

And who is we but shepherding folk? and our pipes play mournfully and high

To the drone.

Angels sat of the silver stars and a wonder of golden light,

Glory, they sang, praise and peace to the child that is born to-night'

And ever we sing their Yule-tide carol and , flow the tune aright

To the drone.

And softly the reeds sigh.
And still the waves lie;
And serenly the voices die.

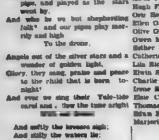
AUTHORITY



Dr. J. W. SHAVER, M.D., Ph.D., tells of saving many lives produced by Sargols in one his Hospital cases.

"As an official investigator for the Sargon Laboratories, I have personally seen Sargon at work in any thousands of cases in different parts of the country. I have seen it win victory after victory over stubborn ailments of long standing that had apparently defied all skill or medicines and treatments.

Based on recent discoveries by Medical Science, Sargon is amazing nothing its remarkable results by methods understood of only a few years ago, and may well be considered one of the great outstanding health-giving remedies of the age."

The January meeting of the Women's Institute was held last Saturday at the home of Mrs. S. L. Rhett with an attendance of 22 members and 3 visitors. Roll call was answered by criticisms taken from MacLean's Re-rates for T. F McKenzie gave an interesting address on "Preventative Medicine" and Miss Rayner Tait was next called upon and as many helpful suggestions were given with regard to the care of children and adults during a period of illness. Miss Ingels presented an amusing Monopoly contest and the prize for which was won by Mrs. R. Porter. Tea was served by Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Porter assisted by Mrs. Rhett and Mrs. Mowatt. Mrs. Black, Northern Bradley and Mayberry Dean, Miss Jean Berry of Stettler, were the guest of Miss Annie Anderson.

Roland Gallings returned to Calgary on Friday, after spending the holidays at home.

Miss Bernice Carroll has come from Oakland to attend school here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hampshire had as their guests for Christmas Mr and Mrs. Bert Smyth and three children, also Roy Hopkinson, all of Youngstown.

Mr and Mrs. R. Magnuson left on Saturday for Oregon where they will in future reside.

Mrs. George Chick entertained the young people in the neighborhood to a jolly house dance last Friday evening.

Mrs. Harry Jackson entertained several friends from town at bridge on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. R McConchie had a very jolly 20th party at their home last Friday evening. First honors went to Mr and Mrs P Bogers and the consolation to Mrs. G. Hampshire and Mr. J Gill.

Members of the sewing group of C G I T staged a pleasant surprise party on their former leader, Mrs. W Erskine, on Tuesday evening, and presented her with a half a dozen silver spoons as a slight token of appreciation for her efforts on their behalf last year

The United Church Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Anstey on the 14th of January.

On Friday evening, January 23, Mrs Orano Ashford of Stettler will entertain a number of her friends at the United Church in aid of the Sunday School piano fund. Every one is welcome and further announcement will be made later

The sympathy of many friends is extended to Mr and Mrs. R. H. Menzies in the bereavement they have sustained by the death of the former's mother Mrs D R Menzies of Edmonton on December 29th. The late Mrs Menzies was 85 years of age and had suffered poor health since the death of her husband shortly over a year ago. Mr and Mrs. Menzies left for Edmonton on Saturday for 10 years.

Miss Ina Gerald Hermies motored to Edmonton on Friday to join the other members of their family and attend the funeral of their Grandmother Mrs D. R Menzies.

Mr and Mrs Gordon Hampshire and Annie spent New Years with relatives at Crinkyrig

W D. Rich's health is still causing him some anxiety, so he plans to leave shortly for the coast where he will spend the balance of the winter

On behalf of the Christmas Sunday Workers, their chairman, W G. Green wishes to thank all those who responded so generously to the appeal, also the collectors who solicited the calls. Twenty parcels were distributed in the district this year making a total of 60 parcels for many kiddies who might otherwise have been denied the joy that primarily belongs to children at this season.

Officers of Rising Sun Lodge, No. 123, for 1931, were installed by W. Bro. Fred Tuttle of Stettler on Saturday night as follows:

W. M., R. H. Green; S. W., W. E. Cruickshank; J. W., David Drinnan, Treasurer, H. A. Hart; Secretary, Wm. Dean; Chaplain, Wm. Taylor; S. D., Arnold Webb; J. D., Ted Hamilton; S. S., F. Pratt; J. S. The Gadsby branch of the Canadian Legion held their annual election of officers on Tuesday evening with the following results:

President, Malcolm McMillan.
Secretary, A. Stettler.
Treasurer, W J Kemp.

After the business session a whist drive was held, first prizes being won by Mrs. M. McMillan and C. Cantrell, and the consolations by Mrs L. McMillan and W Kemp.

On Wednesday evening members of the Women's Institute entertained their husbands at a jolly 500 party held in the Masonic Hall. Honors were awarded to Mrs. J. A. Sendey and P. J. Long. Mrs. H Porter and W. G. Green On behalf of the husbands, C Cantrell thanked the ladies for the very pleasant evening and expressed the hope that they might again be their guests at an early date

The first of the winter series of fortnightly social evenings, sponsored by members of the Masonic Lodge was held in their hall Monday evening, with a good attendance in spite of the severe cold weather to the weather.

The annual meeting of Gadsby Consolidated School District, No. 10, was held on Monday, when the several matters of interest to the school were considered and the annual meeting was duly held. The auditors report was presented and adopted. Trustee Hampshire was elected to the position of chairman of the meeting and Secretary-Treasurer Hall was elected to the position.

Program Secretary, Edith Rich.
Miss Box Secretary, Christie Cranston.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss Allen

Meeting will be held on the first Wednesday evening of every month at 8 p.m at the home of Mrs. R. H Menzies, who will be the leader A very cordial invitation is extended to all young women in the community from the ages of 17 to 30 to join this Auxiliary Further announcement will be given as to the course of study to be followed at these meetings, which promise to be very interesting and instructive.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Menzies, Helen and Don, returned from Edmonton on Wednesday.

Miss Velma Hunt of Stettler spent the week end with Miss Margaret Dean.

Following their policy at many other points in the province, the Chosen Lassies 5X have closed their yard here owing to lack of business warranting a resident manager Many friends regret that this means the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Black and Betty who have been very popular and highly esteemed during their five years residence here.

William Dean has been appointed as the agent for the sale of the Crown Lumber Co. for the present

Several of the pupils from Gadsby have been busily engaged during the past two weeks selling the stamps for the Seal for Sue, and this has afforded much amusement for all. It is hoped now that the boys will receive some serious thought getting the light of mankind and realize that for the rest of their natural life they will be required to pay a certain amount of the school taxes in order to maintain the school. Also that they will be required to pay on the property of their father when they become of age. Many of the pupils apparently afford that the question of a fourth room is of little importance and that they will be required to pay the building. The Ladies' Aid of the United Church are holding a doll contest in connection with their annual concert on January 30th. The doll that is adjudged the most beautiful by a committee of judges, to be appointed by the Ladies' Aid on Monday evening, January 19th, will be presented to the lucky owner. The judges are in a class by themselves when compared with most of the dolls that are entered in the contest. Each doll entered in the contest will play December on Thursday, January 29th. Ladies taking booth will be charged 10c per doll, the proceeds of which will be added to the funds of the Ladies' Aid. Miss Mrs. Gravely and Mrs. Hampshire are in charge of the contest.

The Christmas entertainment and concert given by the Sunday School of the Methodist Church on Friday evening, December 26th, was a decided success. The church was filled to the doors with a large audience, and the program was enjoyed by all present. The Sunday School choir rendered several selections in a very pleasing manner, and the children who took part in the dialogues and recitations showed the effects of careful training. Santa Claus arrived on the scene in the midst of the program, and distributed the gifts from the tree. Each child received a bag of candy, nuts and an orange, and a present from the tree. Mrs. Hampshire and Mrs. Gravely were in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Jean Cranston, who has been attending school at Stettler, has been spending the holidays at her home here.

Miss Ruth Hampshire has been spending the holidays at her home here.

Two Triplet Sets Glory Of Education

Among the many other claims to distinction, Edmonton is boasting to its friends in the east of the fact that a home of two sets of identical triplets. To be the site of a single set of triplets is rather uncommon and to have attracted interest from other scientists in the United States and in Europe but to be fortunate enough to have just what should be done about it. Until a decision is made in this matter the children continue to live and their parents have never mention one of them with, real twinkling word. The youngsters are modestly proud of the attention they receive from their schoolmates and their elders but speaking generally room to be normal children, with average tastes and ability so far as can be seen. In fact, they are just the boy and girl you grow up to be an normal citizen if grow up and never be heard of again.

It should be explained here that the unique characteristics of these triplets are the fact that they are identical twins and triplets. The first consist of children who merely happen to be born at the same time and may have no greater mental or physical likeness to each other than brothers or sisters born at normal intervals. The identical twins or triplets are a part of one egg which may or may not be fertilized by a spermatozoon. It is possible for human eggs to be. They are even supposed to have a peculiar affinity unknown to others. They are produced, as a rule, by a division of the same cell, and by distinct methods. Science has observed many curious things about identical twins and triplets, and about what it has not been able to observe and what it is most anxious to learn is how these children were brought grow up if they were reared in different environments.

This is to say, for scientists, if they could have their way. Fortunately for the parents and establish them as well all would grow up in entirely different circumstances. Even if they to take they would examine and measure them. They would study their difference and be able to determine. Do they hope to what extent the differences were caused by change of environment. It has frequently enough happened that identical twins, if not identical triplets—for identical triplets as we have remarked already do not happen frequently—have been reared in different homes and have turned out differently but they have done so wrong from the watchful eye of a nurse which is still in doubt as to what to human character is exactly the result of environment and what of heredity. In the case of twins we have abundant record of their development which would be that the same environment would not produce the same results in a different environment. Dr. Harold says in the Edmonton Journal: "It is only by studying identical twins that we are enabled to know what should be done."

The elder of the two sets of the triplets is composed of Albert, Beatrice and Grace Miller, who were born on January 8, 1930, at Stony Plain, 20 miles from where they now live. Since they had to be different colored ribbons to them in clothing them. Later on each boy was given a gold bracelet with his name inscribed so that they would not confuse themselves up in a manner customary to their parents and chiefly responsible for mistakes. But as they grow older the resemblance was found so marked and now it is possible to distinguish almost them. They are practically of the same weight and their growth has been uniform. Each of the three has a clumsiness short of complete coordination and the right ear. No other member of the family has it. The color of hair and eyes is identical, and the hair falls in the same streams and finger prints show an astonishing correspondence. Even their hands show the mirror-like resemblance found in identical twins. That is to say, the left hand of one twin is almost identical with the right hand of the other, the left side of the face to the right side and so on. In the of an emergency and desire to observe of this nature, Dr. Harold has also measured the brain waves of the children. Unfortunately are not found in the same spheres.

The other triplets are the Misses Jean, Robert and Wilhelmina Dionne, born in Callander, Ont., in May, 1934. At birth they resembled each other closely, but it was easy enough to tell them apart. As they grown older they have developed individual characteristics. Some have become more marked. Mrs. Tully says: "They grow more like each other every day." It is, in fact, almost impossible for me to tell them apart. Although there are a few little weights are the same and there doesn't seem to be any difference in their height. Their eyes are blue, their finger and palm prints are practically identical. They have the same texture of skin and the same shaped teeth. Physicians have examined them carefully and find on the same day. Another curiosity is that they all have had all ailments handed. Their mother is left-handed but has educated herself to be ambidextrous and can write with either hand. In general the boldest is right of the three. Dr. Dafoe says that these triplets are identical because they developed from one egg which divided in two, and then one of the two divided again. Only half of these triplets ever from their parents and establish them as well all would grow up in entirely different circumstances. Even if they to take they would examine and measure them. They would study their difference and be able to determine. Do they hope to what extent the differences were caused by change of environment. It has frequently enough happened that identical twins, if not identical triplets—for identical triplets as we have remarked already do not happen frequently—have been reared in different homes and have turned out differently but they have done so wrong from the watchful eye of a nurse which is still in doubt as to what to human character is exactly the result of environment and what of heredity. Use Radio Snares To Catch Crooks

On the premises of Lacombe, Mich., a one-story brick building in the heart of an expensive residential district, there is a room in which the whole modern police radio system is installed.

In one corner is a short wave radio broadcasting station; in the other a receiving set. Between them is a table, and at one end of the table is a microphone.

Last spring President Hoover recommended an appropriation of $4,000,000 to establish 10 police radio systems in 10 cities of the country. Within less than 48 hours after the message was delivered to congress, police radio experts were on their way to Washington from Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

Short wave radio stations are operated there both as sending and receiving stations. The other end of the message is picked up by the receiving set in the police station and relayed to the police cars.

Police radio and the automobile are combined to make possible practically speedy arrests, police cars were out of touch with headquarters for long stretches. Now they can be reached instantly and can be given additional clues while pursuit is in progress, thereby increasing the chances of capture as well as of 70 miles an hour.

One of the first cities to broadcast alarms over Detroit in 1921. The training years of partial success followed. In 1927 Commissioner William P. Rutledge, who had instituted the idea, blazed down the broadcasting station. The experiment apparently had failed. Reception from the sets was uneven and bad, usage frequently put them out of order. At this point Kenosha, a city a pretty traffic cop, whose hobby was radio, asked permission to try his hand at tinkering with the system. With the aid of several radio fans on the force he began to work. The sending station was moved to Inside Life where it was free of manufactured and an improved receiving set was designed for the cars. The new equipment was found satisfactory. When about 40 radio-equipped cars were operating in Detroit. One was loaned to Chicago to instal equipment in 163 police cars. Meanwhile the other large cities had been making experiments. Reliable added ten prowler cars, radio-equipped and Cleveland 35.

At first the radio alarms went out through regular broadcasting channels but experimenters Chicago woman reported that a burglar was holding an apartment across the street. When a radio car reached the apartment the woman was gone. In one corner the radio was found full blast and under its lid was turned this note —

"Thanks for the tip." There is another reason why broadcasting police alarms through regular channels is unsatisfactory. Soon after Detroit began experimenting police officials, waiting down a side street heard a regular dance band coming from a parked police auto

Wood-Perishing Fraud Is To Be Exposed

In the United States a new phase of the World War has been opened by chronicling parties and the hosiery industry and annual promotion. This phase concerns General Wood, General Pershing and incidentally, Herbert Hoover. It is a phase of the war that will continue to May and Wood will be in the limelight almost all, no doubt, that time. Wood will appear in the Democratic convention in the New York Democratic convention in the New York Democratic convention in the New York

King Of Underworld Is Man Of 30 Years

Al Capone is 30 years old. He is of admirable health and is worth a good many million dollars. He is on at the head of the greatest and most powerful group of criminals in modern history. He is envied by most of all other criminals of the world because he began life a penniless boy and the first time he got further he is known to have committed one murder in a hotel room.

His duties consisted chiefly of murdering through a pocket-book pulled over very expensive and gloriously wrecking to the interior. He would also signal along the main traffic on the boulevard for possible confidences and run errands for him in the offices of the establishment. This was in New York about ten years ago and for the information we are indebted to Lewis E. Lyne, who tells the story of Capone in The Outlook. To do Capone justice he does not recall such occasions, for he has grown ashamed of them. He likes to feel that they are reminiscences altogether to the point which he is now trying to fill, namely that of big business man. Although he has not been able to have mention made of his honorable business "Harlem" People who use the word do so in the newspapers and not in the course of conversation with him.

So faithfully did he perform the under assignments above that appointed to his first "job" that it was not long before he was promoted in the management of the red light organization a most profitable business and established the fund of confidence upon it he did not consider the risks he was then about to run, and one of the earliest matters of importance taken by the gang was a pow-wow on a slaughter matter whether some of the freshly-killed victims he need fists and revolver in those days or whether Tony had the chemical effect of Tony Capone's hair whether this referred to the bullet pellets formerly over the faces of his rude from New York to Chicago he had left the Italian colony and become a Chicago gangster is uncertain. He was taken there by Johnny Torrio, a former associate of the New York Five Points gang, and at the time a lieutenant of Big Jim Colosimo, the chief racketeer of Chicago. Colosimo was making money so fast that he went in for high living and Capone was shipped out to act as his bodyguard.

In 1920 when Colosimo was murdered Capone had established himself as a figure in gangland. The murder of Colosimo does not appear to have injured his reputation for the general theory was that Colosimo was done in by Capone and Torrio. At any rate the pair were promoted enough to take over the Colosimo gang, and was enough to find the beer racket wonderfully expanded. They worked into harmonious, made their arrangements with the police and were brought and seen the referee on full pulling supporting three or four hundred thugs in offensive. The task then it was an economical explosion for the most part the organized resistance in Chicago disappeared, leaving about 300 victims in the final toss or three years Capone got the reputation of killer, but it is supposed that nowadays it is only in the moments of supreme stress that he personally turns a machine gun or an automatic rifle. In his ordinary and underlings commit them, first arranging with other members of the gang for alibis should they be arrested.

The beer gangs got their first start in Cicero, a Chicago suburb, which had an unscrupulous ring in control of the municipal affairs. It was only after Big Bill Thompson had been elected mayor of this city returned to Chicago and began to accumulate their millions. One of the most sensational of the early gang murders was that of O'Banion, a rival of Capone's. Two or three days later Capone's car was crowded to the curb and swept with machine guns. Unfortunately Capone was not in it, and only the chauffeur was seriously wounded. Capone bought a new car, had it armor plated and then called a conference of rival gangsters to try and end the shooting. The leader of teh other faction, Bugs Moran, agreed to a truce, but two or three days later Torrio was attacked and seriously injured. When he recovered he was so terrified that he left Chicago for Europe, leaving a million dollars with Capone and handing over his interests in Cicero. Since then Capone has reigned as king of the underworld.

Today Capone seems to be "as mild as a marmoset on an ear of corn" only or not a threat." He affects the genial manners of a successful business man. He was sentenced to being reserved in society. His first attempt was made at Los Angeles and might possibly have been successful had the police not run him out of town. Then he bought a place in Florida where he gave the most lavish and scientific entertainments. He never appeared in person and we learn that these functions were not to prevent Capone but to entertain his henchmen and politicians who could be useful to him and perhaps making themselves known to the resident where he or Capone enjoyed. With his group there Capone is popular. He is not highly thought of in Toronto. He does not hesitate to drop in at a funeral to pay respects and drop 'em on the quiet to show his benevolent feeling. One reason why the police of Chicago were never able to convict him of any crime of violence is that he is always prepared with an alibi. The only punishment he has undergone so far as we are aware is the sentence he served in Philadelphia for carrying firearms. It is generally that he succeeded in this so-called rap as a compromise with Chicago authorities that were anxious to prosecute him for some heavily nasty conspiracy has no foundation in fact. They did not have a very strong case but it was strong enough to make Capone consent to a year's imprisonment on the understanding that it would be his last. The presumption is that now he would be glad to drop the whole matter and begin a respectable career by joining the Rotary Club. But this he finds to be an impossibility, and the newspapers are that he will continue to be rich and famous, though armed a rattle of machine guns

Rev R B Layton Lacombe Methodist Church pastor speaking to the Lacombe Baptist and United churches on Sunday last in support of the Prohibition campaign for what the people of Alberta thought they were voting for on 1924 or some of them, most of them and I am speaking today on the subject of abolishing saloons in beer parlors, clubs and caravans breweries and brewery warehouses This Petition has nothing to do with the Vendor stores some people say that ministers have a right to preaching the Gospel and not meddle with the liquor traffic Rev. Jones, Rimmed, gave the warning orders Main. He said I have come to set at liberty those that are bound

An antagonism existing between this traffic and the church, grows out of the nature of the traffic and the nature of the church, and the former has no power for them to sell as a beverage I purpose going into some of the statements made in advertisements in every text daily and weekly paper in the province by the Dominion Liquor of Alberta A weekly bulletin, containing lurid words as regards drinking, and whose interests are being attacked An institution that is getting every one of the soldiers pensions and most provision people and the organized resistance in Chicago disappeared, leaving about 300 victims in the final toss or three years Capone got the reputation of killer, but it is supposed that nowadays it is only in the moments of supreme stress that he personally turns a machine gun or an automatic rifle. RENO

This only about 10,000 inhabitants. Reno is the largest town in Nevada. Reno has stored up to be clinically lighted arch beats

"The Biggest Little City in the World" It is a thriving community with lovely homes and delightful people. But its prosperity is considered by tragedy It is built on broken homes and shattered hopes.

In Reno last year 2,500 divorces were granted and 25 other marriages were annulled. Visitors from all over spend three or four million dollars a year in Reno for fun, clothes and the rest. Most of what the divorce business means to the town's other business laughs a piece of that size with 47 hotels, 25 beauty parlors, 18 cleaners and dyers, 12 beer parlors I compared these figures with those for a somewhat larger town. In Reno in 1929 there were 12 beauty parlors, 25 lawyers and so on.

Wouldn't it be a good thing," I said to a prominent Reno attorney, if there were some moderation for this divorce mill?

"I suppose it would," he said, "but it would mean concentration for this town."

The divorce colony consists at any one time of about 1,200 persons, chiefly women, and their attorneys, the remainder relatives, friends, and servants. The average stay of the divorce seekers is around 35 Most are well-to-do The largest contingent comes from New York. Other chief sources of supply are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Canada. On an average they have been married about ten years and have two children. Some are younger.

Those who can afford it rent a house or live at the Riverside, a modern hotel next door to the courthouse. I stayed at the Riverside myself, observed many of the divorcees, and talked with a number of them. They were like a bunch of college girls on vacation, full of fun and a reason to rejoice over. Having no reason to rejoice over. Having no reason to conceal anything, they were quite frank about their affairs. They had no reason to be ashamed. They were merely getting rid of their husbands.

At least on the surface, but just beneath the surface to find the truth I was talking with the Reverend Dr. Wallace Alcorn of the Baptist Church. "It is a tragedy," he said "All the misery that follows in the echo of drinking parties, and quarreling, wrecking living. But the only cure is to stop drinking. And the country is not ready to stop drinking. Women seem to be the worst offenders. They don't tell it in their lawyers or to the judge. But what I see in short skirts."

Through the heart of these rows of cheap bungalows, cottages and shacks runs a wide highway, the main thoroughfare of the town. On this highway are the divorce ranches. They were like a bunch of college girls on vacation, full of fun and a

A Gallon of Gas From A Gallon of Oil

Local concern is building device that will connect to chassis pump. It is claimed a gallon of distillate will produce a gallon of gasoline. The present cost for distillate is 7c a gallon and for gasoline 18c a gallon. Should the device prove successful, it will mean a saving of 11c per gallon to motorists. Local garage men are interested in the device and say that if it is successful it will be a great boon to motorists

The Duchess And Her Baby

The trend of motherhood took a decided turn when Miss Infant Welfare Centre, was born to the Duchess of York. The parents of Celestine Mary Moore-Brabazon, the two-months daughter of the Duke and the Duchess of York, arrive for her christening.

The Duchess, Duchess, until her opportunities took that only as the world has, instead I've had the privilege of looking forward to the moment her baby a whispered instruction to the Duke, Miss Moore-Brabazon, the name of a noble family, appears for the first time in her own right. Whatever the christening ceremony, we intend to see that the impressions present of honour could see her.

Women cheered widely, waved handkerchiefs and joined frantically in options in their homage to the Duchess's fleeting glimpse of the baby. They crowd remained in a state for—although they were remained—and by the sight of the happy face of Princess Mary, who, evidently very proud of her baby brother, but her own tender her father and mother to stand and wave to the crowd from the window.

The Duke and Duchess turned considerably in recognition of the morning welcome to their second child. Throughout the period they showed down as it approached the twenty-second gates of the great festival which has recently had its date worked so clean as to be almost unrecognizable.

Within its many portals the christening party were joined by the King and Queen and when they walked to the tiny chapel filled with beautiful white flowers for the happy occasion, the gentlemen and ladies in waiting were in the Royal Chapel in their gaudiest uniforms of scarlet and gold. Mr. Brocklebank, who sang the hymn that has been chosen by the Duchess herself.

The female old. Very-colored christening robe of princess lace, first adorned to the ground by the Royal Family, and worn by her little princess sheltered in the midst of her nurse, until the actual ceremony when the Princess Victoria, the King's unmarried daughter, took her and handed her to the Archbishop of Canterbury. It was the same robe in which the baby's mother, Princess Elizabeth, Queen Victoria, had been baptized. Also the same way at Her Majesty's palace. Palace over 100 years ago and has been worn by many royal babies since, including King Edward, the Queen Frederick, King Edward and the Prince of Wales.

Little Princess Elizabeth, standing beside her mother, was also wearing the same necklace, lent for the occasion, and the same bracelet, and she was christened by the same clergyman who had christened her mother.

The baby girl, who is a granddaughter of the King and Queen, and the Prince of Wales, is the first child born to her mother's arms during pregnancy, all announcement of the event was delayed until after the event was officially announced. Her birth was announced by the booming of the guns from the tower of London.

Once the news was out at Buckingham Palace crowds began to gather in the streets before the gates, and when the baby was born, the crowd was so great that a police officer passed by Mrs. Clarence Hall was hit a bystander was given later at 105 Penalty.

The first photographer, Mr. Richard Speaight, who took photographs of the Duchess of York when she was a child, took the first picture of the baby princess in the drawing room of the duke's house.

It was a three-quarters of an hour christening enough to exhaust the patience of an angel child—and yet when asked by a London reporter how the princess found the camera Mr. Speaight said:

"I have never photographed a better man. She was wonderfully good and is very healthy and huge for."

The drawing room had to be turned into a studio which meant the installation of powerful lights, so the little princess was not used to very crowd, for I have never taken many pictures of a baby with the eyes closed again.

"But could did the whimper of protest when the last flash went off," he added.

The baby was dressed, too, by the good nurse who is devoted to baby under the princess's child. The princess was also all the attendants who so many other babies, and I think I may say that the princess was the most very best of a young baby I have ever seen."

Will Boys, Advertiser Of Movie Industry

Will Hays, much against his will on account, has been made the subject of an article in the Ladies' Home Journal by Alice Hunt. Mr. Hunt, it might be said for the benefit of those who have not memorized the name, is his occupation, is a publicist who has been engaged in matters of correspondence and other forms of public opinion, and Mr. Hays, it is hardly necessary to say, is a happily congenial subject. He trusts Mr. Hays from the cradle to the tomb and has been in his course of this vast investment in the movie industry. Mr. Hays, would prefer, no doubt, to have had practiced, but as they are not always to be had for the asking, their value in any cartoon effort to annoy the man. They have also their importance as a side light upon the movie business of which Mr. Hays is now kind of chief. It has said that he is not a czar, a dictator or a prize fight referee, but merely an adviser. Whatever he is, the movie industry expected its greatest success of him and judging from the fact that it is reported to be paying him $150,000 a year, he has edged so important to it as Mary Pickford or Douglas Fairbanks.

Mr. Hays seems to have been born an Indiana politician. He began as a lawyer and as such he has a father before him. He was a pious youth and did not smoke or drink or swear. Such inhibitions found no room in his clothes, for when he got quite a young man he was known as the saltiest sower in Sullivan. He was suave, friendly, genial, ingratiating, confident and optimistic, and to season it just enough of that important ore in the Republican receipe of Boilthan County. He became chairman of the Indiana Republican State Central Committee in 1918 and was called to the telephone to learn that he had been appointed national chairman by Will Harding, who was then Senator from Ohio.

Mr. Hays was born in Sullivan, Indiana, in 1879, and was graduated from Wabash College in 1900. He was admitted to the bar in 1904 and began to practice in Sullivan. He married Miss Sue Hays, a classmate at college, in 1905. They have two children, Will Hays, Jr., and Mary Hays.

Mr. Hays is a member of the Masonic order, the Knights of Pythias, the Elks, the Moose, the Red Men, the Eagles, the Woodmen of the World and the Improved Order of Red Men.

Mr. Hays is a Presbyterian, a member of the Board of Trustees of Wabash College, and a director of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Hays is a Republican, a member of the Republican National Committee from 1918 to 1921, and chairman of the Republican National Committee from 1918 to 1921. He was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1916, 1920 and 1924. Death In Sin Sing Of Brilliant Editor

Charles E. Chapin, who died in Sing Sing the other day, will have his memorial in a newspaper—though of indeed newspapermen are long dead—and he had the remarkable distinction of being not only one of them, who, despite daily and almost overwhelming temptation, never succumbed to the vice that was his victim a person in public life. It was his vice and the very companionship of his shocking crime was that he was mentally unbalanced at the time. Chapin spent 40 years as newspaperman. Six of them he was editor with the New York Evening World, one of the most trying positions, we should suppose, in the world. It is hardly to be wondered at that the time should come when he found a sanctuary from them. Though paid a large salary he had saved but nothing and in addition had been dismissed from the last newspaper organization of Pound stage who was his friend—and the friendship came to him that he would get another job with which to keep the tenderly loved, would be left helpless to fight the battle of life alone. In a moment of desperation he killed her intending to kill himself. But that he did not do, either because his nerve failed or because the murder itself brought him back to consciousness of what he was about, or perhaps because it did further disregard his desire he was arrested, tried and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Chapin has set it all down in his own book which was written in Sing Sing, and which contains his plea for mental unsoundness of the most unusual newspaper events in his history. One of the most interesting of the stories is that which concerns Frank William H. Vanderbilt. He paid to Chapin to negotiate with a gang of gunmen who had built the Mickle Plate Road from Buffalo to Chicago, paralleling the Vanderbilt lines. They regarded Vanderbilt as a hog when out, which eventually he is and Kettering like he was regarded by the city editor of the Chicago Tribune had assigned a reporter to interview Vanderbilt. He was regarded by reporter returned the city editor found gone home and his assistant was in charge. To him the reporter briefly reported that Vanderbilt had declined to be interviewed. He then turned in a perfunctory item on the subject and strolled into another room in search of a poker game in which almost time for the last editions to go to press.

To the other poker players the bustling reporter excitedly told of his attempt to interview Vanderbilt. He had assembled the special and added him if he intended to buy the Mickel Plate which Vanderbilt had mysteriously walked a friend of your. The reporter had then pressed for an interview as a matter of 'great public interest,' to which the train magnate had returned 'The public be damned!' The reporter concluded. "The old devil actually pushed me out of the car and slammed the door in my face" and continued to examine his cards. But the night editor sprang to his feet and ordered the reporter to turn in a story concerning every word of the interview that had failed The next morning under the heading "The Public Be Damned," the Tribune carried the story on its front page. The newspaper words spread all over the country and probably cost rich Vanderbilt a good many millions of dollars as the public began to grasp the implications of Vanderbilt's contemptuous words.

Another interesting story is that of Chapin's first big scoop. It occurred on the steamer from Hull to Harwich former chief of police from the Chicago jail which exist—he subsequently was convicted and sing one of the ringleaders in one of the most successful copies of gold robberies which are a feature of Chicago managed the Methodist magazine for a number of years before he took to a change of clothes. He occupied his leisure hours between meals in the window, as vessels occupied. The next day Chapin, on the water-front beat, learned of the various actions of a schooner the night before. Accordingly noted that a tall man boarded her at a somewhat secluded spot. Chapin ventured that this was McGarrigle (it known) that the schooner was the Blake and that the man was bound with a cargo of grain for a Canadian port on Lake Ontario. Inquiry showed that Blake to be owned by Fred St. John of St. Catharines, and Chapin the town that is Dr. St. John was a prominent member of the medical staff in a hospital where McGarrigle had once been warden. It did not take long to establish the connection that the St. Johns were brothers.

Everybody then expected that McGarrigle would be arrested when the Blake reached the Straits of Mackinac but there boarded police or very Police and sheriff's officers hurried by train to intercept the Blake but learned that the Blake had passed through the night before having established a record for speed The police and sheriff's officer had succumbed to strong drink previously. It was then that Vanderbilt called on Canadian and When he found that McGarrigle was not a policeman he consented to talk and gave the story of the greatest stories that a Chicago paper had secured exclusively in years. For a cub reporter to have beaten the great Melville Stone was a feat in which Chapin took pride for the rest of his life.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Then the Judge asked if there was any business to come before the meeting. Mr. Grimm said there was nothing but the minutes of the last meeting. Then the Judge said, "Well, then I guess we may as well go home." Mr. Grimm said, "Oh, by the way, Judge, I've got a petition here, which I thought, had been put through." Judge Gray said, "Let me see it." Mr. Grimm handed it to the Judge. The Judge looked it over and then said, "Why, this petition is to have the Sealer's Office moved from Stettler to Big Valley. Why, I thought that matter was settled long ago. Why, I thought that had been put through." Mr. Grimm said, "Well, I thought it had, but I guess it hasn't." Then the Judge said, "Well, I guess we'll have to go through with it again." Then he said, "Well, I guess we may as well go home." Then he said, "Well, I guess we may as well go home." Then he said, "Well, I guess we may as well go home

Fraud Money

Most people not only want to get rich—they have a passion for getting rich quickly. People want easy money, money without labor, money without sweat, money handed to them on a platter. The difficulty in the way of gratifying this desire is that the opposite has been found to be true. Most of the money that is handed out suddenly comes from the underground money circulation.

In fact for centuries it has been the habit to regard the Devil as the chief source of "easy money." It was long supposed that he paid heavily for his souls in order to supply the necessary funds for his own financing. But suddenly a fairy of buying for investment began into the 1929 Royal Tulip Exchange and established in 19 Dutch cities. The executives of the time read like a number of Wall Street. People who couldn't a tulip bulb in the world went to their bankers and asked for larger magazine bulbs short term, being delivery in three days at $5,000 each. Then they hiked to $10,000 and $5,000.

So furious was the mania that the profit you invested on Monday might outright on Thursday if vendor bulb (1,000 to weight a pound. It might not might be considered, by Tuesday, and the buyer could possibly see five or ten parts, holding a legal claim to that much tulip, on the heights of the speculation and both sold in Haarlem for 12 acres of building lots. When the bubble suddenly dropped out of the tulip market the investing hordes all gone and it took a commission for business to recover.

John Law, the Scot who later founded the Mississippi Bubble, had learned from the Dutch tulip craze people would speculate on anything. He gave the French people an opportunity to speculate in everything.

Law established the world the Indie Company, formed Chime, the Mississippi bank, the beaver trade in Canada. He colonized the valley of Pleader and coined its money and created its bank, perhaps the greatest delight of all, ever invented by a speculator, he at one time managed to make gold things be a commodity which was losing the gold standard. He made France one paper money backed by his bank.

The Mississippi speculation was based on the idea that Australia was a large country the east of which rested on solid gold. Law's financial operations were encouraged by complaisant. But whenever the Indies looked dark, he issued a few new promising 20 per cent., offering people to turn in worthless money for good money or bonds and for stock. He became the most powerful individual in Europe. At night when Law rinsed his subscription books, crafty citizens were crowds. A duchess upset her carriage as Law drove by, and as Law stopped to help her she begged for a Pe Mississippi shares.

The end came when powerful financiers saw the inevitable and steadily sold. At last Law set true days a week for the bank to redeem paper. The decision was rapid and tragic. In one night 15 people were crushed or suffocated or trampled to death in the queues outside the bank.

One day at the market a fish stall threw a big fence note in the air, trampled and spat upon it. The Mississippi Bubble was done.

Later the South Sea appeared in a speculation Before Japan was opened to commerce the price of

A certain farmer who had been the blind robbery was by all odds the best fund for their purposes of rift and in the late 1920's he had been, however, induced by crops to plant the cranberry and to the considerable the pound bushels bought and sold with such fury that the market slumped a fourth in a few days' and that by mid-June the price was down to 2 cents.

Then came the story of many smaller growers which were ruined. Among them was a Cape Cod cranberry man whose father had been a pioneer in the business. He had established Marston Sale Company and a stream of raw water through it, which he used to wash and pack and grade the berries. He had a lot of gold were money to keep up the illusion. Other companies offered and naturally paid a subscription of 2000 per year to a subscription of 2000. But Marston's customers only as long as the market had—for they were naturally using the money and their own gathers.

Famous B.C. Says Women Are Less Faithful Than Men

Toronto, Ont., indelicacy or no indelicacy in men and their place in the world, have not been discussed, but no doubt if any conclusion has been reached. If so even called upon for an opinion on the subject we are inclined to think that we would cheerfully vote for the supremacy and double morality for Miss Ethel Mannin, Canada's lady novelist.

Miss Mannin, who is in Toronto on a diverse court cases is not as famous in the land of matrimonial as she would be in the cinema capital of the world, the Bronx and the Bar," is nevertheless a keen observer of men and women and their relationships. Last women in the modern world is to be sure. "A barrister has to be to him almost the very rank of human beasts," so that his opinions upon men and women in divorce court cases is not as trustworthy as that of matrimonial experts.

She writes: "A man with a busy life and the occupations of a barrister or of sport may manage quite happily live without the affection of a woman, but the average woman cannot live a life of even moderate happiness without love, affection and companionship. It is the food of her soul. Those who are starving must find food where they can.

More regretfully he says: "I think women are in many ways, that women are less faithful than men.

"Men are the center of the picture which affect a woman in an altogether greater degree than a man, and which make matter the push of a would-be lover, curiosity, boredom, love of change, love of adventure even the rest of an illicit liaison with its plotting and planning, its deceptions and entrapts, is sometimes better to a woman than the existence of unvaried domesticity. Sir Ellis lends the weight of his opinion, too, to the novelist's tradition about the pernicious of intuitive knowledge of women. "While no man has really ever understood my woman, the average man is the easiest thing in the world to understand and manage by any woman who thinks it worth her while. My experience is that a woman who is careful in her toilette, who is well dressed, and who has a little trouble to understand and sympathize with her husband's work or his pleasures can keep Him just as long as she likes."

One of Sir Ellis's best features, comes, the Round room exhibit, provides him with one of the most eminent of his associates. A correspondent told him that he had taken Mrs. Russell to a dance and that when they returned she found that she had lost her key. So he took her to his flat where she slept in his room and occupied the sitting room. "I said to the young man, what happened to the next thing?" To which he replied with complete simplicity, he said Well, you see, he was rather awkward because the lady had nothing but evening dress and could not very well leave in that attire. "Well, what did you do?" "Well did I do?" said the young man in astonishment, "why of course, I did the obvious thing. I telephoned to husband to come to husband." But what? I said. "I telephoned to her husband, told him that she was with me, and was still in evening dress and that he must pack up and bring her day things at once!" Which, he said, the husband did "if the husband did not mind why on earth should we?"

A legal story of somewhat different kind was called by Sir Ellis from an American source "One of our universities had need of a lay lecturer, so they advertised for one. There were many answers, but one gentleman, after stating his qualifications added that his father had been a judge, had a brother who was then a judge, and his grandfather had been a chief justice. The secretary thanked him for his letter but pointed out that there seemed to be some misapprehension as the university wanted a law lecturer and not to breed from."

Sir Ellis's reputation as a diverse court pleader gives point to the story of the famous friend, who at a dinner at the Bench of Counsel, introduced to him a certain Mr. Jones. "Jones," said Sir Ellis, "you wanted to see me, eh?" "Yes, sir," said Jones, "I've got a case in court of honour." "You mean," said Sir Ellis, "a case in court of honour." I laughed with that one." "Well, sir," said Jones, "I've got a case libeled by a doctor with a great many manners, and the noble lord has a friend who is counsel on the other side of the room and he's going to employ him to defend me. Will you ask him to consult me privately with me the proper part of the afternoon, before the case is on, on which she could not easily defend herself?"

An amusing conversation between a clergyman and a client is given on account of a dinner at which he had been in his conversation with a well-known lawyer. The lawyer was a very distinguished member of the Bar, and a friend in many circles. He had listed at a London club a respectable woman and two children and had been divorced. Later on the room where Mr. X. was present, there was a large party of men, and the talk turned to the case. The lawyer said, "I am sorry for the children, but I can't help feeling sorry for the father." Then he said, "I suppose you are right in the light of intention. He stopped there and then looking at Mr. X who was present, straight in the face, added "Don't you think so?" Mr. X. was then the chairman said. He looked at both the children and the father and said "My God, when did it happen?" When on a certain day in October 1914 Sir Ellis had painful cause to appreciate the resources of American humour. The party wanted his photograph for the Bench Book and came in popular clothes. To be only a half-length. Sir Ellis was in full "Ministerial" dress robe—which looked extremely funny in the paper next morning above the two legs that in reality were in boots and a pair of carpet slippers!

When Authors Mix Truth And Fiction

It would be difficult for Somerset Maugham to write a dull page of prose, and he has proved in his most recent persons to write a brilliant one, or it is not casting any reflection upon his ability to say that his newest book Cakes and Ale, is the most brilliant of his novels and chiefly because it is supposed to reveal some secrets of Thomas Hardy's early domestic life. Being equally ignorant of Hardy's early life and Maugham's latest secret we are unable to give any opinion on the accuracy of what is known as "psychure and and nowhere denies Harry Gallyon says of The Moon and Six Pence that Maugham has produced not only an amusing and a very great novel, but a novel that will astonish, because all the fact in the book are true, and all the characters in literature are called upon to invent forth and justify a single fact. The controversy of what is known as "psychure and to strategem for we have a profound remark to the effect that living people are, for the novelist, the richest source of characters in fiction. The truth is that the characters in fiction are not of these proportions. We must be able to move freely in the world of people and see him from the rear. In other words he must be a complete man and not a specialist.

But people in real life are not interesting because of the wit of conversation that we have character in fiction much better than we encounter in real life. The point is that unless we think of people as characters in books, unless it has to be a family story or a novel, we feel that we have not done justice to the characters in fiction. The truth is that the characters in fiction are not of these proportions. We must be able to move freely in the world of people and see him from the rear. In other words he must be a complete man and not a specialist.

Sinus Trouble

It is not unusual to hear that someone has sinus trouble. Sinus trouble means that there is an infection and, as we know, infection in any part of the body is serious. The infection is the result of the activity of living germs, and, if it is allowed to continue it may result in a chronic poisoning of the body.

The nasal sinuses are the cavities in the bones of the face, which are connected with the nose by narrow openings and the lining membrane of the nose and the sinuses are continuous.

There is also sinus under the cheekbone, another above the eye, and two in the forehead. In the same manner as the nose, the sinuses are connected with the throat, and, therefore, infection in the throat may spread from the nose along the lining membrane through the narrow openings into the sinuses. Infection of the sinuses may also follow colds. Influenza, measles, scarlet fever, or indeed any infection of the upper respiratory tract. It is a condition which should be fought during treatment at once. Not only is it that the acute stage requires proper care but it is of the utmost importance to secure such care in order to prevent, if possible, a chronic infection of the sinus.

REPORT OF ANNUAL RATEPAYERS MEETING

The annual town meeting was held in the Town Hall on Friday evening, January 30th. There was a good attendance of ratepayers which indicated very little apathy on the affairs of the town and the school.

T. B. Hetherington was selected as chairman, and after reading the minutes of the previous meeting, he called on the Commissioners to present their reports.

Mayor Hinds gave an extended report of the work done by the town generally. At the beginning of 1927 the debenture debt was $98,38, and at the beginning of 1931 it was $85,513.76. But there have been two large debentures issued since 1927 that of $25,000.00 for the sewerage and $59,000.00 for waterworks. Notwithstanding this the total of $85,000.00 for these two items the debentures debt is lower by around $400.00. that it was in 1927 In 1928 the municipal rate was 32, and 1930 it was 31½. The rates for the intervening years were as follows: 1929-32, 1928-32, 1927-31, 1926-27, 1925-30, 1924-30, 1923-30, 1922-30, 1921-30. The average tax rate was 21½ and from 1927 to 1930 the average was 19½, which is ten mills less during the past four years than the preceding four years, notwithstanding the installation of sewerage and more waterworks.

The work of local improvements is practically finished except the levelling of the roadway opposite the east, which will be done this year During the past year the new reservoir was erected which will give a capacity of 200,000 gallons of water and will meet the needs of the town for some years to come This reservoir is built entirely of cement and will as long as the town will last.

The past year has been a difficult one to finance owing to general conditions but the town is in good shape financially and the unemployed in our municipal district have been provided for during the year The town employees have also been treated fairly through the year

The record of the Mayor and the Council shows that the members had a high rating for attendance at meetings during the past year. Things they will have to deal with during the present year are the gravelling of the main highway through the town, and they will also take up the question of gravelling the town streets as far as possible

The subject of a gas franchise will be considered, and some means will have to be taken to drive the Dominion Hotel building and thus enlarge the fire hazard in that part of the town.

The gist of the Mayor's remarks as to finances are given in the tables of figures at the bottom of the report.

C.L. Wills chairman of the School Board was then called on to give a summary of school matters. He said that the Board have to decide on the question of what to do with the old school after the new one is built. The new school will be ready for occupancy by the end of April. Saturday evening, February 7th Everyone urged to attend

Alberta Government last year received $1,000,000 in revenue from motor car and gasoline taxes.

Ground was broken for the new school on Monday last. Mrs. A. McCready gave a very interesting report of the doings of the annual U. F. A. Convention held at Calgary last month This was followed by a short program which was indeed very much enjoyed by all Next meeting night will be on Monday, March 2nd, when another good lengthy program will be put on. Everybody invited.

ARTHUR'S ANDERSON

Arthur James Anderson, the fifth child and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, of Stettler, was born on February 12th, 1908, and died on January 31st, 1931.

A short funeral service was held in the Church of the Nazarene, on Sunday afternoon, February1st.

PLEASURE IS MUTUAL—A woman in the suburbs was chatting over the back fence with her next door neighbor: "We're going to live in a better neighborhood soon," she said.

"We are we," volunteered Mrs. Next-door, confidentially.

"What? Are you moving too?"

"No, we are staying here." —Our Paper, quoted by the Bonanza.

A Transcription of Poe's Poem:

"The Raven"

By Edith Meere. Grade XII. Composition:

The night wind howled about my door and I nervously turned my eyes from the volume which I had been recklessly perusing in my effort to divert my mind from a haunting burden of sorrow. Had I heard a tap on the door? Yes, there was no doubt about it, someone or by ghastly Shapes. A queer feeling of dread held me motionless in my chair for I was greatly distressed The beating wind, the lovely dying fire, the drip, drip, drip of the rain—all these had had their effect upon my nerves and now the rustling of the curtains startled me and the very thought of opening that door chilled me.

Finally, summoning all my courage and assuring myself that this visitor could be none other than a late traveler seeking shelter from the unfriendly night, I cast off my fear and, opening the door, I apologized

"Friend, you must pardon me, I was reading and was not sure—" but there was found any one there. Again, inky night—nothing else. Then in my loneliness and anguish I almost unconsciously I uttered the dearest name on earth—yes, the reverend Mr. Green even used "Lenore." I sobbed, but the drenching rain came down. I cried would only beat my prayer to the earth and my heart to its lowest depths of despair Then I cried "Lenore" with a shudder

But the raven still is sitting—still crapped again by surging thoughts I stood sitting on the bust of Pallas just above my lamber-door's head, and violently hanging the door in the face of the night, stood with my back against it.

Having thus given vent to my raving emotions, I had found composure and was regaining some degree of composure, when again I heard a tapping, this time at my window lattice Then with a muttered prayer or curse, I know not which, I stood for a moment motionless until my reason assured me that certainly it could be naught but the wind

"So, ho, so, what a fool! What childish and what womanish fears! I answered and to enter then I might wholly forcibly myself in the knowledge of my sanity and that I might completely wrest myself from the torture of the creature of my imagination I threw open the window reasoning appeal that "It is only—oh! my God!"—there on the outer threshold of the door, on a marble bust just above my room there sat a huge raven, ebony as the night, stood of grim.

The Real Sherlock Holmes

The greatest detective of the present day would be dead at 6:00 this morning but for the fact that he had been murdered at 5:45 and his change clothes.

There can be little doubt that the murder of Sherlock Holmes is the most sensational piece of entertainment that has been staged in the history of the world. The truth of the matter is that Holmes was—as almost everyone knows—a character in a book written by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and he—or she—has always been considered a figment of the imagination. Nevertheless, the author must have had a real inspiration for the creation of the kind of character and not infrequently he "Is he sane, is he bad and is he not again, that the search for the real Sherlock Holmes has come to the front of Edinburgh, his native town. Indeed, it is mentioned, for the first time, in the Edinburgh Directory for 1880, and you all that year into the Edinburgh Medical Journal.

In the circumstances, one of the ladies had interested in the search for the author of the Holmes saga would be able to find the necessary data to establish the identity of the detective. The author also interested in the search for the real Sherlock Holmes.

Get far more wear from dainty garments

It isn't because they're so fragile that your crepe garments, your lingerie, your silk hose wear out. It's the moisture things contained in ordinary laundry soaps.

You can get far more wear from the sheerest, daintiest fabric—and keep it white as new—if you wash it with PALMOLIVE PRINCESS SOAP FLAKES. Nothing but purest vegetable oils and soft water go into them. And all of that—but never appears the thinnest lather. And therefore, the gentlest cleansing you can give to delicate things.

Before you use anything else—before you buy further quantity recommended for use in the washing machine, try PALMOLIVE PRINCESS SOAP FLAKES. Then you'll know.

FARMERS AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS MIXED A GREAT CONFUSION

(By E. Cora Hind)

Winnipeg Free Press—

These articles have appeared dealing with the formation of The Agricultural Credit Corporation of Minneapolis, its purposes, personnel, means in obtaining its objective, difficulties encountered and how they have been overcome.

It remains now to consider how far is a means of relief to the farmer over the present needs of the Canadian West, and to what extent Canada would be able to apply the operating methods which have been so successful in the State of Minnesota.

The imaginary line on either question about is not as imaginary as it is generally considered, or rather it cannot be so considered in the particular instance The states immediately to the south of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have no much large areas of land with as limited a number of farms to be profitable their utilizing historical production as a means of establishing farming

The problems of western Canada's semi-arid areas must be settled along the lines of reduced production rather than the present basis of quality standards and the securing of increased yields, until such time as the Dominion Government adopts on a thorough and systematic scheme to undertake the irrigation of these areas, and convicted Ralph on similar lines to obtained regular brought about the appointment of a commission of experts, who have reviewed the case and gave Ralph his freedom.

The Slater case, the notoriety of which was greater, had for its victim, a Miss Marion Parker, who evidently splendor living in Glengarry in the Province of Ontario in her 21st at the Hot of December, 1925. Her account, Seton Lambie, was out of town at the time, and Marion was home from her errand the servant found the girl missing and reported to Mrs. Lambie on her return. Mrs. Lambie then reported the matter to the police. Mr. Slater and his sisters had heard a noise above and a heavy fall, and he had the most upstairs to ascertain what had happened. The servant opened the door to Slater, who told her that Marion had gone home. Mrs. Lambie questioned the messenger, a man named Slater, who said that Marion had been abnormally nervous and excited when called upon to speak, but insisted he had taken her home. Slater was arrested. In the ensuing room the body of Miss Parker was found, and Slater was severely beaten in and covered with gore.

In spite of the fact that Miss Oliver's was the property of a well-to-do family, and that the police had every moral support not to have been the murderer for the perpetrator of that crime, there was no lack of sympathy for Slater. Indeed, a fund was opened for his defence, and the public subscribed liberally. Slater was found guilty, but was reprieved at the last moment. Two months later he was released on parole, and the public rejoiced. Then came the discovery that Slater was not the murderer, and that the real murderer was Ralph Thompson, who had been released on parole.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIALISM—"After all there is nothing new under the sun," and a good deal of what is called "Socialism" is only a return to the methods of the Middle Ages. Take, for instance, the Agricultural Credit Corporation of Minnesota, which is being hailed as a new departure in the United States. According to the Minneapolis Tribune, the Corporation is "a means of obtaining the objective, distribution encountered and how they have been overcome.

THIS IS LOVELY THINKING — Lady Astor has said that "Death is the greatest thing in life." Which is the greatest thing in death?—Punch.

THE MEANEST MAN — Mrs. Jones: "Why, Mr. Smith, you look as if you haven't had a wink of sleep all night!" Mr. Smith: "I didn't. I was busy all night trying to get my wife to sleep."—Tit-Bits.

SUBMIT TO BEING PORTS O. K. — "Is it ever possible to see a thing as it is?" asked the man who never met to call at his home?"

A.—Yes, if she asks him to call for the laundry.

Q.—What does it indicate when a man has to borrow a match and a cigarette to borrow his light?

Farmers in Milwaukee

I take pleasure in presenting the most advanced single exhibit of the automobile function in the world — The latest belonging to the farm which makes automobile frames practically by hand on the premises of the A. O. Smith Corporation in Milwaukee. This plant not only thrives, but is one of the most successful ignorant of these conditions and its products are under stand as a textile shock to them. It is up to the Federal Board to make a thorough investigation of the charge.

In his address Mr Layton spoke of the advertising that had been put through by the Modernistion League, and showed every newspaper in Alberta had been approached by the latter. There is not one Wet newspaper in the Province that does not carry copies in all legitimate advertisers Mr Layton caught as well as the United Farmers of Alberta, nevertheless because a portion of the support was withdrawn from a local paper in favour of another with the Royal connection. There is not a newspaper in Alberta that has not shrieked that it is strongly support prohibition if any assurance of good faith were forthcoming.

The underlying principles of any such crook corporation must be that the farmers cannot finance strictly business lines, but with practical knowledge of the conditions of western farming conditions and difficulties. It is worth noting that while the Canadian banks are paying 6 per cent on all the deposits they can get them, the Minneapolis Corporation will not pay more than 4 per cent. The money is subscribed by Chicago and rising east of that point. New York Minneapolis Corporation, and the organization, the management and the selection of officials was left to the West, and the same trend be noticeable in the case of such a crook corporation is to be expected.

It may be difficult to find a sufficient number of Canadian farmers conditions and the wide extent of the country making enough by W C Williams of the Minneapolis Corporation, but such a number could be found in the Western Canada today. A Canadian Credit Corporation would have one great advantage at the start over the one organized at Minneapolis namely, that the Canadian farmer is many times heavy home to stabilize conditions, and is not taking over of more or less frozen assets. On the other hand the Canadian system of branch banks precludes the formation of the same percentage of community banks as in the United States, moreover in a given district which would have much valuable assistance of the local committees established to pass on loans. Another disadvantage is the absence in Canada of district agricultural representatives corresponding to the county agents who have been so large a factor in the success of the Credit Corporation scheme of Minnesota. This is a handicap, which is no doubt to some extent offset by the enormous asset be devised to overcome

An Agricultural Credit Corporation organized at once along the lines indicated would do much to restore confidence and inspire farmers to renewed efforts With crops of 400,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000,000,000 bushels of oats in sight, the Canadian farmer is not in the position of a beggar asking for charity, but of a business man who has a right to demand that the conditions under which he is doing business be such as to enable him to make a profit. Such a Credit Corporation would be a great step in the right direction, and would be the best means of securing prosperity to the whole Dominion.

Says Britains Rich Men Are Stingy

"An official return issued last year showed that there were five and six hundred persons in Britain with an income properly worth over $5,000 a year," Mr Richardson told Pyle in Reynolds Illustrated News.

"It showed that 147 persons had incomes of over $5,000 a week, that 99 millionaires drew between $625,000 and about $2,500,000 a year, and seven or seven arranged along on incomes of between $250,000 and $625,000 a year.

"These 560 received $1,200 a week or more—more than the average man's yearly income. While a good many hundreds of others got $1,200 and many thousands had from $600 to $1,200 a year, which works out at nearly $25 to $200 a day.

"The other day a London business man was fined at the rate of $12,000 a year, which works out at nearly $1,000 a month, for driving his motor car faster than the law allows.

"Now I know from what I have been told in Chicago that Mr Insull does an enormous amount of giving at home. How can we keep our soul-respect if we go cadging?

"When the Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon was burned, we found the best way to get money to build another in its place? The rich people of England? No, the rich people of America.

"Of late many have given enormous amounts for various good purposes with the idea of returning to the public some of the vast sums they have made out of it.

"There was Mr Bernhard Baron, there was Mr. Thomas Peveo, of Hull, some of the tobacco Wills's have betrayed liberally to Bristol and Birkenhead have given much to Liverpool.

"And as the official return showed 560 people domiciled in Britain have got over the million mark.

"What is it our boys can look for? Are they insurety? Are they insurable? Are they employed? Are they subject to the vicissitudes of any employment? Are they family cases? No, I do not think so. I think they are suffering from weakness of imagination.

"But this is not the chief cause of the present stagnation of the English rich. The chief reason lies in their failure of appreciation of the conditions of the present day. They do not realize that the world is changing, that it is no longer a question where they may safely invest but employ a man-power and a brain-power to create new wealth. Their money is not working for them.

"Take, for example, Scotch Banks. Their money is invested largely in the stock of the Agricultural Credit Corporation has been done and is being done, from all parts of the Dominion, the number of applications received to date being 13,917,200. Indicating that the province of the quality Shoop Rifle has been sold to 4,000 farmers and the sheep population has risen from 204,000 in 1926 when the Corporation commenced business to 500,000 in 1926, and the value per head from $2.00 to $6.00. This alone has made an claim to being responsible for all the improvement but there is very excellent reason for believing that its work and organization has been the largest contributing factors

The underlying principles of any such crook corporation must be that the farmers cannot finance strictly business lines, but with practical knowledge of the conditions of western farming conditions and difficulties. It is worth noting that while the banks are paying 6 per cent on all the deposits they can get them, the Minneapolis Corporation will not pay more than 4 per cent. The money is subscribed by Chicago and rising east of that point. New York Minneapolis Corporation, and the organization, the management and the selection of officials was left to the West, and the same trend be noticeable in the case of such a crook corporation is to be expected.

It may be difficult to find a sufficient number of Canadian farmers conditions and the wide extent of the country making enough by W C Williams of the Minneapolis Corporation, but such a number could be found in the Western Canada today. A Canadian Credit Corporation would have one great advantage at the start over the one organized at Minneapolis namely, that the Canadian farmer is many times heavy home to stabilize conditions, and is not taking over of more or less frozen assets. On the other hand the Canadian system of branch banks precludes the formation of the same percentage of community banks as in the United States, moreover in a given district which would have much valuable assistance of the local committees established to pass on loans. Another disadvantage is the absence in Canada of district agricultural representatives corresponding to the county agents who have been so large a factor in the success of the Credit Corporation scheme of Minnesota. This is a handicap, which is no doubt to some extent offset by the enormous asset be devised to overcome

An Agricultural Credit Corporation organized at once along the lines indicated would do much to restore confidence and inspire farmers to renewed efforts With crops of 400,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000,000,000 bushels of oats in sight, the Canadian farmer is not in the position of a beggar asking for charity, but of a business man who has a right to demand that the conditions under which he is doing business be such as to enable him to make a profit. Such a Credit Corporation would be a great step in the right direction, and would be the best means of securing prosperity to the whole Dominion.

Lacombe Globe's Opinion of Stettler

In an address to the WCTU at Stettler last week, Rev R. S. Layton gave his hearers an earful when he told of the deplorable conditions in that town as regards the liquor traffic. Mr Layton, according to the report of his speech in the Stettler Independent, said, under the circumstances, that he could not subscribe to the prohibition principle. He said that he was not a drinking man, but that he was not a prohibitionist. He said that he was not a drinking man, but that he was not a prohibitionist. He said that he was not a drinking man, but that he was not a prohibitionist.

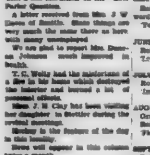
Dr. Lambert Now Endorses Sorgon



DR. GILBERT G. LAMBERT

"I was speaking the winter in San Antonio, Texas, when I first heard of Sorgon. The treatment appealed to me because of its thorough scientific background. I decided to try it for a very bad case of chronic constipation, which I will sincerely confess is correct with ordinary laxatives and purgatives used in general practice.

"I was then subject to severe bilious attacks. My complexion had become yellow as though I had jaundice. My appetite was below normal. My head did not clear at all times, causing me real suffering. I was tired, weak and nervous.

"Within three days after I had begun taking the Sorgon I felt the benefit of it. I had taken but one bottle when I felt like a new man. My appetite returned to normal, my head cleared and my whole system was toned up. I continued to take Sorgon for a few days longer and then stopped. I have had no return of my former trouble and feel that I am entirely cured. I have taken no other medicine since."

Sorgon is sold in Stettler by Dodd's Bakery.

Gadsby News

Miss James Stanley is a visitor to Edmonton for a few days this week.

Miss J. Bennett is a visitor to Edmonton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Gormly spent the week with friends at Lacombe.

Norman Hunter of Red Deer was a visitor to Gadsby with his friends H. and H. Rowland.

Mrs. George Scales has had her mother, Mrs. Hamilton of Edmonton, 7 Ladies and Gem Stones.

Miss Rosie Thrasher of Hillsvale spent the week end with her sister Miss Olive Thrasher.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Collins and May were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ford of Rosedale on Sunday.

Many friends regret to hear that Mrs. Hamilton has had to leave for another fever. We are glad to hear it is a mild attack and trust she will have an early recovery.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunter of Vancouver, on the birth of a son on January 15th.

The Women's C G I T are holding a social to which their mothers are invited on Friday evening next, at the home of Mrs. H. R. Mercer.

The Ladies' Aid have changed the meeting day from Thursday to Wednesday, and will meet on the third Wednesday of each month. The next meeting will be held on the 18th inst. at the home of Mrs. J. Smith.

The ladies of the Aid held a high school sisterly under the auspices of the U. F. W. A. and will be presented on Friday February 13th at 8 p.m. Timmy Tubman and his dog Pal are coming to the show and promises an evening of fun. The proceeds of the evening are to be devoted to providing athletic equipment at the school.

The January meeting of the Valley was held Monday evening with a fair attendance. Reports were read and discussed and committees were called for. Plans for a banquet, with piano duets by the Misses Ethel and Alice Hunter, and Mrs. Hobbs, piano solos by Miss H. Mercer, whose first appearance here we hope will be followed by many others. Vocal solos by Norman Purcell and Mr. T. Clegg added to the pleasure of a very splendid musical evening and it is to be regretted that more were not present to share this pleasure and also contribute to the worthy cause of purchasing the piano for the Sunday School.

The concert netted the sum of $36 for this fund.

The remaining line and mid wire—this has put an end to the shaking rink and the hockey players are happy once more.

Mr. Harris's flat in the Masonic Block is now occupied by Mr. Ingram's Western Canada." This will be given by the Gadsby Dramatic Society on January 30th and a careful rendition is expected to all in the community.

To mention Piedmont is to think of silence. They were great pals at Barrie's flat in the Alexandra Block was a constant visitor during the time he was in London.

"Here he would sit curled up in a corner of the settee, smoking a fat black cigar, and looking out on the historic Thames," records J. A. Spender, author of the Life of Asquith. "Here he knew he would not have to talk. It was the place of Silence and Understanding.

"The man who never broke his silence unless he had something to say. Sometimes a beautiful letter came to his friend at the time of Piedmont's tragic death.

The annual meeting of the Gadsby school students under the supervision of Miss Ruth Hall was postponed on Friday, February 13th at 8:30 p.m. Vinney Tolmson's Feb 13 dance in the evening. Good prizes and promises an evening of fun and frolic. The proceeds are to be devoted to providing athletic equipment at the school.

The annual meeting of the Village was held Monday evening with a fair attendance. Reports were read and discussed and nominations were called for to fill the vacancy caused by C. Cantwell retiring. D. Robinson and George Milligan were nominated and elected. Next Lake place on Monday February 9th.

A small but appreciative audience greatly enjoyed the Literary Friday evening at the United Church.

It was arranged by Mrs. Cave Ashwood of Stettler, and consisted of selections by her classical orchestra, vocal solos by Mrs. Ashwood, whose artistic rendering of her numbers was much appreciated, and piano duets by the Misses Ethel and Mary Ashwood, which showed genuine talent, piano solos by Mrs. S. Mann, whose first appearance here we hope will be followed by many others. Vocal solos by Norman Powell and Mr. J. D. Clegg added to the pleasure of a very splendid musical evening and it is to be regretted that more were not present to enjoy it. Mrs. Ashwood's solos which launch was served and then each left for home, voting a very happy evening.

The Ramsay Ladies' Aid held a real basketball practice Saturday afternoon, January 31st.

BYEMOOR NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Le Roy Reed spent Saturday in Stettler.

The entertainment and dance given by the Byemoor Ladies' Aid and Canadian Legion was a huge success and a large crowd attended. The Concert was enjoyed by everybody. The Colored Honeymoon, a short comedy sketch, in which Mrs. John Christensen, Mr Everett Potts and Mr Christensen and Lester Wood on the Colored Bride took part, was received many laughs, while Jack Christensen as a Colored Preacher and Clyde Woodgen were the hits of the evening.

Before were sung by Mr Sherville Wood Mr and Mrs. Frank Carlson, Bobby and Gordon Christensen and Mr Johnny Donald.

Miss Gladys Broome had the misfortune to be hit by a car as she was crossing the street last Friday evening. Luckily there were no bones broken and we hope to see her back in her old around again soon.

We saw Russ Ferguson pushing a lawn mower around the corner of Hillcrest at a late hour Saturday this week. We wonder why you don't try cutting the lodge in deep here.

Mr. Roland Kidd, Edgar Broome, Jack Bunn and family spent Sunday in Stettler.

Mrs. Keith and Mrs Wood entertained the young people Wednesday evening. They all met at the home of Mrs. Keith, where a dainty supper was served, after which games were played when some were to laugh any more they moved "down" the leader to the house of Mrs. D. Wood where a musical evening was enjoyed by everyone until nearly midnight when after which lunch was served and then each left for home, voting a very happy evening.

The Byemoor Juniors had a real basketball practice Saturday afternoon, January 31st.

Quoted By Ear

By casual observation of automobile traffic reaching at the former cattle junction between here and Toronto, and learning how the railroads are growing themselves too much passenger patrons the year even as spending their time in sighing up their excuses. The picture is fable. As a matter of fact much of the problem of the infant event business are vast and wrinkled.

Consider for example the difficulty of securing cell precisely just how long a traveller can ride without going to the wash room. The ration-comfort pendants deep every step the bus next take.

They have tried putting stools in B buses but as a requirement is still considered somewhat irregular. And every one to attempt them has failed. If he begins reflecting. What will happen when the driver, in addition to being directions, attendance and all they are to be stocked with warm water from force of rubber-lined wash rooms' Such speculations as these do not help the rubber reputation of the bus industry.

The solution of the problem must be one of slow change—improvement in the buses, until the terminals are of more shape. In nine states the public service commissions already required bus companies either to have their terminals equip with rest rooms or to have penalty of stops for the same purpose.

The bus industry faces a serious task of terminals. The number of stations is growing at rapid rate. The world's largest bus terminal is in Kansas City. It cost $2,000,000 and its executives are profound. Others are and hasten are the pride of the long-haul bus world. But the waiting rooms cost money and involve a substantial and perpetual advisory that is slow to appear in the bus business for it is still easy to buy a bus, fill it up with gas and start a line.

Three lines made casual comfort-stop arrangements with hotel and lunch-room keepers. Then, several times in the course of a day, a bus-load has rolling through the dusty. What will pull in front of the small town hotel and not will cluster a crowd of stiff-jointed pilgrims who make a bee-line for the lavatories. Observers will report that in 90 per cent of the little hotels there are leaks and sachet-in-the-dot devices on all the doors. So far the first few minutes there is considerable confusion. Folks are fishing in their pockets for nickels and if they have none, going to the clerk in the lobby and making him change one, without buying per cent. If they are hard-boiled travellers, or purchasing a couple of nickle cigars if they are more timid, then all rushing back to the wash rooms.

What makes the modern American traveller such a glutton for punishment when the railroads offer so much more comfort? Well—people like bus travel because it is cheaper than railroad travel. Linked with this attraction is also the love of the open road and the automobile habit. Many people think of the bus ride as a great adventure somewhat to the adventures of the old pioneers in days nowthen travelled with a smart understanding of this psychic feature many bus operators rail their routes stage lines.

Signed notice coach publicity are not neglecting to translate the comfort-appeal into clever copies. Companies like an Mortorway Coach Lines, a state he is likely to tell into which motorways begin to some from cramped or lumpy quarters of the bus.

"Take off to the Bus Driver "Safest Captain of the Highways." These are some of the slogans of hope and cheer being outlined to the ends of the lines who bring the buses nothing. The bus driver is made to appear as a sort of rubber-tired Captain Kidd. The United Cairey Jones. Mr Amerson S. Terrestrial rains drowned in the midst of his trip washing cups in his road he wanderer through the mud and water, bush pseudo operations dodge bowls of wild flowers, wet nurse busted motors if the bus breaks down he must get his passengers safely stowed away in hotels for most kind sometimes if he is a side-step romantic female passengers who twitter at the sight of a uniform smooth down bitter-tongued men who discourse about the rights of the public get over the route including detours and traffic delays. In the running time fixed by schedule-makers who keep pushing for more speed driver his many times and get back safely.

The bus operators claim that their buses are the safest vehicles on the nation's highways, and police figures to prove it, but a large proportion of the general public is not interested in figures and believe they are not safe at all. This attitude saddens the bus men. A writer in Bus Transportation, says the driver of the bus knows exactly what his bus will do He passes a crossed curves or through traffic holes which the bus competent motorist would consider impossible. But realized that, that class of motorist is stricken with the conviction that a small child might experience under the illusion that the locomotive would leave its tracks and chase him.

This is all entirely true but probably not reassuring to the motorist who, for a single desperate moment, wonders whether the monster speeding toward him directly as his path while passing another car is really going to make it.

Taunton and public regulation occupy the bus driver's thoughts in odd moment. Nobody seems to know how to tax bus lines. The operators are particularly pulled by the often repeated charge that their vehicles use the public highways free and they spend considerable time working out figures to disprove it. We are they grateful to the National Tax Association for recognizing the theory that because railroads pay 6 per cent. of their gross income for taxes and 10 per cent for maintenance of ways, buses and trucks should pay 16 per cent. of their gross in taxes. Equitied taxation would be a blow to the comparative cheapness of the bus ride.

Lesser problems have continually to be dealt with. In long distances bus travel said to be slow compared with trains' Mr Lewis B. Freeman, a pro bus publicist says that he was able to travel by bus from coast to coast in 1929 In long-distance bus travel declared impossible it might become one named get Pullman accommodations? — Then along comes a rate coach with nothing is taken from the official advertisements an incredible lookout with bus as big as a two-story cottage, shaped like a submarine, operating between Los Angeles and San Francisco, when roll bought sleeping berths, dining-car service and toilets Something like this miniature apartment house was housed to follow the miniature golf courses. The builders have done marvelous things with space in the side coach, they have almost entirely eliminated it.

The industry's spokesmen declare that it must be remembered that the [illegible] for bus industry cannot as yet be based on one of the country's [illegible] industries' Yet at the beginning of 1930 inter-state buses alone were operating on more than [illegible] miles of route and in 1929 carried 38,000,000 passengers And buses that do not cross the State lines carried ten times as many passengers.

No one can tell where the industry may be growing All the bus men will now is to be let alone for a while to work out this comfort-[illegible]

Federal Govt. Wins Sask. Test Case On Resources

Supreme Court Rules Not Liable for Natural Resources Since 1920

PROVINCE CONTENDED
FOR 1870 ACCOUNTING

Court Finds Crown Lands In Saskatchewan Were Vested in Dominion After 1870

OTTAWA.—Appeal to the privy council from the supreme courts decision on natural resources question between Saskatchewan and the federal government will be heard according to announcement on February last, by Premier J. T. M. Anderson, who said that, although he had not as yet studied the decision of the supreme court, this action had been agreed upon with Ottawa ministers.

The Dominion claimed that it owned by had in account to the province for any of the natural resources sold or alienated after the province was formed in 1905, whereas the province contended that the ownership should cover all the time since 1870 when Prince Rupert's Land and the North-Western Territory became part of the Dominion.

Questions were agreed upon by the parties for submission to the court as follows:

(1) Upon Rupert's Land and the North-Western Territory being admitted into and becoming a part of the Dominion of Canada, under the terms created of June 23rd, 1870, were all lands then vested in the Crown and now lying within the territorial limits of the province of Saskatchewan vested in the Crown

(2) In the right of any province or provinces to be established within such area, or

(3) To be administered for any province or provinces to be established with such area, or

(4) To be administered for the benefit of the inhabitants from time to time of such area?

(5a) Is the Dominion of Canada under obligation to account to the province of Saskatchewan for any lands within its boundaries alienated by the Dominion of Canada prior to September 1st, 1905. This decision was handed down in the Supreme Court of Canada on February 3rd.

The finding in favor of the Dominion is on a reference to the supreme court of a series of questions arising out of negotiations for the return of the natural resources to the province.

Witnesses from the Home Office were before the committee to explain the supposed cause of the statistics of crime. They said that in 1908 there were 121 murders known to the police and only 29 persons were arrested for their perpetration. But there was also 42 supposed murderers who committed suicide, thereby escaping arrest. On the list, also, there were several multiple murders in addition to several murders of children, which in many cases is impossible to bring home to the murderer. In brief, the committee said that the police system was as effective as it could be and if there remain murder mysteries they will remain under any system of punishment. The committee reported against the proposal that murder should be graded and that various penalties should be applied for the various grades, from reduction of the supposed need for the most aggravated cases. It pointed out that the Home Secretary already graded murders when considering reprieves and that further to interfere in that matter might be an invasion of royal prerogative

The alternative to capital punishment which the committee recommended is life imprisonment. But life imprisonment is not literally the imprisonment for life except in the case of the criminal insane. It means twenty years' confinement, and good conduct will reduce this period to fifteen years, and that is what the supplemental means in England today. The average duration of life imprisonment, passing sentence of death, commuted, under the Home Secretary's power of prerogative, is practically abolished. The best time a convict can earn under the present law is a little over a year a year and a half, and having regard to the fact that the average life sentence is not more than seven years, and that is what the supplemental means in England today. Sale For Society To Abolish Hanging

It is decided if the British Columbia government will act upon the recommendation of the select committee on capital punishment reported on the subject of capital punishment and recommended that it should be abolished for five years. Or if the government does not it is questionable whether the House of Commons and the House of Lords would not be willing to abolish capital punishment.

Public notice is here entered into this query question. Some time ago a controversy arose between the papers and the Attorney-General's office as to the number of executions which had taken place in the province since 1900. The papers contended that the Attorney-General's office had been misquoted in that regard. In the Attorney-General's office it was contended that the papers had misquoted the figures. Of course, the Attorney-General's office had been misquoted in that regard. In the Attorney-General's office it was contended that the papers had misquoted the figures. Of course, the Attorney-General's office had been misquoted in that regard.

It is said that while there were seven in which the reprieve of condemned murderers was refused by the public opinion, there had been five from the United States, in particular capital punishment was not a deterrent of that kind. Neither did they deem that the fear of death is a deterrent to crime. It is not the less important on that account.

It states that the obsects of punishment are based mainly on considerations of natural justice; a-bhorrence, the protection of society and the reformation of the criminal. It asserts that it would be idle to deny that the fear of death is a deterrent influence in many minds. Yet this deterrent is limited, for by far the greater number of murders committed in England, Wales and Scotland—and everywhere else for that matter—are the result of reckless impulse or overmastering passion. They are committed when the murderer's mind is empty of all subtleties but the gratifying of his murderous impulse. He is not then thinking of either the death penalty or life imprisonment or any other consequences of his act. Often, too, he becomes conscious of his peril and takes what steps he can to avoid detection and punishment. It is then rather than at the moment of his arrest, that the fear of death takes hold of him. It may be taken for granted that the murderer, if he commuted the death penalty is no longer the deterrent it once may have been. This is because in England, as in the United States, the number of convictions is proportion to the number of murders and convictions is decreasing. To say that nowadays the chances of an English murderer escaping the gallows are ten-to-one is to underestimate the chances. Juries grow more reluctant to send a man to his death. Home Secretaries show greater mercy For example, last year there were only 12 executions in England and Wales and none in Scotland. The average for the ten years the average for the whole country has been 14.7. From 1861 to 1920 in England and Wales, 411 have been executed and 327 reprieved; while in Scotland 20 have been executed and 15 reprieved. It will be seen that after ten years' interval a murderer has almost an even chance of escaping the hangman's noose. Undoubtedly the decision of the capital punishment is assessed by this knowledge.

Late L. Robenstein Champion Skater

Asked to name the two athletes who first drew attention of the world to Canada one might have the names of Edward Ranson and Louis Rubenstein. Perhaps a complete list would be necessary of Mr Rubenstein's, Louis Cyr, the world's champion strong man, might be included as a third. The times when they reached the peak of their respective fames did not coincide, but they were alike in that the names had a significance in every country where sculling, skating and music lifting had its admirers and its practitioners. Mr Rubenstein was the youngest for when he passed away in Montreal recently he was only 68 years old. By a stranger in his three years had died in the preceding six months. It happens that champion athletes are avowed young, for they are then at the summit of their physical powers and it is so long ago as 1890 that Louis Rubenstein was acclaimed the world's best figure skater. He was a mere youngster in 1870 when he won the championship of Canada, a title which he held until 1880. In 1886 and 1889 he won the American championship and in 1891 tied with O. D. Phillips for the honor Mr Philips declining to skate off the deadlock. The victory at St. Petersburg was one of his greatest. He was then came to a Canadian athlete in international competition. The best skaters in Europe were there and the Czar himself was pleased to present to Rubenstein the commemorated his triumph and a gold watch. He was a great favorite at skating championships were first held in Montreal, and he found that he was known to be a native of Quebec province, a province that since has produced a generation ago an extraordinary list of champion athletes Among whom by went to Russia, it was his Jewish origin that attracted the attention of the Czar. Authorities and he became an object of suspicion for Jews at that time were prominent in the nihilist movement. Mr Rubenstein was provided with his passport signed by Lord Dufferin by the governor-general and he had also letter testifying to his good character from some well known Montreal people. But Czar's officials were not to be denied and they made Rubenstein produce his birth certificate. He was born in Russia, and the fact

Supreme Court Rules Not Liable for Lands Alienated Before 1930

Court Finds Crown Lands In Both Alienated Vested in Dominion After 1870

REGINA.—Appeal to the privy council from the supreme courts decision on natural resources agreement between Saskatchewan and the federal government will be made, according to announcement on Friday, February 3rd, by Premier J. T. M. Anderson, who said that, although he had not as yet studied the decision of the Canadian court, the action would be based upon with Ottawa.

OTTAWA.—The Dominion does not have to account to the province of Saskatchewan for lands within its boundaries vested by the Dominion of Canada prior to September 1, 1905. This decision has been handed down in the Supreme Court of Canada on February 3rd.

The Dominion claimed that it only had to account to the province for any of the natural resources sold or alienated after the province was formed in 1905, whereas the province contended that the accounting should cover all the lands from 1870 when Prince Rupert founded the North-Western Territory because part of the Dominion.

Counsels were agreed upon by the parties to submission to the court as follows:

(1) Upon Rupert's Land and the North-Western Territory being admitted into and becoming a part of the Dominion of Canada, under order-in-council of June 23rd, 1870, the lands then vested in the Crown and now lying within the boundaries of the province of Saskatchewan vested in the Crown

(2) In the right of any province or provinces to be established within such area, or

(3) To be administered for the benefit of the inhabitants from time to time of such area?

(4a) In the Dominion of Canada under obligation to account to the province of Saskatchewan for the proceeds of sales of lands within its boundaries administered by the Dominion of Canada prior to September 1, 1905?

The court answered each point of question 1 in the affirmative and all others in the negative.

Sale For Society To Abolish Hanging

It is doubtful if the Home Government will not agree the establishment of a Royal Commission to inquire into the question of capital punishment. It should be remembered that it should be remembered for five years. Or if the Government should not it is generally admitted whether the House of Commons and the House of Lords would approve the principle recommended. Politics seems to have entered into this grave question. Some time before the report was issued Sir John Simon, Home Secretary, gave a hint that he would favor the abolition. Lord Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor, is the most powerful opponent. He is the man who passed the Act of 1908 which made it obligatory for a Court of Criminal Appeal to be established. Lord Birkenhead is a member of the Government. Lord Hailsham, Lord President of the Council, is also opposed to the abolition. Lord Cecil, who has made any study of capital punishment and its reform, is in favor. It is not the less important on that account.

It seems that the object of punishment are based mainly on considerations of natural justice to humanity, the protection of society and the prevention of law-breaking. It asserts that it would be idle to say that the fear of death is a deterrent influence in many manslaughtering—and everywhere else by that matter are the result of reckless impulse or overmastering passion. They are committed when the murderer himself is empty of all other thoughts but the gratifying of his murderous impulse. He is not then thinking of either the death penalty or His imprisonment or any other consequences of his act. Lower on, he becomes conscious of his peril and takes what steps he can to avoid detection and punishment. It is then rather than at the moment of his crime, that the fear of death takes hold of him. It is then he takes for granted that murderers of this type will continue to be found, irrespective of the penalty provided for their crime.

But even in those crimes of premeditation the question arises whether it is likely to make careful plans and so doubt take account of himself will happen to him if convicted the death penalty is no longer the deterrent it once may have been. This is because in England, as in the United States, the number of executions in proportion to the number of murders and convictions is decreasing. To say that nowadays the fear of an illusive penalty ever occupies the murderer's mind to any visible would be erroneous. England has grown more reluctant to send a man to his death. Some Governments show greater mercy. For example, last year there were only seven executions in England and Wales and none in Scotland. In the past ten years the average for England and Wales was 14.7—

Having the standard order of his race, the latter ran to his assistance and in doing so ran into himself and in doing so ran into himself and were soon rolling out a beautiful set of fists from his assistant at running a 24-23 pair of trousers.

The end we took advantage of the melee in the house got into the assortment and lifted himself outside the store. Seeing a number of cans, the man a mile out east of the house, upsetting a four-gallon can full of cream into a bucket of kittens, drowning the whole litter. He slapped on his dress and fell down stairs, breaking her leg and a $12.50 set of false teeth. The lady left home crushed through the splitted cream into the garden and ruined a $40.00 carpet. During the excitement the daughter eloped with hired man, taking the family savings with them.

BATTLES OF THE JUNGLE

The elephant is the real king of the forest, the giant among animals in both stature and strength — and even to this conclusion after two score years in the bush, during which I have been fortunate enough to have some unusual adventures, I might be loth to have some younger and less seasoned opinion. Those which I shall describe are purely written and

Some years ago, in a district I unscheduled, one day I was tracking and guessing with some I new these so-called kings avoid the challenge of an elephant even with a basket comfortably covered of dignity I had noticed new spoor of a single elephant at a pan the night before and followed it with two boys at my heels. Elephants were seldom seen in this retreat and I was interested.

About a mile from the pan we saw in the deep shade of some thorn bushes the head of a huge elephant. The moment to be lying beneath a rough bush, but no alternative found that he was lying in a shallow pit scooped in the sand by the cow and covered with leafy thorn branches she had piled over him. He was probably but a few days old a cow charged direct on the Rima.

With ears flapping like sails the cow came down and angrily she screamed destruction as she came and with a 40-foot bound the huge sprang sands and flashed on through the bush without a hesitation. Straight to her and the cause scanned and smelt him anxiously and then, turning in the direction the Rima had taken, she trumpeted her anger and threat of vengeance in tones that shook the very earth. Nothing more was seen of the Rima.

Years later I found evidence of a more successful lion fancy. And by coincidence in the midst of dense flattened bush I found the skeleton of one full and upright as had been a lion, while the trampled vicinity looked as though a troop of elephants had danced there. But only one elephant had danced to the music of death with the lion — an unwilling partner. His last dance was stamped into the earth, a maze of blood and filth and a few yards away by the over-powerful tusks torn from the body by a greater power.

Following a trail which showed the speed of the elephant's pursuit we found 30 miles away the partly eaten carcass of a very young calf. The cow had refused her vindictive attack once for the dead. Natives say that an elephant may or may not follow the lion's trail for days that lions know this, and seldom attack the calf unless desperate with hunger.

At intervals through Africa are places which natives say are elephant cemeteries. the place where elephants die. These are usually difficult of access, and far removed from the usual haunts and feeding grounds. But I do not believe that the elephants conventional to there in the. My theory is that sick and wounded beasts no longer able to travel at the best pace or hold their own in combat retire instinctively in places so remote that they suffer secondary from exhaustion and their die or remove, as nature intended.

In a certain district in the Kilimanjaro I came upon the decomposed skeleton of a dead elephant with tusks of unusual length and of great size. Some later we found the bones of an elephant dead or alive. Then, one night, we heard the trumpeting of lions of elephants in the direction of the water, followed by the roar of lions. At dawn, we cautiously approached the water, and saw there a large bull bull two cows. One of the cows was lying down and the bull seemed strangely disturbed and determined to move away to shade. The was curious, as the elephants are normally well within the shade by dawn, and seldom Watching carefully, we noted bloodmarks on the dark hides of all three and presently the bull, the standing animals moved, that they limped badly. After an hour or so they endeavored to raise the cow by pushing their tusks beneath her but without effect. Then they limped painfully away to some trees. Later that afternoon, when we approached again, the cow was already dead, the two others standing beside her. The end had nearly set when two more elephants emerged from the bush, one a bull, seemingly hale and vigorous, and the other a cow. Both at once attacked the dead cow and tore apart with the tusks beneath the body,

After H. D. L. Hunsaker of Wainwright addressed a public meeting in Wetaskiwin Hall on February 2nd concerning the completion of the Board of Trade Where was a good and representative audience from south Judith and district town.

Mr A. L. Woodcock president of the Board of Trade occupied the chair and briefly introduced and well informed Mister Hunsaker on behalf of the Board of Trade and extended a welcome.

For over an hour and a half Mister Hunsaker kept his audience interested as he dealt with problems pertaining to the agricultural field.

His address was a clever presentation of the present crisis in agriculture with the production and marketing of wheat emphasized. The causes of the low prices and offering suitable suggestions to farmers for obtaining the remedy for the present situation.

His genial manner and ideas all seemed served to keep either or all of the audience and whether or not everybody agreed with all his ideas will be known at next meeting but they were at least entertained by the speaker.

A program of special music by the Gadsby Club was the climax of the evening. Miss Gwen Hunter of Gadsby who gave a piano solo and Mrs Ed Hunter of Gadsby of which the latter accompanied her.

Mr H Hamilton officiated at the organ and the choir sang two selections "Jesus Lover of my soul" and a duet "Beautiful Land" was impressively rendered by Mrs. Grace and Mrs. Hamilton.

The service was thoroughly enjoyed by everybody present and we hope that some such service may be held successfully if not frequently.

Alberta School Week Will Be Featured

The week of February 20th to 24th has been proclaimed by the Alberta Government as Alberta School Week. The Alberta Education Department is preparing a program for the week which will be announced by the end of the Province next week.

Theme of the week's activities of the Alberta Education Department will be "Better Schools Make a Better Province" and the Department hopes that many communities will take part in the week.

Plans are being made for a program of radio broadcasts, a display of the latest public and private school buildings, and a number of other activities. Many communities are expected to hold open house during the week.

Alberta School Week is being held in connection with the Alberta Education Week which is being sponsored by the Alberta Education Association.

STETTLER MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL DISTRICT No. 29

Financial Statement for Year Ending December 31st, 1930

Mr. Taylor Reducing Associate Auditor, Edmonton, Alta., 19th, 1931.

To the Chairman and Board of Trustees,
THE STETTLER HOSPITAL DISTRICT,
STETTLER, ALBERTA.

Gentlemen:

We have completed the audit of the books and accounts of the Stettler Municipal Hospital District No. 29 for the year ending December 31st, 1930, and attach hereto Balance Sheet, General Revenue Account, with the necessary supporting statements, all of which are in accordance.

Additional expenditure on Capital Account to the amount of $1,286.07 was carried during the year 1930 it being expended on the line out the grounds $600.36 on the building and $1,205.11 for the purchase of equipment all of which has been added to the Capital Assets Account. The total amount so disposed of or written off was $1,286.07 leaving the total Capital Assets as at December 31st, 1930 $68,922.07.

All loans accounts have been collected to December 31st, 1930, and as the figures given appear to balance with the figures carried on the books of the Municipalities We note however that the Municipality of Dublin claims that the Hospital District owes them $1,000.00 which is denied by the Secretary of the Municipal Hospital District.

No account has been taken of supplies on hand at December 31st, 1930. The Inventories covering their items would probably be a fairly constant factor from year to year, and would not affect the amounts of the respective items to be determined We think, therefore that no good purpose would be served by instituting them and have accordingly omitted them from the balance sheet.

Provisions had been made in the amount of $700.00, for non-collection of patients' accounts this is a reasonable amount to think a necessary safeguard to maintain.

We have certified cheques in favour of the Municipalities in the sum of $1,000.00 each, which are held in the Bank of Montreal, Stettler, Alta., and should be voted as soon as conditions, such as, purchase where necessary of patients may up and more time a suitable fire escape although there is excellent fire equipment within the building, and nurses quarters in the unmentioned matter with the by-law of the Nursing Staff provided within the building in the basement, the nurses being provided with rooms in private dwellings close to hand.

At January 1st, 1930 there were fifteen patients in the Hospital. During the year an additional 706 were admitted making in all 719 patients treated during 1930. Patient days numbered 7,737 at the cost of operating exclusive of capital expenditure was $1.91 per day and we have a defensive repayment was 1.94 The cost per patient per day during the opening year and would have been reduced but for a considerable drop in the number of days in the year according Sundays. During the first period of January and September the capacity of the Hospital was taxed to the utmost and it was found necessary to obtain additional beds and mattresses. These additional expenses are to be provided for the building the same amounts to $7,703.33, which works out almost exactly at $1.00 per day. In other words the daily charge to a patient would be a charge including nothing for operation and nursing service drugs dressings X-Ray operating room etc.

Viewed from another angle the records and calculations the return outlined below are also totally for auction that not only has greatly improved care comforts and help for families been provided but the district as a whole also is allowing the Hospital Board has on many many The 174 non-taxpayers paid at the average rate of $4.36 per patient per day Taken at the same rate the 545 taxpayers would have paid for Hospital treatment $16,182.62. The charges to ratepayers, in fact, amounted to $5,381.68 only. Who was paid to the Hospital taxes of all kinds for 1917 1918 21, no less than 1/3 rd of the Hospital rent taxpayers $23,436 31 on plans of the $30,153.99 which they would have been charged or a saving of $7,727.67 over and above the taxes paid.

A great variety of cases have been treated during the year covering practically all types usually treated in a General Hospital.

Of the 719 patients treated 545 were ratepayers and 174 were non-ratepayers. From charged to ratepayers were $5,381.68, and to the non-ratepayers $5,772.13. There were 33 maternity cases, three being double births, making 36 babies born, of one set of twins one baby weighed 2 pounds, 5 ounces, and the other 3 pounds, 2 ounces, the first opposite cases of which 30 were major operations and 107 were minor operations.

The major operations performed, included appendicitis, gynaecological, gall bladder operations, Hernia, Hemorrhoids, mastoids, amputations for cancer, cesarean sections, etc., and the minors were largely tonsils, removal of cysts and goitre, curettages, minor amputations, fractures, etc., etc

At the end of February a visit is to be taken in into Tuesday, Wednesday 25, in Range 17, and 26 in Range 17, to determine whether these Townships desire to become a part of this Hospital District. Petition from one of these Townships has been in the hands of the Minister of Health for some time, but owing to conditions the taking of a vote was deferred, and has now been deferred with at the request of a number of the ratepayers in the district concerned.

It also appears that other parts adjoining the present boundaries are taking an interest in the question of becoming added to the Hospital District. The Auditor's Report and Financial Statement submitted at this time should be encouraging to those who may have in mind any desire of the scheme succeeding. In this regard it should probably be pointed out that because the Hospital could not be ready for operation until very late in 1929 the requisitions to Municipal units (both urban and rural), were in that year reduced one-sixth, but when the full years' operation of the Hospital was undertaken in 1930, the full amounts of requisitions as set out in the original scheme were asked for from the contributing units. On that basis there is called to be an increase in the last 10 mills each was set the caps, and no further increases requested from

Annual Report To Ratepayers By Hospital Board For 1930

TO The Ratepayers of Stettler Municipal Hospital District No. 29.

We beg to submit to you a brief review of the operations of the Hospital for the year 1930.

The Financial Statement and Auditors Report is published herewith. It seems to be largely self-explanatory and calls for but little comment.

In this connection, being the first year's operations, no doubt a fair interest exercise around the Revenue Account as to whether there was a surplus or not. In this connection it can that a surplus of $3,984.64 can be reported after making due allowance now for $700.00 for possible bad debt collections.

The only liability of importance to the bank loan as of $5,000.00. This has now been reduced to $3,000.00 of this $1,421.39 is borrowings in the year 1930 and $1,578.61 is borrowings in the year 1929. As soon as the Government Grant for the last half of 1930 amounting to $1,564.69 is received the unrepaid borrowings of 1930 will be cleaned up. Some adjustments are contemplated to the accounts prior to January 1st, 1930, but these is more than ample to take care of the unrepaid 1930 borrowings, and there is reason to expect an adjustment from the bank prior to December 31st, 1930 should not exceed $1,000.00 and there is good reason to believe that that will be liquidated in a short time

In passing I may note that our finances are in such condition that we have had no difficulty in procuring the credit for the current year, and our application therefore has been granted. It should, however, be pointed out that we will be depending on the Municipalities to take care of the quarterly requisitions promptly during the year

Although a surplus on operating expenses is shown this has largely been expended in necessary capital additions and improvements. New equipment and fixtures of $1,205.11 were found necessary being chiefly of the following:

New Bathroom Fixtures	$ 9.00
Laundry Equipment	324.15
X-Ray Table and Film Case	54.00
Fire Extinguishers	30.00
18-w Beds, Cribs and Mattresses	815.96
Wheel Chair	45.00
Electric Heater for Nursery and for Vaporizing at bed sides	14.20
Lawn Mower	9.00
Office Equipment	35.35
Microscope and Laboratory Table	75.00
Sundry Items	97.45
	$1,205.11

Expended on Buildings was $600.36, being principally:

THREE OF THE 1930

Frost hoisted and poached are the two ways in which Canadian eggs to the average individual Has these are only three ways of the more than three thousand ways in which a famous chef asserts eggs are served.

In a northern climate an egg eaten in the winter has greater food value than one eaten in the summer time The present price of eggs, the lowest in years, is having the effect of increasing the popularity of eggs Dominion Department of Agriculture.

DAY-TO-DAY REPORT OF POTATO MARKET

In order to keep potato growers and shippers more closely in touch with market conditions the Frost

Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has instituted a day-to-day radio market report service Staff inspectors of the Department at Montreal Ottawa and Toronto now submit by code of their local markets to the Branch at Ottawa at 10 a.m. each morning. At Ottawa these reports are consolidated and telegraphed to Moncton N B where they are sent out through the courtesy of radio station CHNA during the noon hour broadcast.

NO TRACE OF GYPSIES

At the conclusion of the season's counting operations in Quebec entomologists of the Bureau of Entomology of the Dominion Department of Agriculture report that no trace of the gypsy moth was found. In the suppressed field west operations 2,000,000 of these pests were destroyed by spraying from the international boundary to Lake Temiscaming in the province These examinations were made of trees along the highway orchards tourist camps and in and about centres of population

BUENOS AIRES EXHIBIT

GOVERNMENT ANALYST GIVES REPORT ON ALBERTA BEERS
Quality is Better than Pre-War

Rumors have reached us regarding the Quality of Alberta Beers, and in order to settle the question, samples were taken out of Distributors Ltd. stock and sent to Dr. James A. Kelso, Provincial Analyst, University of Alberta. The following four questions were asked of Dr. Kelso:—

(1) Is the Beer sufficiently matured?

(2) How does it compare in quality with the Alberta Beer analyzed by you in pre-war days?

(3) Is the Beer wholesome in every way and free from all foreign substances?

(4) What comments have you to make on keeping qualities of the Beer submitted?

THESE QUESTIONS WERE ANSWERED BY DR. KELSO AS FOLLOWS:

(1) All samples are, in my opinion, sufficiently matured.

(2) In my opinion all of the Beers are of better quality than pre-war product which was often cloudy. Beers tested by me during past year are much more uniform in strength, extract, etc. than those before the war.

(3) I would consider the Beers wholesome in every way, and free from deleterious constituents.

(4) Judging from the forcing test all samples of bottle goods tested are efficiently pasteurized. The freezing test shows the beer of satisfactory keeping qualities, with proper elimination of such proteins as are thrown out of solution by low temperatures. The draft Beer, not being pasteurized, could not be subjected to forcing or freezing test, and I consider samples of such Beer properly matured and of satisfactory keeping qualities if kept under correct conditions.

The bottle liquors, with exception of the Porter and Stout, were given a forcing and freezing test. This is done by keeping the Beer at temperature of 90 to 100 degrees for one week, and then freezing and thawing repeated ten. In all the samples there was neither cloudiness or any sediment, tests showing perfectly clear."

The original report is on file at Distributors Ltd., head office, Calgary and is open to public inspections. Space only prevents us from publishing the report in detail.

DEFICIT FACED BY GOVT. THIS YEAR; MOTOR CAR LICENSES ARE REDUCED

Annual Budget For Previous Session Legislature By S.G. Reid Friday

NO DRASTIC NEW TAXES INDICATED IN FORECAST

Estimated Auto License Reduction Will Amount to $5 to $10 a Car

EDMONTON—An estimated deficit of $997,261.61 faces the province of Alberta at the end of the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1938, when possibly a larger deficit, the first in six years, is anticipated at the end of the present fiscal year.

This information was conveyed to the House on Friday by Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer in his budget address.

In spite however of the general economic depression and the consequent shrinkage in provincial revenue, no increases in taxation are contemplated. In fact, one material reduction is made. Automobile licenses in future will range from $10 to $20 a car, graduated on power rates. The reduction, which is effective as from January 1st, 1938, puts Alberta licenses on a par with those in Saskatchewan.

The province is obligated to the extent of $5,250,000 as a result of Alberta's share of Dominion liabilities and in connection with the ethical and economic side of the government assumes but the liability it amply protected by investors and other agents of the province.

In discussion of the financial position of the province Mr. Reid said it would be without some reference to the extraordinary economic conditions that have prevailed throughout the world at present. Mr. Reid said Alberta had been no exception, but the nature of productive wealth had involved new problems and presented unlooked for difficulties which necessitated the readings which usually went with cycles of depression.

Continuing he reverted the growing season and sharp declines which had overtaken grain markets.

That these prices would exist to such an much lower than at any time since the early eighties was not foreseen, he said and the consequent effect upon the economic well-being of the province was very clearly made apparent when a reasonable fiscal total agricultural production for the past year was estimated at only $60,295,176, as contrasted with $92,000,000 for the previous year, and $208,000,000 in 1928.

Owing to the unprecedented low prices for all grains, the necessity for broadening out into mixed farming for the purpose of securing more balanced income from year to year, more must be laid to rush from one extreme to the other, he said. Rural credit should be given to the nature of and to remedial in such areas where the production of grain growing alone would still have to be relied upon for the major contracting properties, suitable only for grazing and practically not capable of profitable production. It was owing to these parts where pasturage and hay crops could be rotated with grain crops that mixed farming was to be encouraged and developed, as even in these districts the change from old methods to new and diversified ones would involve some changes of that kind would involve new capital and new enterprises.

With prices of grain reduced as they were to be when half "the cost of production, the farmer might be encouraged to continue to put almost primitive living conditions, content if he received that was, to live off the land and have nothing to spend. That necessity would in turn react on the province generally for agriculture had been appropriately called the economic heart of the world.

Having regard to the confused political and financial conditions throughout the world, it was more difficult to forecast the future than has been the case in former periods of depression. There had been however some of the new year signs being the under has been no material set back in the agricultural production for the past year was estimated at only $60,295,176, as contrasted with $92,000,000 for the previous year, and $208,000,000 in 1928.

The rapid beef industry had made great strides and supply production had not reached half the requirements of the province Mr Reid stated.

Industrial Development

There is one phase of provincial development, he stated, and to which more attention will have to be paid at the future. I refer to industrial development. Progress in this field has shown a very large increase. Our agricultural development follows land settlement somewhat automatically. While it is true that industry follows an increasing demand for manufactured goods it is also true that there may be some tardiness even after there is the atmosphere ready to warrant new growth. For this reason, there is work to be done in an attempt to obtain development. As soon as conditions are ripe for it on many ways certain industries found to advantageously located in Alberta. There would be a large saving in freight, for example, and some unlicensed supplies of cheap fuel, and power. Present conditions may not be favorable to extension but the factors I have mentioned will eventually exert their influence.

In the year in which the province of Alberta was created the value of manufacturing production in Alberta was $4,979,938. After business had returned to somewhat normal conditions the value of manufactured products in 1929 was $49,000,000. Between these two years the value of manufactured products was $49,000,000. Between these two years the value of manufactured products was $49,000,000.

Meeting of Lakeside Municipal District

The first meeting of the 16 R. of the Lakeside Municipal District No. 1 was held in the Municipal Office on February 2nd.

Present: Councillors Cowan, Hall and Provincial Constable and Secretary-Treasurer Reid.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Dealing with the Provincial Police Report, it was

"At the last session of the legislature an act was passed setting up the powering of an agreement between the government of the province and the several of the boards of Canada, whereby the government on a certain formula, participates and said lands against loss in connection with advances made by the boards.

The Canadian Wheat Pool against the 1929 crop and the months portion of the 1928 crop.

"Legislation of a similar nature was introduced in the legislatures of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and duly became law in those provinces.

"At the time this agreement was presented to the province of Alberta the wheat pool had developed Saskatchewan about June, but prior a considerable time in advance of harvest, when decline occurred until the end of the crop year, when the pool had reached on December 30th but when the pool was closed out the average was over a low level of 40 1-2 cents per bushel basis No. 1 Northern, Fort William. This is the basis upon which were recorded for Chandlers wheat.

"This decline from the high level equal out the 15 per cent. months of salary required by the bonds, but it showed that a considerable part of payment had been made to the province of Alberta under the guarantee. That is to say the wheat agency was able to secure for this wheat less money than had been paid to the growers of such grain it is for this reason that the bonds growers delivering the grain to the pool that this government is under no liability whatever. The amount of this contingent liability amount of course, will be ascertained until all of the 1929 crop is sold.

In order to give the House some approximate information of the liability of this province under the guarantee a valuation of wheat stocks has been obtained as at a date as possible namely February 16th, 1931. On this estimate the contingent liability at this pool is approximately $5,894,566, made up as follows:

Over-payment on 1929 remainder as of said date $5,394,566.99

Less undistributed net proceeds of surplus on 1928 crop $700,000

A total of $5,394,566.99

Should any improvement in the price over the levels of February 16 take place the amount will be reduced. Should any such improvement in price take place it is expected that at least the one per cent. commercial reserve deduction will be made from the 1929 crop which will reduce the liability by over $400,000.

In order that the government might be protected against this contingent liability the government prior to the passing of the said act took a charge on all the assets and undertakings of the Alberta Wheat Pool. This has since been implemented by separate debates on the various items forming this security a copy of which will be laid before the House. Without reciting in detail the various items forming this security a caveat against any circulars and equipment and carrier assets, is approximately $5,100,000. These securities are sufficient to any claims that the banks in connection with advances made to Alberta. The Wheat Pool for the financing of the present crop.

The government does not anticipate there will be any ultimate loss in view of the large payments made to the pool and of the growers' quotas.

The government will bring forward at the session legislation specifically dealing with these matters, when details of the measure will be placed before the members."

TO SAVE SILVERCITY WHEN DRAWN

When I have an even bet in the morning and am planning to have a hot supper dish such as macaroni and cheese, for instance, for the evening meal, I suppose the supper dish would allow it to bake in a moderate oven while the meal is still hot after my morning baking. A short time before supper I plan the macaroni and cheese in a shallow pan of water and let the water boil for a few minutes—when the contents of the macaroni will be heated through and ready to bake in the way I use the power that would have been required to heat the oven is conserved to some extent. This method is also applicable in the afternoon and when I prepare a hot supper evening.

Far World Ruled By King Muskrat

When John Jacob Astor built the first fur trading post through which trade in pelts, the beaver was the standard-bearer King of fur-bearers and the evolution between that and the trade throughout Canada Valley, has been a long and varied one. In those days every effectual means of pelt-taking was permissible and indiscriminate slaughter was practiced, trapped, caught in dead-falls, and hunted and out of their dens in breeding season.

Under such persecution the beaver refused to maintain his supremacy He very industry was a factor in his undoing, the inventive man adjusting his habitat bringing his home to trappers. Then, too, the beaver failed to produce had tied to sufficient numbers to keep pace with the demand for his pelts. A consequent, he chooses his fur-mate in his second year and rears usually three families in a year, usually usually a litter of not more than two at one time. On the low we but ground. And, strange as it may seem, beaver fur waned in popularity as the number of available pelts diminished. The rich brown coat was heavy for our modern climate

Through three years manufacturers mainlymed through the United States and Canada This possible semi-organic mammal never over the greater part of North America, from the ben tripid region of the Arctic to the Mexican gulf. While the beaver was potentate, the ally the streams of our members and streams were fundamentally ignored Today he furnishes an annual crop of 17,000 000 skins.

It required a world war to bring Europe's thoughts to him very fabric that time, the secrets of dyeing and finishing were jealously guarded in Europe Furs from America had to be shipped abroad raw to be dyed and finished and then brought back to Europe Furs from America had to be shipped abroad raw to be dyed and finished and then brought back to Europe

CANADIAN CATTLE SENT TO THE CHUTTER IN TOWN

Analysis of the report of the retail of load of shipments of 1,000 head of Canadian cattle to the United Kingdom, arranged by the Dominion Live Stock Branch, has been used the best guide of purchase weights and grades for the British markets, particularly during the above cattle season. They enjoyed steadily to feeding demand for the last shipment of three-year-old steers averaged 1,000 pounds, over 1,000 pounds to the choicest and heaviest marks have a bearish effect on prices the seller holds in the shipment proved disappointing, indicating that the market is non-existing.

Most another thing apparent is that the Old Country buyers paper the best quality cattle possible, even if the last shipment of three-year-old steers averaged 1,000 pounds, over 1,000 pounds to the choicest and heaviest marks have a bearish effect on prices the seller holds in the shipment proved disappointing, indicating that the market is non-existing.

ERSKINE NEWS

Dr Chown of Hemaruka was the minister of the Erskine church on Sunday last week.

Don Hendrickson accompanied T Shelly to Calgary last Friday returning on Monday.

The Erskine high school boys' basketball team went to Stettler on Friday and returned with the long end of a 42 to 18 score. This was a good game especially as everyone appeared to enjoy it.

Mr and Mrs Cooper returned on Friday from their honeymoon trip. They will be at home for a few days with Mr and Mrs C A Wilson.

The Waverly Municipal meeting on Monday night put a large crowd into the hall and they passed during the session. The debate was quite spirited at times, but everything was settled over by midnight time.

The Erskine basketball team went to Big Stone the first of the week, and played a game of ball, winning 11 to 10.

Mr and Mrs A F Pemberton brought their baby girl to the hospital on Sunday. Mr Pemberton returned to Erskine on Monday, but Mrs Pemberton will remain for a week or two longer.

Mr and Mrs Fenton of Peterson spend the week end with Mr and Mrs D C Jamieson of Brantige.

Mr and Mrs A Ott of Three Hills were visiting at J G Stevenson's the week end. Mrs Summers and Vera returned to Three Hills with them for a short visit.

A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Fred Clark on Friday evening in honor of Fred's birthday. To say that Fred was surprised would be putting it mildly. Nearly all of their old time neighbors and friends were there and everyone had a wonderful time.

Miss Agnes Bradley who has been undisposed for some time is at present in the Stettler Hospital for treatment.

Mr and Mrs H Richardson of Red Willow were visiting visitors on Tuesday evening. Mrs Richardson was at Mrs Brown's where Mr Richardson is a member of the local I O O F Lodge to give a report of the Grand Lodge Session which he attended as Delegate for Erskine Lodge No 38

Mr Paine and Billy of Rocky Mountain House were the guests of Mr and Mrs H Clark Thursday night and Wednesday.

Wednesday March 25th being the 9th birthday of Erskine Lodge. No 38, the lugs are contemplating having a real party in the form of a big chicken supper followed by a dance at the Lodge Hall. Keep this in mind and come EAT and be merry with us. Watch for further particulars.

We were mistaken in our statement in last week's issue that Mr and Mrs Graham Williams and Miss Mable Bridges were married over the Christmas holidays. We have since learned that the happy event took place on July during the summer holidays.—Apologies.

We are informed that J O Boorman has purchased Cec Cornelius's house and trucking business and that Miss Old has taken over full control of the barn business. We understand that Walt will go farming Half or Friday evening, February 27th. It is under the auspices of

The Prairie Grove Ladies' Aid under the leadership of Mrs Pfeiffer are having a very interesting program on the 5th and work of Pastor, which was greatly appreciated by all present.

Mary Dolezal was taken to Stettler Municipal Hospital early Monday morning where she was operated upon for appendicitis.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Fred Pettup of Prairie Grove, on the birth of a daughter Born at the Municipal Hospital in Stettler

Dr Jackson of Dunsdale gave a very interesting and entertaining address to the Young People's meeting at Red Willow United Church last Wednesday

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs George Thompson of Red Willow on the birth of a son, born February 10 George is certainly wearing a happy smile these days.

On a stormy night around your finger nose as you will not forget to attend the Concert and Entertainment to be held at Red Willow Community Hall on Friday evening, February 27th. It is under the auspices of the United Church Ladies' Aid. The ladies are putting forth a great effort to put on a good program and everyone should be ready financially to be very good liberal.

The Card Parties held in the Hall every Wednesday evening seem to be continuing to be very popular and lively. At the one held on February 18th Mr George Lind had the highest score and Mrs Ed Hall the consolation. Mr Lind's score was 1,000 Chris Olsen used it. It didn't run each time and he had to be content with the consolation. Mrs Hall was the only one to understand that other card difficulty. Chris came and took with him a beautiful cake.

Plea of Blacksmiths; Lindbergh Negotiate

Why the Lindbergh-Morrow wedding was hurriedly announced a couple of days ahead of schedule is the most persons present are positive that it was to forestall the publication of an attorney's story to be greatly interested in such matters, to wit, the Henry Ford-Edsel Ford lawsuit, of the defendant mentioned. What perhaps is to be an unprecedented plea in a True Detective exposition, a Macfadden publication, in the course of a story entitled "Lindbergh the Anti-Christ" by Blacksmith Dwight L. Morrow has the title changed to $50,000. The threat was that unless the money was paid, his young daughter Constance Lucy, a 15-year-old pupil at a co-ed preparatory school in Northampton, Massachusetts, would meet the same fate as Dorothy Arnold, Ellen Curtwell and Frances Xi Smith, all young New England girls who vanished from the face of the earth, and whose fate nobody has been able to explain until this day (in April 1931). Mr Morrow refused, thus remembering lovelier would be half lost if she did not get $50,000 unknown blacksmith, who said proved in her mail a letter from an Mr Morrow, and he believe it at a spot to be designated later

Though threat-and not with death it did hold out for the child—and we are curious to know how she would be expected to secure the $50,000 specified. At the time Mr Morrow was in Mexico City, 2,000 miles away. Incidental term He was expected home in a few weeks for the wedding at his daughter's home, after having been tentatively set for some pleasant mornings in June Mrs. Morrow at once sent the alarm to the firm of J P Morgan, in which her husband had also been a partner and the genial Morgan machine swung into action. It employed its usual agency giving it instructions to spare no expense in guarding Miss Morrow and in running down the blackmailer The Burns people notified the various police forces which might be concerned and a swift man-hunt was called to commence plan of action. One of the officers at this conference was Jason R. Tracy, chief of police of Northampton who has told the story to the Minneapolis Tribune.

A few days later the second letter came from the blacksmither In it he gave Mr Morrow detailed directions as to how she was to handle the money On the following Saturday morning she was to leave the residency at about seven o'clock and then take four different trains, leaving the last one she was to walk along a certain country road, carrying the six bags as she walked. At the ninth she was ordered to throw the package over a certain fence, cover a trail and then return home. She said that some experienced but nameless bureau men blotted at if she was followed by police This letter was taken to the Detectives, and the first step in their plan of campaign was obvious. It involved the secret carrying away of Miss Morrow to her home in New Jersey and the substitution of another girl who was to impersonate her. There was some difficulty in selecting this girl in female detectives would serve because none of them was young enough for the deceiving scheme.

The girl had to have the appearance of a fifteen-year-old, and the nerve and courage of a man. She had also to be an actress. The one supporting Mr Trevan, who never will smile a good impersonation, neglects in any how this was eventually found and her name will be one of the best kept secrets in the history of the case.

Mr Morrow before he got word to be kept with the blacksmither that Miss Morrow was safely delivered and the other girl smuggled into her room This operation was successfully performed and Miss Morrow the principal of the school and the police and the two girls immediately hopped on a train and made their way to Texas where they remained.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RATEPAYERS OF HAIG MUNICIPAL DISTRICT

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Municipal District of Haig, No. 284, was held in the Municipal Office, Erskine, on Saturday, the 21st day of February, 1931.

The meeting was called to order at 2 p.m. by Municipal Officer J. A. Bell, acting by authority of a notice published in the Alberta Gazette and in two local newspapers, and posted in three public places in the district, and was duly constituted by the absence of a quorum of ratepayers.

The following Officers were appointed by the Municipal Officer:

Chairman—Ladies and Gentlemen.

Secretary—J. A. Bell.

It is a great deal of pleasure that I welcome you to this, our first Annual Meeting of Ratepayers in this District.

I can assure you that it is pleasing to your Council to see so many of the ratepayers present. It is time like these though which we are passing, that it is most necessary for the Council and ratepayers to get together, so that we may review at consideration a solution to the present difficulties.

A man, who is a contractor and builder, who was running for Alderman in one of the towns in this, and stated over the radio one evening "I am entirely unprocessed to public speaking, will you please vote for me on the ballot?" From some reports that I have heard he is not unchanging in his good for any municipal of the Council.

The past year closed has been a very prosperous one for your Council all, as you will see by the financial statement and the Secretary's report, but owing to the economic situation that has arisen, we will all need to be on our guard for some time to come.

The financial aspect of our public as well as our private affairs, is of vital interest to us at this time, owing to the high crops caused by the drouth, and, lastly, followed by the present depression of low prices generally all over the world. Our farmers are more and more to the fore for better and even better roads, more and better schools, more and better means of other things which they must better obtain only for more and better prices for their products. Our municipality can get very far with a good work program or any other program only when we have the money to do it with.

Fortunately I think of taxation as a constituted necessity, and it is the wish of the people that they be entitled to the best that can be had for the money spent. There is no doubt on the last roll, by reason of the number of vacancies in municipalities that the assessment will be greatly reduced.

If one but reads the Alberta Gazette, he will find that there are many of us that are deeply in the mire of taxation, and that there are a great number of vacancies in municipalities that have been forced to go back to the Provincial Government to be administered by the Government.

In all cases and in this municipality, there is only a very small percentage of taxes collected, and I am sorry to say that the percentage is getting smaller. Some of the reasons for this are, because of the failure of crops, because other hard periods of depression, but as these were caused by reasons over which we had no control and all the world was in a state of depression, we can overlook them cases. In a far more state, and on the other hand, because of carelessness in the management which made everything look different from the way it is now, and the money there is a vast difference in the position that is to be faced and considered.

Some dissatisfaction is said at newspapers and elsewhere for the drop-piest of the agency of collection due to the drouth, but I say:

How such a state of affairs should exist every man in Alberta very seriously.

It is high time that this thinking and talking ceased. It is simply the right thing, because during the past few years, thinking has been of a very selfish angle from the overweighty on the surface. It was the time of the year, very natural when assessments I refer to all classes of persons, from the professional man to the parental actions. I my with no fear of contradiction that it is a mistake the word Free was struck from the dictionary of the voting citizens of Alberta. Relief for the dignists and a great agitation for free hospitals filled five dailies, the who-are we going to land? The word most seemingly seem something to the ratepayers who are suffering, after they have taken the last cent to meet the calls, that they should be allowed, after being already for a number of years, to continue to accumulate arrears, and after a further period of extended time of payment.

The Council reduce the salary of the Secretary-Treasurer, and declare the office to be vacant, and the present holder of office refuses to accept the reduction.

This is a serious reduction in cost work by sub-cubics and give the ratepayers the opportunity to work out their taxes

The Council made a reduction in the number of Council meetings from 5—And we see no good reason for passing same, and would suggest that not as such ratepayer gets a notice in the Provincial Gazette.

After considerable discussion the above was adopted.

It was moved by Ford that re adjourn. Carried.

WALTER HALSETH
Secretary.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Mr Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I have pleasure in submitting my report for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1930.

There is always a meeting regard for the previous ratepayers and you, as the ratepayers, are married to criticism. How no one is likely to find fault with the helpless hand service that helping hand is seriously affecting the operations, generally, and the municipal ratepayers in the Province generally, and the one who obtains the very cream of the municipal ratepayers' money.

We assured by way of grant from the Provincial Government the sum of $1,250.00 for 1930, which, added to the $1,250.00 from the Municipality, made $2,500.00 for the year. Of this amount $1,000.00 was spent on the main road from the province line to Erskine, three and one-fifth miles, and the balance was spent on the road from the province line to Stettler, a distance of 3 miles, and the certain amount of work that can be done for $1,250.00 per year. Then there is very seldom a meeting of the Council, but we have a delegation from some municipality asking for a grant. Some of these have been just and very good reasons, but others have been just sore eyed because their municipality has not been treated to their greatness in market out?

SYDENHAM NEWS

A most novel attraction at the dance held in Sydenham Friday night, the music from Big Valley this very evening, which lodged no smaller instrument than a grand piano, and everyone had to enjoy themselves.

Miss Florence Richardson, from Bodiam, who has been visiting at the Ferguson home over the week end returned home on Tuesday afternoon's train.

Wedding bells rang for a young couple of the Sydenham district, the bride of Mr Pete MacDonald in Calgary on February 23rd. Hearty congratulations from many friends.

A very enjoyable time was spent, last Saturday evening when about forty of the young folks of the town and district met at the home of Mr and Mrs Ferguson, and were invited in until almost midnight after which a dainty supper was served. Then games of various sorts and good music completed the evening, the guests departing at a late hour.

Mrs Charlie Armstrong was confined to her bed for several days last week, the result of an injury to her back some years ago, but is improving nicely.

WEDDINGS

RICHARDSON — HARRIES

The residence of Mr Ben Ramsay, in Stettler, was the scene of a very charming wedding ceremony, Saturday morning, February 28th, at eleven o'clock, when Miss Harries and Mr Richardson were united in marriage by the Rev J O Goddard of Stettler officiating.

The bride was daintily attired in a two piece georgette dress and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr Ben Ramsay. The Wedding March from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Margaret McDougall of Forestburg

Miss Ethel N Baines of Calgary attended the bride and was lovely in a gown of figured georgette of peach colour. Mr Robert A Richardson, brother of the groom, acted as best man

Immediately following the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served to the bridal party, relatives and friends, after which Mr and Mrs Richardson left on the afternoon train for Calgary and Banff where they will spend their honeymoon, and upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Stettler district.

OUTO — DOYLE

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United Church Manse, Stettler, on Saturday afternoon, February 28th, when Miss Ethel Doyle, of Stettler, was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest Outo, of Stettler, by the Rev. J. G. Gaudaur, pastor of the church.

The bride, Mrs. O. G. Porter and Mrs. Outo, mother of the groom, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Outo left on the afternoon train for Calgary and Banff, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Annual Meeting Of Ratepayers Of Rag Municipal District

was made from this statement.

This would be an unfortunate position for our present strong Government to investigate as well as the case of mining a handful of wheat, oats or barley and the making of a loaf of bread.

I do not believe anything is to be gained at any time by hiding the facts but I do know that much harm is often done by unwise optimism. Only a little over a year ago thousands of people were in an optimistic way as one said about boom times. What happened? Some of us know. And I firmly believe that the hardships and depression of the present time is due to a very great extent to the mistakes then we all knew to be false but did not heed as well. As many others, Rockyford and the Province at large, the people who can handle the stumps, but we must let the little get down to their limited but essential study.

I believe it is my duty to inform you that under The Unemployment Relief Act of Canada, provision is made to set aside the sum of four million dollars for the purpose of paying one-third of the operation of Municipalities for direct relief where suitable work cannot be provided and also for the erection of these powers conferred by parliament in the Municipalities Act applied to the granting of an arbitrary discount on taxes where persons who pay promptly during the time that is extended.

It was recently forecast in these columns that the Provincial Government at its forthcoming session, will be asked to increase the Municipality the Province and to discontinue the Municipal Relief Act. This is not going to be easily overcome by the Province This relief is restricted to the bare necessities of life having due regard to the circumstances in each case.

I sincerely wish the Dominion Government every success in their endeavors to relieve unemployment and distress but I cannot see how any relief of the tariff on farm implements will relieve unemployment or agriculture in Western Canada.

It is interesting to note the premier of the manufacturers that they will not do what they always have done raise the price of the goods to equal the raise in the tariff but promise is worth very little until the purchasing power of our basic industry is built up.

The most outstanding question, to my way of thinking, which will engage the Government is an amendment in order to prior should be altered, but whether a change in the revision of prices are not over due particularly in the case of farm implements or agriculture in Western Canada.

Redeemer of the radio question to the Magistrate in the Province of Alberta. The Quebec govern- ment is not raising for purely political purposes, revenue for its provincial needs. It has done so in this case by a reference to its courts to get court whereupon the Dominion government will by a reference to the Supreme Court to the provinces are united to become party to the action. The early hearing and an early judgment in the matter is desirable so that we may be brought in before the session ends. Of this, however no reference to the Supreme Court is necessary.

Those who have applied for a refund of taxes have submitted briefs in support of their applications, have not been called upon to amplify or explain or to be examined, orally. A few have come to the proceedings have been spoken.

The whole process has been manner. Those who have applied for a refund of taxes have had every opportunity to present their case and to be examined by counsel for the Municipality. Everyone has been treated with courtesy and consideration. Whether the applications have been granted or refused is entirely a matter for the Municipality to decide.

Some of the cases outstanding, have been before the Municipality for the past two years and the Council have given the question long and careful consideration. I.O.D.E. Report To Provincial Secretary

The following is a letter from the Royal Pembroke Chapter I. O. D. E. to Mrs. M. J. Hilton, Provincial Secretary, at Edmonton, Alberta.

Stettler Alberta,
February 20, 1930

Mrs. M. J. Hilton,
Provincial Secretary,
113a St. Edmonton,
Alberta.

Dear Madam Secretary

I have much pleasure in presenting my annual report as Secretary of the Provincial Chapter for the year 1930.

During the year we held ten regular and one special executive meeting. Nine new members were enrolled, the membership of three were lost owing to removal and one to decreased.

A good deal of work has been accomplished during the past and annual response as you will note from the Provincial Standard was made to the various calls, namely Provincial Budget Relief, Soldiers' Relief, Relief Orders, rags, rugs and Lois Lane Memorial for Mrs. Marshall and portrait of Mrs. McKinney. An appeals were given the test of consideration and responded to the best possible.

During the year considerable contribution was made by Principal Robbs and Girls of our High School when instructive addresses were given on the subjects The Historical Side of the Provincial Chapter and The Advancement of the Boys like from Tenth to Manhood respectively Mr C. L. Wilds addressed the Chapter on The Companion Governments of India and Canada. Mrs. J. T. Coleman nominator on Books and Authors also Mrs. Free member reporting on the United Farmers Women's Association Convention held of which she was a delegate No outside speakers addressed the Chapter although the vice-regal Captain Adams of the Red Cross Society who spoke on current year's objective of the Society and advised facts and reports as to upkeep of a cot, enhancing the co-operation of the Order.

The proceeds of play entitled "Thy of Ecconsbury under the direction of Mrs E Sharpe past Regent made a splendid contribution to the Dental and Library Fund A Tag Day in aid of the Red Cross Society was held with splendid results achieved

During the year the Regent was notified by the MacLeans Magazine for the local Municipal Hospital Reports were sent to members who were ill school prizes and medals were awarded to pupils obtaining the highest marks in an Essay on Canadian History for the best map of Canada. New books were obtained for the Library Milk was supplied the under-privileged child of the King family; seven hampers of Christmas Cheer were sent out to those in need

Our Regent, Mrs B Dunlop, attended the Annual Convention held in Calgary The Semi-Annual Conference held in Lacombe was represented at by several of our members Comprehensive reports were made thereof

Commemoration of Armistice Day was carried out by the placing of a wreath at the Monument

Who outlining hereto-fore notices we made the Order during the year I regret that admission was made to membership on that made by Mr. H. B. Fair Stettler in April last, on the subject of Naval Disarmament.

All meetings held were well attended

All of which is respectfully submitted

MRS. E. CHRISTIE.

CORRESPONDENCE

Stettler, Alberta.
March 5th, 1931

Mr Editor

In travelling around the country one hears and reads a great deal about the drilling and granting of gas lease ments in the various local and cities of the West Of course, he did ever must give place to the new providing it will serve the interests of the people Is the burning of natural gas or its non doing so during or going to help the some 30 000 miners of the West who are in-part-ing on the coal industry for a living Something to consider. The shortage of coal into Saskatoon Moosejaw and Regina has kept on the pay roll some 3 000 railway men

Now various sources are trying to get franchises for the piping and shipping of gas to the above mentioned centres therefore do you not think that the natural gas will prove a no-ture to the people

There is no much talk of gas that it is a pity the public could not be taught a little more about the real value of coal in this country as Canada is blessed with 21 per cent of all the world's coal of which the West claims 20 per cent There is, according to statistics 10 000 000 000 tons recoverable actually within our borders, and according to learned men we have enough to last us 10 000 years

Coal has always given us a satisfactory heat service and is desirable and economical although we might have to admit that gas is a little cleaner with no ashes to shovel. It might be well for the masses to give a little thought to the damage that has been lost to the railroads through the present use of gas in many of the Western towns, throwing a lot of men out of work, not to mention the deplorable conditions among the miners through no fault of their own

Take the city of Edmonton with its numerous mines laying idle and its number of unemployed, caused through the use of gas.

Now do you not think that the users not having the gas should not commit themselves to granting any franchise in favor of the gas companies, and throw a good many thousands on to the bread line, and give the matter of the value of coal a little more consideration.

Yours truly.

W W DANIELS.

THE CALL TO WORSHIP

The Lenten season calls us back to ourselves and to God. Self-examination and prayer is as natural as eating and as essential to a whole and healthy life Those who observe a Lenten fast put themselves back on wholesome diet. It is because we have not been living right that we need this period of grace. We are looking for restored health, and our effort is not to be a straining after virtue, but a return to normal living.

C.N.R. Is Facing A $40,000,000 Loss Bennett Alarmed

Will Ask Parliament For Non-Political Discussion on Problem

OTTAWA. — About the coming session of parliament it was learned Saturday, there will be one business—particular and major—on hand—an effort to divorce consideration of the Canadian National railway affairs from the arena of party politics.

It is understood to be the intention of the prime minister to place all the cards on the table and to request the activities of the whips of his own party and, after a consultation with the leader of the opposition, invite the calm and counsel-tried consideration of parliament to such remedial measures as are considered necessary. For once, at least it is hoped to have a subject discussed in parliament, from a broad, national standpoint quite divorced from the motives of party influence. There are hopes that the government, in its purpose may be not half-way.

Financial Canvass

It is not over-stating the fact to say that the subject of finances of National Finance is considered by the prime minister in his partizan-ler capacity as minister of finance, as the great towering concern of the government. Upon it Mr. Bennett is banking for many splendid things he has already done.

There is a situation for which every party in parliament has a contributory responsibility. Each has claimed credit for the prosperity, such as it is, through any measure it may be asked to share in the solution of problems of adversity.

The legislative program of the session will be quite extensive and it is expected that many important measures will be passed then. But above it all, in the eyes of the government, the railway situation is paramount. It looms so large in their opinion that no call for the summoning of parliament and parliament itself, for any other topic, is so far as when, in the discussion of any problem, the partizan element is submerged. This rarely happens, but there have been such occasions.

Relief Party Motives

The efforts of depression, generally and those arising from the small movement in the grain crop, particularly, are conspicuous factors in a very unhappy financial show-ing of the state-owned system in the past year. The deficit will be heavy At Ottawa, in authoritative circles, it heard the report that it may be forty million dollars. Since 1923 the outlay on the system has amounted to over $200,000,000 The interest charges on that and preceding commitments are enormous

There is no disposition here to blame Sir Henry Thornton. He is one who believes in the principle that, to make money it is necessary to spend money. He is considered to have worked wonders in promoting the efficiency of the system and industry in the grand array of its employees, the greatest in Canada, and, indeed, many on behalf of the roads and their associates believe that the present crisis which gave the Board's proposals for railway co-ordination the chance of having its chief outlaps knowing that, if it came, it faces the risk of being misrepresented by party politicians ready to change it with condemning the great system, under its indirect administration

Situation Very Serious

The situation, however, is considered very serious, the more so because there is a steady falling in national revenues. A decrease in the number of oil charges are fixed and unchangeable. When to this is added the improvement deficit of the Canadian National system, the importance, if not the gravity of the situation becomes more apparent. As stated, it is the main concern of the government in these pre-session days when arrangements have to be made and a legislative program prepared for the business of parliament.

For some years, a special committee of the house, known as national railways and shipping has been appointed by the speaker before it each session Sir Henry Thornton and a big staff of officials have appeared to give information on matters arising out of the annual report on the railways for the year

Little has been withheld and that little related to personal affairs such as individual salaries. The committee, however, has had a particular responsibility. In the last session it had to be jammed through the house, brought out by the committee and reported to the house in a close.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Beattie. Hostesses—Mrs. Beattie, Mrs. Bentley, Mrs. Cassin. Roll call—Answers to questions from Pauline John. Prayer by the minister. Prayer by the Rev. Gaetzoli.

Possible appointment to Liberal Cabinet Vacancy Caused by Death of Hon. Charles Stewart

Conservatives — Critics and suggestions — Debate on Address in Reply to Speech from the Throne — Proposed Amendment

The Speech from the throne occupied the first week of the session, and the debate on the address in reply to it the second week. The first week was taken up with the presentation by Col. J. T. Hladish, on behalf of the Liberal government, of his estimates of receipts and expenditures for the year ending March 31st, 1930. It was a budget speech, and was followed with close attention by the House. It was the first budget speech delivered by the Conservative government of Canada, and was received by the House with applause.

Speech of Commendation

From the nature which it bore it was of the first that Great good news. The first budget speech of the session was received with commendation, its overall effect was that of confidence at that time power was granted from parliament to conduct trade from Canada imperially, instead from other country that there was a signatory to the treaty of

The importance of the government's decision to that the ban should be completely. While all the main provisions of Russia are specifically excluded, it was pointed out to the meeting that there may be a few others to which and My Brethren indicated that if the government's attention were drawn to any unnecessary restriction it would not be delayed.

Complete Investigation

Generally speaking, the whole purpose is to cut out unnecessary or embarrassing red-tape and remove some of the irritations which have existed in the past.

The Soviet have not wanted particularly because they had no diplomatic recognition in the country, but they do want what we have to sell, and they want what we have to buy, and the object was achieved.

The government's action, which is considered by many to be a step in the right direction, is considered to be a result of the recent visit to Canada of Mr. Peter Bogdanoff, Soviet Trade Commissioner, who was received by Premier King and other Cabinet Ministers.

The second class employs the wet and dry bulb thermometer principle. One bulb is covered with fine muslin, the end of which dips into a reservoir of water. The other bulb is left dry. By noting the difference between the two bulbs the humidity can be determined.

The third class employs the hair principle. Human hair is used for this purpose. It is extremely sensitive to moisture. When the humidity is low the hair is tightened up, and when it is high it is relaxed. The change in the hair is recorded on a dial.

The fourth class employs the dew point principle. This instrument is used for determining the temperature at which moisture will be deposited from the air in the form of dew. The humidity can be determined from this.

Standard of Humidity

Humidity is measured in terms of grains of moisture per cubic foot of air. The standard of humidity is 4 grains per cubic foot. This is considered to be the most comfortable humidity for the human body. Humidity is measured in terms of grains of moisture per cubic foot of air. Representatives suitable for humidifying and ventilating equipment can find new avenues of business in connection with the installation of humidifying equipment. Humidifying equipment is not the only equipment that is necessary for the proper conditioning of air. Ventilating equipment is also necessary.

Presbyterian Church

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has been organized in the Province of Alberta. The first meeting was held in Calgary on the 10th of June, 1929. The following officers were elected: Moderator, Rev. J. A. McDonald; Clerk, Rev. J. A. McDonald; Treasurer, Rev. J. A. McDonald.

W.M.S. Presbyterial

The Stettler W.M.S. Presbyterial was held at Castor, Alberta, on February 25th, 1931 with a splendid representation of officers and members and friends of the missionary work in the Presbytery. The record attendance brought new life to this special group of women who on this particularly needed encouragement at this time and a wonderful day was spent in the Master's service.

Our President, Mrs H. Price, was there to arrange a source of information and inspiration and she brought us in a message from our General Secretary whom you will greatly regret to miss at this time.

The total of all meeting and hearing as many who have given the best of their time in the service of work at home and abroad, the cost and sacrifice made of the joy and happiness in having been able to do this for the Master, only eternity will disclose. Because of the consecration men and women at home who have helped with prayers and funds, and also made as best even though only a small group of rural people, that we had played a small part in this great missionary work.

Mrs Rev Jagues of Castor, gave us a vivid description of some of the work among new Canadians at Three Hills, where she had spent some time in the School Section. Later she came to Calgary and studied at Crescent Heights and Prof. Knox College, and then went to Edmonton to be married to Rev. Jagues. Later she went to Vancouver and did social work among the girls in the Japanese Section. Later she came to Calgary and studied at Crescent View Home, where every girl who passed it spoke very highly of her.

Miss E. L. Mounce of Coaldale just recently took up this Calgary, for her address on the summer work in North Dakota. She is on the job many of the first delegates to go to the first summer school in which field now belongs to the United Church of Canada. She told us the living story of the work a little woman whom the presidency had been having been in the field for four years and who had led the English language while here and was able to address meetings before her return to Canada. Miss Mounce's report of the progress and many stopped the very hearts of our women and her appeal to come to bring Peace Land in this Presbytery.

Miss Ella Jones, in the address of the evening, explained to us the story of a Christmas joy and happiness, as a channel for this year's offering.

Our Presbyterial women of the Association, two Associations and Auxiliaries, with 11 Mission Bands, 6 mission members and 6 Mission Circles, with a total membership of 300 members, have contributed to the missionary cause, one hundred and forty-seven dollars and eighty-five cents, which includes the Thank Offering of $53.00 sent in before Christmas and $53.00 received by Mrs. Hall.

The time during the day, the many incidents, and stories by the girls, brought visions of love and inspiration, and the Spirit of God was with us. Nothing that if ever we can be informed, lonely and discouraged, we will have new and help to us, and then we will say with the Psalmist, "The Word of God is."

Through Peace

Following the premier, R. J. Montgomery, Liberal, Westmorland, resumed a discussion of amendments moved by Mr. Stevens and urged the need of a thorough probe into the security held for the government's guarantees.

Despite an able defense by the premier, the weight of evidence was against the government in the opinion of D. M. Duncan, Conservative, Victoria.

The report disclosed, he noted, that the Provincial Treasurer had signed all the securities and that all company securities had been deposited with his statements on other grounds.

Coming the Debate.

Coming the debate, Mr. Stevens said that the matter of the loans in his address to the throne, and that the premier had not made any statement of the matter. He doubted whether anything could be brought out in the debate, and he thought this was the government's aim in supporting the amendment.

He thoroughly endorsed the government's policy of relief to the unemployed, which he understood would likely be met by the provinces by a subsidy dollar for dollar. He was in favor of the suggestion that the province should be divided into districts, and that the municipalities should be given the right to appoint the boards of relief. He also favored the appointment of an unemployment commissioner.

Mr. Stevens, in reply to a question from R. B. Hanson, Conservative, Carleton, stated that he understood that the government had no intention of appointing a commissioner.

Ending Relief

In reply to a question from R. B. Hanson, Conservative, Carleton, Premier Baxter stated that he understood that the government had no intention of appointing a commissioner.

Not Precedent

People of the province had not yet realized the precedent which the government had established in the matter of the guarantees. The premier had no right to expect, he maintained, that the people would not question that matter, however, he felt that the government had changed the minister of agriculture without consulting the Liberal members would not serve as a precedent in the future. The minister's resignation was a result of the government's action in the matter of the guarantees. He felt the government's action in connection with the matter was a mistake.

Public Critical

The government, he contended, was not entitled to any credit for guaranteeing the bonds of the municipalities had no bearing on certificates for guarantees. The Liberal government had been criticized for its action in guaranteeing bonds, but nobody criticized it because of the guarantees of the Liberal government in connection with the Transcontinental railway. However that he felt there was some justification for criticism of the government's action at this time.

There was no justification, he felt, for spending the $50,000 required when this work should be done by the auditor and Mr. Stevens concluded the offensive in this official.

Security of Deposits

Security of the societies were an good shape, had paid up and a good surplus, and were in a position to meet their carryover in good years prior to the present depression.

Conditions were so serious, however that he felt there was some ground for appointment of a committee to investigate and report to the House.

Premier Baxter, in reply, said that he felt there was some justification for the criticism. It was not intended to be a reflection on the auditor, but he felt that the appointment of a committee would be more effective to resolve the matter. Some of the securities, he reminded the House, had been purchased by the Liberal government and by the Conservative government, and their affairs were in good shape today.

Explanations

Explanations in his estimates, he said, had been given by the minister of agriculture. Mr. Stevens had not been present when the matter had been presented to the House, but had never in any way questioned the action of the government. It was not, he thought, the intention of the opposition to criticize the action of the government in connection with the matter. Stettler Old Timer Passes Away

OBITUARY

The sudden death of Captain L. Olsen took place early Saturday morning, March 5th, following an illness of some description. Mr Olsen was in very good health and attended church on Sunday morning as usual. He ate a very hearty dinner and was singing his favorite hymns shortly afterwards. He lay down on his bed and had a quiet rest. At four o'clock Dr Staples was called to find Mr Olsen in a very dangerous state. The suddenly family was called at once but he lapsed into a coma from which he never recovered and crept quietly out of this world about three hours later. The funeral was in charge of Rev. Mr. Hall and was held on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. He passed away at the advanced age of 80 years of age he was on the Atlantic and made his last trip by Lusitania. The big steamer sailed days at that time. After a number of years on the Atlantic and Mediterranean waters he came west to the Pacific Coast. For a few years he served as Captain for the Union Pacific Steamship Lines. Later he came to Alberta where he ran his own boat in the Bow River and the C. P. R. Steamer Saskatchewan on the North Saskatchewan and on Athabasca on the Yukon River.

In 1887 he came east and was married at Macleod, Province of Quebec. He returned to the west soon after and homesteaded on the Bow River. Later he came to Stettler where he still owned land. He also owned land in Athabasca that time going to the Klondike in 1897 and was all through the gold rush of 98 where he obtained many experiences and where his children were born. In 1902 Mr Olsen came to Alberta and homesteaded in the Red Willow district. Lonesome at this time was the newspost post office so in 1903 he let his Red Willow land go and filed on his homestead north of Stettler where he lived until his death. At one time Mr Olsen had the largest and finest herd of Polled Angus cattle throughout the province. Later he sold out and turned to farming.

Mr. Olsen has been a member of the Masonic fraternity for many years and was a member of the Stettler lodge.

He leaves to mourn him his sister Florence, age 88, of the Bay de Verte area, four sons and four daughters. Several of Sumney, Garfield and Brownfield of Seattle, William of Haywood, Mrs. H. H. Allen, Mrs. W. H. Allen, Mrs. F. E. Peterson all of Lapchelle, and Mrs. Hilda Johnson of Seattle, also numerous grand children.

The pall bearers were Mr. C. B. Stetson, Mr. J. Hoffberg, Mr. H. Pugh, Mr. G. H. Welty and Mr. J. H. Cox.

The funeral was held from the Union Collegiate Church, service conducted by the Rev. Fielder. Interment in the Stettler Queen Valley cemetery. The floral tributes were many and the church was filled to the doors when the funeral took place from the Union Church.

Mr. Olsen was a member of the Stettler Masonic Lodge and was buried with Masonic honors.

Pages In Wall Street Blood Runs Sweets

In an address to a company of Boy Scouts in Toronto, a few days ago, Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, told the boys that the world was in a terrible mess, that everything was upside down, that the country was in the grip of a financial crisis, that there was no money anywhere, that the banks were closed, that there was no business being done, that there was no work for anybody, that the whole world was in a state of chaos, and that it was up to the boys to get busy and straighten things out.

Now, I don't know whether Sir Henry Thornton was trying to be funny or not, but I do know that he was not telling the truth. He knows perfectly well that there is no financial crisis in Canada, that there is plenty of money in the country, that the banks are open and doing business, that there is plenty of work for everybody who wants to work, that the world is not in a state of chaos, and that it is not up to the boys to straighten out the mess.

Sir Henry Thornton is a man of considerable importance in the financial world. He is the head of one of the largest railroads in the country. He is a director of many important companies. He is more than a director, he is a leader. He is a man who has been entrusted with the handling of millions of dollars of the people's money. He is a man who has been looked up to as a financial expert. He is a man who has been considered a safe guide in matters financial. He is a man whose opinion on financial matters has been sought and published in the newspapers.

He knows all the time of his life that the depression is not due to any lack of financial support, to any lack of money, to any lack of credit, to any lack of anything except confidence. He knows that the depression is due entirely to the lack of confidence that has existed in the minds of the people for the past few years. He knows that the people have lost confidence in the financial institutions of the country, in the banks, in the railroads, in the industries, in the business men, in the politicians, in the financiers, in the whole system of things that has been built up on the North American continent and which has been responsible for the development of the greatest country in the world.

He knows that the people have lost confidence in the men who have been responsible for the mismanagement of the affairs of the country, and that they have lost confidence in the system that has made it possible for those men to mismanage the affairs of the country

ANNOUNCING

THE APPOINTMENT OF

A NEW

FORD DEALER

Stettler Motors

H. T. SANDVIK, Prop.

WE TAKE PLEASURE in announcing a new Ford dealer in this territory. The opportunity is to be helping with the established Ford policy of rendering thoroughly satisfactory service to Ford owners throughout all sections of Canada.

The Ford service policy is founded on the belief that a sale does not complete the transaction between us and the buyer but entitles us to new obligations as we endeavor to keep the car in the best possible condition for the owner.

The mechanics of all Ford dealers are thoroughly trained in schools conducted by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, and they are tools and machinery unobtainable only by servicing the Ford. With the employment of these facilities the parts used are identical in plan and quality with those found when your car was originally assembled in the Ford factory. The chassis dimensions, the standards of adjustment and the Ford policy. Ladies are all invited to visit the showroom and see the new Fordson.

The manner which this Ford dealer or manager will find the Ford dealer equipped to handle it, the way promptly, at a fair price, and with the greatest possible satisfaction to the owner, is the subject of the display room, and shop and the continued courtesy of all concerned will be especially appreciated by the lady dealers.

Instinct Of Homing A Scientific Mystery

Sir Arthur J. Thomson has the following interesting comment concerning the mysterious homing instinct of birds:

"It is a subject of many questions and many answers, and yet not one of the latter is entirely satisfactory. Some of the questions have been answered by experiment, but many more remain unsolved. Take the case of the common pigeon. Many of us are familiar with the fact that the loyalty of the pigeon to its home is a proverb. Even when it is carried away in a basket to a distant place, it finds its way back to its home, and it does so with a directness which suggests that it knows the way. Many of us have had the experience of receiving a letter from a friend who has taken a pigeon with him on a journey, and who has released it in order to see how long it takes to get back to its home. Sometimes it is a matter of days, sometimes of hours, sometimes of minutes. Now, how does the pigeon find its way? Is it by the sense of sight, or by the sense of smell, or by the sense of hearing, or by the sense of touch, or by the sense of taste? Or is it by some sense of which we have no knowledge? Experiments have been made with pigeons which have had their eyes covered with hoods, or their eyes blinded, or their olfactory organs destroyed, or their ears stopped with wax, or their semicircular canals cut, and in all cases the pigeon's power of observation, or of finding its way home, has been impaired by a certain amount, but it has not been destroyed. Even when the pigeon is carried in a basket which is whirled round and round, so that it cannot tell in which direction it is going, it is able to find its way home. Experiments have been made with pigeons which have had their wings clipped, and which have had to walk home, and they have done so

Edmonton Stock Yards Report

(Week Ending March 24th)

CATTLE: Choice Steers ... Heifers ... Cows ... Bulls ...

HOGS: Selects ... Lights ... Sows ...

On the close week trading has been rather brisk and the demand from packers displayed on the show ended fleshy choice fat cattle mainly 5c higher. Heavy and medium to medium offers closely are about the same. Both of the fed calves selling up to 6c to 6½, good butcher cows and heifers selling at $3 to $3.50, choice up to $3.50, common to medium $2 to $2.50, good to choice bulls $2.50 to $3, common to medium $1.50 to $2, canners and cutters $1.25 to $1.50, bulls $1.50 to $2.

Feeders are a little slow in moving and showing a steady tone. Stocker steers and heifers $2.75 to $3.25, calves $3.50 to $4.50.

There is no change worthwhile on the hog market, the demand for the week satisfied. Good to choice butcher hogs at $5 to $5.25, selects $5.25 to $5.50, sows $4 to $4.50, stags $3 to $3.50.

We have handled to September 7th 1930 inclusive 1,000,000 cattle, 1,000,000 hogs and 1,000,000 sheep and lambs.

DEATH OF DONALD FARQUHAR PASSED AWAY SUNDAY AT DAWN

(Calgary Herald)

The three-day search for nine-year-old Donald Farquhar who disappeared from his home in the 1900 block Third Street, late Saturday, ended at noon Tuesday, when the body of the boy was found in the New Street area. Twenty-seventh street northwest.

Assistant Chief Constable Duncan was the first to see the body, which was about four feet from the north bank of the river. Johnny Moorhead driver, waded in and removed the body, then carried it to the bank. Constable Duncan covered the body with his coat, and assisted by constables at the scene, carried it to the ambulance.

Donald left his home at 9 a.m. on Saturday to go for a light with a friend. Although he returned home later, and the next time Donald was seen was on the river bank by Lillian Stelter, 12 years of age, the latter reported that she had seen a kid on the ice and when she heard of it built a shinny hook to help dislodge it.

Simultaneously and telephone were used in the search.

When all the other avenues of search had been exhausted, Norman Farquhar, father of the missing boy, turned to Mayor Andy Davison to Announce Musings

How many cats will the cats kittycy produce and sell this year? This is the major subject for guessing in the cat world at present. Cat prophets have already submitted their figures to the cat editor and they range from 1,500,000 to 4,000,000 cats.

The majority within the industry are of the opinion that a reasonably optimistic figure becomes they recognize the dangers of excessive optimism and merely remember the pessimistic and merely remember the pessimistic figures which they consider the probable limit in the past.

As the kittycy sizes up for the year, the first quarter of the year will not be particularly active from the buying standpoint. On the contrary the trend is expected to be steady and substantial with not much activity before the total for the year will be achieved despite the sentimental attractions of the romantic spring time. That is what the industry believes.

One of the most qualified authorities within the motor car field believes that the industry will sell 1,500,000 units if it could substitute for the first quarter of this year, the first three months of 1930. In other words from March to December of next year he thinks the industry reasonable.

The general disposition to put the automobile somewhere between the minimum figure quoted above and the maximum. That negro in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 cars, an increase of approximately 15 per cent. over the past year.

Economics

End you know than an ignition system has been developed which increases the adventure and retention of the spark to meet variations in engine load as well as to engine speed. In fact the system has the virtue to fit conditions existing as they occur in obtaining a fuel charge in such open but the engine is moving slowly under a heavy load.

Dollars

Professor Isidore that the first dollar was minted in this country was in operation in 1792. It still has to make to run.

How can one shorten one's life? Is a favorite under our color because it goes blindly with anything we wear and because the lobster is in morning. . . . In the prehistoric of man from out of the animal industry will try to be how many customers it can secure by the payment of part of the purchase price and the balance in small monthly payments. The method and the finance that would be necessary to make this plan workable is obvious. The industry could not finance the thousands of dealers that would be necessary to finance the plan. Each dealer would have to finance himself with better producers can secure the money from their own institutions and can look underneath over to our bonds. A man may believe he is a fool to buy a car on the time payment plan and which are not, but he is only human, instead of a fool. The time payment method of finance. Automotive Notes

The automotive editor of dairy-land reports that he is going to make a big improvement in the cow industry. Everything is going to be automatic except the cow herself. She is merely going to be a factory or machine for producing milk, but you have got to understand that she is going to be brought up in the modern manner. She is going to be fed by the better cow to make the best use of her feed and she is going to be milked by machinery. They sacrifice the art of tenderness for something that is going to be more efficient.

What it is coming to since the feed grows a good dairy cow has been a matter of much discussion. Some of the best dairy cows have been developed on the farms of the Canadian West, selected they were from herds where they had been grown for the purpose of milk production and milk records had been kept. THE IMPROVEMENT OF OUR DAIRY HERDS

The improvement of our dairy herds is one of the very foundations of our dairy industry. Without good milk production of milk of the right quality, the dairy industry could not hope for satisfactory, and progress in any part of the country. Dairy cows are the basis of the dairy industry, they give the milk, without good cows there would be no milk, without good cows we could not make the best of our dairy products, without good cows the dairy industry could not hope for satisfactory, and progress in any part of the country. Dairy cows are the basis of the dairy industry, they give the milk, without good cows there would be no milk, without good cows we could not make the best of our dairy products, without good cows the dairy industry could not hope for satisfactory, and progress in any part of the country.

The majority within the industry are of the opinion that a reasonably optimistic figure becomes they recognize the dangers of excessive optimism and merely remember the pessimistic and merely remember the pessimistic figures which they consider the probable limit in the past.

As the kittycy sizes up for the year, the first quarter of the year will not be particularly active from the buying standpoint. On the contrary the trend is expected to be steady and substantial with not much activity before the total for the year will be achieved despite the sentimental attractions of the romantic spring time. That is what the industry believes.

One of the most qualified authorities within the motor car field believes that the industry will sell 1,500,000 units if it could substitute for the first quarter of this year, the first three months of 1930. In other words from March to December of next year he thinks the industry reasonable.

The general disposition to put the automobile somewhere between the minimum figure quoted above and the maximum. That negro in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 cars, an increase of approximately 15 per cent. over the past year.

Economics

End you know than an ignition system has been developed which increases the adventure and retention of the spark to meet variations in engine load as well as to engine speed. In fact the system has the virtue to fit conditions existing as they occur in obtaining a fuel charge in such open but the engine is moving slowly under a heavy load.

Dollars

Professor Isidore that the first dollar was minted in this country was in operation in 1792. It still has to make to run.

How can one shorten one's life? Is a favorite under our color because it goes blindly with anything we wear and because the lobster is in morning. . . . In the prehistoric of man from out of the animal industry will try to be how many customers it can secure by the payment of part of the purchase price and the balance in small monthly payments. The method and the finance that would be necessary to make this plan workable is obvious. The industry could not finance the thousands of dealers that would be necessary to finance the plan. Each dealer would have to finance himself with better producers can secure the money from their own institutions and can look underneath over to our bonds. A man may believe he is a fool to buy a car on the time payment plan and which are not, but he is only human, instead of a fool. The time payment method of finance. Round the Country

The Rumsey U F A Local is to be commended for the way it handled the visit of the new organizer, Mr. Baldwin, on Sunday, last week. The report in the Big Valley Journal gives the following particulars.

The Rumsey U.F.A. held a meeting in the office of the good elevator on Saturday. The chief attraction was now the visit of Carl Axelson to the district. His application for the office of U F A Hall for a meeting on March 23rd, accompanied by the required cash, was granted.

After short discussion it was evident that the U F A members were quite willing to have Mr. Axelson deliver his address but did not wish to sponsor his meeting nor give the organization that help. They were very connected with his meeting. The unanimous opinion seemed to be that some men of less speak of the country should be invited to speak. Mr. Axelson was then informed that no arrangements could be made by the U F A to prevent the meeting and it was agreed that the members present from the district would do everything in their power to make the meeting a success. We should, however, pay close attention to the character of songs we sing. Farmers are not singing as much as they used to and unfamiliar songs are annoying a loss that is not paying. We have need of many songs that will help to bring people together, sing a fanfare of hymns now and then, and sing songs that will help to bring out the best in people. We do not want songs that will be sung to the tune of the dollar. If we do not have songs that will touch some of our emotions we will be longer than will touch some of our emotions. This matter of singing is one that we should all think about and do something about. Let us be real singers and not in the herd mob which it is tempted to be in the dairy-land hall. The music difficulty is that the leader has to discover it in the listeners and then lead them to it. Let us not be afraid to sing songs that we like. Let us not be afraid to sing songs that we like. Let us not be afraid to sing songs that we like.

Good feeding must not be confined to the cows in milk and to the dry cows. In the development of heifers perhaps the most important time with the heifers is between the time they have freshened the first time, and the feeding and care during the first year of the calf's life determined to no small degree the future value of the cow. Rate gainers and not fat cows are not necessarily the best for cows. Rate gainers and not fat cows are not necessarily the best for cows.

Dairy cows are relative-ly thin fleshed and do not withstand cold weather as well as beef cows. They are not as hardy as beef cows. They are not as hardy as beef cows. They are not as hardy as beef cows.

Milk production naturally starts and receives its greatest impetus at the time of the year when grass is in good condition at this time and to treat them in the best possible manner to insure a most economical lactation period. The cow that has a good start is more likely to keep going for a long period. The cow that has a good start is more likely to keep going for a long period. The cow that has a good start is more likely to keep going for a long period.

Cows are approximately fifty per cent. of the income from dairying. The majority of the cows are not producing at full capacity because they are not fed properly and are not housed under conditions conducive to the best results. Many of these cows are not producing enough to pay for their feed and are actually losing money for their owners. AN ARCTIC MYSTERY

Instead of reviewing the thrilling book under the above title, I have decided to present with the Arctic mystery story itself. Everybody knows of the disappearance of the Andree balloon expedition, and the subsequent discovery of the bodies of the members of their camp on Big Island. Then came the finding of the diaries and records of the expedition, which have been published in full. Now comes a new book, which has not several times claimed the attention of the world, and which has been published in full. Farm Board For Canada Urged In The Alberta House

WORLD EQUALIZE PRICE

BY THE EDITOR STAFF

Edmonton. Establishment of an agricultural stabilization board in Canada to develop export markets and negotiate export trade to be financed by a commodity export corporation with the Dominion government and the provincial governments in Canada and Australia as the chief shareholders, with the object of establishing a revolving fund from the value of exports to be used in advancing to producers when there is a surplus and to prevent the dumping of goods on the world market, was the principal feature of a resolution moved in the Alberta legislature Tuesday by the agricultural committee. The resolution, which has met several times during the session in an effort to arrive at a unanimous decision, was carried unanimously.

The resolution, as presented by the committee was that every effort be made by the provincial government to have the subject of the report of its meeting at Vegreville, many of the recommendations contained in the resolution are not revolutionary ones but are suggested by him."

There is the suggestion in a letter that the Canadian government should make any loaning to Alberta except through established agencies. OBITUARY

JAMES JOHN FENDIAN

The funeral service of the late James John Fendian, aged 42, was held at the Red United Church, Saskatoon, on Saturday, March 28th, 1931.

The minister, Rev. R. Craig officiated, and at the request of the deceased, the service was held in the late Brother's home of the deceased near camp 60. The floral tributes draped with the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes with all The Night.

Being a war veteran, the coffin was draped with the Union Jack. The Misses Paul Fendian, J. H. Reed, Ben Morgan, S. Hudson W. Bedford and W. Hartford were the pallbearers.

Following the service, interment took place in the Hadleigh Cemetery, a large quard of people attending. The funeral and floral tributes were sent from the following relatives and friends:—

Mr. and Mrs. Will Pringle, Mossmin, Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pringle, Mossmin, Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brenton, of Vancouver.

The Veterans of Hadleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogge of Hamilton Update Operation and Hamilton.

Mr. Bedford and family

Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrold.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard.

Members of the Hadleigh Guards.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond and Family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogge, of Saskatoon.

Messrs. Campbell, Wilson and Shirey.

Red Deer Grocery

Mr. Pringle was born at Monkton, Ontario, on October 22nd, 1884.

He was a nephew of the well-known hardware merchant, Mr. J. H. Ashdown, also a nephew of Rev John Pringle of Yukon fame. He enlisted with the 214th Battalion and later joined the 6th battalion C. L. I. going for four years of service and received three wounds participating in some of the principal engagements.

In 1916 while stationed at Winnipeg he married Margaret Spooner, daughter of the Rev W. P. Spooner, of Cupar, Saskatchewan. He came to reside in his home besides his widow, and two boys, three brothers in Saskatoon, Manitoba, George of Vancouver, Fred of Venn, Saskatchewan, and one sister, Miss. Pannett of Calgary.

The funeral service was a very impressive one, and the loss of Mr. Pringle is keenly felt by this community.

The last word on this occasion by the Rev. Craig, was the words of Jesus to Gethsemane: "If it be possible let this cup pass from me, nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done" followed by a most appropriate hymn and brief but eloquent remarks which was listened to with deep attention.

Hearing the newsletter was the Union and passing from the Union Jack to the Stars and Stripes "In Flanders's Fields" he applied the words.

We are told short days ago We lived, but death, our closest place Loved and were loved, and now we lie.

Mr. Pringle was formerly in business at Hadleigh, Saskatchewan, and was well known, Hadleigh Guards, which he was formerly a member of the Hadleigh Branch, and the Hadleigh Branch of the Great Britain Veterans, also many other organizations, and by his passing one of the finest of the Hadleigh Branch.

He was an efficient corn-operator and was always obliging and ac-

[illegible] Mr. Pringle was a member of the Hadleigh Presbyterian Church, and was always a liberal supporter of the church.

Confined to bridge and social, Mr. Pringle stood in consideration, he gave himself unreservedly to the cause of his country, and was one of the first to enlist. He was wounded in action and was invalided to England, where he remained for some time.

Those of his recovery were held on several days, but despite all the efforts of the doctors he got into the conveyance to death after fighting valiantly for twelve days.

Mr. and Mrs. Pringle gave affectionate service as were tongues and will be remembered by many friends.

Following last husband's sympathies death Mrs. Pringle carried on bravely at the store until a month ago.

Mr. Pringle is leave for Ogden, Saskatchewan, about the beginning of April.

The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to her in her sorrow.

ENDIANG NEWS

Quite a crowd from Endiang and Spencer danced last Wednesday to Hanna's Thursday night. Music was the booming music furnished by Hanna's Orchestra of Hanna and Mrs. Hanna of Calgary Guards had the misfortune to break the wheel of his left hand in the second round, but gamely kept on and finished the bout. Hugh has received eight rounds. Before, who showed his ability to take punishment and saved from a knock out by in going at the third round.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanna spent Sunday until the 5th and 10th resident.

The prizes, and prizes awarded at the dance in Endiang, and as is to say in the ring and Boxers is all and Hanna of and he fought an comedy in spite of his badly broken nose. He has been a very proud man.

and upon pasture. In fact, it is too young to make its living on rough feed. It pays to feed a young heifer from the time she is born. Let her run little muck but just a little will make a world of difference to the growth of yearling calves. Two or three pounds a day per calf is all that is needed with a good pasture and hay. If she has a bumpy time, a shortage of equal parts of bran, chop, rolled barley and rolled oats makes a very suitable meal. If in summer hay is fed she is one part of linseed oil meal should be added to the grain mixture or the bran can be increased. If no pasture hay is fed a little bone meal or ash should be also should be added to the grain mixture. Three pounds to the 100 pounds of grain is about right.

During this period it is a mistake to over feed. Some people make the young animal too pursuitly fat. Little is gained but five or six pounds a day is wasting. By the end of the first year a good heifer should weigh 600 pounds. A little bonus is allowed the best but nothing that can be promised if this is looking a little of the fine animal shown her and let-one of her owners will take its place.

The moment summer's here and heifer should be turned out without any question grabbing that the pasture is abundant. Young animals can be used to greater advantage on a pasture crop. Two pounds extra of mixed clover and brome or a mixture of 10 pounds of mixed clover, 6 pounds Western Rye grass and 4 pound timothy will give most satisfactory results on a pasture. Try an element of a grass with the clover, slow-gradually improve a soil's pasture.

During the second winter the heifer can run on silage 10 to 15 pounds is not too much. A little grain can also be used to good advantage now as the nutritive value of the ration is previously mentioned is enough and has proved to be beneficial.

All experienced dairymen know the danger of breeding a heifer too young. Premature breeding is all to be found in an underdeveloped animal and a reduced capacity for milk production. The heifer should be mated for first time according to the dominating characteristics of the herd. Select a bull that will correct the faults of the herd. Never use a bull that has been used for many generations. Inbreeding usually results in reduced vitality and decreased fertility. Avoid the use of bulls with poor conformation, disease, and tendency to produce scrub offspring. Never use a bull that has been used for many generations. Inbreeding usually results in reduced vitality and decreased fertility. Avoid the use of bulls with poor conformation, disease, and tendency to produce scrub offspring.

The following six point general rules apply to the care of the dairy herd

1 Provide comfortable quarters and pure food and water.
2 Regularity of feeding and of milking are of great importance in maintaining production.
3 Clean milk pails and clean milking methods are essential in securing of healthy milk.
4 Be kind to do a good job regarding the heifer calves. They will be the main cows in a few years.
5 Well fed calves develop into better producers than poorly fed calves.
6 The heifer during her first and second pregnancy needs protection particularly more feed than the mature cow. The reason for this is that she is still growing and needs some feed for this purpose.

A variety of feeds is safer than over-rating the cows to one or two. A variety stimulates the cows appetite and is more sure the likelihood of the cows getting all the necessary nutrients.

9 Kindliness is a great factor in securing cows and heifers. Nothing is more cow's nature. Things makes cows nervous and less profitable. A heifer is good but few

LIBERAL NEWS

Professor Gibson spent the week-end in the district. He is part of the Mr. Bracken party on a speaking tour.

Miss Lillian Bailey, former Liberal president, sold the part of the property on the east part of the village, lately owned by Mr. Hoffman, to Mr. Bailey.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Wilson Allen has been confined to bed with sickness for some weeks. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, who have been spending the winter in the south, have been back up with the goods.

Hamid Green is staying with his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Hood.

He is taking treatment for rheumatism and is improving. Victor has been very sick following a bad cold.

Mr. S. Taylor has taken a contract of grade about three miles south of town.

Mr. P. H. Titcombe, inspector of animals, was a Tuesday visitor to Liberal, returning a load day.

Miss Violet Christensen is spending a few weeks in Stettler with her friend Ruby. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen Senior Henry Rasmus was brought home from the hospital on Thursday.

Little Kenneth Logan, who has been suffering with convulsions, is much better

Mrs. Wm. Turville and infant son are home from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brodie visited with Mrs. D Lyle on Sunday. Mr. Lyle remained to help Mrs Della Brodie and Bill Brodie

The Young Helps U.F.A and U.F.W.A. met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Fairfax (Mary Thursday)

Jake Bonar has some very nice grass of white lupines clustering. Which time was spent selecting and making them.

Miss Lottie Minton and brother of Frank visited at Clifford Welby's on Sunday

Mr and Mrs Stan Welby were home visitors over the week end.

If the Liberal congress can lead known of the visit of the notable Carl Aastrom to the good district monthly move would have science. ed. For it is not every day one can get a face to face view of the hero of Vegreville's Credo of Ancestral Hope Assemblies. Also we may have the fortunate in hearing his soul vocal notes striking up the National anthem of our adoption.

Church is held every Sunday morning at Scales School at 11 a. m.

The Rev Mr Brown officiates. 11 a.m. is too early to attend the church, don't forget that a sermon is given at Scales School at three p.m. afternoon. Good services by the Brown preacher are worthwhile hearing and men should take advantage of the opportunity offered them to attend church during the winter months.

Little Helen Bainton has been away sick with a very severe cold.

The correspondent and the pleasure of driving over three different roads to church on the past few weeks, and found most of the roads in good condition, but some in need of our own and was certainly glad to get back to Liberal. I had some bad roads.

If the ministerial could see fit to put in some real good sermons with your three weeks, undoubtedly, be a potential clean-up, as time shows our views. Everyone finds that hearing over epic is preferable to monologues three one, and when times are good the majority of people will take the time to hearing those parts. Why let an opportunity like this pass by unheed profit?

The Club meeting of the Judy's on Tuesday was well attended.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Pete Adams who has been bedridden for some time in the hospital for many months will be returning home soon.

Mr. Solomon Christie returned from Calgary.

Mr. E. Webb, the genial manager of Sharman's store, is very poorly at present. He will perform at Lyceum on Friday night.

Botha News

Easter Sunday was a bright, clear day and very warm. The weather has continued warm and grass is rapidly becoming green. Farmers are rushing work to get to the fields, many will start on the land the latter part of this week, while field work will be general next week always providing the weather holds.

The schools are closed this week and the youngsters are enjoying their annual Easter vacation

The Cantata "The Conquering King, put on by the choir of St Andrew in the Hall on Friday and Sunday evenings, was, perhaps, the

The music was furnished by the Orchestra with Mrs. Murray at the piano.

The roles were taken by Miss Marie Bruning, Mrs. Ray Hall, Norman Bruning, Mr. Murray and Weston Bright.

The solos, duets and quartettes were especially good. Mrs. Hunter-Jones played a violin solo which added much to the evening. The quartette in the Hallelujah Chorus also deserve special mention.

The choir is to be congratulated on their splendid rendition of this wonderful work and the untiring efforts of their leader, Mrs. Murray, who has spared no pains to make the production a success.

A collection was taken both evenings. This was entirely different from the usual collection as the proceeds were given to the Botha Hospital, and, if donations are any standard of appreciation, the people of Botha and district have shown that the hospital is much appreciated by them.

Are The Banks Relaxing Loans?

ance has applied for a loan of $5 to pay his 1921 threshing bill. He had been refused. The other applicant is a farmer of many years standing and has asked for a loan of $10 for three months to buy feed for his stock and seed grain. He is living on here the assessed farm for which he has been offered $2,000 and refused. The application was also refused.

A fourth case is told in the first person: "In the fall of 1920 I paid off the bank an annual and there remained on 1,600 loss of good security. I had a crop in 1921 and I asked for a loan of $10 for three months to buy seed grain. In the spring of 1920 I asked the bank for a loan of $70 for seeding operations and was refused."

A farmer at Rapid Soot, reports to the Guide as follows: "I am dissatisfied with the banks of late. I own property to the value of $50,000. I owe the bank $5,000. I asked for a loan of $50.00 to pay for threshing on my 60 bushels and was refused."

Rev John McKnight, a United Church missionary at Leduc, Alberta, and chairman of the district development board, writes to say that many are sober, honest and industrious men are being refused loans. Many with good security are being refused. He says it is not a matter of urgency but that no money is to be had anyway.

Norman F Priestly vice-president of the United Farmers of Alberta, Hussars: "It is difficult to ascertain any information as to the reasons They fear repression. Many instances have been reported and both of credit in spring operations will seriously curtail this year's farming operations."

But consider the question from this point of view of the banks. There are scores of thousands of farmers in the West who deal with one or the other of the chartered banks, and even if three or four hundred complaints are made it is not convincing proof that Western credit needs are being in adequately taken care of. There is no suggestion on the part of leading bankers to admit that there has been any change in credit policy. On the contrary the bankers assert that they are doing business in the West as usual. They say further that the assessments which has been made in the case of the individual applicants and leniency has been overlooked, while a few grievances have been brought strongly into relief.

"It is our aim and object," writes a high official of one of the banks, "to sympathetically consider the needs of our customers, and to help every deserving farmer as much as possible. Nor are we pressing collections at times now as usual. We realize that are Western farmers can be in a position to pay their bills this winter and we are helping them over."

While natural in cases such as those quoted in this article the West has agreed, at the request of the banks, to send over to obtain from the farmers whose complaints have been referred to him, permission to lay their circumstances before the banks confidentially.

Prohibition, Or Facts About Govt. Control

By Rev R J Gamett

We who are gathered here are acquainted with the medical practitioner who applied today to the West Prohibition Commissioner, and who was refused a permit to purchase liquor for his patients.

But the medical profession and Pharmacy organizations in the West are busy sending out questionnaires concerning data on present-day working practice. The results of these questionnaires will be based with increased complexity in Parliament and in the committee rooms of the Legislatures, together with the attendance of the West Its findings if submitted to us, we do not say that the banks are sober, honest and industrious men are being refused loans. Many with good security are being refused. He says it is not a matter of urgency but that no money is to be had anyway.

It is further stressed by the bank in question, in connection with the complaints, it seems that in all the prices of commodities produced in the Western provinces have declined in the value of farm real estate, declined very materially

In the light of these facts and the credit controversy in the country, it would be unfair to say that many of the banks were refused.

Modern Loggers

I haven't heard of a logger getting an appetite from edge on his ax and starting out for bear for a good many years. In fact, in my 20 years' experience with the wood I never saw such a man done. Yet that part of the public which absorbs its knowledge from reading fiction stories, still has an idea that loggers are great, romantic individuals. Idlers given to such crude barbering, if ever they show up in the "Hills" this public also believes that loggers wear red woollen underwear, greasy mackinaws and do little or nothing but drink, dance hall girls out each other's eyes with conflict

In July I spent a few days in a logging camp in the Pender district, on the coast, and incidentally, my first and possibly only visit to that section. It is the commencing of this camp I saw a good supply of the things I had been told about. Bunk houses, cook and cookee, and bull cook, and bull of the woods. Also I saw a few things I had not been told about. Among the latter was a bull cook who was a woman. Also I saw a bull of the woods who was a woman. Also I saw a bull of the woods who was a woman. Also I saw a bull of the woods

The Greatest Task

The speaker puts in the mind to the greatest task ever done to the cause of the Church.

This task was made by the Son of God when He was on earth and is the outstanding loyalty into the Holy Father's hands. A very simple affirmation but one that will test together or break it to the world.

The Sunday Evening Hour will be given to a Sermon on the Greatest Task.

The Sunday Community Club has completed the Concert and the Banns from April 17th to Friday, May 13th.

A video drive will be held in the Community Hall, Friday evening, sponsored by the Community Club. Mr. Cyril Rakowich, who had spent the last year at Armstrong, B. C., returned last week and is happy to be back here. Rakowich will spend the spring here.

Mr. H. A. Irwin, who is leaving for the East shortly, will conduct evening services in the Hall Sunday at 11 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bowron and the children of Edberg, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams last week.

Mr. Cliff Gould, postmaster at Edberg, was a visitor in town on Monday. I haven't seen much about the mail lately, but I'll bet some money doesn't.

Editor: "Do we want that story on page one?"

Cub: "Naturally, Sir. I only worked about half an hour on it."

LIBERAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnson and family motored the week-end to Lougheed to visit friends.

Mrs. Russell Leggett and family motored to Edberg on Sunday to visit friends.

Mr. Melville West returned home from Edmonton on Saturday after a week's visit.

Two trunk loads of merchandise from Edmonton arrived last week for Mr. I. Brown, Trunk Sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Brown, motored to Edberg on Sunday to visit friends.

Mr. Ernest Brown wishes to thank the Liberal Ladies' Aid for the flowers sent him.

Mr. Ernest Brown wishes to thank the Liberal Ladies' Aid for the flowers sent him.

Waverly W. I. News

The April meeting was held on Wednesday, April 6th, at the S. E. Gregory home, with Mrs. Bennett assisting hostess.

There were forty-two persons present at the meeting.

Mrs. J. Lohr very ably filled the vacancy left by the resignation of the Secretary, Mrs. Bennett, who will be leaving our midst in the near future.

A paper on "Home Economics" which had been prepared by Mrs. Van Anderson, was read by Mrs. Lohr as many useful hints valuable to the housewife.

The paper on "Education" will be given at the May meeting by Mrs. F. V. Bartlett.

Mrs. I. Ullman sponsored the refreshments served, which were a delightful contrast and were enjoyed by the ladies present.

The next meeting, which will be held on May 4th, will be in charge of Mrs. J. Lohr and Mrs. Ullman.

The raffle donated by Mrs. D. B. Hollowell, was a beautiful Oriental vase and was won by Mrs. J. Burns.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ullman. Roll Call is to be answered with a little verse by Mother.

The April Roll Call was answered with a Funny story.

Mrs. Rathgeber and Mrs. Lonkin—of assisted the hostesses in serving a most delicious lunch which was enjoyed by the ten ones as well as three attractive visitors.

Union Hall News

Everyone is busy at the bees—hunting eggs and going to the fire of course.

Mr. Wilson drew eggs, to have to prove that one of our old favorites rather than the new Rhode Island Reds left for a better climate, not long ago. Wilson is said to be back in Edmonton with his old rubber tired wheel, and easy, where everything is done for you. Wilson is also said to have been on the old farm, but he could not stand the pace. The Pond had by this means, and is now busy telling the old yarns to the new comers. Pond has been recently married and up-to-date in his methods. He has a new car which is the latest kind of a model T, and a new wife of the latest model, to fuel to her old self. Pond is now busy telling the old yarns to the new comers. Mr. Pond Fuller, who has been in our social calendar of late, has left to take charge of a paying concern in Saskatchewan. His departure needs no pen. Type to print.

Mr. Cowan and Mrs. Peter Johnson have been with their families at Turner Valley province.

Mr. Cowan has returned to Mr. Johnson is still there.

Turner Valley reports by R. R. Mail, Mr. Cowan is back in Union Hall to build a house for Mr. Johnson and wife.

A. S. H. and several more to be named, if we can get them, are busy at the Hall. Mr. Cowan is also busy at the Hall. Mr. Cowan is also busy at the Hall.

Mr. J. H. Clay attended evidentiary matters on Monday.

The windy weather which has been a daily feature for the past few days, has been a real help to drying the roads, streets and fields. Wednesday's rain has been a good deal of help, but it is to be hoped that doesn't there soon again.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE POST—

A gentleman of our neighborhood, following an account of temperature, has been heard to remark, "It's a very cold day for such anomalies."

Another gentleman looking for a chicken coop—why not a pumpkin shell?

It has been's news from Union Hall to report that the chicken-house owned by the early spring weather is now a thing of the past. The Union Hall has several dozen of that.

The baseball game played at Bellevue on Friday brought about the first baseball casualty of the season. Bruce Smith, the senior and junior ball team running in for a game that was going. Bowser upset of the pitcher's box, and Bruce Smith was given a very good ride all the way the boys home. "Gee, Bruce, you're quite fast, but second probably to some other player in. The Island Of Lost Souls

Some years ago I wrote a book called The Island of Lost Souls. It was published in England and in the United States. Of all of them about the mysteries, and it is an account of the last account that Professor Moreau, writing in French during his exile on the island, to the world. I would like to mention that Professor Moreau's account was written in connection with the publication of the book. I was not thought no more about them but I was amazed one day to get a letter from a man who said he was a lawyer, talking started and with a view to find out what. The man's name was Edward Prendick, and he was the man who had the book of Professor Moreau's account of his life on the island. He told me that he had written the book and that he would like to see it published. I wrote to him and asked him to send me the manuscript, which he did. I read it and found it very interesting. Their symbols and their ways of living were very much like those of human beings. But here was an island in the South Seas, and there was no Government. Their symbols were not like those of human beings.

Slaughter Of Wild Ducks By Bootleggers

An article appearing in a May issue of Popular Mechanics would lead the reader to suspect that bootleggers have been busily employed during the past month in the Lake Chestermere district, which lies to the east of Calgary, and which has become a popular resort for sportsmen who come from all parts of the province to hunt the wild duck which frequent the lake during the spring season. In the article referred to, it is stated that during the month of March, 1931, 10,000 wild ducks were killed on the lake by bootleggers, according to the statement of the chief constable of the rural municipality of Rocky View, in which Lake Chestermere is situated. The bootleggers are said to have been using the ducks for food for the stills which operate in the district, and which are reported to be numerous. Hunters who have visited the lake during the past month state that they have seen many dead ducks floating on the water, but have not noticed any great number of live ducks on the lake. Give The Children Beauty

—By Arthur Mason

Parents, it may be hoped, are alive to the good influences of music on the children entrusted to their care. Teachers of children certainly are. And it is the duty of everyone who is entrusted with the care of children to see that they get their full share of this beneficent influence. Not unfrequently do those who realize the importance of music in the lives of young people are chiefly important hours. Influences are introduced to help them to fill it, — hours absorbed many of the hours which otherwise might be filled with evil influences. Music is a powerful influence in the lives of children, and it is to be hoped that it will be more generally, particularly since the appreciation of music is increasing.

Music by the million are being turned out by organized agencies which—the newest popular product—among the leisure class, during the Mississippian Gulf Coast from New Orleans to Texas, on the Rio-go-Sonora. Head of the Chicagoan Bay country in the hillside of Virginia's Best bay near Norfolk, is the Carleton Academy and among the Potomac river.

If you are in the know you can purchase mallards at approximately $3 a pair. Almost each month in the year These illegal waterfowl are kept in cold storage indefinitely. Yet each day the farmer, the waterfowl aim at in the shadow of the Washington monument, are shot down by the score.

Why birds the price of a poultry is $10 the pair?

These ducks are shot from the brush store blinds, from sink boats, from motorboats and from other attempts at waterfowl concentration. The illegitimate hunting has an organized business side to it, as well as the sporting side. Pre-dawn automobile runs are the predominating common need, and many guns are equipped with special automatic action arms to take the end of the automatic magazine increasing the shots fired from one loading to nine. Under favorable conditions, a successful poacher will bag from seventy-to fifty ducks from a single blind with one of these slaughter guns. Along the Potomac river and on the Chesapeake Bay and Back Bay of Virginia shooting grounds, the English pond or marsh gun, the familiar weapon known for water-fowl hunting, is used to the practical exclusion of the automatic shotgun.

The pond guns are really cudgel cannons, being from but to three inch bore long and weighing from 10 to 25 pounds. Each gun is of the double-loading type and shoots one pound of powder and two pounds of shot to the charge. Boxes, by far the river or bay across one of these guns is usually mounted in a power boat with a special recoil block.

A waterfowl calamity results when one of these guns is fired at close, pointedly short range, into a river flock of ducks. The bag from a single discharge usually amounts to from thirty-five to one hundred ducks. As many as 125 ducks have been killed or crippled by a single shot from one of these pond guns. The crippled ducks are left behind for the poachers race to and from stations of the river as soon as they have fired the big gun once.

If the game warden interferes the sportsmen heed their right protest. It is only rarely that they get a pond so heated on such a occasion is always subject to interference by game wardens. In this instance, certain sworn protectors of the law ran into the three men who had fired the pond gun. They refused to explain. Defendants were always attached to the big firearms. The gun stake to be the property of the Bombay sports men in national control. They insisted and here are used in the prosecution in enforcing the gun ordinance the danger has passed.

Shooting the poachers is a dangerous occupation. But as long ago as 1907, E. F. Bamford, now Rt. A. Chambers, made something for illegal gunners on the Potomac river, between two both shot from a boat. Bamford, after a little thought, "When would ye advise me to take to the golden wedding?"

"Bamford, after a little thought, "When I'm dead," he replied.—Boston Transcript.

Test Of Systems Is Urged At Grain Inquiry Session; Supervision Is Intimated

Leading Bank Refuses Loan To Australia

Government's Invitation Will Not Be Heard Favorably

Bank's Chairman Says Conditions Abroad Are Looked Upon

LONDON, April 21.—(CP)—Australia's request for a loan of £50,000,000 ($250,000,000) in London has been refused by the Commonwealth Bank, leading bank of the country, it was learned today.

The refusal was made by Sir Robert Gibson, chairman of the bank, who said that the bank would not be in a position to grant the loan.

Sir Robert's statement was made public in Australia today.

Australia's request for the loan was made by Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons during his visit to London for the coronation.

Sir Robert said that the bank's refusal was based on the fact that the Australian government had not invited the bank to participate in the loan.

"The bank is not in the position to grant a loan to the government of Australia," he said.

Street And Roadside Trees

By J.B. Spencer, B.S.A., District Forester, Provincial Forest Service.

There are few towns and cities in which the street trees do not present a poor appearance, and except in comparatively few instances not the contributions of the natural trees of the district. Some, even, of these trees have been artificially planted, but have not been given the proper attention.

In the effort that is being made to beautify our towns, and in this we have a share in the "Beautify Canada" campaign now in progress, the planting of street trees will undoubtedly play a prominent part. In the planting of these trees, however, the greatest care must be exercised in the selection of the species to be planted, and in the method of planting. Of all the trees that will endure the climate of the Province, the Manitoba Maple, or Box Elder, is the most commonly planted. It is a rapid grower, and will withstand considerable abuse, but it has not a pleasing appearance, and is not long lived. The Green Ash is also a rapid grower, and is a handsome tree, but it is subject to a number of insect pests and fungous diseases which make it undesirable. The Laurel Leaved Willow is also a rapid grower, but is short lived, and is subject to a number of insect pests and fungous diseases. The Russian Poplar is a rapid grower, and will withstand considerable abuse, but it is short lived, and is subject to a number of insect pests and fungous diseases. The Russian Olive is a rapid grower, and will withstand considerable abuse, but it is short lived, and is subject to a number of insect pests and fungous diseases. The Russian Mulberry is a rapid grower, and will withstand considerable abuse, but it is short lived, and is subject to a number of insect pests and fungous diseases.

Before the newly planted trees are subject to a limited supply of moisture, and a good mulch of manure is best so that no water is lost by evaporation. Mulching will also help to prevent the growth of weeds which rob the trees of moisture and plant food.

Trees that are newly planted usually require staking and guying. This is necessary to prevent the roots from being broken off by the action of the wind. Of course, the guying must be done in such a way that it will not injure the bark of the trees. Pieces of old rubber hose, or burlap sacks, will be found very useful for this purpose.

Pruning is necessary occasionally in order to keep the trees in shape. Dead branches should be removed, and those that rub against each other should be cut out. Trees that are planted in the spring should not be pruned until the following autumn.

Trees should be planted in holes at least three feet deep and four feet square. The holes should be filled with good soil, preferably from the surface of the ground, and not from the bottom. Before planting, the roots should be carefully examined, and any that are broken or bruised should be cut off with a sharp knife. The tree should be planted at the same depth as it was in the nursery, and the soil should be carefully packed around the roots. Water should be applied liberally after planting.

Barley As A Poultry Food

The commonly low prices obtainable for Canadian coarse grains this year have caused many poultry raisers to use barley as a poultry ration to a greater extent than ever before. Barley is a good poultry food, but it is not as valuable as some of the other grains, and should not be considered as the only grain to be used in poultry rations. Wheat and oats are usually found to rather the best results when fed in combination with barley. Corn and millfeeds may be used to replace the wheat and oats to a considerable extent. Corn and millfeeds are fattening foods, however, and should not be fed in large quantities to laying hens. Barley is a heating food, and should not be fed in large quantities during the summer months.

Barley should be ground before feeding to poultry. Whole barley is not digested properly by poultry, and much of it passes through the digestive tract undigested. Ground barley is a very good poultry food, and should be fed in the mash. Barley should not be fed in large quantities to laying hens, as it is likely to produce soft yolks. Barley should be fed in combination with other grains, and should not be fed alone.

Barley is a very good feed for growing chicks, and should be fed in the mash. Barley should not be fed in large quantities to laying hens, as it is likely to produce soft yolks. Barley should be fed in combination with other grains, and should not be fed alone.

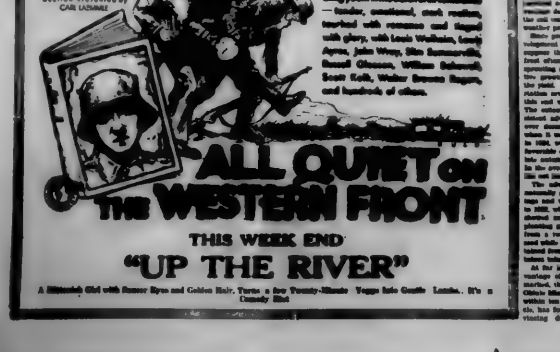
The Story for Which the Whole World Waited

ERICH MARIA REMARQUE'S novel
Adapted and dialog by Maxwell Anderson and George Abbott. Continuity by Del Andrews. Directed by LEWIS MILESTONE. A CARL LAEMMLE, Jr. Production. Presented by CARL LAEMMLE



Most faithfully and graphically pictured on the talking screen. It presents the human side of the war — the fierce, poignant drama of hide-hiding youth hounded to self-preservation — tender, emotional, stark realities, packed with romance and tinged with glory, with Louis Wolheim, Lew Ayres, John Wray, Slim Summerville, Russell Gleason, William Bakewell, Scott Kolk, Walter Browne Rogers and hundreds of others.

Sprouting Potatoes

The sprouting of seed potatoes in advance of planting is a practice that has long been followed by the growers of the early market. The usual method is to bring the potatoes up out of the cellar (cool them with a tarpaulin and spread them or four inches deep in shallow trays exposed to the light. Greening and sprouting are thus started and a rapid of tough, green sprouts develops in each eye. Just before being planted, the potatoes may be cut in the usual way, leaving one or two eyes to each piece. Instead of cutting, however, some growers have tried spreading, prefer to run this risk for the sake of the extra earliness that is said to be gained.

Undoubtedly when the May weather is unfavorable the potato crop will often make poorer progress sprouted than in a light room, although there is still of planted early in cold, wet soil.

point and its experience is being in many the late-rest payments. applied elsewhere with advantage in 1930 nearly all sets were operated. The result was that on July 15, the Dominion Government had in operation by farmers alone their high rural mail routes.

It is true the matter of boarding-out deserves not to over-done. Some growers north of the Canadian Shield obtain from operating his rural cultivation at night, averaging a small payment on account, at the third from the end of the month, over the short period. What happened me particularly was the fact that of the three farmers only one had a rural mail route on his property that among the farm accounts.

Milling Wheat At Queen Valley Seed Exhibition

In connection with the seed exhibition held by the Queen Valley Seed Growers' Association at the Queen Valley Community Centre on the 23rd and 24th inst., the Alberta Department of Agriculture will distribute a total of 100 bushels of registered seed of the following varieties: Marquis, Reward and Garnet. The seed will be distributed from each of the Field Crop Commissioners in this district, and those making entry at the Queen Valley Seed Fair will be given the first opportunity to secure this seed. Applications must be made to the Field Crop Commissioner of the district in which the applicant resides, and must be received not later than the 15th day of April, A.D. 1936, and must be accompanied by a declaration that the seed is to be used for seeding not more than one acre of land. Each applicant will be supplied with a sample of the flour and a basket of the grain used.

The varieties outstanding were Marquis, Reward and Garnet. A beautiful sample of Reward raised from first grower on the basis of grain characteristics, but was beaten by a third position when the flour cook- ing and the character of the baked loaf were taken into consideration. While normally this variety produces a loaf which is hard to work, yet in the present instance a sample of Marquis which was not quite as attractive in the grain was able to turn out the best loaf of flour evidenced on the final presentation.

Three beautiful samples of Bar- ley offered which were placed 2nd, 3rd and 4th on the basis of grain ex- hibit, were favored to occupy the positions when the scores were awarded on flour color and test on the loaf were considered with those awarded on the grain.

The above exhibition demon- strated very clearly the futility of attempting to judge the inherent quality of a sample of wheat on the basis of grain characters only. Be- cause it was the color of the flour and the color of the loaf of bread that finally determined the winner in this case, and not the color of the grain. A fine, well rolled loaf of good bak- ing quality will have more consumer appeal.

University Accord

One of the important features of the agricultural problem is said to be the poor and management of a policy which will be acceptable to the U.F.A. Association. Many conditions of production require consideration. Attention to grading and direct ad- vantage of quality—all these are selling.

Husbandry is even more import- ant when it comes to the care and management of growing chicks.

"The Approved Chicks are bought from a hatchery entered under the Federal Approved Poultry Industry. It is assured to a maximum degree The right come from carefully select- ed flocks, and to type for size, breed, strong and vigorous. These have passed the production of uniform chicks.

When buying chicks from a com- mercial hatchery in flock size, mix- ture and management are sought- after. There is nothing more diffi- cult in the raising of chicks, than to have four or five lots at differ- ent ages, because of the special care and attention necessary in the rear- ing of chicks and the brooding of the pullets and the cockerels. The purchase of the chicks is to assure the purchaser to have a flock of laying pullets of the same age. Further wants to have a suitable flock and in, in the near end, the best of the flock.

Chicks Approved

Not only is the proper rearing of the chicks supplied but their ad- vantage of the Approved Chicks is in the pullet flock is assured to the best advantage.

Special Meeting Of Waverly Taxpayers

Held in the Goldcrest Hall, in Stettler, on Saturday, April 23th, 1927.

At 2.15 p.m. with 25 present, Mr. Goldcrest called the meeting to order, stating he had been requested by a number of ratepayers to call a special meeting to discuss the Municipal Hospital and any other business. He asked the meeting to name a Chairman.

Messrs. F. Peterson and S. Hiscock moved that the Reeve take the chair.

Mr. Morland was also named but did not consent.

Mr. Bowbridge, in taking the chair said that it was preferable that an outsider, Chairman act, as it would probably be necessary for him to speak and then asked that some of those requesting the meeting state their case.

Mr. Morland said, from speaking with several ratepayers, he judged that there was a feeling that the secretary should have a reduction in salary to meet the hard times. If the present Secretary would not do this for the salary he would have a cheaper man. He thought it best, therefore, that a committee of ratepayers should be called to discuss this matter

Mr. Brown thanked Mr. Morland that the Council's action was according to information at the council meeting, August, and that the Council should have acted on the resolution from that meeting and fixed not the salary of a Secretary at the first Council meeting in March. The ratepayers were behind too much money for a Secretary.

Mr. S. Mitchell and Mr. W.T. Lovejoy supported this.

Discussion was carried on for some time without a motion and Messrs. Peterson and Vanderburg moved that the meeting adjourn, but the motion lost.

W. C. T. U. Events

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Bowling on Thursday April 21st, and took under the C. G. D. (One Day Sunday) or Sabbath Observance Department. Mrs. S. E. Smith, Superintendent. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Richmond and Rev. A. Gosse.

Reports of Superintendents and Treasurer were received.

The Petition Petition for world disarmament was circulated and all present signed it.

Mrs. Smith read Aunt Mary's article on Sunday. A day of Recreation or Observance. Which?"

Gem Thoughts of twenty great men were read by the members.

Reading "Church Bridge," Mrs. McPherson. Current Events" by Mrs. Caudle, touching on the 10 rules for political morality recommended to Premier Baumey McConnell to London, protesting against the appointment of Mr. Drake as Minister of Interior. Mr. Drake and Miss Bessie Blackhall recently added to the program with their solos.

The committee in charge served a lovely lunch.

A vote of thanks was moved for the hostess for opening her home on the occasion.

May, June and July meetings were arranged for with Mesdames Mills and E. P. Smith as joint committee to help carry these arrangements during the absence of the Acting President, Mrs. Bowling to leave next week for the World's Convention in Toronto as Alberta's 2nd Delegate.

The Stettler Convention is to be held on June 28th and 29th, and all are urged to get out to it. Mrs. Gardiner and visitors will be welcomed by Mrs. Smith and others acting as judges on the various competitions.

Judges for vocal contest:—Mrs. Brown, Stettler.
Mrs. Evans, Stettler.
Mrs. Carver, Red Willow.
Judges for Instrumental Contest:—Dr. Gish of Stettler.
Miss Haight, Stettler.
Mr. Cooke, Stettler.

A very fine program is arranged for Thursday (this evening) with Mrs. L. C. Hathaway as speaker, and a fine reception will be given Misses E. P. Smith and J. A. Caudle are taking the delegates and Miss Mathieson and Mrs. Gish are taking the Stettler judges and contestants. The W. C. T. U. is very grateful for the kindly co-operation and help.

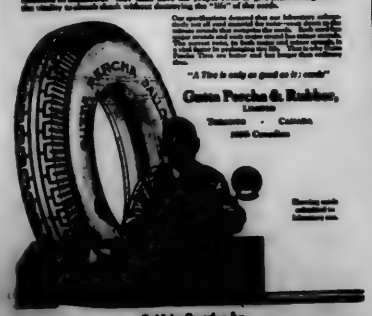
BUTTA PERCHA TIRES
NOW CUSHIONED

The Cords Must Pass the Severest Tests

A tire is no stronger than its weakest cord. For that reason only the highest grade cord is used in Butta Percha Tires. That highest grade cord is now also cushioned and the whole is shrunk into a tire without destroying the "life" of the cords.



Our specialists demand that our laboratory subject our cord material to the most severe tests before we accept it. Only the strongest cords are used. Then we cushion these cords with another cord material—and the whole is shrunk into a tire without destroying the "life" of the cords.

Mr. Ed Page accompanied by his wife and children, attended the Ontario Old Boys' Banquet in Edmonton on Saturday.

A pair of swans were observed in the bay at Hoehne Sands on Sunday where they were feeding with ducks and gulls. These were probably the Trumpeter Swans as they appeared larger and lighter than the Whistling Swan. It is well known that these birds are protected and it is to be hoped that they will be safe on Buffalo Lake which is a bird sanctuary. Swans have been noticed on the Lake at different times, and it is hoped that one of the pair will be left on Buffalo Lake to attract another pair.

The Stettler Garage Company of Calgary, have the agency for the Studebaker Car, and have on display in their showroom a sedan of the latest model. Any one interested in seeing the car should call at the garage and look it over.

A number of horses are reported to have died in the district during the past week, and it is said, although the cause is not definitely known, that it is due to the horses eating the hot fine dust of the roads.

The Stettler Theatre is putting on a good show this week-end, being the latest film of the well known movie star Lionel on the Western Front. This will be one of the best pictures pictured on the talking screen shown here for some time.

A meeting of the Board of Trade and Town Council was held this week regarding the question of the noise hitherto throughout the town. There was no data available however, on the question and all that the meeting could do was to discuss the matter and make suggestions.

The regular monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. Frontenac Chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Kennedy on Monday evening May 9th at 8 p.m.

The local baseball team has been holding nightly workouts at the Pole Grounds, and, from all appearances, will be able to put up a team that will prove to be a good deal more effective than any that Stettler has had in many years. It is not thought that the league will actually begin before the middle of May, but arrangements will be made for a number of exhibition games to start up shortly.

Stettler Rotary re-elected International Boys Week on Tuesday evening with a luncheon in the basement of the United Church. Next week the local club will organize International Boosters Week and an address will be given by Mr Alexander of Chaucer who is making a tour of Alberta for the purpose of studying our liquor control system. Mr Cogan will also address the Board of Trade

The Stettler Horticultural Society are putting on a Penny Display some time in June for the purpose of encouraging the growth of Peonies, and to show the public what can be done to beautify our town and country here with very little outlay of time and money in this particular way. Peonies are easily grown and are hardy and lasting. They are very suitable for the district. Will all those having peony roots give them a little special care this year, and help to make this display a success.

Botha News

The fine, rain weather is a decided change from the high wind of the first part of April. Grain is going in nicely. Pastures are also due to lack of moisture and need rain badly.

Don Mathison was taken to an Edmonton hospital on Monday morning with an attack of acute appendicitis. He was taken to the Hospital and was operated on in the afternoon. He is doing as well as can be expected.

A baby daughter was born to Mr and Mrs. Scott Averill on Monday, April 25th, at the Municipal Hospital.

Rev James of Castor, conducted the service at Richdale on Sunday morning. The attendance was very good, the lovely day bringing out every car for the first time this spring.

Joe Stebinan, 57, was out on a load last week and suffered from blood poisoning in one of his hands. He has improved to such that he is about again at present.

Mr John Armstrong has been in the hospital for the past week and on his sisters lady from Rosebud, Alta., has been attending to him. He is 83rd birthday this month and we understand that this is the second time during his life that he has been in a doctor's care. He is reported as being much better and we hope he will begin to improve very shortly and soon be in his accustomed place again.

Turkeys Continued To Yards

Turkeys often rank too much for the good of themselves and their young. There are four main reasons of loss again in the average barnyard poultry permitting free range.

1. Loss of eggs in hidden nests.
2. Loss of young people from exposure.
3. Loss of turkeys from enjoyable, unnecessary, old.
4. Loss, but often greatest loss from diseases carried by range birds running on the same land.

If many turkeys are grown, the losses suggested by new ideas must be paid for by the sale of the turkeys saved. A few that have been satisfactory at the Dominion Experimental Station at Swan, Sask., preventing pens and pens were presented as that the turkeys would not perish on them "a 1600. If turkeys were raised from 4 hens and one tom. The incubator and brooder were used and the yard was two acres in area, a home-made shed of which was occupied by the adult stock separated from the young people by a cross fence. The pullets seldom went to the far end of the yard and a separate feeding pen was found to have been sufficient for the 27 birds. Grain and mash were supplied for pens and a new yard was provided the young.

The first food for the young people consisted of pure skim-milk and a mash of bran meal, 10 per cent. fine ground and oats ground meal 10 per cent. Sometimes the mash was logs or leftover. This mixture was moistened with fresh sour skim-milk and hens' eggs were fed and every second day. This was fed four times per day for two weeks then three times per day at what time the following mixture was placed in the self feeder about 48 pounds sifted oat chop 20 pounds corn meal 10 pounds, bone meal 5 pounds red flour oil, 1 lb. Granulated sweet clover 10 pounds and grit 10 pounds Alter three months of age wheat mixture was fed. Both these mixtures were fed in the same proportions as the young.

Dressed turkey was sold at 20 per pound and breeding stock at 30 to 35 per pound live weight. Skin-sound upon the grade and the private sales of feed and fowl was good for accounted to 2000 to 3 hens were held for breeding and pen was paid for a hen grade from 1931

Grasshopper Control

For over a hundred years grasshoppers have been a problem with which Canadian farmers have had to deal. In 1930 Alexander Henry in his journal recorded grasshoppers piled up several inches deep around the shores of Lake Winnipeg. From then time until the present, the Dominion Department of Agriculture a particular occurrence specialist of the Entomological branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have made a special study of the problem and a new bulletin No. 143 "Grasshopper Control in Canada Best of the Insects" has been published. will be interested in the summary of the grasshopper control measures recorded hereunder.

Grasshoppers undoubtedly usually follow or occur during abnormally dry weather

Each female grasshopper lays at least 100 eggs, consequently where good ground on 4 square yard of land an extreme may be responsible for one hundred or more grasshoppers the next summer.

The following spring Farmers should be warned to avoid their grasshopper population to enable them to take measures against damage. If eggs are present in sufficient numbers to threaten an outbreak poisoning should be made to reduce them by (1) deep, cultivation ploughing, (2) shallow ploughing or cultivating.

The first of these methods will prevent a majority of the hoppers making their way to the surface, the second exposes many eggs to the adverse atmospheric conditions which destroy them.

Watch for the appearance of the hoppers in May and early June when they are present in destructive numbers employ the following methods:

1. Scatter poisoned baits among them according to directions making the baits before so that the temperature is above 65 degrees Fahrenheit. Do not scatter if temperature is below 65 degrees Fahrenheit. The success in applying poisoned baits depends upon the way they are scattered and not upon the poison used or amount used.

2. A check the advance of the hoppers from adjacent areas by digging post holes.

3. Raise a flock for the newly hatched hoppers to keep in and feed them at night.

4. Watch for the increase of the water's heat or rise and poison the hoppers' food attractant.

Or, encouragers do not depend upon the wheat, concentration of an insecticide or poisoning bait, but upon the water's heat or rise. Heat poisoning bait is a mixture of bran, molasses sweetened lemons, raisins and water. Another poisoning bait is a mixture of sawdust, molasses and Saturday night's bath water. Another poisoning bait is a mixture of sawdust, molasses and Saturday night's bath water.

Its gaped feathers and elaborate rhymes.
See now I have it safely on my pad
Its wings are fixed, its body's pinned
Insisted when
In Dominion before my amazed eye

There, it is mounted. Now to find
Its name.
Scientific what means a disembodied flame.
Why? Ask, the commissioner? No, he never mind.
You see, it's just the common sub-heading!

MEETING OF LAKESIDE MUNICIPAL DISTRICT

A meeting of the Municipal Council of Lakeside M.D. was held in the Secretary's office Thursday, 13th, with all Councillors present.

Minutes of last regular meeting, March 13th were read and adopted.

By-laws, approved by the Administrative Board, were read a third time and passed.

Communication was received from the Alberta Wheat Pool re Elevator Sites.

Moved by Fisher-Smith that the Secretary write the Alberta Wheat Pool and notify the Council the matter of material for bridges and culverts for the coming season.

Applications for loans of seed advances month of H W H — 50-70 by D H Miller was discussed.

Moved by Sumner-Anderson that same be passed.

Letter from Waverly M. D. about bridges and several meeting was read and discussed.

Moved by Brooke-Fisher that the Secretary be instructed to answer the questions as set forth in letter dated March 27th and to enquire if the Municipal District Yes ... What date, and there? In October about a week prior to Provincial meeting ... Do you favor a meeting being called at once to discuss the 1930 statement? No.

Discussion arose with reference to the 1930 statement. Councillors pleads were put forth as regard to the bonus for mower and that in accordance with reference to expenditures All mowers every 5 promptly thereon cut, as it was decided to discontinue the practice of giving a bonus for the cutting of them. It was intimated that at both meetings the commissioner would be dropping the plan this year as unnecessary.

Under continued light receipts, trading is keener and salesmen are moving their offerings readily and making a good daily clean-up. The prices so far this week are about a firm tone as compared to last week, cows, especially medium kinds are down 10c to 15c per hundred weight.

Some of last sales quoted at $5 to $6 the general run of good to choice butcher steers selling at $5 to $5.50 medium $4.25 to $4.75 and common to fair at $3.50 to $4, the latter for steers under 900 lbs. Heifers $4.50 to $5 medium $4 to $4.50 common to fair $3.50 to $4 choice and best cows $3.50 to $4 medium and common $2.50 to $3 canners $1.75 to $2.

The general run of butcher cows is 2c to 2½ common to fair $2.50 to $3 medium and choice $3.50 to $4 canners $1.75 to $2.

Choice bulls $3.50 to $4 common to fair $2.50 to $3.

Calves are showing a weaker tone. Good to choice light vealers $7 to $8. Medium $6 to $6.50 common to fair $5 to $6.

The hog market is weaker this week, so far, bacons have sold at $6.10, fed and watered lambs, and at $5.90 for fresh hogs, with sows bringing a 50c premium and butchers being discounted at 25c. Stags have run rather much the same as other classes.

Sheep and lamb receipts are too light to make or establish a market, prices quoted fully steady. Lambs at $7.50 to $8.50 yearlings at $5 to $6 and ewes $4 to $5.

Mrs Winnifred Gilhooley, Principal Secretary of the Girls Work Society of Edmonton was in town and was the guest of Mrs. S Shaw

On Saturday evening Miss Gilhooley addressed the local groups of the C.G.I.T. and she also spoke at the Sunday School session on Sunday morning. The inspiration and the helpful and practical advice of her talks was long be remembered by all those who were privileged to hear the gifted young speaker and we hope Miss Gilhooley will visit us again in the near future.

The final meeting of the Evening Bridge Club was held on Thursday at the home of Mr and Mrs C. Cockrell when prizes were won by Mr and Mrs T. Gravely and Mr and Mrs John Brady.

Mrs J P Long was a bridge hostess on Friday afternoon when several of her friends were very pleasantly entertained. Honors were awarded to Mrs. R. Porter and Mrs. George Davies.

Mr and Mrs J. M. Pitz and Mrs. Grace Rich motored on Sunday to Edmonton, where they will spend a few days.

Mrs. R. D. Collins entertained a merry party of children and parents on Saturday afternoon in honor of her small daughter Kay's fourth birthday

Miss Ellen Ostern was the week end guest of Miss Annabelle Fleming at Stettler.

Many friends of Mrs. W. J. Kessel and Miss Jessie Orzel will regret to hear they are at present patients in the hospital. We hope they will both have an early recovery.

A men was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fowler in Stettler Hospital on April 23rd.—Gerald Keith.

Olaf and Gus Anderson from Strathmore are visiting with their sister Mrs. Olson over the Wheeler property.

Gadsby Juniors played their first game of the season on the local diamond against Stettler Juniors on Saturday afternoon, resulting in a victory for Gadsby by a score of 10 to 7. The game was a very interesting one and the Stettler team is considered one of the best in the district. Gadsby Juniors will play a return game with Stettler on Saturday afternoon, May 9th.

Tennis enthusiasts held a meeting recently to make plans for the coming season. The following officers were elected:

Honorary President, S. Shaw.
President, J. S. Brown.
Secretary-Treasurer, Glen Allen.
Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, Beverley and Leslie Dunn.
Grounds Committee—Lawrence Poole and Gerald Gadsden.

The same premises will be used as last year, viz.: the skating rink, and it is hoped to have the courts ready for play at an early date.

TABERNACLE — BASEBALL

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday, April 30th, at the United Church Manse, Stettler, when Rev. J. G Goddard united in marriage Judith, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bennett, of Stettler, and Henry R. Taggart, also of Gadsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Boyd were the attendants.

The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm south of Gadsby and the best wishes of many friends are extended to them for their future happiness.

Baseball

STETTLER 5, BIG VALLEY 1

Stettler resumed the opening of the baseball season on Monday evening by taking the Big Valley boys into camp by the score of 5 to 1.

Big Valley, who went to bat first succeeded in bringing in their lone tally of the game, due to a couple of errors and a well-placed hit.

Stettler scored three runs the first inning, the first one scored being a home run by Don McIvor which, in reality should not have been better than a single, but due to a misunderstanding between the Big Valley right fielder and the ball, McIvor made the round trip without a stop.

Owing to the fact that Big Valley team did not arrive till nearly 7 o'clock the game was called at the end of 5 innings, after an exhibition of hitting and fielding that was at a very good standard for the first game of the season.

There was no spectacular playing, but Dunlap in right field and Chapman in centre field took some nice catches. Japp in left field had a chances all evening.

C. Sorenson pitched the first 3 innings of real good ball for Stettler and Elmo McIvor pitched the last 2, and held Big Valley down to nil.

Mr Cundall of Big Valley umpired a very nice game.

Games will be arranged for regularly each week from now on, and it is hoped that the local team will be well supported as they will, without a doubt, put up a brand of baseball that will be well worth watching.

Stettler will play home games on Saturday, May 9th, and Sunday, May 10th. Come Sheriff, Rh. Big Valley, Sunday, May 17th. The game on Saturday will be called at 2:30 p.m. and on Sunday at 3 p.m.

The following is the line-up of STETTLER—3, Mclvor, c; Sorenson and E. Mclvor, p; Dunlap, lf; Cote Sheriff, Rh; Chapman, cf; Bob McCarthy, rf; Japp, 1b; Hall, 2b; Wright, ss; Pat McCarthy, 3b; Stettler, rf; P. Sheriff, 2b; Hall, ss.

BIG VALLEY—Umpire, Mr. Cundall; Mr. E. Cousins, 3b; Carroll, cf; Mr. Wilson, c; Scott and Mr. Wilson, p's; Gerrard, 1b; Mr. Cousins, rf; C. Anderson, lf; Geo. Wilson, cf.

WEDDINGS

TAGGART — BARNETT

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at United Church Manse at Stettler on Thursday afternoon, April 30th, at 3 o'clock, when Judith Bennett became the bride of Henry Melvin Taggart, both of Gadsby, the Rev. J. G. Goddard performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Melvin Boyd and Mr. Jack Goddard witnessed the ceremony.

The bride received the congratulations and best wishes of her many friends on the occasion.

The groom's present was a gold watch and chain.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon trip to Edmonton and other points, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with white accessories.

On their return they will reside on the groom's farm south of Gadsby where they will be at home to their friends after May 15th.

Allen Emmons and Betsy Bennett were also at the wedding.

A fire got out of control south of town on Monday. It had been started on a slough bottom and it promised to be quite serious for a while. It is hoped for a fire to get over however completing it very dry.

Mrs. Ted Godfrey is spending a few days with her mother Mrs. Emil Kalt, north of Endiang.

Mrs. Carmichael visited at Mr. Donnell's this week

Miss Muriel Todd spent Saturday last with her parents in Stettler.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Wedding.

Some of the young men attended town Monday for some kind of a new plan for attracting the attention of the fairer sex.—Changing goats on a tractor, in the still of the evening.

Norman Wade returned on Monday from a two weeks' holiday in Edmonton.

We wonder why "Sunny" is wearing a broad smile these days and singing "Happy" Days Are Here Again

Fall Pasture For Pigs

Probably one of the greatest handicaps in the economical production of pork is the liberal use of fallow crops. The pasture crop not only supplies the pig with a part of his nourishment but it provides some of the mineral matter and vitamines which are likely to be lacking in the grain which is fed. Over a period of experiments at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta, pasture crops have led the rest of production from 15 to 30 per cent when pastured pigs were compared with pigs confined to a dry lot and fed a grain ration, supplemented with the dairy by-products or tankage.

Pasture is perhaps of greatest advantage in the production and fattening of hogs but the different grains, vegetables and grasses vary greatly in their economical and their feed value. A pasture crop is one of the most satisfactory that can be grown, satisfactory that can be grown, satisfactory that can be grown,

"I drink to you," he said
"Whose deep image never may depart
From my heart."

Deep graven in this grateful heart
Till memory be dead.
To one whose face has made my life worth while
Whose tender patience long has borne with me
So holy 'tis and true.
To one whose love hath inspired me
More deeply than mere words may tell
When other praise is due.

And Stanley said, we crave the same Proud Knight, of this same paternal dame, whose love you count as high."

St Leon pressed as if he would
Unbuckle her name in countless braid.

RECEIPTS—

Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep
904	1465	54

Sale receipts are still light and for the first of the week trading appeared to be generally steady with good daily clean-ups being experienced. For the past two days an easier undertone in steer classes was experienced with buyers bidding like lower. Butcher and cows, so far this week are selling mostly under a good demand of a slightly lower price.

Bulk of the fed steers quoted at $5 to $5.25. The general run of good to choice butcher steers selling at $4 to $5.25, with odd sales higher. Medium at $4.25 to $4.75 and the common to fair $3.50 to $4. Good to choice heifers $4.50 to $5, common to medium $3.50 to $4.25. The general run of good cows sold mostly at $3.50 to $4, medium $3 to $3.25, common to fair $2.50 to $3, canners and cutters $1 to $2, bulls $1 to $2.25.

Stocker and feeder cattle are very quiet and all offerings are being taken by packers. A couple of good feeder steers and heifers $2.50 to $3.25.

Calves are steady with last week's slight decline fixed in choice grades vealers selling at $5 to $5.50, common to fair at $3 to $4.

The hog market slightly strong, or. On Monday the long-headed butchers sold at $4.50 fed and watered, and at $7 for barrels, hogs going at $6.50 to $6.75. Packers are paying $4.50 for sows, with $3.50 for stags. Choice pigs are steady with last week's quotations, $6 to $6.50 fed and watered, and at $4 to $5 for weaners.

The election of the District Governor takes place at this Convention

A nice rain fell on Wednesday night, amounting to a quarter of an inch up to seven o'clock this morning. This will give a good start and will probably open up the usual rainy season in the month of May. Past experience in Alberta has shown that the most favorable time for seeding is during the rainy season preceding the May and June rains

The weather this week has been of the erratic variety. On Sunday it was cold with some snow. On Monday and Wednesday it was like mid-summer with the thermometer up to eighty in the afternoon. This was followed by the rain of Wednesday night and Thursday, which ended in a cold wind. The trees are coming out nicely, and should be well out by May 24th, which is earlier than usual. Lawns and pastures have a good start for the season

The 35th weekly report of the Alberta Sky Laying Contest indicates that Egg Collectivity per 100 Hens Leghorns is still holding the gains it made the preceding week, and, in fact has gained a little more, the points over the second placed pen of Mr Gerrish. cent, of the most important element in the cost of producing our commodity is the labor (time element). If we have succeeded in the most important element in the cost of producing commodities, whether they be agricultural commodities or manufactured goods, I am not going to take a back seat to any one in respect to the value of the tariff as one of the fundamental principles in the cost of other classes of production. The farmer is absolutely essential to the welfare of the people. We cannot get along without him, because he provides the food which is essential to life. Therefore, I say that the labor time element entering into the cost of production of all good should be given very serious consideration. In my judgment it is the most important element of all, and, consequently should be given its rightful place in the conditions today? If you consider the price levels, as you may analyze them, you will find that yesterday the farmer still have to get in three hours or more of production in agricultural products which when exchanged for manufactured goods, will bring in exchange a product that only one hour of labor time, and this problem is being accentuated more and more by the Western farmer. The time is coming when he will not have any other form of settlement than that which contains the so-called labor time element on the one hand, and the price level on the other. I think just now the Western farmer is realizing this important element in the production of his goods, and, as I said before, he is beginning to realize that he has got to get his labor time recognized in the price level. That is the problem. And any right thing, I believe is going to be given to the farmer. And any right thing, I believe, is going to be given to him. Just a few days, and then we shall know whether or not the principle is recognized, or rejected. A vote will be taken, a body formed, names of representatives will be announced, and then we shall know whether or not we are going to continue. Because conditions are dangerous to a degree that I believe they may be beyond control. I am not a pessimist, but I am a realist. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in this country unless we can get relief. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in Western Canada unless we can get relief. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in the banks unless we can get relief. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in the business of this country unless we can get relief. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in the business of this country unless we can get relief. I believe that we are going to have a crisis in the business of this country

AN OPPORTUNITY TO HOLDERS OF EARLY MATURING

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT BONDS

TO EXTEND THE TERM OF THEIR INVESTMENT IN

THE PREMIER SECURITY IN CANADA

GOVERNMENT OF THE

DOMINION OF CANADA

1931 CONVERSION LOAN

The Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada offers to holders of the undermentioned Dominion issues the privilege of exchanging their bonds into longer dated issues, in the following terms and under the following conditions:

This offer extends to holders of bonds eligible for conversion, the same interest payment and non-free privileges, for the life of and as represented in the present bonds, and the opportunity of extending the term of the investment at 4½% per annum.

WAR LOAN 5% BONDS MATURING 1st OCTOBER, 1931—Holders of these bonds have the privilege of exchanging into bonds maturing 1st November, 1946, bearing interest from 1st April, 1931. The first coupon will be for six months' simple interest at the rate of 5% per annum payable 1st October, 1931; the second coupon will be for seven months' interest at the rate of 4½% per annum payable 1st May, 1932; thereafter to maturity interest will be payable half-yearly at 4½% per annum.

RENEWAL LOAN 5½% BONDS MATURING 1st NOVEMBER, 1933—Holders of these bonds have the privilege of exchanging into bonds maturing 1st November, 1957, bearing 4½% interest payable half yearly from 1st May, 1931. There will also be attached to these bonds three adjustment coupons payable respectively on 1st November, 1931, and 1st May and November, 1932, and on May and November, 1933, 1934 and 1935, for additional interest at the rate of 1½% per annum.

VICTORY LOAN 5½% BONDS MATURING 1st NOVEMBER, 1933—Holders of these bonds have the privilege of exchanging into bonds maturing 1st November, 1948, bearing 4½% interest payable half-yearly from 1st May, 1931. There will also be attached to these bonds three non-free adjustment-coupons payable respectively on 1st November, 1931, and 1st May and November, 1932, and on May and November, 1933, 1934 and 1935, for additional interest at the rate of 1½% per annum.

VICTORY LOAN 5½% BONDS MATURING 1st NOVEMBER, 1934—Holders of these bonds have the privilege of exchanging into bonds maturing 1st November, 1949, bearing 4½% interest payable half-yearly from 1st May, 1931. There will also be attached to these bonds seven adjustment-coupons payable respectively on 1st November, 1931, and 1st May and November, 1932, 1933 and 1934, for additional interest at the rate of 1½% per annum.

Conversion applications to the terms of the foregoing are limited in a total of $470,000,000. The Minister of Finance reserves, however, the right to increase or decrease this amount at his discretion.

Subscriptions will be received and receipts issued by any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank and by recognized Canadian Bond Dealers and Stock Brokers, from whom may be obtained application forms and copies of the official prospectus containing complete details of the loan. Applications will not be valid on forms other than those printed by the King's Printer.

The subscription lists to the foregoing will open on 11th May, 1931, and will close on or before 23rd May, 1931, at the discretion of the Minister of Finance.

Premier Bennett's Speech On The Western Conditions

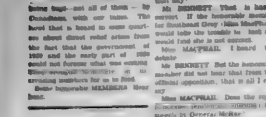
being kept—not all of them — by Canadians, with our taxes. The hope that is found in some quarters abroad should relief arises from the fact that the government of 1930 and the early part of 1930 would not foresee what was coming. Now we have to endeavor to do as reasonable business as we can.

Some honorable MEMBERS: Hear hear.



When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have kept cool-headed in the excitement of the moment to live up to the promise in the platform of Premier Philips Milk of Magnesia soon regretted the promise.

Philips does away with all the sour acid and gas right away. It is the quickest, surest, safest relief for sour stomach, indigestion, acidity, heartburn or other sad food grief in the world. Philips is knowing about all cases which at last Premier Philips Milk of Magnesia was taken away from the realms of the sick.

Just take a handy spoonful, or two if you have been bought at the local druggist, too.

PHILIPS Milk of Magnesia

MR. BENNETT: How they have people here, a similar question to the backbench to complain because they say we do not feed them fast enough to give them enough to eat.

Miss MACPHAIL: Were they not assisted by the official opposition of that city?

MR. BENNETT: That is hardly correct. If the honorable member for Southeast Grey (Miss MacPhail) would take the trouble to look she would find she is not correct.

Miss MACPHAIL: I heard the debate.

MR. BENNETT: But the honorable member did not hear that from the official opposition, that is all I can say.

Miss MACPHAIL: Does the right honorable gentleman remember the speech in General Motors?

MR. BENNETT: I certainly do but it was against the official opposition.

Miss MACPHAIL: Oh, no.

MR. BENNETT: Is there any doubt as to who is the leader of the official opposition in this House? I remember the honorable member for Temiskaming Mr Proulx—a pioneer competitor with Mr Ford to provide transit for country roads—but at the present time the official leader of the opposition is the right honorable member for Prince Albert Mr Mackenzie King and not the honorable member for Temiskaming.

One step further. A complaint has been made as to what has been done by the government of the day. What has been done by the government of the day? I put this question to the House and to the country. If the government of the day had been less determined and less resolute it must it did what it did would now be the position in Canada? Was the $20,000,000 well for nothing? Has it been properly expended? Has any honorable member suggested that a single dollar of it has been spent for purposes other than proper ones has anybody charged that it was not properly used? What has been the result so far as that note of money is concerned? Some 300,000 individuals have been given employment with that money and they have worked 4,257,000 man-days. Some

Calgary Man Wins $600 Prize For Best Exhibit of Special Crops

Who Is What You Grow And Where What You Can Do

This is the slogan which has been effectively adopted by the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina in 1932.

A broad outline of the scheme was announced at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the board of directors of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference held at Regina.

Within the next few months the people have to pass further on the question of the future of the world's grain exhibition and conference. Shall it be held or shall it not be held? Shall we go on with the plans which have been made or shall we not go on with them? Shall we go on with the plans which have been made or shall we not go on with them? Shall we go on with the plans which have been made or shall we not go on with them?

In connection with part of the sub-committee of the honorable member for Temiskaming Mr Proulx—a pioneer competitor with Mr Ford to provide transit for country roads—but at the present time the official leader of the opposition is the right honorable member for Prince Albert Mr Mackenzie King and not the honorable member for Temiskaming.

One step further. A complaint has been made as to what has been done by the government of the day. What has been done by the government of the day? I put this question to the House and to the country. If the government of the day had been less determined and less resolute it must it did what it did would now be the position in Canada? MR. MACKENZIE KING: No, I did not say right honorable friends; I said that.

MR. BENNETT: I did. I read the expression. I know of nobody. The honorable member for Acadia. I think was not misquoting me when the statement is used that I do not remember what I said. As I said at the opening days ago a very definite issue and a very definite issue between the previous governments and this government was made at the time arrived when the reign should be put in to be and but I am not saying that I am not saying that I am not saying that

The warm weather is bringing the grain along very rapidly fields are becoming green We think W Peters of Ingleton, has the earliest oats about around here. His fields are as green as pastures and one being cut.

Mrs. Bovi Averill and infant daughter came home Saturday She left the hospital earlier in the week and spent the time with Mrs. Ara Peterson

June Ferguson was taken to the hospital last Friday and operation being imperative, her appendix was removed the same day

The Institute ladies held regular 'Grandmothers' Day' last Thursday afternoon with fourteen Grandmothers present After the business part of the meeting was finished a good program was put on. The contented majority of musical numbers Mrs Ray Ball and Mother Mathew A girls' quartette composed of Misses Vera and Una Prudden and Cecelia and Marie Benning sang Silver Threads Among the Gold. Miss Audrey Peterson rendered a piano solo in a very pleasing manner and Leona Hobbs gave a reading Dressing up in Mother's Clothes Mrs Cliff Sisler had the current events for the month The hostesses had taken great pains with the tables which were prettily decorated with tulips After the usual delicious "mothers" toasts were given by Mrs Underhood and Mrs Robilliard who Mrs E A Friend and Mrs Ray Ball made the replies The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Alex Hanson

Botha High School teams played Red Willow on the Friday evening and again our team came home defeated The girls put on a good game the score being tied at the end of the fifth inning and they were obliged to play 14 innings before either side made another run when Red Willow finally put one home and the made the score 15 to 14 in their favor

The boys, however, seemed to have lett all their luck at home and the Red Willow boys defeated them to the tune of 12 to 3

Something we would like to know—With a cheese factory at Camrose, which makes very good cheese and with several more scattered throughout Alberta, why do we never hear of Alberta cheese or see it advertised As far as we know we have never tasted any Why pay freight on cheese and bring it clear from Ontario? Do our factories find it necessary to ship their cheese to the east to sell it Or is it that the railroads but its hard to see where anyone else receives any particular benefit

The senior ball team came out from Stettler on Saturday afternoon and played our juniors on the home diamond The Botha boys put in an afternoon of good hard work but at the end of the 9th inning the score stood 26 to 11 in Stettler's favor

Botha Number yard is being cleared to Messrs. Sedgwick and Stanley moved 3,000 feet to Stettler last week Mr Sutton is helping Mr Sedgwick put his crop in at present.

Mr and Mrs Guy Hollinshead of Calgary, and Mrs Nellie Bernhardt of Donnahten, were in town on Monday for Jarke Hollinshead's funeral.

Mr and Mrs H E Purdue and their baby son Mr P H Purdue of Mrs Florence Purdue motored to Camrose on Sunday where they were joined by Mrs Purdue's mother who has been visiting at Stettler for the past few months

Mr and Mrs H Mertens, Jean Mertens, Mrs. J Bradley and daughter Barbara motored to Provost and Edmonton where they will spend a few days.

Sidney Overbaugh is spending a few days in town. He will return to University of Alberta for Convocation next Friday, after which he plans to visit his mother in Bozeman, Washington.

C. Cockrell has disposed of his interest in the Red and White chain store at Stettler to Ted Robinson who will in future conduct the business at this point.

Golf enthusiasts held their annual meeting last Tuesday evening, when the following officers were elected for the year

President W.O. Gross
Vice-President R. B. Menzies.
Secretary-Treasurer, J. E. Harris.

All members are helping to put the grounds in good shape and many keen games and competitions are being planned for the season

The Canon Lang Choir will open on Thursday the 21st, at the home of Mrs Harvey Jackson.

The Ladies' Aid Society met there meeting this month on Wednesday, the 20th at the home of Mrs. W 25 Rich.

Stan Menzies and Bill Airey motored to Calgary on Sunday

Several games of baseball have been played on the local diamond during the week. Seniors have defeated Hardyn and Juniors ladled out the same from Stettler

Old Cut teams from Red Willow played on Saturday and were preceded in winning from Bothan Red team.

BYEMOOR NEWS

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Ed Dyer on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Carmichael presided.

Mrs. Wade and family spent Sunday in Hatton.

The Langdon Choir presented Queen Esther on Friday night very effectively in the Byemoor Hall. The audience was small but appreciative. The curtain was lowered by a dance by several by the baseball team We wonder if the boys play baseball with as much enthusiasm as they have for dancing

Mr and Mrs. Bevare accompanied by Miss Mary Rudd, visited at D Pittman's on Sunday.

The Byemoor School team and team motored to Endless last Wednesday evening where a very exciting game was played. The score being 14 to 7 in favor of Byemoor.

Looks like spring is here to stay. Bobby Jameson is busy overhauling his car

Edmonton Stock Yards Report

(Week Ending May 13th, 1931)

RECEIPTS	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep
	900	200	1400	25

Receipts during the past week were more liberal. Cows and heifers being the outstanding feature of the market and this class of stock moved freely at steady to firm prices. Steers were slow and draggy particularly the heavy kind and on Tuesday a small lot suffered decline of around 25c a hundred weight. There was the only heavy-weight butcher steers meeting any sale of fair values while heavy steers were scarce. In fact, the greatest scarcity was there these would be any demand for them. Choice heavy steers are quoted at $5 to $6, fair down to $4 - $4.50. Choice heifers and cows sold at $4.50 to $5, fair down to $3 - $4, common to medium $2.50 to $3. Canners and cutters $1 to $2.50. Bulls $4.50 to $2.50

Stocker and feeder offerings were readily absorbed at firm prices Steers and heifer quoted at $3.50 to $4.25 cows $2 to $3.50

Calves are unchanged from last week. Good to choice light vealers $7 to $8, medium $5.50 to $6.50 and common to fair $3 to $5

Hog market is weaker Monday's price was $6.75 for bacons and on Tuesday a further decline was experienced when bacon hogs sold at $6.50 to $6.65, for bacons selects bringing a 50c premium and butchers being discounted 50c Cuts on the offgrade hogs remain unchanged and as follows: Stertes at $1.50, extra heavies $2; No. 1 sows $2, other sows $2.50 to $3.00, and roughs $2.25.

Sheep and lamb receipts were limited to establish a market, the quotations remaining steady to firm lambs quoted at $7.50 to $8.50 and yearlings at $5 to $6, ewes $4 to $5.

BIG HELROSE DIES IN PEKOTOSH

Dr John R McLeod, Liberal member of the first legislature of Alberta and brother of Rev. K C McLeod, one of Edmonton's pioneer clergymen, was found dead in his bed on Monday at Pekotosh. He passed away in his sleep. He was 59 years old.

Dr McLeod had retired as usual on Sunday night and on his not appearing for breakfast members of his family went to arouse him. On failure to receive response to knocking the room was entered and he was found dead Funeral arrangements have not yet been made Edmonton Bulletin.

Chinese Wheat Trade Obtained By Currency Deflation

Canadian Minister Gives Opinion on How Australia Reversed Eastern Grain Movement on Alberta

Ottawa.—Deflation of Australian currency resulted that country to undersell Canada in the Chinese wheat trade this year Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce told the House of Commons Tuesday. When estimates for his department were before the House he was urged by F. G. Higinbotham Liberal, Perth South, to make a statement concerning the efforts made to sell Canadian wheat in China.

"I would hesitate to discuss publicly all that has been done, by that direction because the efforts were made by officers of the department and necessarily were confidential in nature" Mr Stevens proceeded. Although he did not have the exact figures with him the Minister believed China during the past crop year purchased 40,000,000 bushels of wheat Of this amount Canada sold 108,000 bushels and Australia the best on record.

Under present purchasing power conditions of the Chinese they were able to purchase almost only the low priced. Mr Stevens pointed out. This was another factor in the Orient's regular large boost on the part of the Chinese

Soft Wheat Needed

Another factor Mr Stevens declared was that in the class of soft wheats Canada produced wheat which entered generally into certain preferences of the Chinese trade. Although if we could sell our wheat at a low enough figure China will buy

There was however some hope of improvement in this trade. The wheat situation was somewhat better settled. But this did not mean that China would purchase all her requirements. The opportunities in that theme as a growing market in China especially Northern China, for products produced in this country, including wheat," Mr Stevens declared He would not say that for the immediate future, but there were good prospects. "The new making and have been making every possible effort to enlarge our interests in China in wheat and flour."

The Department of Trade and Commerce is doing its best to facilitate the exchange of wheat for tea with China, Mr Stevens said in reply to a question from J. J. Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata. The trade relations sent to that there were also working on that there were many difficulties in the way and it was not as easy as it might appear. The Minister he said, was also studying the possibility of exchanging wheat for other Chinese products.

RESULTS OF EXPERIMENTS IN PIG PRODUCTION AT UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Following is a report issued by Professor R D Sinclair and Professor H S Arnold of the Department of animal husbandry, the University of Alberta. This report gives an outline of results obtained in different experiments conducted to determine the best methods of producing, feeding and caring for hogs.

Present indications point to the fact that the hog industry in Alberta will see a large increase in the number of hogs on the farms in the province of Alberta. In order to obtain the most satisfactory results in hog production, as with any line of livestock, there are certain well recognized principles in connection with feeding and management that must be followed.

During the past few years, a considerable number of swine feeding and management tests have been conducted at the University of Alberta. The object of these experiments has been to study certain problems in connection with feeding and methods of feeding, and to secure information in regard to rations and methods of feeding which will produce the most economical gains, and which will produce a carcass of the type and quality desired by the packing trade. The results of the majority of these experiments have been published from time to time but they have never been assembled in any single publication. It is the purpose of this bulletin to present in condensed form the information obtained in swine feeding problems based on the results of experiments conducted at the University of Alberta during the past ten years, with the view of presenting the information in a form particularly in those who have had comparatively little experience with the swine industry.

The Breed Sow

The question of breeding stock is of paramount importance. Only those who have pure bred sows are more dependable than gilts, more grown females, showing length and depth, standing well on their feet and legs, feminine and masculine in appearance, and with well bred rosette tools—air on each side, are the kind that should be kept on hand for breeding purposes. The sow should possess a strong constitution, character which connects the hog with its ancestors, and which is reasonably large bloom. A sow should produce at least eight or ten pigs per litter, and should be capable of suckling them. Size is also a very important consideration in selecting a sow. Other things being equal, the larger sow is the more profitable. Sows should be well fed to grow pigs are to be exposed on weaning time. We find that sows fed liberally fed when bred and during early pregnancy farrowed larger litters and raised more pigs to weaning time than sows that were not fed liberally. Sows that were not fed liberally during pregnancy were usually thin in flesh at farrowing time and frequently did not have enough milk to nourish the young pigs properly. Sows that were fed liberally during pregnancy were usually in good flesh at farrowing time and had plenty of milk for the young pigs. Sows that were fed liberally during pregnancy were usually in good flesh at farrowing time and had plenty of milk for the young pigs. Sows that were fed liberally during pregnancy were usually in good flesh at farrowing time and had plenty of milk for the young pigs.

Feeding Pigs

Our pigs are invariably accustomed to feeding by themselves on a small creep, before going on full feed. They do not require to be creep fed, but they do require a creep where they can be fed by themselves. Pigs from sows that have been fed liberally during pregnancy will not require to be creep fed, but they do require a creep where they can be fed by themselves. Pigs from sows that have been fed liberally during pregnancy will not require to be creep fed, but they do require a creep where they can be fed by themselves.

ENDIANG NEWS

The longest, dampest and coldest dust storm ever experienced here raged all day Sunday, and did much damage to the young crop. Fortunately all or blowing ceased before open seeds of wheat. Rain began falling in the evening which continued to 10 inches, and caused still more delays of the replacement work.

Mr. Arthur Johnson and Miss E. Baillinger motored to Edmonton on a honeymoon trip. They stopped at the home of Mrs. Wahlberg on Friday night, gave her nothing off or blowing. They left for the summer, where Mr Wahlberg is farming.

TIDES OF GOLD

Reverse happenings, of more or less import have focussed the monetary attention upon the subject of gold as by force that one has seen to run short of gold.' Can it be that we have already come to? It is a long way from the gold mines to the apple man on the curb, but many are asking if the apple man's trouble didn't begin with the gold scarcity.

There is, no doubt, that some recessions are hearing the pinch of gold scarcity. England has been that she had before the war, although the United States has twice as much. Gold is a strange, mysterious ally. It can make or ruin men.

It is on hand governed by Great Britain that most of the gold produced in the world today is mined. Yet it is England who finds herself losing gold France, which produces but little has gained in the last two years more than all the gold possessed in British possessions. The United States, which has made large additions to its gold. But it is not from gold mines that nations get their gold. It is from trade It is true that is taking the gold away from England, trade which England raised in long wild oats from her hand.

It all comes from the gold stand and toward which the world has been struggling back with many reverses. Before the war practically every country in the world had adopted the gold standard. That is, each country defined its monetary unit—dollar, pound, franc or mark—as containing a fixed amount of gold. You could take a five-pound note to the Bank of England and get five pounds' worth of gold for it, just as you could take a five-dollar bill to the United States Treasury and get five dollars' in gold for it. Gold circulated freely in and between countries. There was practically no gold problem from 1880 up to the time of the war. The nations of the world were producing ample gold for the world's needs.

When the war came all this was changed. Almost every country except the United States suspended the operation of its gold standard. The reason was obvious People who had money in war-torn countries wanted to send it out of such a country. But if the government of such a country allowed its gold coins to circulate freely there would very soon have been an exodus of gold out of the country. To stop this these countries ceased withdrawing gold coins and refused to sell gold coins as quickly as possible It became an offense in most cases to take gold out of the country

And the great need of gold was to pay the nations debts. The only international money that is known is gold, and every European country which was at that time making enormous purchases abroad had an additional reason for conserving its gold Gold was gathered in by the central banks of Europe and gold coins were melted down and the gold locked in vaults of the national treasuries. Even in America the need for retaining gold was felt, and although the gold standard was not abandoned, the country quit minting gold coins.

Since the war the policy of not minting gold coins has been continued. Gold is kept busy at work in the vaults of the government treasuries and the paper money and notes or bills which the government promises to redeem on demand in gold. The paper notes and bills circulate freely and the gold is protected in the meantime. The United States Treasury will redeem a five dollar bill, but in some countries the terms of redemption are more drastic and bills will not be redeemed in amounts less than a thousand dollars.

Surrounded by enormous holdings which banks and governments exchange and financial giants there is, in New York a small two-storey building which is a very heart of the financial capital of the world. Here in the United States Treasury office for down in the vaults there is stored one-third of all the paper every gold in the world—more than three and a half billion dollars, all in gold bricks and coins ready to be put on in dark order like as much firewood. This gold is the property of the United States Government and is part of the gold reserve of the nation. It is by means of this vast treasure that made Wall Street the money power of the earth.

There is about twenty billion dollars worth of gold in the world after all the centuries of digging and mining. About one half of it—roughly, about eleven million dollars—is used as money gold. The other half is used in the arts, chiefly in ornaments and jewelry. Of the monetary gold about 40 per cent. is held by the United States and 20 per cent. by France. In other words these two countries hold 60 per cent. of the money gold in the world. The United States has about four and a half billions, France has only 700 millions. Britain has only 625 millions. It is interesting to note that the United States has more than a third of the holdings of France

It is natural for the average man to think of the need of gold in this point. It not his money good because of the wealth and strength of the government behind it?

If you look at an American five dollar bill you are printed on it "The United States of America will pay to the bearer on demand five dollars." Probably you would never think of talking that bill to the bank and demanding five dollars—because you know that the gold is there to protect your bill. But it is not the need of gold that is the point.

If there are less than ten "wet" days during the period of harvest activity, there will be an increase in the number of outworns the following year.

If there are between ten and fifteen such days during the period of harvest activity, there will, in all probability be some decrease in the numbers of outworns the next year.

If there are more than fifteen "wet" days during the period of harvest activity, little trouble may be looked for from this insect the following year.

In the heavy soil areas these directions must be modified slightly If the top loam and a foot of soil is dry there is not sufficient soil moisture to consolidate it wet day or so though the lower soil may be wet to permit the use of a disc drill.

These "wet days" should be regarded as the minimum and where the majority of the outworns have become insects the number of wet days should be counted. All field operations for the rest of the season should be governed by the

WAR LOAN and VICTORY BONDS

A Statement by the Minister of Finance

IN THE dark days of the War, Canadians loaned to the Government of the Dominion many hundred millions of dollars to enable the operations of the Allies to be carried on a successful conclusion.

When Canadians loaned their money to the Government, they received bonds which were promises to repay them the sum loaned with interest at the rate of 5% or 5½% per annum. On the 1st of October next, $53,000,000 of these bonds become due; on the 1st of November, 1932, the maturity will be $75,000,000; on the 1st of December, 1933, $444,000,000; and, in 1934, $111,000,000 must be provided for.

It would not be prudent, either in the interest of the security holders or the country itself, to wait until these loans become due before providing for their payment or renewal. Arrangements must be taken well in advance of the due dates to present the credit of the country. The Government believes this an opportune time to offer to the holders of these bonds an exchange for bonds, which they own maturing in the next few years, for new bonds of the Dominion of Canada carrying interest at the rate of 4½% per annum, which is a reduction of ½% per annum on the maturity date of the present bonds, these who accept this offer will, of course, continue to be paid interest at the rate so provided by the bonds they exchange.

Canadians who have always shown confidence in their country are earnestly invited to exchange the bonds they now own for bonds of the new issue. By so doing, they will render a two-fold service to the country. They will relieve the finances of the country, will enhance its credit and will greatly assist the Government in the present period of worldwide readjustment.

No money will be asked for and no new bonds will be sold at this time. It is proposed that the present conversion is $250,000,000, but the Government has the right at its discretion to increase the amount if Canadians indicate a general desire to increase their investment in Canada's future.

The subscription books will close on the 23rd of May.

I earnestly seek the active support of my fellow Canadians in making this conversion, which is one of the largest financial operations ever undertaken in Canada, and which is of such vital importance to every man, woman and child in the country.

Ottawa, May 1st, 1931.

Minister of Finance.

SHRUBBERY ADDS CHARM

Carefully planted shrubbery adds charm and value to the home. Attention agree that best effects are secured by confining the shrubs to the border and to the base of the dwelling, leaving an open lawn In foundation plantings shrubs of different heights should be chosen and the planting arranged irregularly and so planned as to conceal the shipmount without completely covering the foundation.

Suitable shrubs are described by Mr. Thomson, horticulturist at the Federal Department of Agriculture Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., as follows here is a selection:—

KEEPS FEED COST DOWN

Succulent pasture and green feed bring down the feed costs in hog raising. Not only do these feeds keep down costs but they keep the animals healthy and vigorous. Hogs given a balanced ration and plenty of green feed will make more economical gains than hogs fed on dry feeds alone, according to the Federal Department of Agriculture. A bushel of cattle fifty-four head grazed Red and treated for worms. They proved a special feature in clean stock merchandising in which quality is featured In no paper in Canada is "brand-new" more popular in growing, more rapidly in popular favor than in Montreal

CRITICAL TIME FOR BEES

The spring of the year is a critical time for the apiarist. Unless the weather is settled for this period, it does not pay to keep bees, as necessary for the strengthening of the colony. Bees cannot work profitably when the temperature in the shade is below 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Apiarists should feed up colonies which are short of stores. Honey is the best food, but sugar syrup may be used. Feeding should be continued until the weather permits of fruitbloom. If the weather has been cold during the winter, it is necessary to stimulate the breeding of the queen by feeding and to see that the bees are getting fresh foods. The cost is frozen which there are four hours after it is taken from the field When it is thawed out a week or months later, it becomes drawn from ex- perience in all of the provinces, bring out the varieties useful for windbreaks, screens, property division and purely ornamental purposes

TOBACCO FOR SHEEP

Losses from nematodes due to internal parasites in sheep may be reduced by the feeding of tobacco to the flock. The tobacco is given with salt in the proportion of ten pounds of salt in one of crushed tobacco leaf. The salt should be mixed so that it may be broken up in a size equal to wheat bran. This when mixed with the salt, slightly moistened forms a cake which the sheep will lick when placed before them in the field or pen. This recommendation is made by Dr Lionel Stevenson, author of the federal bulletin "Common Animal Parasites in Canada," in which he states that for a flock weighed to the inhaven a slightly less proportion of tobacco should be used for a week or two at the beginning.

PROVEN AND TRUSTWORTHY PERMANENT BY PRESSING

Discovery of a process to prevent the fermentation of fruits and vegetables frozen for storage has been announced by the British Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, states the Federal Department of Agriculture in its Cold Storage Newsletter for April. It has been found that if vegetables are boiled or partially cooked before freezing they are frozen their color and flavor will be preserved unimpaired. Boiling it has been found destroys the enzymes, complexes and permits ascorbic acid, the substance a cure for scurvy, to escape. If crushing is not to be done such shrubs should be used as do not grow to large size and which have a graceful form whether in or out of bloom.

In his recent bulletin Hedges and Their Uses Dr W T Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist names several varieties of flowering shrubs suitable for hedge purposes Spirea vanhouttei which blooms profusely in June and reaches its best state if left untrimmed for some years. The plant is not hardy in the coldest parts of Canada. Caragana arborescens Siberian pea tree makes a splendid hedge of rapid growth and is very hardy. The plant is not handsome in winter, however, and should be used in combination with other shrubs. Lilacs are also used for hedges, but they are not very satisfactory. The common lilac should be used in the prairie provinces. Mr. Macoun points out that the Persian lilac is more suitable for the milder parts of the country. The Japanese tree lilac is also recommended for the milder districts. The Tatarian honeysuckle makes a splendid hedge in the prairie provinces. The flowers are not showy but the bush is very attractive and quite dense. The common barberry makes a splendid hedge in the prairie provinces. The flowers are not showy but the bush is very attractive and quite dense. The common barberry makes a splendid hedge in the prairie provinces. The Publications Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has published a number of bulletins dealing with the subject of hedges. Most of these may be obtained free of charge by addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

HEDGES ADD BEAUTY WHEN PLANTED RIGHT

Forty years' experience with hedges on Experimental Farms has afforded a wealth of information on hedges. Of 136 species and varieties that have been tested 24 have survived the rigors of climate and tree for suitability at the Central Farm The information thus afforded has been set down in a bulletin of forty-four pages now written by the Dominion Horticulturist. The lessons, drawn from ex-

Hedges may be divided into two classes, those which are allowed to grow to their natural height and those which are trimmed to a definite height. Hedges of the first class are generally composed of tall growing shrubs and are usually planted in single rows. Hedges of the second class are usually composed of low growing shrubs and are usually planted in double rows.

Hedges are of great value for shelter, for ornament, for the confining of stock, for the protection of orchards and gardens, for the marking of boundaries, for the prevention of snowdrifts on roads, and for the concealment of unsightly objects. Hedges are also of great value for the protection of game birds and animals.

The first requisite in the establishment of a hedge is a thorough preparation of the soil. Deep cultivation and the addition of manure are necessary for the best results. Hedges should be planted in the spring before growth starts. Fall planting is not to be recommended. Cultivation should be kept up during the first few years after planting. Hedges should be trimmed annually. Failure to trim results in the hedge becoming thin at the bottom and in the loss of its protective value.

SUMMER HOME FOR HOGS

According to the Federal Department of Agriculture the hog does not require an expensive home but only that his bed results are actually obtained from the changer equipment Two or three colonies, and a box-stall for the farrowing sow will supply the necessary housing in the case of the farmer who grows a few hogs. The kind of colony successfully used on the Experimental Farms is constructed of strong though relatively light material, and provided with hinged sides for the free passage of air in the summer months. It is built on runners so as to be easily shifted from place to place.

The summer colony is subject to damage by the pressure of the hogs from the inside The upright cabin with peaked roof will last for years.

The Department issues a circular giving the specifications for a suitable summer home which, when tightened up and properly protected, makes an all-year hog house.

WHY HENS STOP LAYING

A flock that has laid heavily during the winter will generally slow up toward the middle of summer when they begin to moult, but when the egg yield drops rapidly until it practically ceases without any apparent reason, then suspect worms. Body lice, which remain on the birds, and the red mite which infests the poultry house during the day, returning to the birds at roosting time, cause heavy losses, Mr. F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, recommends for the former, dusting the birds with fine powder and applying Blue Ointment beneath the wings, and for the red mite he recommends strong solution of Zenoleum, or any other creolin preparation, applied to the cracks in the roosts and nest boxes at regular intervals throughout the summer. Coal oil applied in similar fashion at intervals is also recommended.

Hedges Of Flowering Shrubs

If a hedge is desired for a boundary because practicable or as a screen to cover unsightly objects any one of several kinds of shrubs that produce flowers may be used ornamentation. It should be remembered however that shrubs to bloom well should have good exposure and if possible a deep soil. Often the subject must be content with the proper soil. If crumbling is not to be done such shrubs should be used as do not grow to large size and which have a graceful form whether in or out of bloom.

In his recent bulletin Hedges and Their Uses Dr W T Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist names several varieties of flowering shrubs suitable for hedge purposes Spirea vanhouttei which blooms profusely in June and reaches its best state if left untrimmed for some years. Hedges And Beauty To The Landscape

Hedges undoubtedly add distinction to a home Without them the countryside in rural England would be much less attractive In the Dominions of Canada hedges are being more and more appreciated and as their charm is observed they will be adopted by others who are seeking to add permanent interest to their buildings and to the district in which they live

Many varieties of plants are suitable for hedging Bulletin No 141 of the Department of Agriculture contains a wealth of information on hedge plants and their uses. The author is Mr. W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist at Ottawa. Mr. Macoun has had considerable success in growing hedges that bread top cuttings and layering. He has also succeeded in raising hedges from seed. Mr. Macoun says that seed should be sown in the fall. Seed may also be sown in the spring after stratification. Stratification consists in placing the seed in moist sand and exposing it to the action of frost.

The matter of the proper time to trim hedges is a matter of great importance. According to Dr. W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist at Ottawa, the best time to trim hedges should be regulated by the plant which is being trimmed. Hedges of deciduous plants should be trimmed in the spring before growth starts. Hedges of evergreens should be trimmed in the fall. Deciduous hedges should be trimmed to the height desired and the evergreens should be trimmed to a height of four feet or less.

Experience has shown at the Central Farm where many varieties of plants have been used, that the hedge will be thicker and will be easier controlled if it is cut back almost to the old wood each year Deciduous hedges particularly require severe cutting back each year, but in the case of evergreens too severe trimming must be guarded against or the branches will be exposed. Dr Macoun's bulletin which contains photographic reproduction of scores of hedges, has a wealth of information for the home maker who would beautify his property.

OUTDOOR CONTROL

As an aid to prairie farmers in coping with the pale western cutworm, serious outbreaks of which are expected in certain large areas in Saskatchewan and parts of Alberta, the Entomological Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has just published a pamphlet No 1 N.S., dealing with this pest and it control This pamphlet is essentially practical. In its treatment of the subject, and it deals completely with all phases of outdoors activity But only are control measures fully dealt with, but a concise guide to the safe recording of damaged fields is included

Western farmers will find the material in this pamphlet directly useful in the control of damage by the Pale Western cutworm, and the it enables them to estimate and forecast the possible amount of damage to be expected next year and if areas known to be infested with the current season

LEWIS — HART

(Calgary Herald)

Palms, ferns and snapdragons formed a beautiful setting in the Pro-Cathedral Church of the Redeemer, for the marriage of Basil Hulme, eldest daughter of Mr. W. J. Hart of Stettler, and Mr. Walter Lewis, eldest son of Mrs. and the late W. Lewis, which was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The Reverend Dean Robinson officiated at the ceremony. During the signing of the register the hymn "At Dawning" was rendered by Master Bert Cole.

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin model with a jacket of bridal rose lace. Her veil was held in place by orange blossoms and carried a sheaf of Calla lilies.

Mrs. Clare Smith, matron of honor, wore a charming ensemble of rose suit and wisteria bloom chiffon and lace, in harmonizing shades, and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses. Miss Marjorie Lewis, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid and wore a costume of dusky blue georgette with a hat to match. She also carried Columbia roses. Miss Patsy Harley is the charming little flower girl wore a frock of blue organdie and carried a basket of pink sweet peas.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Fred Ayres and the ushers were Mr. Clare Smith and Mr. Ronald Florendine.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Walter Lewis, mother of the bridegroom, wore for the occasion a gown of blue georgette and crepe lace with hat and shoes in matching shade.

Mrs. D. W. Scott Allen of Vancouver, aunt of the bride, wore a model gown of black chiffon embroidered in white and with it a smart black picture hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis, jr., left in the evening for the coast, when the bride wore a travelling costume of midnight blue, before their return they will reside in Banff for the summer months.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lewis, Miss Marjorie Lewis, Miss Mr. David, Mr. W. Porterfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. Orbano, Miss Hida Stewart, Mrs. Evelyn Hewett, Mr. S. H. Florendine, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Meecham, Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Greene, Mr. R. H. Florendine, Mr. F. Ayres, Mrs. L. Hudson, Miss Hilda Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mr. D. Scott Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hart, the Misses Mary and Marge Hart, Miss Kathleen H. Greene, Mrs. G. Hartley, Miss Patsy Harley, Miss Mary Harley, Miss Peggy Lewis and Mr. Norman Lewis.

FENN ECHOES

The Assiper Local U.F.W.A. met with Mrs. C. Hanna on May 13th, with eight members and seven visitors present. It was noted that as many as possible attend the conference in Stettler on Friday, May 15th. Mrs. Fleshman read a very nice paper on Mothers' Day and a letter on penny planting was discussed.

Mrs. Hanna put on two short contests which caused much merriment. Mrs. R. Collins won the prize in each case.

Mrs. Hanna then served a very nice lunch. Next meeting is to be held on June 10th at Mrs. C. Peabody's or at the Lake.

Mr. W. Griswold has just received word that his brother was the gold medal in the physics course at the University of Alberta.

The League Rebekah lodged the Wood Hills School on the latter's grounds on Friday. Wrestled Hills were by the score of 18 to 8. Afterwards a very lunch was served.

NEVIS NEWS

Don't forget the Baseball Dance in Nevis on Friday, May 22nd. All come and have a good time.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Tweed and family to this district, and sincerely hope they will join us in our dances, sports and meetings, etc.

The boys here call rosin "gum" money shooting craze. Was made so cheap and a bounty of the per pair, a lot of these pests should be soon done away with.

Turner Valley oil is being well patronized in this district which is a good boost for Canadian products.

The baseball game between Brisbine and Nevis which was played here Tuesday last finished with a score of 1 to 0 in favor of Nevis.

It was a splendid game and many a lot of winning. During the play a ball hit Hilda L. Leonard behind the ear and knocked him over. Jack brought him home and after a good mother rest he is not much the worse for the accident.

We are glad to know that Miss Moore's hand is better and that she is able to use it again.

At the time of writing we are getting a good supply of hail and rain which will be very beneficial to the crops.

STETTLER WINS THE BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

STETTLER 1—HALKIRK 0

Although Monday May 18th was anything but an ideal day, the baseball fans went and played the best ball they have played this year, with the result due to superior pitching and air-tight fielding the game with the first game of the Tournament from Halkirk by the score of 7 to 1.

Wm. Chris Sorensen on the mound for the locals, and the rest of the team backing him up one hundred per cent. It was not very long before Stettler had piled up a small cable lead scoring 2 in the first inning, 1 in the 4th, and 4 in the 5th, before Halkirk had got a man across the home plate. However in the 5th Halkirk tallied 1 run, and in the 7th another.

There was some altercation as to whether this game should be a 7 or 9 innings game, and Stettler finally agreed to play the six o'clock limit. In this extra play no time limit was called and the game was kept out 1 hr 3.

It was a real good game considering the high wind that was blowing.

C. Sorensen had 15 strike-outs in his favor in this game.

Walter Friend of Botha umpired the game in a very satisfactory manner.

The Line-up

STETTLER: F. Chapman cf; H. Sorensen, ss; Wright, 1b; Japp, 3b; C. Sorensen, p; Robertson, 2b; C. Chapman, lf; Dunlop, rf; Savage c.

HALKIRK: Dunn, 3b; Letts, p & rf; Short, c; Nichol, 1b; Aker, 2b; Stimp, rf & p; Ellingson, cf; McKinnon, lf; Livack, ss.

BOTHA 13—GADSBY 3

The second game of the day was between Botha and Gadsby. This game however proved to be uninteresting as Botha seemed to hit the ball at will and Gadsby's fielding was anything but good.

Karl Snyder pitched for Botha and had a number of strike-outs to his credit, and the Gadsby pitcher was throwing a pretty fair brand of ball, but on account of the lack of support he was relieved by another pitcher.

Don Bellver handled this game very well.

STETTLER 14—BOTHA 12

The third and final game of the Tournament was between Stettler and Botha.

The locals won the game by the score 14 to 12, and thus took first money in the Tournament.

Storms started pitching for the local, and was heaving over good ball, until the middle of the game when he hit his arm and had to retire from the game. K. Meiver pitched the balance of it in a very capable way.

The game featured splendid fielding work. C. Chapman catching four flies in this game, and Jack Robertson creating at second base.

Three teams played a very even game up until the 8th inning when Stettler ran in 6 runs which proved to be sufficient to win the game.

Snyers started pitching for Botha but in the final inning Wm Snyder relieved him.

Glen Grover of Gadsby umpired this game.

Commencement Exercises For Grade Twelve

To Grade 12 students of the High School had an interesting night when only four graduates in the theatre of the Stettler school on May 20th came to receive their diplomas. The exercises commenced Wednesday evening for parents, both with an interesting and instructive address by Dr. Newton, and Tuesday evening was taken up with the class play, a three-act comedy entitled "The Dictator" by Sidney Mrs. Kerr.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Mrs. Kennett, a Widow ... Jean Hall

Ethel, her daughter ... Helen Cameron

Mr. Kennett, her son ... Jack Fleming

Mr. Bradley, a Lawyer ... Ted Longhurst

THE GLADIOLUS

The gladiolus is one of the most popular flowers and rightly so. It is of easy culture and can be obtained in a great range of colors with flowers of various shapes and sizes. Some of the flowers are very beautiful in color and some are of bold and rainbow hues suiting all tastes. The effect of a number of these gorgeous colors massed together is very striking.

Any good garden soil is suitable. The roots of the bulbs may be planted as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring but where the season is but a short one choose that will bring them into bloom when required. They are planted three to four inches deep in groups, with corms about four inches apart. A row of these flowers planted along the front of the garden would be very effective. The corms should be kept well cultivated and free from weeds.

For cut flowers the stems may be cut when the first bud opens, but a long vase are of leaves to help build up the new corms. The corms can stay before there is danger of their being frozen and left in dry in the soil and kept dry all winter.

There are hundreds of varieties of gladioli and many varieties have been tested at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ontario. A few of the best ones are listed in the following:

A SEQUEL OF THE GREAT WAR

There's a penny Billy Jones,
How his earphone drones
Like a bee with its bidden sting!
Now he's up in the heavens, covered with mud,
With that we two were a-wing.

Pursuing Billy Jones in the sunlight mist,
Having our bodkins fling

High in the air
There's an angry glare,
A 'mazing balloon goes crashing,
Down down in flames and down in smoke,
See how tree-tops smashing
Billy Jones is a-sing like a spuff,
Flying smallest
And after him enemy planes noisily follow

Tossing Billy Jones
Often thought of the greenest,
And the broken bones, of the victims he shot down
How I was happy in that war
And he did not abhor
The body of victims privately to jot down

Some there in France where Billy lies sleeping
Tell it for truth that when winds come a-weeping
And black grow the heavens
And roars the thunder
The wet huddled peasants will hear
Billy Jones
Who was a phantom the storm-
Billy Jones, devil-may-care

He sits in the cockpit stand hard flashes
He spits his rams and a fusillade crashes
He seems up the cloud-banks, and down over the lightning
And horror-struck peasants
Will call it a-light-a-ning,
Purely some old the storm has begun

Then they'll turn and they'll say
To you, breath coming fast
Did you see what it was, who rode
That storm?
Twas Billy Billee. It was young

An request into the fatalities will be held at the Court House at 2 p m. on Saturday, with Coroner Dr. Smith presiding.

The shooting took place at a lonely place a quarter of a mile from Dried Meat Lake on the road to Cheadle. Constable Young Wright and Constable Frank Crawley Alberta provincial detectives of the discovery of the crime and a half-dozen men raced to the scene of the killings, but through the mist the bush and found the body of the man in the lake in the shallows where the stream of the Battle River resumes through it.

Reeves Man's Body

Discovery of the body was made at 1 p.m., and with the others it was taken back to the undertaking parlors.

Dr W R Lamb, Camrose coroner, presided with the first grewsome evidence to the point where the killings occurred. After an examination by pronounced the girls and the mother dead.

Mrs. Vought had been shot through the left temple, while had a bullet-wound through her chest under right thigh. The elder girl was wounded in toe-shot and the right arm, it being believed that a single bullet caused both wounds as she held up her hands to protect her from the weapon. Two of the bullets passed through the bodies and out of the back of the car.

What happened in the car at the moment of the tragedy can only be conjectured. It is thought that Mrs. Vought, after struggling with her husband as he turned around in the driver's seat and killed his daughters, ran from the machine to the back toward Camrose but that he caught her and ended her life the same way.

Pistol Was Emptied

The pistol with which he alleged life-ended was found in the car and was empty of cartridges. Vought then left the car and ran a short distance into the bush where he committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

Coroner Lamb said that the evidence would be given to the grand jury when it sits in Camrose on June 6th.

Vought and his family came to Camrose from Edmonton about a year ago and purchased a farm in the Dried Meat Lake and 16 miles south of Camrose. Mrs. Vought's parents and father H C Vought, M C, war veteran of the Great War and already 1915 his first wife died. Vought is believed to have raced toward the lake after the shooting, plunging in, have end his own life.

Boy Has Narrow Escape

Little Ralph Vought, the only family head the narrowest sort of escape Tuesday's shooting tragedy. He was held in the arms of his father when four men came across the car to find near it lying on the road. The father and two daughters lay. The boy was unharmed. The men, at the request of the auto as Vought started to turn across the fields to drown me and death.

Vought is said to have driven to Camrose from his home with the intention of committing suicide, having accomplished his purpose.

Dismissed with the manservice a number from Vought appeared to be perfectly sane and capable of his duties as to decide to end it all. His family also appeared to be normal.

The Vought slayings and suicide send still further the rapidly mounting list of tragedies in this province.

Only Thursday, a preceding tragedy occurred when Edward Lyle, son of Bruce Lodge, who lake Vought, shot himself through the head at his home at Innisfail.

Yesterday Innisfail people were of fatalities at Strand

Saturday morning the final chapter to be read in the double tragedy at Strand when Mrs. Ernest Lupton is to be taken to the hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the head, inflicted by her husband, who then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

Lupton, who was 30 years of age and married Miss Ethel Lupton, 25 years old, on August 11th 1920. Louis Meyer was charged with the murder of Gustav Gerring at New Norway, Alberta, on January 1st 1920, when will hang for the murder of Gerring. Mr Law as Cassidy on March 30th.

Camrose May 23rd. Three persons a mother and her two small daughters—were shot dead and the murderer, a returned soldier, committed suicide by drowning himself, as the sequence of violent deaths that for the present year have been numbered through Alberta, sweeped down on the Camrose district Friday, and took its toll.

Despondency over a lost job is blamed for the tragedy, according to the police.

Dom. Of Canada 1931 Conversion Loss

Premier Bennett has adopted a new and somewhat unique method of relieving the problem of repaying the huge total of war and other debts incurred during the years of the 1914-1918. A new loan of forty five millions is being issued, and the holders of maturing loans are being granted the opportunity of converting into the new loan on terms advantageous to themselves. The principle of the Conversion Loan is not new. It has been successfully applied by both the governments of the United States and of Great Britain

Alcohol of 51.66% strength of Canadian war and victory bonds mature within the next three and one half years, the greater part falling due in 1923 and 1924.

The Government has arranged an attractive bargain with investors. In exchange for short-term war and victory loan securities is offered a twenty-five year government obligation carrying a coupon rate of 4 1-2 per cent. The present status of the holders of bonds now being replaced will remain unimpaired during the short span of life remaining for those maturities.

The operation however has a deeper significance than mere investment strategy. It has a patriotic appeal, no less vital than ordinary war issue to show to the world and also that Canadians have confidence in Canada and that the Dominion's high credit standing is highest with her own people Such a position of confidence and financial vitality has an economic application of far-reaching influence. The Government will secure in the new money through the conversion loan operation. It is a straight exchange of securities. Investors should welcome the answer opportunity. Ordinarily the reinvestment of funds received from maturing investments is a question of great moment and expense. All this is eliminated, and investors can consolidate their holdings for another twenty-five years without effort on their part.

Government bonds represent our very highest credit. The public has grown wearied with speculation it is now seeking safe haven for its investment funds. In the past our coupon has more proven attraction to foreign investors. By the present definition, government bonds have stood forth a tower of strength

The Government has behind support of the Government's Conversion Loan will be the entire banking support of the fair faith of Canadians in Canada and the economic solidity of the country at large.

Wheat Stabilization Plans Differ Widely At London Conference

U S Advocates Acreage Cut, Australia Would Set Board For Exports

ROBERT RUSSIA WILL REVEAL PLANS WEDNESDAY

Canadian Soviet Not Yet Ready To Announce Policy

London—Five different proposals were submitted today to the conference of the grain growing countries of the world at Canada House.

From the United States Farm Board, from Australia, from the Canadian countries, and other delegations came the plans for stabilization of the wheat market.

Wheat Russia has also her plans this week. Canada has not submitted any concrete scheme

Canada may possibly have a representative present tomorrow. O Howard Ferguson, chairman of the conference and Canadian high commissioner is absent, and after sitting today We are prepared to discuss the question and are to go a long way to meet any general proposals.

To Co-ordinate Schemes

All the schemes submitted are to be considered by a committee this afternoon and some endeavor will be made to co-ordinate them. With the necessary accompanying statistics they may be taken up by the full conference tomorrow morning.

The gist of the United States proposal, which was submitted by Julius Barnes, member of the Federal Farm Board, was of assistance of production. He could see no possibility of a satisfactory solution of the world wheat problem if it did not include "as its main support" ample element curtailment of production in exporting countries. He was also emphatic that the United States Farm Board had no intention of dumping its huge surplus of wheat.

Premier McDougall, chief Australian delegate, submitted the resolutions passed by the conference of Australian wheat growers. These recommended establishment of an international wheat marketing organization representing the wheat growing countries which would pool the wheat offered for export and the countries adhering to the marketing agreement. Loans would be reached would give guarantees of their obligations in the form of a bond issue guaranteed by the countries interested in the International Settlements.

Poland Changes Mind

But of what happened apart from the Australian proposals, the Polish proposals no official word is available. Poland is understood to have recommended an international wheat cartel broadly similar to the Australian plan. Poland has long championed the quota system under which the nations would agree to definite export limitations.

"We have had a number of plans submitted," Mr Ferguson said. "There has been discussion to some extent. Two things stand out as a result

First the unanimity with which all the delegations express their readiness to consider and explore definite suggestions rather than make academic expressions of good will.

Second the statement by Mr McKenzie that the United States has no intention of dumping any portion of their wheat on storage but intends to market it on an orderly basis to maintain as far as possible established conditions in the wheat market.

Handling Bloat In Dairy Cows

Bloating of dairy cows on pasture is, and apparently always will be a serious problem on herd management where clover legumes are used as pasture crops This is perhaps more particularly true when the legume is alfalfa

At the Dominion Experimental Farm, Brandon, Manitoba C E Aliffs is used as a base in all pastures, and in spite of the best of care he has taken considerable trouble at times from bloat. It is possibly more true of alfalfa than grasses and clovers when the first crop of alfalfa would be approaching the blossoming period.

The most practical means of preventing bloat is to feed to the extent of one half to one third the ration of dry roughage before turning the animals on to pasture. Cattle should be turned on pasture only when empty stomachs. A small feed of dry hay before turning on pasture is a good plan. Feeding on the morning of the day on which the animals are turned on pasture is another good method of preventing bloat.

Pasturing only at certain periods of the day is also a good plan. Cattle should be turned on pasture only when the dew is off the grass. Feeding on dry roughage after the animals are on pasture is also a good plan.

As a specific in case of severe bloat a dose of raw linseed oil may be required. One of a cupful to a pint is usually sufficient. Much depends on the individual animal. Some animals require a dose of a pint to a quart. Many remedies are given as a specific in this case but the above is the most reliable. Turpentine is also recommended in severe cases. Three teaspoonfuls mixed in a pint of linseed oil is about the right dose. Do not attempt the internal application of turpentine in milk. The operation is dangerous in a high degree. Turpentine is also a good remedy for scours in calves. Two teaspoonfuls in a pint of linseed oil is a good dose. Another remedy is one part turpentine to two parts of linseed oil. Mr. Lapointe declared he would be pleased to see the Governor-General given the same powers in this direction as the Governor-General of Australia.

Premier Bennett's plan to refund 1 680 millions maturing bonds and other obligations which fall due within the next three years will save the country approximately $10 000 000 per year in interest charges.

The conversion loan now being issued will carry for the most part one per cent more interest than the exemptions but continue only until the maturity of the bonds it aims being refunded. After that income from the conversion becomes taxable.

In response to the invitation extended during the Imperial Conference by Right Honorable T. E. The Census of Canada 1931

In the opening weeks of June every family and every home in Canada will be visited by a representative of the Government for the great national purpose of taking the seventh census of Canada.

The census is really a stocktaking. That is, it provides the information to enable the Government and others interested in the development of the country to formulate progressive policies for the happiness, comfort and prosperity of our people.

All the information supplied is strictly confidential, and the officers of the Government are subject to severe penalty if they disclose any of the information which is given to them by residents in the country, to any other than the Government.

Furthermore, it has nothing whatever to do with taxation, or military service, or compulsory school attendance, or immigration, or any such matter; and the Government itself cannot use it except for statistical ends.

The Government representatives will put the same questions to all, and it is your duty as a resident of this country to answer promptly and truthfully. The Government is very anxious to avoid forcing anyone to answer these questions, but it is empowered to do so in the few cases where individuals may refuse.

Story Of The Tanks War's One New Idea

Since the invention of the tanks by practically the only new idea born of a war whose chief characteristic was one of utter futility is the use of armoured motor cars for the transportation of distinguished persons. Lloyd George, who was a member of the British Cabinet during the war, used one in 1918. In those days the armoured car was a new thing, and was considered a fitting vehicle for a statesman to use. Now, however, it is considered rather old-fashioned, and Mussolini, Hitler and other modern statesmen have been seen in the latest models of armoured limousines. Another car Baldwin has been using is a Rolls-Royce armoured car, which was presented to him by the Conservative Party. Fitted with seats for four persons, it has a speed of 70 miles an hour, and is considered the last word in armoured cars. Round the Country

A bill has been introduced in the Federal Parliament providing for a tariff board. We used to have a tariff board but Mr Bennett was not very well satisfied with it and the additions that applied to the board of each member on the principle no doubt that a tariff board should be in synchrony with the existing government. Moreover, we wish to be quite fair to Mr Bennett. The chairman of the former tariff board, Mr Moore resigned from his position and ran for a seat in the House. This did not look well under the circumstances and his action showed that one member of the Board at any rate was a political nominee. Mr Bennett has accordingly placed a provision in the statute that a member of the new tariff board cannot resign and run for parliament until two years after he resignation. The members of the new board may be in sympathy with the existing government and they may be high tariff advocates but they will have to stay out of politics for two years after their resignation from the board. This is a more drastic provision than applies to our judges who can resign and run for parliament any time the spirit moves them.

The position on the proposed new board will be much sought after. They will carry a salary that is higher than that of our judges or cabinet ministers. The chairman will get $15,000 per year and the associate members $10,000. We can see the faithful waiting upon the Premier in droves, seeking the positions for themselves or their friends. But Mr Bennett is accustomed to pressure of that kind. He is paying high salaries and those salaries will attract the best men available.

Of course the new board will not be allowed to investigate the question whether a low or a high tariff is best for Canada. It will simply work on the basis that a high tariff is what we want and what we should have. We are passing through the high tariff phase in our economic and political life and we might as well have it good and hard and get it over with. We had the National Policy previous to 1896 and we are going to have the Canada First Policy from 1930 onwards. How long we don't know. Perhaps for the next ten years.

One clause in the new Act for the guidance of the board suggests that it shall inquire into the difference in the cost of production of agricultural products at home and abroad with the object of finding out just how much tariff is required to enable agriculture a proper in Canada Tariffs unfortunately cannot help agriculture because we are an exporting country.

On the other hand, if all countries based their tariffs on this principle there would be very little international trade The movement of goods from one country to another is the result of the fact that there are variations in price. As a general rule, no person in Canada buys goods in the United States except when the price is cheaper. On the other hand no person in a foreign country buys goods in Canada except when the price is cheaper. If tariffs throughout the world were adjusted invariably on the principle that the tariff must more than equalize the cost of production plus the transportation, all trade would cease because the reasons for moving goods from one country to another would be eliminated. In other words, the whole world would be separated into compartments without commerce moving from one to another, except in cases where one country does not produce the goods it buys from another.

This is the ideal of the extreme protectionist. Make Canada the perfect picture of a protectionist country with the movement of commodities reduced to a minimum. The ideal of the low tariff advocate, on the other hand, is to have as much trade as possible among the countries of the world.

Which policy is better for Western Canada? Large exports and imports, meaning international business, or decreasing world trade through the attempt to build up Canadian industries?

Western Canada, as a whole, essentially the agricultural part of it, has no doubt about the question. To sell our wheat and other agricultural products, we must have international trade We must buy where we sell. When our purchases in Great Britain fall off, our export trade with that country fall off. A young, growing country like Canada should have all the international trade possible to help solve the problem of agricultural marketing. It is a good policy to build up Canadian industries, but not at the expense of our basic industry.

One would think that our progressive representatives at Ottawa would come this East in all the start, enthusiasm and broadcast it to the halls of parliament. But they say little about it. They talk about all subjects in the world except tariff. In fact they are themselves divided on the question of tariffs Our representative for Camrose anti-tariffary goes so far as to claim that tariffs have little bearing in solving the problems of the Western farmer The leading men in Great Britain think otherwise The Prince of Wales, in a recent speech, on trade with the Argentine, stated that the obstacles raised by tariffs are the chief cause of the present world depression Mr Arthur Henderson, who represents Great Britain in the League of Nations at Geneva, in a recent speech, spoke as follows "The only remedy for the existing depression must come from international co-operation In all countries, unemployment, poverty, actual starvation exist, yet while men walk the streets, unsale the food would be once bread for their hungry families, the granaries of the European and overseas countries are bursting with food that cannot be sold Countless millions of capital are lying idle in banks, while hundreds of millions of people are underfed No one nation is able to deal with this economic crisis alone Only international action can ward off a greater economic disaster which must result from new economic warfare Tariff walls are the worst sinners. They are barriers to prosperity Because of them, creditor nations demand gold of which there is none, instead of goods of which there is an abundance The debtor must be allowed to sell his goods if he is to pay his debts. The tariff system is undermining the very foundations of our economic structure."

The Progressive members for Alberta are missing a golden opportunity to place the views of the people of Western Canada on the tariff before the whole country at the present session of parliament. The time will come when the chief countries of the world will be forced to accept the views set forth by some of the leading statesmen of Great Britain

Stettler, Alta.,
June 3, 1931.

Editor of the Independent,
Stettler, Alberta.

Dear Sir —

In reading over the Caddoty local news I note a letter by your correspondent championing the action of the Stettler Women's Institute, and inviting the complainants to take a trip to the Caddoty Cemetery.

I would advise this party to read those letters carefully and he or she will find there is no criticism on Mr Morris's work. They also state that they could not keep this man owing to financial stringency. They seem to be of the opinion that the same conditions do not exist here If not, why the Tag Day?

Did the residents of the writer's district get tired of Tag Days that they had to dispense with the services of such a valuable man?

May I suggest the Caddoty correspondent look over the grounds of the Stettler Court House, that have been built up by one of our local citizens. It will, no doubt, compare favorably with any beauty spot they have in Caddoty, and there is no doubt that there are some more men in Stettler who could be found that could carry on the work at the Cemetery

There are ratepayers who have patronized the town for years by paying taxes, and spending their money locally, and also several of those who gave their all for freedom and democracy, during the years of 1914-1918. May I suggest that these ladies try an advertisement in their local paper and find out how many applicants they will get from the above-mentioned residents, and act an example to the younger citizens, when they hold their Tag Day, by proclaiming that they have seen the error in their ways, and engaged a local man to do this work.

Here is hoping, that when the ladies put on their Tag Day, they will be able to say they have a man working who is a returned soldier or ratepayer, and find he is very efficient.

YOURS TRULY,
Wm. W. DANIELS

Tariff Rates On 200 Items Changed

Ottawa — The tariff changes announced by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, in his budget on June 1st, as summarized as follows

1 —General wage and character of the changes Although not a general revision almost all schedules are amended as regards certain duties thereof the total number of rate-bearing items included in the resolutions being almost 200

2 A feature of the amendments is the provision for the collection of duty on customers in the case of any goods which enter Canada packaged and ready for the market, shoes, e.g., chosen, powdered milk, mineral, dried fruits, soap, etc.

3 Except in a very few instances alteration in rates are confined to the intermediate and general tariffs.

4 —Agricultural and other food products Increases under the intermediate or general tariff, or both, are made in respect of many cross commodities, the more notable being live hogs, fresh meats, bacons, hams and shoulders, shelled eggs, cheese, hops, powdered milk, peas, Indian corn, hay, field roots and garden seeds, canned fruit and vegetables, canned, oranges.

Automobiles are divided for duty purposes into three classes up to $1200 in value from $1201 to $2100 and above $2100 On the first named there are no changes in duty on the second group the general tariff is increased from 27 1-2 per cent to 30 per cent and on the 3rd group the intermediate and general rates are increased to 30 per cent and 60 per cent respectively Drawback of duty for home consumption will no onger apply on automobiles within this latter class, while drawback in respect of the two lower price groups will not be paid on a specified list of made-in-Canada parts

Used automobiles are prohibited entry, unless as settlers' effects or travelers' vehicles.

Duty on Anthracite

6 —Duties of 60 cents and $1 a ton, respectively, are imposed upon anthracite coal and coke under the general tariff, the rates on bituminous coal and coal screenings are raised to 75 cents, general tariff and rates on charcoal are set at $7.50 per ton.

7 —The leather schedule secures increased rates under all tariffs, the alterations affecting kid upper leathers, sole leather, lace leathers, belting leather and binding, glove leather and leather garments

8 — Magazines and periodicals are made subject to a specific duty of 1½ cents a pound, under the general tariff, except in the case of such as may be placed on an ex-amplified list by order-in-council, brings any shipments

9 —Phillips Milk of Magnesia has very medical endorsement. And economical to use. Take a half teaspoonful when you feel sour, gassy or constipated. Don't diet, and don't suffer. Phillips Milk of Magnesia is pleasant to take, and always effective.

Federal Deficit In Fiscal Year Of $75,244,973

Ottawa — In a statement issued to the press following the delivery of the budget speech in the House of Commons, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance, announced that the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1931, resulted in a deficit of $75,244,973 for the fiscal year 1930-31 which ended with the close of the initial period for the past year was $51,747,980 as compared with $69,000,000 in the preceding twelve months

The later on cheques transportation were brought in a total revenue of $13 982 000 during the year which ended March 31st last, or nearly five millions less than in the preceding fiscal year

Income tax receipts show an increase of more than two million dollars, the total collected for the past fiscal year were $71 048 000 as at his best.

Subscriptions to the new consolidated subscription in the U. S. amount 600,021 000 in the preceding year.

The transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, said Mr Bennett, materially reduced revenues from Dominion land, there being a decrease of $1,100,000 to $1,050,000 in the year under review

Cattle Calves Hogs Sheep
May 27th, 1931

The market on for this week is to be offered on the dull order Spears are showing an indifferent attitude and salesmen are not meeting these offerings only to be sold. This is particularly true of heavy rough cattle On Monday prices were showing a weak, draggy tone. Tuesday Tuesday's drapers are lasting generally 25c per hundred and at times 50c per hundred lower than consigned with last week, on all classes of medium cattle but especially heavy steers.

The general run of hog sales are selling at 8c to 8c.25 with the extreme tops at 8c.50 Generally speaking of good butcher steers running from $6.50 to $6.75 and as low as $5.25 for the good heavies with cattle of choice kinds bringing up to $6. The exception to medium steers from $5.25 to 5c, the general run of good to choice selling at $5.25 to 5.75 Selling at the front of the norward on May 7th 31 company with 15 Mr. Hamilton having his wash lines and having troubles with the James of the Hamilton and has a queer of twenty minutes to find an hour was boasting it with an iron rod Hamilton was the hero in the end the ground till only made one at $6.50 to 6c. Another account was holding the horse when witness left.

C. McCaul gave evidence as Mr Walker with slight variation in a few details corroborating evidence. Witness admitted that it was possibly accidental that the horse got out. He had stated that he would not bother trying

Mrs. Thompson was called by Mr Hinn and testified that he had wanted the horse in question and that it could not be worked unless it was hames shown. On cross examination, he declared that he had driven team for 30 years and that small hobby horse had to be hames. In answer to a question he said he had never actually killed a horse by abusing it. He used a regular whip when hobby horses and spring mules that are not ready for market or those are not showing. The bulk of the losses during this past week said river. 67.20 to 68.30 for 2 to 20 cows 64 to 67 1 HORTON.

Case Of Cruelty To Dumb Animals

(By Valley Journal)

Shannon had the unusual experience of hearing court on Thursday May 21st, when P. A. Hinn, of Rosebury was sealed before Magistrate Pepper in the U F A Hall on a charge of cruelty to animals. The accused pleaded not guilty

Information was laid by Mr James who was the first witness for the Crown Mr James testified that he had observed a certain team of Mr Hinn during the month of April and took it to Mr Hinn agree with the assignment with last month, on all counts of against cattle but especially heavy cattle.

The general run of hog sales are selling at 8c to 8c.25 with the extreme tops at 8c.50 Generally speaking of good butcher steers running from $6.50 to $6.75 and as low as $5.25 for the good heavies with cattle of choice kinds bringing up to 6c. His appearance had been that by his dog a badly burns it went or it didn't go. He either used a reffle club or the side of a line to pollet punishment on a horse.

R B Bailey testified that he was a close neighbor of accused and had crossed his farm on the day of the alleged attack and had visited with the accused. He knew accused and he claimed were very accepting farmers and the horse with a pair of mules. He knew and was familiar with the horse and had driven it himself. He had seen accused on the farm on this occasion. He had not noticed any abuse of the horse.

Mr Hunt Moore stated that he had owned the horse and that it was 12 years old. He had never tried to work it Accused then stated the horse had died about 15 minutes after he had left it had climbed down in a bank and did not die as a result of the jumping. He claimed that he had only used a pair of mules and very lurkers would have come with the animal and that the evening witnesses were themselves guilty of greater cruelty on occasions. He advised them to read 5th chapter of St. John's gospel, which tells of Christ making the cripple as a man, who was without aid to rest the first down at the water when they had brought before him.

After considering the evidence the magistrate ordered the prisoner to stand up and said that the evidence proved to him that the accused had been guilty of extreme cruelty and that he would impose a fine of $25 and costs, or thirty days hard labor in Lethbridge jail.

Accused protested that the sentence was unjust also that he could not pay the fine and that his family would be destitute if he went to jail. The sentence however stood, and with the help of friends the fine was paid The case was prosecuted by the A.P.P. officer from the Drumheller detachment while the accused conducted his own defence very capably

PURSUAL OF R. C. VYSOOKI FAMILY, 67 MILES AT CAMROSE ON TUESDAY

The funeral of the late Mr and Mrs. R. C Vysoki and their daughter Mary and Mamie, was held at St Andrew's Church, on Tuesday afternoon at last week at 2 30 o'clock. Ven. Archdeacon O. Saskatchewan Pool Cheif Predicts Policy Changes

Will Give Farmers Chance of Using Pool for 1931 Crop to Their Greatest Benefit

Regina, — "Developments within the next month or so may have as important bearing on the marketing of the 1931 crop. The future policy of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool has been under careful consideration, but no statement can be made public yet. Meantime, the Pool board is in weekly consultation with pool officials in the other provinces, and a definite announcement of policy will be made as soon as possible."

This was the statement issued by A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, today (1st of June).

"Directors of the pool are not idle at this time," declared the pool chief. "They are fully aware of the difficulties that face farmers at present price levels continue all throughout this summer, and particularly if the season in which the pool farmer will be placed in delivering grain at such prices on a safe initial payment.

Board Serious

"Organization, as well as individuals must use judgment and restraint in dealing with extraordinary conditions and must be able to adjust their business to prevailing circumstances in the hope that they will give greatest promise of safeguarding and saving their members.

"This fact is recognized by the pool board, and farmers may rest assured that the policy adopted will be one calculated to give producers the opportunity of using their own organization in disposing of their crop, with the greatest possible benefit to themselves and with due regard to the co-operative principles upon which the pool is established."

Mr McPhail condemned the action of individuals who were spreading rumors of the pool's inability to meet the situation.

"Unfounded rumors concerning possible pool developments cannot be of any assistance to farmers affected," he declared, "and may on the other hand, do considerable harm by tending to break down united action which is the only hope the producer has of weathering the economic storm."

Bank Of Montreal Issues Strong Semi-Annual Statement

In First Half-year Bank has Added Greatly To Its Holdings of High Grade Investments Liquid Assets Equal to 55.73 Per Cent of Total Liabilities to the Public.

The semi-annual statement of the Bank of Montreal just issued, contains many interesting features, outstanding among which is the very strong position of this leading institution, as evidenced by substantial increases in its already large holdings of Dominion Government, Provincial Government and other high-grade securities. The strengthening of the Bank's holdings in this attractive form of investment has been possible, doubtless, owing to the increased demand for accommodation from general business and also to a marked contraction in call loans in Canada and elsewhere.

The statement, which is for the six months to April 30th, shows total assets of $781,207,705, compared with $738,252,257 at the end of the fiscal year to October 31st last. Of this total, liquid assets amount to 366,956,921, equal to 55.72 per cent of total liabilities to the public, included in these are cash holdings equal to 11.16 per cent of public liabilities, represented by gold and subsidiary coin of $20,795,000, Dominion Notes of $64,850,000 and Bank of Canada Central Gold Reserves of $5,000,000.

The largest holding in liquid assets are in Dominion and Provincial Government securities which stand at $229,308,000, as compared with $181,107,498 at the end of the fiscal year and Canadian municipal securities and British, foreign and other public securities of $61,803,000, up from $46,461,741. The total increase in the holdings of these high-grade securities in the six months amounted to over $25,000,000.

The general construction in business activity throughout the country is reflected by current loans which now stand at $278,986,000, down from $288,173,628. At the same time, call and short loans in Canada have declined to $71,307,-000 from $77,660,000 and call and short loans outside of Canada are down to $48,990,762 from $66,981,-732.

Due to general conditions that have prevailed, total deposits show a decrease and stand at $660,796,-000, compared with $667,309,762 as of October 31st last.

Profit and Loss Account

The profit and loss account shows a substantial falling off in earnings as compared with the corresponding period last year This is probably due to a larger proportion of the Bank's reserves being represented in its holdings of high trade securities and a lower rate of interest earned on its foreign reserves. The profits for the six months were $1,771,752, equal to 4.52 per cent on the combined capital stock, rest and balance of profit. This compares with $2,943,017 in the first six months of the previous year. The profits provided for the payment of two dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum and after allowances for taxes and bank premises, permitted of a further addition to profit and loss account.

Profits for the six months were applied as follows: dividends $1,-160,000, provision for taxes Dominion Government $320,000, and reserve for bank premises $200,000, leaving an amount of $151,752 to be added to the sum of $907,207 brought forward at the end of the bank's fiscal year.

Expert Lectures On Soil Drifting

The lecture given by Mr R. [illegible] in the Board of Trade Hall last [illegible] on Monday afternoon, [illegible] was [illegible] interesting to [illegible] on methods of controlling soil drifting and [illegible] keeping as a summary of his remarks which were illustrated by pictures.

Soil drifting has been very general since much of the three Western Provinces during the past winter and spring [illegible] a great deal of attention. It has become a serious menace to the whole crop, and farmers are taking several steps to control [illegible] more seriously the whole problem. It seems as though it requires a menace of this sort to get some farmers to stop and think of what their soil [illegible] back to, long if years ready seems to be there and how they have been abusing it for years.

Abuse of the soil which has gone on through the years by continued cropping without returning any or some matter to the soil is the outstanding cause for our present trouble. Organic matter must be [illegible] to bind the soil together and as a sponge to hold moisture. Through continuous cropping soil [illegible] the organic matter [illegible] has been burned out of the soil, leaving it light, easily crumbled, and in time, conditions to be "blown by the winds.

Soil moisture and weather conditions during the past winter and spring were just right to encourage drifting. In general, fall moisture and snow was lacking and high winds have prevailed, during this time. This is a combination that might not occur again for several years. However, we cannot depend absolutely upon this being the case. We must give thought and consideration to methods of preventing.

A great many farmers are keenly fully used in Southern Alberta. Any system of summer fallow that will control weeds and keep the stubble and trash on the surface will help to control drifting. Trash helped to hold it. This is practicable only on small acreages.

METHODS OF CONTROL

Since the cause for soil drifting in general is the lack of fibre in the soil, making it light and easily crumbled, the only permanent remedy which can be applied is to return this fibre or organic matter to the soil by most form as quickly as possible. This can be done by sowing to Western Rye grass, Brome Grass or brush. Brome, when established, is the most permanent. The manure can be used to much better advantage than ever before when one is looking for quick results as the grass roots have a more stimulating effect than sweet clover.

There are some light sandy soils that were put under cultivation which should never have been taken out of the native sod. It might be practical and best to get them back into sod of some kind again and leave them for pasture.

Farmers in general who are not growing sweet clover in a rotation should need a cultivator instead of those grass crops each year even though the acreage is small. This will gradually help to restore the [illegible] content to the soil, and the roots will act as a binder

STRIP FARMING

Strip farming is practiced quite generally in parts of Southern Alberta, and seems to be quite effective in checking drifting. A farm of [illegible] 320 acres in strips from 10 to 20 rods wide and these strips are farmed alternately each year to summer fallow and crop. This keeps a strip of stubble between strips of summer fallow during the fall and winter months.

This may seem to many farmers to be a very unhandy method of farming but on certain light soils it seems to be a practical method of checking drifting.

METHODS OF SUMMER FALLOW

Soil drifting very seldom occurs during the summer fallow season. It usually begins in the late winter or spring of the year. Some methods of working the summer fallow so as to keep the stubble and trash on top as a protection against wind have proven very satisfactory. Stubble should never be turned before summer fallow work begins nor should it be buried by several any method of working that will keep the stubble at the surface is satisfactory.

If the weeds on the summer fallow can be controlled only by cultivating which will bury the stubble so that it cannot be used the following spring as a protection for the soil, then we must resort to the cultivator for ridging the soil and form ridges as will only remove land are available for the prevention of drifting. When summer fallow is pursued early the amount of working necessary to control weeds during the summer is usually enough to break down all weeds. With the stubble turned and the weeds broken loose, the prevention of drifting on such land depends upon the way it is handled the following spring. On light and medium soils the duck foot cultivator or spring tooth harrow should be used before [illegible] drilling in order to bring up clods of moist soil to bake on the surface where it should not be broken down by harrowing or packing either [illegible] or after drilling. The surface must be left rough or ridged at all times to break the force of the winds.

PLOWING FALLOW

During the past few years practices have been rapidly increased in favor. It may be used on all types of soil, and is [illegible] the cost of summer fallow. When it has been done properly so as to control the weeds the [illegible] land can be kept almost equal to those on plowed fallow.

The important points to be observed in the type of fallow are:—

1st. Do not burn the stubble [illegible] land. Thorough cleaning of the surface to check drifting.

2nd Use an implement like the harrow plow or duck foot cultivator to completely destroy the weeds and [illegible] of like that has been taken out during the fall when they have been cropped.

The growing of Western Rye Brome Grass and Sweet Clover will be the only means of permanently checking drifting.

Strip farming is being successfully used in Southern Alberta.

Any system of summer fallow that will control weeds and keep the stubble and trash on the surface will help to control drifting. Trash helped to hold it. This is practicable only on small acreages.

Since the cause for soil drifting in general is the lack of fibre in the soil, making it light and easily crumbled, the only permanent remedy which can be applied is to return this fibre or organic matter to the soil by most form as quickly as possible. This can be done by sowing to Western Rye grass, Brome Grass or brush. Brome, when established, is the most permanent. The manure can be used to much better advantage than ever before when one is looking for quick results as the grass roots have a more stimulating effect than sweet clover.

There are some light sandy soils that were put under cultivation which should never have been taken out of the native sod. It might be practical and best to get them back into sod of some kind again and leave them for pasture.

Farmers in general who are not growing sweet clover in a rotation should need a cultivator instead of those grass crops each year even though the acreage is small. This will gradually help to restore the [illegible] content to the soil, and the roots will act as a binder

Strip farming is practiced quite generally in parts of Southern Alberta, and seems to be quite effective in checking drifting. A farm of [illegible] 320 acres in strips from 10 to 20 rods wide and these strips are farmed alternately each year to summer fallow and crop. This keeps a strip of stubble between strips of summer fallow during the fall and winter months.

This may seem to many farmers to be a very unhandy method of farming but on certain light soils it seems to be a practical method of checking drifting.

METHODS OF SUMMER FALLOW

Soil drifting very seldom occurs during the summer fallow season. It usually begins in the late winter or spring of the year. Some methods of working the summer fallow so as to keep the stubble and trash on top as a protection against wind have proven very satisfactory. Stubble should never be turned before summer fallow work begins nor should it be buried by several any method of working that will keep the stubble at the surface is satisfactory.

If the weeds on the summer fallow can be controlled only by cultivating which will bury the stubble so that it cannot be used the following spring as a protection for the soil, then we must resort to the cultivator for ridging the soil and form ridges as will only remove land are available for the prevention of drifting. When summer fallow is pursued early the amount of working necessary to control weeds during the summer is usually enough to break down all weeds. With the stubble turned and the weeds broken loose, the prevention of drifting on such land depends upon the way it is handled the following spring. On light and medium soils the duck foot cultivator or spring tooth harrow should be used before

The Pale Western Cutworm Abundant

Many fields of grain have been in some sections destroyed by cutworms in Alberta, more particularly in Southern Saskatchewan this spring. The high winds, frost and dry weather have taken their toll of the crops, and for this reason the damage done by cutworms is being overlooked in many cases. There is no doubt that this pest is present and widespread and those very before in the history of agriculture of the Province.

The close examination of many fields will show that the pale western cutworm is present in sufficient numbers to destroy the crop even if there had been no soil drifting or frost. Farmers cannot afford to overlook this fact in planning their operations for the rest of this season.

EXAMINE FIELDS BEFORE RE-SEEDING

Much of the abandoned or thinned crop acreage will probably be re-seeded if sufficient rainfall occurs to make this possible. Before any such fields are re-seeded they should be carefully examined to make sure that there are no cutworms present. In many cases less than eight or ten cutworms per square yard in the field re-seeding may be done with safety, but where the number is more than this, the cutworms will make short work of any crop that is put in.

WHEN CAN RE-SEEDING BE DONE?

The date when re-seeding can be started depends upon the time of the development of the cutworms in each individual field. In some cases the crops was very uneven this season and the cutworms are present in all stages of development. Where re-seeding can be started about June 15th and in others where there can be no re-seeding before June 25th. The only method of determining this is to secure a few copy of the pale western cutworm circular which gives complete instructions on when fields may be re-seeded

RED-BACKED CUTWORMS ALSO PRESENT

In many of the districts the red-backed cutworm is also present in injurious numbers. Some of these infestations are entirely red-backed cutworms, while others are a mixture of both species. Fields infested with ONLY RED-BACKED CUTWORMS can be treated with the poisoned bait, but CANNOT BE USED TO CONTROL THE PALE WESTERN CUTWORM. Where this latter is more prevalent no effective measure can be used

CUTTARD AND ALBERTA FARMERS PREPARE FOR 1952 GRAIN SHOW

Kent County Producers and Cuttard Alberta, Farmers Will Be at World's Grain Exhibition In 1952

From widely separated points, Kent County Ontario and Cuttard Alberta, comes information that field crop producers of these sections are preparation to enter the competitive classes at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina, Canada, in 1952.

A number of corn growers of Kent County intend to make a bid for honors with corn in the ear classes. They will endeavor to secure a share of the $1,000 cash awards offered in these classes.

A large amount of enthusiasm and interest has been aroused in Kent County during the 1950 season and subsequent from this will be used for planning this season, making it unnecessary to go outside the county to get a great deal of it. Interest in the 1952 Exhibition and Conference was aroused at meeting others as well as corn growers in the county by agents of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. A large number of entries in the many special competitive classes are therefore, expected

Farmers of the Cuttard district in Alberta are also preparing to make entry in the various competi-

Coccidiosis Of Poultry

Coccidiosis of poultry can form only referred to as due to a single variety of parasite. The main type of disease with recognized causal form with bloody diarrhoea, and parasitous intestinal worm caused good as resulting from the parasite attacking that portion of the intestine. It has recently been shown, however, that four separate and distinct intestinal parasitic infections which attack the ceca (intestinal pouches) are also commonly characterized by outbreaks of attack cited poultry. Recent investigations have been carried out which probably have paved the way through the final steps to two months time after which the check will be immunized to future attack with the particular type of coccidiosis. Future infection with one or more of the other four species (the parasites) may occur consistently at a later period.

Another species Eimeria Acervulina attacks the first part of the small intestine the portion immediately following the gizzard. This infection is not so acute as the aforementioned one but the characteristic intestinal condition which operates in the portion of the intestine where liquid digestion by pancreatic and intestinal juices takes place. These combined results from the nervous symptoms, including partial or complete paralysis of the legs.

CONTROL OF THE DISEASE.—Unfortunately there is no specific for the treatment of affected birds, which will be found to have anything but satisfactory. In addition there is heavy mild feeding, up to 40 per cent. of the season during a acute attack has had widespread epidemics. It was prevented on the grounds of counting an acid condition of the gut, but this condition is hardly sound because the coarse or dressage best in the more vital portions of the gut. Milk in small quantity, up to 5 per cent of the ration, is reckoned for its high nutritive properties, but the unfavorable of large dosage as a medicinal agent has been disproved. Epsom salts may be readily employed in place of milk. Care must be taken however not to overt the birds by feeding of raw eggs containing poisonous infection.

Sanitation—as of food will not prevent outbreaks of spread the disease after infection has taken—proper sanitation should be directed toward the prevention of infection. This lies in efficient of accomplishment in the following: Birds and chicks should be kept scrupulously low as soon as they show symptoms of the big. The accomplishment of this is dependent upon keeping the young birds separated at a sufficient distance from the adult birds and their surroundings that the parasites may not be carried to them. Remember that the adult birds are the parasitous carriers of the disease. Separate coops should be provided for the young birds and chicks. Materials will be employed

His son whispering sweet nothings in her ear as they sat watching the moon. "Darling," he crooned, "I'll never never forget you."

"I'll tell you something that will make you forget me," said the fair maiden.

"What is it, my darling?" he asked.

"The memorial to my birthday," she answered.

HISTORY OF STETTLER BOARD OF TRADE

By R. D. Pell, Secretary - 1921.

Stettler Board of Trade was first organized on the 15th of December, 1910, by Messrs. [illegible] and Mr. Bristow, who was then a commercial traveller, and who visited Stettler and district on behalf of the Calgary Board of Trade. Mr. Bristow addressed a meeting in the Methodist church, which was then the only building in Stettler, and explained the objects and aims of the Board of Trade. Those present were Messrs. Pigeon and Hamilton, who were the only merchants in Stettler at that time. Mr. Bristow's address was very interesting and instructive, and he pointed out the many benefits which would accrue to Stettler and district by the formation of a Board of Trade. Those present decided to form a Board of Trade, and Messrs. Pigeon and Hamilton were appointed to act as secretary-treasurer pro tem. Mr. Pigeon was appointed secretary-treasurer, and Messrs. Hamilton, Bristow, Pigeon, Hall, Bowman, Gardner and Bennett were appointed as directors. Mr. Bristow was appointed to act as chairman pro tem. The first meeting was held in the Methodist church, and was attended by about 30 citizens. Mr. Bristow was appointed chairman, and Mr. Pigeon secretary-treasurer. The first business was the appointment of committees to look after the different lines of work. The following committees were appointed: Membership committee, Messrs. Pigeon, Hall and Bennett; Railway committee, Messrs. Bristow, Hamilton and Gardner; Publicity committee, Messrs. Bristow, Hall and Bowman; Agricultural committee, Messrs. Hall, Gardner and Bennett; Finance committee, Messrs. Hamilton, Bowman and Pigeon. The membership fee was fixed at $5.00 per annum, and the membership was limited to 100. The first membership fee was paid by Mr. Pigeon, and the first meeting of the Board of Trade was held on the 20th of December, 1910, when the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Bristow; vice-president, Mr. Hall; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Pigeon. The first meeting of the Board of Trade was held on the 20th of December, 1910, when the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Bristow; vice-president, Mr. Hall; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Pigeon. The Early Days Of Settler

By O. C. Bailey.

I will write something about the early days in Stettler that may be interesting to some of our newcomers. In 1904 I drove to what is now Stettler. Mr. Sander Ferguson and Mr. Matthias and others.

In the spring we commenced a well here and at every depth we there has been stable manure except at 14 and one 16 feet. Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Mosher and Mrs. Rosenau. This photo was taken from a section north of Lincoln's Lower Store. The building to the left is the Traders Bank. West is Farmers Implement. The two large buildings to the right are the Merchants Bank and the Post Office. The tops in the centre form the south side of Main Street, followed by the Methodist Church, and the old Stettler Hotel. The nearer to the extreme right is Nash Store on the south west of Taylor Street. The foreground shows the new burned over including North Main Street and North Alberta Avenue.

Some Early Settlers In Gadsby District

Early History Of Whetsel District

By A. E. McBeth.

The year 1907 marked the beginning of a rush of settlers to the outlying districts of Stettler. C. & E. almost railway. That year Mr. Otto was at that time considered by prospective settlers as a kind of no man's land when a person descended the long back on the west side of the Red Deer. After securely locking the hind wheels of the waggon against the pull of gravity and took the plunge through the creek he figured that here was a land as yet little touched by the hand of man. Of course there were a few scattered homesteads on this time's journey them being our genial neighbor Mr. H. C. Lohr, who, if I mistake not located on his present holdings in 1906. Bad roads, lack of bridges and the fact that the country was then thought to be almost impassable for wheeled vehicles, kept settlement back to a large extent. However, by the spring of 1907 a few more settlers had arrived, and the first real settlement of the district began. Among the first arrivals were Messrs. Sharpe and Coffeyn who went out over a hundred miles to get a piece to suit them.

SHOE BAGS

By using shoe bags on closet doors for stockings, on cupboard doors for coat hooks, and on cellar doors for garden gloves and rubbers, one saves much space.

cotton a couple or three years previous to this time.

Mr. Lohr, Burgess and Eaton, the latter also running cattle were the only ones located within the boundaries of the present Whetsel School District. In a few years Burgess and Eaton sold out and left the district. Whatever land they had was acquired by the Principal Bros.

A PLEASANT CHANGE

A dinner complained to the manager of a restaurant about a waiter.

"I'm glad to hear it," was the manager's response.

"Glad!" asked the amazed customer.

"Yes, it is a relief to hear a complaint that isn't about the food."

OBITARY

JOHN BENJAMIN RITTER

On Friday, June 5th, at Bethia, Alta., there passed away at John Benjamin Ritter, in his sixty-sixth year. Mr. Ritter was born at Sheffield, Ontario, on the 12th day of March, 1865, where he resided until some thirty years ago, when he moved to Alberta. He was of United English Loyalist stock and a Presbyterian in religion. He was highly respected by all of seven brothers and three sisters, all of whom survive him, also a loving wife and one son.

The funeral took place from the late residence on Monday, June 8th, Rev. J. M. Ashley officiating, interment in Survey Centre Cemetery.

Mr and Mrs Davies and their daughter Miss Davies motored to Edmonton on Tuesday.

Mrs. Dunbar came from Edmonton Wednesday, August in 1912 to Richard, where they farmed until 1918, when they kept a hotel in Bentley, Alberta, until 1929, when they moved to Stettler.

Mrs. Dunbar is survived by her husband, Mr. Matthew Dunbar, of Stettler, two sons, Mr. Garth Dunbar and Mr. Jean Dunbar, and two daughters, Mrs. Gowen and Mrs. Hewson, all of Bethia, and one brother, Mr. Robert Dunbar, of Stettler.

The funeral service was held in the Bethia United Church on Thursday afternoon, June 11th, at 2.30 p.m., Rev. Mr. Gardner officiating. Interment was made in Survey Centre Cemetery.

Waverly W. I. Notes

The June meeting of the above branch was held at the home of Mrs J. Lohr with fifteen members and eight visitors, also several new members in attendance.

We were more than pleased to have as our guests, ladies from the Union Hall and Forest Lake District.

This meeting, as usual, was opened with singing

A letter from Mrs J. Clark, late of Saskatchewan, now of Barrymore, Alberta, was read and enjoyed. We would appreciate hearing other members who have drifted from this particular branch in the past years.

It was passed unanimously to send a contribution to the Stettler Women's Institute to assist at the Cemetery work. We feel that this work is worthy of their every effort, and deserves assistance from all organizations and individuals in the surrounding district, as well as from those in the town of Stettler

Mrs J. Burns, our delegate to the Convention at Lacombe, gave us one of the very best reports we have ever had and we have been favored with some exceptionally good ones.

The convention came to order and opened from the Premier Hon. R. B. Bennett, some time previous, the meeting stating that the members of convention would draw with a resolution which had been forwarded from the Association. The Premier's letter read I have been so much engaged I have not understood and consequently to send an acknowledgement of your letter for some time at which I read with considerable interest. Since the date of your letter Mr. Stevens has come to Ottawa and I presume the communication sent to him has been dealt with. Appreciating for the delay and with kindest regards and best wishes to the members of your association. I am Yours sincerely R. B. Bennett.

Among the resolutions passed in the meeting were several of importance and among other things the members went on record as not advocating the formation of a Wheat league and setting forth brief by the reasons.

Resolution of Thanks

Resolved that we the Executive Board of the Camrose U. F. A. Constituency Association tender a vote of thanks and appreciation to the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and his government for their persistent attendance to Western farmers in obtaining a bonus of 2 cents on wheat freight rates, and also for tariff measures embodied to prevent dumping of agricultural products into Canada.

Provincial Session on Wheat

Whereas the Dominion Government has shown a persistent interest in helping to solve the economic troubles of the farmer and whereas the Government of Alberta has not on a greater obligation to show that they are worthy of the confidence of the Alberta farmers—

Therefore be it resolved that we ask the Provincial Government to grant a session of 4 weeks per limited length rates on wheat immediately to Dominion Government.

Indemnity Supplementary Re: Tax

Whereas under present conditions it is very difficult for farmers to meet and whereas the political opposition in the Alberta Legislature has during many sessions of the House advocated the elimination of the supplementary revenue tax and whereas the U. F. A. Government is now in power for approximately ten years, and during that time has not given any tax relief to farmers, and whereas the Province now has its provincial resources together with a substantial Dominion subsidy—

Therefore be it resolved that it is only reasonable for the Provincial government to abolish the supplementary revenue tax as a relief measure in these disbursed times.

Re Red Arrowhead Wheat Board

Whereas there are very doubtful of the success of a Wheat Board unless the Canadian buyers strongly resent any form of organized selling which is calculated to create an artificial market, that they will be borne out by the dire failure of the U. F. A. farm board in the handling of wheat and cotton—

Therefore be it resolved that we do not advocate the formation of a wheat board

Paid Up Pay Full Price

Whereas the initial payment offered by the Pool is entirely inadequate to be of much practical use in meeting the obligations of the producers even though any final payments were ever forthcoming and whereas the Pool appears to be nothing short of an undesirable organization to conform the terms of the pool contract that prices are so low—

Therefore be it resolved that we ask that the farmer be paid the full market price for his wheat on the day of its delivery.

Support Farmers Stations

Whereas to discontinue to maintain the farmers' market stations which have so long supplied trees and shrubs to beautify and shelter prairie farms should indeed be a cruel calamity and a misdirection of economy—

Therefore be it resolved that we ask the Provincial Government to continue to the Provinces to come to some agreement with the Dominion Government to maintain the forestry stations of the West.

Embargo Oil Production

Whereas we have been looking forward for many years to the Province getting possession of its natural resources and whereas since the Provinces have been taken over those has been none immediately and whereas under the policy of administration particularly the oil resources and whereas instead of restricting production in consideration of dry gas conservation we are of the opinion that the best interest of the owner of oil would be best served by the encouragement of production as an economic measure and as a means of lowering the cost of production which can only come from a surplus production at home and whereas we pay in foreign countries approximately 200,000,000 per annum which is a severe national drain of money—

Therefore be it resolved that we request to the government that a embargo should be affected for any oil concern which will discontinue any new oil structure capable of producing crude oil on a commercial basis as is done in some states of the U. F. A. and be it further resolved that we ask the Provincial Government to give fair play and generous encouragement to the many independent oil companies who so valiantly have that issue on oil pioneering and who are responsible for the production of all and who constitute the only hope for competition in the future; and we further ask that there be no discrimination against farmers being supplied gas and oil direct from the producers on the field and that the refineries be made common carriers.

U. F. A. Not Free Press

Whereas the U. F. A. publication no longer acts as a free, wholesome and unbiased press in connection with the various activities of the U. F. A. particularly with regard to industrial and political matters, and whereas unless a paper such as the U. F. A. can constantly and freely comment on matters affecting the operations and policies of the various branches, such as the Wheat Pool, Co-operative Association, it is possible, perhaps probable, that the U. F. A. may not be in some future years a free and unbiased press and

Therefore be it resolved that we do not support the U. F. A. unless it becomes a free fearless and unbiased publication with full power to criticize and comment on the

Worlds Grain Exhibition and Conference

REGINA 1932

Farmers Will Win $210,750.00 in Prizes

The Dominion Government has announced that the Canadian farmers will compete for $210,750.00 in prizes at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held in Regina, Sask., July 18th to 30th, 1932.

$2,500 a first prize for 50 pounds of wheat, 50 pounds of oats, 50 pounds of barley.

$1,000 for 42 pounds of barley, 50 pounds of rye.

$500 for 10 pounds of alfalfa seed.

$100 for 10 pounds of peas, 20 pounds of flax, 10 pounds of timothy seed.

With the spread of noxious weeds before them, Canadian farmers should have no difficulty in filling the 1,000 entries which are required to make the exhibition and conference a success. Entries close on June 30th, 1932.

It will be the first time in the history of the Canadian West that a competition of grain and seed for agricultural purposes has been held under the auspices of a Provincial Government. Canadian National Exhibition, Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, Ontario Provincial Dairy Show, Ontario Provincial Horse Show, Ontario Provincial Sheep Show, Ontario Provincial Swine Show, Ontario Provincial Poultry Show, Ontario Provincial Seed Fair, Ontario Provincial Corn Show, Ontario Provincial Potato Show, Ontario Provincial Vegetable Show, Ontario Provincial Fruit Show, Ontario Provincial Flower Show, Ontario Provincial Bee Show, Ontario Provincial Honey Show, Ontario Provincial Maple Syrup Show, Ontario Provincial Cheese Show, Ontario Provincial Butter Show, Ontario Provincial Egg people made any money out of boxing. For one champion there are a thousand preliminary boys, and for one master manager who gets his measure in the higher brackets there are a hundred who live in shabby boarding houses and eat irregularly. That is the reason—and opinion of Jack Kofoed, a veteran sports writer who recently has an article on the subject in the North American Review in which he shows that the rewards of boxing are not in proportion to the risks and the training. Many champions, Kofoed says, have ended their days in poverty, and the leaders in that profession are not the fighters but the bosses of the Hollywood stars with thousands of dollars a week, the agents of debaters a year, and those

Every motorist should change now to the New TEXACO MOTOR OIL because

THE new Texaco Motor Oil is the only oil which brings together in a single, wholly distilled lubricant every quality necessary to the complete and perfect protection of modern motors at every temperature and under every condition of modern driving.

This new Texaco Motor Oil, the most outstanding achievement in automobile engine lubrication since the first days of automobiles, has revolutionized lubrication values.

It is:

[1.] An oil which ensures complete lubrication.
[2.] An oil that means lower consumption.
[3.] An oil that insures cooler, quieter, more responsive operation of the engine under all driving conditions.
[4.] An oil that ensures freedom from carbon.
[5.] An oil that is free from injurious waxes and other substances.

With these lubricating qualities and the combination of the other advantages in the new Texaco Motor Oil, your motor can perform at its best.

There are five grades—C, D, E, F and G—correspondingto body to the Society of Automotive Engineers (S.A.E.) Viscosity ratings—10, 20, 30, 40 and 50. Change to the correct grade of the new Texaco body.

A HANDY BUTTON BAG

To make a handy button bag take a piece of oilcloth and cut it in the form of a circle about the size of a dinner plate run a piece of bias tape round the edge and put in a draw string When a button is required all one has to do is pull the bag out the cut the table when one can select a button at the nearest color and size without trouble It is a convenience to have two bags—one for the large buttons and one for the small ones.

SAVE YOUR SCRIBBLED LABELS

Now is the time to start saving all the gummed flaps of envelopes which have been sealed without first being stuck down. I refer to the envelopes in which envelopes are sent out with the flap off the gummed portion, place in an envelope and keep on hand until preserving time Then you will find that you are well supplied with gummed labels for your fruits and pickles.

TO AVOID SLIPPING

I found, when using my white enamel kitchen step-ladder that I on the rubber treads was considerably afraid of falling because the steps were slippery I used an old slat brush, cutting pieces to fit each step and tacked them on, and now the danger of falling has been eliminated Incidentally, footprints which previously collected the enamel, do not show

British Gun Practice May Ruin Scotsmen

Fishermen of the Hebrides are threatened with the loss of their livelihood unless steps are taken to prevent naval gunnery practice in their waters, according to a petition which has been sent to the Admiralty by the Fishery Board for Scotland.

The petition states that the practice has driven the fish away from the Minch, the channel between the Outer Hebrides and the mainland. Fishermen have lost business, and their vessels and gear have suffered damage. Some boats carry the paying fish, but the markets have not business.

As a result of the widespread alarm at the disappearance of the herrings and sprats, the position of the government has been considered by the government people in Inverness, and it is hoped that the Admiralty will see fit to change its practice to conform to the wishes of the fishermen.

To Make The Dead Care For The Living

There always will be people quite willing to allow the state to take care of them, but on the other hand there always will be people who are anxious to take care of themselves, but who, during a civilized existence, have been rendered totally unable to do so. Add to these the unemployed and unwilling to be employed, and the unfortunate and you have a problem that, as yet has not been solved. Add to that industrialists and politicians are always ready to take advantage of unemployment, disorganized productive and distributive systems, national debt, printing, sales forecasting statistical research, eliminating and creating, and more efficient internal management, and the financial and one other ingredients are all good in themselves, but they do not shrimp up to the problem. Very well then they will not serve John Smith and not one Bill Jones made a dictum to his factory without doing likewise when we are going beyond the log of the nest week, and Mrs. Smith be satisfied with 6 rooms when she has a family are getting a Cadillac. And if that is true and if we are not going to feed ourselves into thinking that we are now so wise that this will never occur again, it is not a bad time that we set in motion some machinery to take care of the inherent cycles of depression? The world always will have its ups and downs causing to misfortune from the state to the drones. The need always has to be interpreted and the obstacle. Then, is it not essential that we should always have a very vision of keeping the unnecessary from becoming necessary?

Right has said that equality engenders confidence, that Law as expressed in the court of morality. It is unconscious due to respect all men, and that the ultimate reason for the existence of government is to secure an endurable relationship between these basic conditions, and that cannot yet doing without the institutions by which the rule of law is made. But if we think that this will end the struggle upward then we surely do not understand human nature We agree that old age pensions, widows and orphans allowance, individual and community health and social legislation is the work of the state but we are not all agreed that state control of industries is a good thing. The writer thinks that state socialism, energized under exceptional circumstances, is the beginning of the end. The state in essence is a good master as the industrialist and his politically appointed experimenters and workers are not likely in the equal of those picked because of their qualification alone. But when the machinery of the industrialist breaks down and it finds himself unable to see that all the members of the state are employed it becomes the imperative duty of the people to find that employment or provide for them.

But where will the state secure the vast income necessary for this purpose? Taxes are already too high, a capital levy would upset our economic life and hurt the established institutions of the country upside down. We cannot surely support voluntary contributions for such a fund. Take away from man the incentive of gain and you take away progress steps or slows down

Does man require the incentive of gain? Does he require the commission? Does he require the incentive of protection for his family? I think he does and I would grant him it – but when he is fustanted with the law I think he will find a new – something more to say than it does at present. As a result of the widespread undesirable for his family and the best of indirect descendants probably he may be gain. Have we chances to say Sister Ann – he says – governed by the wealth we have then they have to be had or cured by them. Is the test-bed.

GREECE AS GUARDIANS

BEAT THE BEST DOG

The watchdog is being deposed from such estate as a symbol, probably. The gender to supersouth shall more trustworthy.

Anyway a number of poultry farmers in Monmouthshire England have been training old gunmen to protect their property against raiders by thieves, which have been smart ing that district. They say that the readers give warning of a raid more quickly than a watch dog would.

Probably, too, the thieves fear them more Geese can be extremely fierce and this quality is cultivated in the old gunders who are selected for watch duty. They are also getting a short time ago of their wings would dazzle a raider and would even break his leg

THE new Texaco Motor Oil is the only oil which brings together in a single, wholly distilled lubricant every quality necessary to the complete and perfect protection of modern motors at every temperature and under every condition of modern driving.

This new Texaco Motor Oil, the most outstanding achievement in automobile engine lubrication since the first days of automobiles, has revolutionized lubrication values.

It is:
[1.] An oil which ensures complete lubrication.
[2.] An oil that means lower consumption.
[3.] An oil that insures cooler, quieter, more responsive operation of the engine under all driving conditions.
[4.] An oil that ensures freedom from carbon.
[5.] An oil that is free from injurious gums and other substances.

With these lubricating qualities and the combination of the other advantages in the new Texaco Motor Oil, your motor can perform at its best.

There are five grades—C, D, E, F and G—corresponding in body to the Society of Automotive Engineers (S.A.E.) Viscosity ratings of 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50. Change to the correct grade of the new Texaco body.

Round the Country

In times like these when things should be united more than ever, western Canada in regard to the solution of western problems. Wheat is divided, farmers are three parties: Conservatives Liberals and Progressives in Saskatchewan the Liberal wing is split in two and also in Alberta the Progressive The Progressives are playing a lonely part in Alberta, but with the Liberals they could do much. With the Liberals and U.F.A. there would be a majority of the members from the western provinces, enough to control the situation. Then it is not essential that the Conservatives should adopt a party view on begging the unnecessary that has ever been done before?

Money Is Not Wealth

(From the Toronto Star)

In the Globe last Saturday appeared a letter signed Legion, which I found deeply moving. The writer has been a reader of that paper for many years, but since certain events in connection with the Communists and their friends

I am convinced he writes from an embittered heart. The letter It is not the Communists that constitute the threat to the present social system and the institutions of our country, but, in my opinion, the present deplorable condition of thousands of workers and farmers.

"Legion" gives his own case as an instance

For years I have worked worked hard and long, only God knows how I have worked denied myself ordinary pleasures to acquire a home for myself and family. Every cent I could save and saving went into my home It is fifteen years since my wife and I have had a vacation. I haven't been in a concert for years! I haven't even seen a ball game.

Automobiles, vacations, and a hundred and one other pleasures seemed nothing to him, in comparison to his duty with the law I would feel when the last payment was made and the home was ours outright.

And now the brutalities dream is shattered.

For eighteen months I have been working short time and for several months I will really "grind for animal shelter The powers of the law are powerless to help me. I no wider flows and fails; the mineral wealth thus far released is no help; also. After all that I have done I am still struggling to save the sacrifices the years of hard work, and the timber and pulpwood resources while lessening are far from depleted.

Canada Is Wealthy In Resources

Last We Forget, Wise Advice In Times When Big Problems Arise

LITTLE POSSIBILITY OF FAMINE AND PLAGUE

Unemployment Problem Less Serious Than in Other Countries

When discussing and emphasizing present-day problems that have a tendency to worry anyone, sometimes it is well to have at the same time a few words of advice that will help the individual prosper. Problems of today

Don't let us forget this Dominion Day that Canada is wealthy in resources are practically unimpaired and far from being developed the fact that all mill really "grind for animal shelter The powers of the law are powerless to help me. I no wider flows and fails; the mineral wealth thus far released is no help; also. After all that I have done I am still struggling to save the sacrifices the years of hard work, and the timber and pulpwood resources while lessening are far from depleted.

Grain, Livestock Abundant

Don't let us forget that Canada has a larger degree of unemployment, perhaps, as it is, than most countries, that she had a perfect recovery from war efforts than any other belligerent power, and that her financial reputation in the world markets continues at a particular height.

Don't let us forget that Canada has 30 million head of livestock – horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and 30 million poultry, and that she has 30 million people to feed and 30 million people to feed

King Of Siam Lost Absolute Monarchs

It has been supposed by a superficial that the visit of the King and Queen of Siam would make it a gay social and lonely act on the part of this writer to discover a couple in the Siamese mind. We don't think it would be very easy by an association of ideas which we can see, to pass the progress reminder of a visit by Queen Victoria or George Rex's predecessors. They are very distinguished guests whom we feel it is our privilege to entertain, and we feel glad. The other request that there were thousands of them in the Mackenzie River basin as much as the most. There might be one and that was at the reception at the Notre Dame last night for Queen Rambouillet, as it would be more appropriate on the occasion of the royal visit to offer something about the Rose and Queen and about Saint Anne. Perhaps he is not observing and at the same time most misinformed. Unless he has some of Abyssinia and the ruler of Afghanistan are absolute monarchs, but these kingdoms are relatively small, primitive and unimportant. Siam has a population of 11,000,000, but whether the rouse count as one or two we do not know. It is never it is a half-sized country but in the past two or three generations has made remarkable progress as the subjects of western methods in our Free country despite the absolute authority of the King and a happy country. Another important thing about it is that it is a tropical country and one may doubt if our civilization will ever be wholly adapted. In chief export is rice and it is the largest rice in the world. We regret that we have heard indirectly and we hope that His Majesty will be able to effect—that the quality of the rice has deteriorated, that otherwise rice has been mixed with the superior quality in an effort to get even with the importers who have offered lower prices to the growers.

King Prajadhipok, or to give him his full title, Phrabat Somdet, Pra Paramintr Maha Prajadhipok Pra Pot Klao Chao Ju Hua pronounced Pinehangam with the accent on the second syllable and who will be spoken of hereafter more congruity as the King was educated at Eton and saw military service in both the French and British armies than it ought to be remembered especially when there is any boasting on the part of our neighbors to the south, also fought in the World War on the side of the Allies, though what there ever owed to France except blush hosts, we do not know. The truth is that not so many years ago, even down on Siam, France desiring to expand her Indo-China colony which is next door to Siam, picked a quarrel with the little country and seemed to be on the point of over-running her. But Great Britain which happens to be a neighbor on the other side thought it advisable that Siam should be maintained as a buffer state. So France was persuaded to be satisfied with grabbing a subsidiary slice of Siamese territory.

The lovely chain composed the difficulty furnished the latter independence if Siam and that have been huge value for her during the war against Germany which amounted to little more than a friendly breakage. It remains that Siam struck by France had the effect of rousing the Siamese people of neither the commercial and of the bonding classes, to the love and of increasing their national interest. It was the father of the present King and of the Saints and general liberty. The old absolutism and a proper system of representative government was adopted. Liberty services were absorbed from Europe and also from the United States of America and not only did the Siamese, among was improved and kept healthy, but the country was put under way. Finally a regular army was created based on the system of universal conscription to which prince and peasant were equally subject. When King died the work was continued but not with the impetuosity of his eldest son who was deceived by diplomacy or unacquainted officials. The present King has won great praise from foreign observers by the wisdom and integrity with which the reform program has been carried forward.

The Siamese are essentially a conservative, obedient-worshipping people and that is one of the reasons they are perfectly content with their absolute monarchy. They reverence their King not only as the secular head of the state, but as the defender of their faith, which is Buddhist. He is a demi-god in their eyes and it was because of this that his father and grandfather were able to get into effect reforms which deprived some of the most aristocratic and powerful of their subjects of lucrative offices. There was no lack of revolt. All animosity was to a degree from on high if there is ongoing parliament's and in Siam, it is the absence of a middle class, a bourgeoisie. There are plenty of aristocrats who own large tracts of land and possess the respect with the King's name, and there are plenty of peasants who are content to be by the same methods they employed hundreds of years ago. But there is no class of management seems to have lasted for a near a thousand years and has also a certain element of permanency in it.

Winnipeg Coal Supply Purchased From U.S. Mines

Winnipeg, September 20—(CP)—Market for 42,000 Tons

RAILWAYS TO LOSE

Northern Mines Exported Should Interest to Give Them Order

Winnipeg — Alberta and Saskatchewan coal operators will not sell their mines the coal earned of coal this season to the two privately owned railways, handling plants in Winnipeg, because local interests have just closed a contract for 42,000 tons of United States steam coal. W. B. Hall, managing secretary of the Western Canada Fuel Association, declared Thursday.

"This," said Mr. Hall, "at 500 cents per ton makes Western Canada mines of 20,000 working days and calls for a minimum railroad of more than 6,000,000 revenue."

Recent statements in the press, declared Mr. Hall, indicated that the Winnipeg private central heating plants would have been holding the Canadian operators along that they were to get the business.

Those two local companies represent about 40,000 tons of coal a year. Their 42,000 has contract, according to Virginia operators, coupled with the purchase of 10,000 tons carry-over from the mild winter last year by the Winnipeg plants, would be enough to get no benefit from this business.

A statement was made at a banquet Wednesday evening at Hotel Fort Garry by Clarence Jamieson, director of the Trans-Trans Coal Company, that the privately owned Winnipeg municipal heating interests would buy Saskatchewan coal. A number of Alberta operators are in Winnipeg looking for and fully expecting, this contract. It has not been let to the United States operations.

Pat Burns of Calgary Never Seeks Publicity

One of the quietest figures in Western Canada is Pat Burns, the wealthy meat packer of Calgary. You seldom hear of him. Hardly ever does one name appear in the newspapers. He never makes any speeches. He is never quoted as saying this or that.

Yet Pat Burns is a powerful and picturesque figure and there is no other man in the west who better typifies the term Old-timer. For Pat Burns has been in Western Canada almost since the beginning of things out there. Himself in eastern Ontario, he went west in 1878 and

Robots Invented 2300 Years Ago

The robot has received a good chance of public attention during the last few years. It has been hoarded at mechanical men in amusement and have wondered what progress will be next.

The robot however is no new thing and if we include mechanical animals under the heading then the robot is well over two thousand years old. The King who came to have been made about 400 B.C. who Archytas a Greek contrived a flying pigeon made of wood. The chief difference between the ancient and modern robots is that the motive power used in the former was clockwork and compressed air is generally used in the latter. Another thing is that the discovery of the photo-graph enables the modern robot to speak.

Among the first mechanical men were those made by Roger Bacon and Albertus Magnus. They gained the doors and played musical instruments.

A Frenchman, Vaucanson, made in 1760 a robot which played many of the compositions of German flute. When the movement of lips and fingers necessary to play that instrument are considered it is reckoned that great skill and ingenuity were needed to achieve such a result.

Vaucanson also invented a mechanical duck, which ate, drank and digested. This was perhaps one of the first attempts to imitate mechanically the speech or call of living creatures.

The Emperor Maximilian must have been highly surprised and delighted when, on entering Buremberg, he saw a mechanical duck fly down from the table and begin to caress him.

Another robot contrived by Vaucanson was invented a mechanical flute player

Foothills Council

(By Frank Mott)

Our municipal council meetings in the foothills are free and informal affairs. They stand at the bottom of the class for dignity and decorum, but somewhere above the Black Crow for entertainment.

A meeting often resolves itself into a series of dialogues, and, at such times, the Reeve and Secretary-Treasurer despairing of order—or wanting a change themselves—will snap cigarette making and start their own private dialogue.

A Reeve needs to be a leather-lunged and horny-nosed soul. If he hasn't, on reaching the chamber's door, one bold meetings at the little school house fails to quell the racket his "Hey, fellows!" is met with the weather must be loud enough to drown the babble and drown it effectively He must know the names of all present, too, as that he can shout "Quiet Bert! Put a sock in it, Freddie!" or "Cut the rackin' Charlie!"

Other than that he needs to be hot-headed to make the Secretary-Treasurer's desire for anything else may have begun at once the district's affairs are in their hands.

Our councillors are very faithful in their attendance at the meetings. Come hail and blizzard, plague or pestilence, you will find them there. Only once in the past seven years was there no quorum. That was an accident, too. One councillor was sick abed, and no other ring-in for a part of the days, and started blithely from home on Sunday's day-old for the meeting. Both things-this happen up in the Foothills.

The councillors seldom see the need of sticking to the point under discussion. An irrelevant item flashes through an excited mind a sentence is blurted out and first thing you know, something quite different has taken the attention of all present.

Of course the makes the time But a council meeting means a day off. It is the main subject. Why not enjoy yourself? In fact many [illegible] so as to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Government Lotteries Advocated for Canada

We have hitherto on this page consistently advocated the setting up of Government lotteries in Canada. So far as we are concerned this measure advanced an unanswerable case. That table the items of satisfactory returns from independently arguments in favour of gambling. They point out (1) millionaire that there is more gambling on the race tracks with the sanction of the Government outside than a raffle—of (2) the Government runs into the lottery business—strictly on the basis that the moral principles would be affected. Those who think gambling is wrong probably do the step to think that every lady numbers made or less. The fact man's worker industry is founder of a gambler. The fact that he gambles something useful and immediate, to life is irrelevant. He is not a farmer so that he can benefit the nation. He is a farmer, but he can make money from what he sees not a asset but he has no moral right to risk capital. are adverse. Here are the arguments for the benefits of lotteries as made in the Canadian House of Commons:

The principles of lotteries on the basis of the estimates of Sir Henry Drayton would be supported on this basis:

1st Series—60 per cent of winning money $1,200,000, to be divided between Quebec and Ontario $720,000

2nd Series 20 per cent of winning money $1,200,000, to be divided between Quebec and Ontario $240,000

3rd Series—20 per cent of winning money $1,200,000, to be divided between Quebec and Ontario $240,000

Total Gross Receipts $2,400,000

Total Amount of Prizes $2,000,000

Mark Twain Memoirs Recently Discovered

Cutting through some old family papers recently Mr. Thomas Jones of Springfield, Conn. exhumed some memoranda concerning Sir Rollin Sharp of his family. Much of Twain. It was Rollin Sharp, then head of the American Publishing Company of Hartford, Conn., who published Mark Twain's first book. It was Sir Rollin Sharp, too, who outlined a struggle to get a copy of Twain's manuscript to a publisher and between Clemens and the Sharp family cordial and even affectionate relations prevailed throughout the author's life. Mr. Rollin Sharp made the journey out of Mark Twain's scrapper with ease and likewise that he dismissed the idea of compensation for events a million author of great fame. He was content to believe it. Scrapper took noted the manuscript and he was very reluctant to give it up and prided himself on the fruits of his scrapping. It was only with difficulty that the other directors of the publishing company persuaded him to part it was only when the threatened to resign if they did not publish Mark's first book that he had his way. That book was Innocents Abroad." That first edition, meanly large for the circumstances was of 50,000 copies. Before later an edition of 100,000 was published and rapidly sold. Mark Twain had begun to make money. He got a lot of work on the Blue Bonn and it was some time before he and Mrs. Bliss ever used to each other's habits. But when a engraver was provided for Mark's on his bed-room he would and smoke at pause. The underwriting Brad that he would run time these activities in that particular part of the house. He seemed an oddity to the church-goers to whom he was introduced by the redoubtable Mrs. Bliss. He manage was so strange as his dress and manners for he was a bachelor after his marriage that he paid much attention to either

There be needs be noted for the correctness of his attire and his habit of smoking cigars presented by his business for white Sunned on which for many years he wore winter and summer alike he described by his daughter Mary

Page's appearance has been described many times but very inaccurately, he has been described every hair, not any too short nor any too long, just right. A Roman nose which greatly improves the beauty of his features, blue eyes, not too small nor a small mustache, he has wonderfully shaped head and profile he has a very good figure, he is short he is an extraordinary fine-looking man. All his features are perfect, except that he has not extraordinary teeth. His complexion is very fair and he formerly had a beautiful color. He is a very good man and a very kind man, he has a jest but we all have in the family he has a keenness of wit, I ever saw or hope to see, and what is the shortest-call". Traces of his temper are to be found in the correspondence with Bliss, silently apologies for some display of ill-temper at a previous meeting, caused by some of the various business engagements he entered into and which proved extremely distasteful to full) A daily task or from a wedding or a yearly task that had to be completed in a great time was enough to throw Mark Twain off his balance. He wanted to work only when he felt like working and when his average output was large enough

From the letters recently we got another slight variation of the action told story of the adoption of the Innocents Abroad. It appears that when Clemens was a pilot on the Mississippi, they were a local writer who did occasional articles for a newspaper and used the name de plume "Mark Twain." These articles used to amuse Clemens and once he told Bliss the name was good for private circulation only, he wrote a burlesque of them, signing them the same Nom-de-plume. It became mischance the article published in the newspaper instead of the burlesque. In after years Mr. Bliss had some difficulty in getting Clemens to part with the manuscript of the book. Clemens was a special correspondent for the Alta California and was sent to the Holy Land. He was to write twenty letters for the paper. He wrote fifty-six. Upon returning Clemens he was so interested with the quantity that he started with nervous to be translated to the Dewey organization. here

Twain is a physical marvel. He grows of age, and today magnificently the world's seeking are That his vicinity at Hanley was not fresh in the pen is attested to by his performance Bliss Carman in 1928 he was for two years Australia's sculling champion in that year at the Olympic games he won the Olympic Gold Cup. Pearce also shown to represent Australia at the British Empire Games at Hamilton in 1930 By winning on these events have he added to his title that of British Empire Champion To his unequaled list of championships he now holds six Australia, Olympic British Empire and world.

Every motorist should change now to the New TEXACO MOTOR OIL because

THE new Texaco Motor Oil is the only oil which brings together in a single, wholly distilled lubricant every quality necessary to the complete and perfect protection of modern motors at every temperature and under every condition of modern driving.

This new Texaco Motor Oil, the most outstanding achievement in automobile engine lubrication since the first days of automobiles, has revolutionized lubrication values.

It is:

[1.] An oil which ensures complete lubrication.

[2.] An oil that means lower consumption.

[3.] An oil that insures cooler, quieter, more responsive operation of the engine under all driving conditions.

[5.] An oil that is free from injurious acids and other substances.

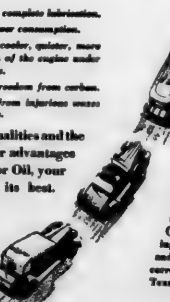
With these lubricating qualities and the combination of the other advantages in the new Texaco Motor Oil, your motor can perform at its best.



There are five grades—C, D, E, F and G—corresponding in body to the Society of Automotive Engineers specifications. Use the correct grade of the new Texaco today.

Automotive Musings

Among other signs that motor car industry is continuing as happily as that the cars in the medium price tier are increasing in sales.

Last year was no exception to the rule that during hard times the truest and highest priced representatives of any commodity are the ones that are best Afforded And throughout the year 1930 the Autocracy of this rule was reflected in the sales of motor cars in the price range from $1,200 to $2,000.

During the first ten months of this year the figure has shown a trend upward, a trend more than proportionate to the general increase in sales.

There is no question on the part of any element within the automobile industry that there is a definite limit for medium priced cars. Automobile prices are proportioned to production costs and in costing more than cars in the $1,200 to $2,000 price class have an opportunity to offer distinctive features. It is in this level where the most radical changes have taken place in the last few years. The especially noteworthy one is the switch from six to eight-cylinder engines.

The comeback of cars in this price class is an undeniable answer to those who say that premium-priced articles must have definite selling generally during the last 11 or 18 months, new duction the quickest boom in the early months of 1929.

It is a hopeful sign not only to manufacturers in this particular price tier and their dealers but to makers and dealers in all classes of motor cars.

But that it has a serious effect, both the radiator grille or screen with which so many 1931 models are equipped has come in for its measure of criticism from those engineers who do not look along with novelty at the expense of efficiency. They point out that it cuts down the cooling efficiency of the radiator, not to a serious point but enough to annoy the progressive-minded engineer.

If the public wants grilles, however, and apparently it does, the car maker is not going to deny them the pleasure of having them. Eh, sir!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The average motorist does not drive 10 or 20 miles an hour out on the open highway, although some car owners do? The mean speed is 35 miles an hour, according to one survey.

The difference between open and closed cars in the way of speed is not what it seems to be? When a closed open model of a certain make recently did 69.4 m.p.h. its closed mate recently stepped up and drove to 69 mile only 3 of a mile an hour slower.

It is worth remembering that although most are equipped with considerable ventilation and oil filters, the things that wear out first are engine lubricant are dirt, dust, sludge, abrasive and the like.

Car owners who fail to ascertain the reason why a certain part of the automobile had to go to the shop for repair or replacement, miss a real opportunity to educate themselves against further trouble of the same kind Asking the reason for an explanation of the difficulty usually will bring even the supercilious service man down to earth. A performance of certain parts of the car may be "why" in an explanation, and one that the intelligent repair man is happy to answer.

"Design an efficient body and its beauty will take care of itself," says a famous authority on the subject. Captain Sir Malcolm Campbell's car illustrates this point. It is the best looking car ever to hold the record.

Speaking of Campbell, his friends have long thought he had a little fortunity complex, but a biographer says it just seemed that way as a result of a lot of hard luck. Well, that's passed.

Tire generally is regarded as the chief factor in rapid wear of the upholstery Tests, however fail to sustain this judgment. It is the dust and grit that works its way into fabrics that does the damage most rapidly That is why the makers of fine cars advise buyers to have the upholstery brushed with a whisk broom at least once a month, after the brushing, subjected to a thorough cleaning with a vacuum cleaner. It means a valuable extension of upholstery life and much better appearance.

FENN ECHOES

(By Visitor)

(Submitted by C. W. Goodchild)

When we got up on the morning of the 29th there certainly was a real fog orgasm from heaven to bottom, our thoughts immediately turn to the weather.

Even those of us who are not directly interested in agricultural work the rains, particularly at this time of the year when so much depends upon a bountiful crop right, these last few years.

Notwithstanding the fact that the oil and gas, and coal, and the lumber wealth of Alberta contributes a substantial sum to the provincial coffers, yet agriculture for many years to come is bound to remain the mainstay thereof. The country has passed over the days of depression, and is now entering a new territory can we with any degree of certainty forecast the weather and even then for a short period only.

Barometer indications alone are however not sufficient, unless accompanied by reports on wind direction and speed and preferably by instructions on the humidity of the air. The latter consisting in the percentage figure of the total amount of moisture which the air can absorb without being visible in the shape of fog.

In view of the abnormal weather conditions which have prevailed the month of June a study of the following table of accurate observations made by G. W. Goodchild of Fenn, will no doubt be interesting. These observations have been compiled by a man who has both mental and the mechanical equipment for taking meteorological measurements. There is no guess work about them, and if the world can be mentioned over a lengthy period, such should materially assist us in forming definite conclusions regarding the probabilities of certain types of weather prevailing under a given set of conditions.

The weather in 1931 (first month)—

Temperature

	Highest	Lowest	Mean	Precipitation	Sunshine	Wind Direction	Wind Velocity
Jan.	51	30	39.3	0	5.5	135	3
Feb.	60	32	46.2	0	6.4	135	3
Mar.	63	18	43.2	0	6.4	135	3
Apr.	75	35	54.3	.35	8.5	135	3
May	86	42	63.2	.77	8.7	135	3
June	94	52	73.3	2.34	6.4	135	3

It is fair to say the crops are assumed it is a great pity that part of the June rainfall did not occur in May. In 1930, our best harvest crop year we had at Fenn during May 1.60 inches, and in June 1930 3.5 inches of rain. This makes a total of 7.11 inches during the current crop season up to July 1st. This however, is not all. In 1930 we had additionally 4.5 inches of rain in the July and 2.1 inches of rain in the first half of August. During the three above mentioned months in 1930 a steady evident at fairly good growing weather. The total precipitation reached the amount of 13.70 inches.

In the same year the moisture of the rain was for more particularly able to the autumnal and frost seeded crops, such as particularly, wheat, and it would seem to be the end of the season that the current wheat crop would rival that of 1930. Except of course, in the case of very late seedings and assuming that it can be persuaded to come to full ripeness.

But—given favorable conditions, and the growth of the crops should run very high.

Remember, Monday, June 29th to Monday July 6th, there was 3.16 inches of rain.

The lawn social held at the residence of Mrs. Lee Long on Thursday the 25th, was a great success. This was a farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Long, who are moving from this parish for Open Air Services have been held for the past two years and made many friends during his stay, and we are all very sorry to see him. The ladies of the United Church put up a fine supper and served ice cream which was a great attraction.

The grounds were laid out with small tables and the verandah was lit up with electric lights which added to the beauty and quietness for the speakers who were Mr. McWilliams of Stettler Mr. Long and Mr. J. H. Crawford, the former acting the supper and after, was supplied by Mrs. Adshead's orchestra.

Mrs. Brigham and Edith have left this week for Canada, where they will spend their holidays visiting friends and relatives.

The closing exercises of the schools in Fenn are celebrating the closing of school with a big picnic on Dering Lake on Tuesday afternoon the 30th of June.

Mrs. Lee Long and baby are expected home from Stettler Hospital on Saturday.

Little Dick Grant was taken to the Stettler Hospital on Thursday last, suffering with ear trouble but we are glad to see him home again quite well now.

There will be a choosemaking demonstration at Whitemud, July 8th at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Crawford. Everybody welcome and please bring paper and pencils to take down notes.

Amazing Partnerships Of Nature

Mycelium is one of the first words Symbiosis was the Robert Ripley of Science. One of the best stunts was that of the astounding relationship which existed between the fungus alfa and the Sphagnum plants. Scientists found that, for food and protection, algae colony and the wide spreading mould of the consolidated fungus interfered from the Sphagnum plants.

He explained that the symbiotic union was perfect in that it benefited both but opposite when only one of them benefited. Among things not within symbiosis was the quick change act. And here is the best illustration of the latter found in the relationship between the cuckoo bird and the hedge sparrow. The cuckoo is another bird that is unable to build a nest for its young and so lays its eggs in the nests of other birds, which in recent years has been confined to the hedge sparrow. The hedge sparrow is a busy little bird. Its nest is built and its eggs laid before the cuckoo arrives. Then the cuckoo comes along and lays its eggs in the hedge sparrow's nest. Now the hedge sparrow is not very smart and does not know the difference between its own eggs and those of the cuckoo. Therefore it sits on the cuckoo eggs as well as its own and hatches out the whole family. Now the cuckoo baby is a husky fellow and the hedge sparrow baby is a weakling. The cuckoo baby grows rapidly and soon has the hedge sparrow babies completely overshadowed. Then comes the time when the cuckoo baby is ready to fly. It is then that the hedge sparrow baby is pushed out of the nest to make room for the cuckoo baby. The hedge sparrow baby is left to die. The hedge sparrow parents, however, do not realize that they have been duped by the cuckoo baby. They continue to feed it and care for it as though it were their own offspring. Thus the cuckoo baby is assured of a good home and plenty of food.

Another interesting example of symbiosis is that of the ant and the aphis. The aphis is a little insect which has the habit of sucking the juices from plants. The ant is very fond of the sweet juices which the aphis sucks from the plants. The aphis, however, is not able to digest all of the juices which it sucks from the plants. Consequently it excretes the undigested juices in the form of a sweet liquid. The ant is very fond of this liquid. Therefore the ant has established a relationship with the aphis whereby the ant protects the aphis from its enemies and the aphis supplies the ant with the sweet liquid which it excretes. The ant is very much interested in the welfare of the aphis. It will carry the aphis from one plant to another when the aphis has exhausted the supply of food on the plant. The ant will also carry the aphis into the ant's nest during the winter season and will keep the aphis there until spring. The ant will also protect the aphis from its enemies.

A meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool delegates will be held in Calgary on Monday, July 13th next. The future policy of the programme will be considered at this meeting. At the conclusion a definite programme will be worked out that will enable the system to be followed by the Alberta Pool and Alberta Pool members can be assured that their organization is going to carry on under proper control. The changing economic conditions as they affect wheat may necessitate a change in policy in the handling of members grain but it is anticipated that a system will be worked out that will meet the situation adequately and give co-operative service a new impetus

The organized growers of Western Canada have faced difficulties of vast proportions during the past two years and their determination to meet and such conditions in a manner that compares favorably with the experience of other business enterprises whose revenues have been greatly reduced necessitates economy in the interests of all

The problems that have arisen may make a change in policy imperative at least, necessary in the future operations of Alberta Wheat Pool. Careful consideration has been given to every angle of the situation and the information resolved will be presented to the delegates for their consideration at the meeting called for July 13th when the delegates will give definite instruction to the executive in the prevailing conditions and to obtain such purposes which have brought together in a common effort over 42 000 producers of the Province of Alberta

MR. R. H. BROOKHART

On Saturday, June 27th., Mr R H. Brookhart of Bentley passed away at the home of his brother at West Liberty Iowa, U S A after an illness of several months.

Upon advice of local Doctors he had gone to Rochester, in the State of Institute, where he seemed to get relief for a time, but after a few days there, although suffering, was not giving up hope of recovery until a few days before his death

His wife received a short letter from him, written just two days before his death.

Mr Brookhart came with his wife to Bentley some twenty years ago, in which vicinity they have lived ever since, where he has made a host of friends, he being always of a kind and considerate nature, thereby preserving his ability in the home.

He leaves to mourn his great loss his wife and five sons Howard Ernest, Richard, Clifford and Irvin Donald (age 14 mos) who also leaves one brother Mr Brookhart of Iowa and Missouri.

His body was laid to rest in the Lotz Cemetery at W. Liberty Iowa.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family

LLOYD GEORGE AIDS T. MANN FOLLOWERS BET H. HOLDS THE POSTER JUST THE THING

At the ripe age of 62 [illegible] Lloyd George wore the double [illegible] of Cromwell when the death [illegible] of Colonel David Lloyd George, remains as he has lived, a match [illegible] in the British parliament. He has always been spectacular in his [illegible] at the most critical moments, publicity—provided it can be [illegible] by long or short [illegible] War Lloyd George emerges from a position of comparative personal obscurity and at his political zenith the spectacular Welsh lawyer in exchange he had invaded the political strongholds of Joseph Chamberlain in Birmingham in an effort to convert the people in that city to the side of Kruger. A riot threatened but Lloyd George hastily donned the uniform of a Birmingham policeman in which disguise he made his escape from the infuriated mob.

Almost a Chesterton at times in paradox and epigram, David Lloyd George possesses the imagination of more than any other politician. Nobody knows what he is going to do or say and he keeps them guessing. He is one of the few great men of this land of ours who is not in the war. For many years he was British consul at Gothenburg, Sweden, and has the gift of being able to laugh, not a titter, but a laugh that shakes him all over. In this respect he resembles the great Lord Salisbury. Lloyd George is not a hearty a laughter, yet has a guffaw that caused his elephant like shoulders to shake right down.

Lloyd George was once the cause of Lord Balfour getting his hair cut. The latter appeared at Downing Street with long locks, and on being reminded by his secretary that it was time to get a trim, he explained that he was too busy. The secretary left with a hint for his employer. The following day the friend met Lord Balfour "I see, my lord, you are having your hair done. It makes you look just like Lloyd George." Lord Balfour had his hair cut the same afternoon.

Although Lloyd George's party in the House of Commons number only 10 members the "two Welsh wizards" are the real power behind the throne. It was he who brought Ramsay MacDonald in power, although he has had opportunity to take care of five on the Socialist government. A recent cartoon in Punch pictured Lloyd George and Ramsay MacDonald on the top of a mountain. The latter says: "I'm not very sure of myself," and Lloyd George replies: "Well, lean on me, but don't step on me!" This just about sums up the position.

During the last two years Lloyd George has been indefatigable in his campaign to awaken the perfect [illegible] in Britain. From the perfect optimist he has become the perfect pessimist. Recently he said "The finest sound and practical advice and prompt preventive action. When an epidemic threatens, and steps are taken to prevent it, and it is successfully successfully prevented, no one is the wiser, peoples. The prevention of plague disease epidemics is not as spectacular as may be the control of an actual outbreak, but it is by far the most economic measure and saves thousands of dollars annually to the tax payers of Canada. It has been said repeatedly that the secret of success in all farming practices is the reduction of the cost of production. The prevention of disease is one of the most important practices concerning the health of our animal or crop diseases. The farmers of Canada owe a great debt of gratitude to the nation wide Experimental Farms System, acknowledged all over the world, for those who know what agricultural experimentation means and commend sense to any country, so among the foremost anywhere.

Successful control of plant diseases has been demonstrated in numerous instances. Stupendous [illegible] of potatoes could not be controlled. Years ago, 1888, this disease was largely responsible for the Irish potato famine, which eventually compelled hundreds of Irish families to emigrate. Today the Irish Potato is controlled effectively and at small cost. The same is the case with practically all the more common diseases that occur epidemically among our farm or orchard crops. But new diseases crop up from year to year and constant vigilance and devoted research is necessary to prevent such from affecting agriculture detrimentally. The Plant Pathological [illegible] was the plant breeding [illegible] of the Experimental System are aiming at the production of strains of all kinds of crop plants immune to disease. Success in this direction will further save the cost of control measures. The day we will have rust and smut re-

Botha News

July has been quiet so some returns have arrived, waiting and even those in looking from only the trees showing the presented effect of the drought. What fields are [illegible] spotted there is a year when the combs spots show up plainly The frost which caught the earlier Balsam in full bloom killed that crop. There are no berries at all on the Big Knife while on the Battle River they are very scattered and picking is just fair in the best spots, the berries are also small.

Mrs Frank Hillmichael and infant son came home from the hospital on Wednesday of last week

Miss Clemence Polstelle, instructor at the Claresholm College recently visited at the home of Mrs. Douglas Verney.

The Ladies Aid met at the Underwood home on last Thursday afternoon. The large room was well filled, while the young folks [illegible] Quilt blocks and cake

Pearl Snyder celebrated her 7th birthday on Tuesday, July 7th, a host a dozen children of that age being present, each one taking her a small gift. Mrs. Snyder, assisted by Mrs. Ketl, Mrs. Menzies, Mrs. James Pennsby and Mrs. Hafner, served a lunch appropriate for the occasion.

Mr. Lawrence [illegible] were received last week stating that the Botha Bank will be closed after July 31st. All business will be transferred to the Bank of Montreal, Stettler unless otherwise designated by the depositor.

Miss Grace Walker left for Lacombe last week where she will attend the annual camp meeting of the Adventist Church, after which she will return to her secretarial duties in Calgary

Mrs Harris Ward was recently operated on for appendicitis at the Municipal Hospital She is making a satisfactory recovery.

Dan Ruser motored into Botha on Sunday evening for his annual visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. D. Ruser

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Friend and Mrs John Gaetch accompanied the latter's daughter Miss Ruth Gaetch general relaxing when they had brought back the news that the Elks Band of Stettler had won 1st in Edmonton also.

Botha is represented in Charles Hafer, John Garrels, W. F. Epperson and Weston Bright as members of the Stettler Elks Band, while belonging to Red Willow has played with the Botha orchestra and band for many years

Mr H Hafner took Mrs. Hafner and Ish to Lacombe on Wednesday where they will attend the camp meeting. They expect to return on Sunday with Mr. Hafner's mother and brother who came up from Stavely for the Lacombe meeting. Mr Hafner returned home the same day.

Stettler Elks' Band Wins Trophy At Edmonton Fair

Stettler Elks' Band, which won the championship at Calgary last week journeyed to Edmonton for the Edmonton Exhibition and succeeded in winning first place over the Lumsden Band which had won it twice previously This achievement places the local Band at the forefront for the band contests of the province and the win at Edmonton was particularly gratifying to the band members as they had made it their objective for some time While the competition was fairly keen, there was no doubt in the minds of the judges regarding the premier position that the Elks Band holds in the province and they did not hesitate to express their opinion in that regard. The band made 96 points as compared to 88 points by the Lumsden Band The following is the report of the competition taken from the Edmonton Journal:—

AMATEUR BAND CONTEST FOR BANDS IS TAKEN BY STETTLER ELKS

Hoop Out Previous Winners From Lacombe Column.

(Edmonton Journal)

Just nosing out in only rival, the Stettler Elks' Band took the amateur band contest at the Edmonton Exhibition Monday afternoon The Stettler band scored 96 points and the Lumsden Band 88 points. The two aspirants were the only ones to receive awards ranked both aggregations.

A. S. Mercer, of the Royal Highlanders Band, director of instructors in music at Mount Royal College school, Pittsburgh, P. G. Aldridge of the 49th Battalion Band and bandmaster of the Edmonton Newsboys' Band, and T. H. Metcalf, city musician, acted as adjudicators

Organized five years ago the Stettler Band is the pride of the community. Of a total of 29 musicians, 23 are under 18 years of age. Thomas Patterson, formerly a noted band leader in the old country, is director, and George Graves is secretary-manager

The three competitive pieces the Stettler Band captured the T Elson trophy at Calgary, winning it outright this year against seven other bands.

Mr Graves stated that the band was a collection of enthusiastic musicians. Rehearsals are staged and lessons given throughout the year. Just prior to the competition season the band had 3 hours in the [illegible] days practicing as many as three times a day.

They take their band music seriously in Stettler. P Woods travels 112 miles twice a week to rehearse with the band, while L. Walton tops this by journeying 116 miles to Stettler and back for the same purpose

The judges decision was strongly protested by the leader of the Lacombe band. It was evident that competition was very keen. Lacombe having won the trophy for two successive years and only had to repeat this year to keep it permanently.

Board of Trade Notes

Farmers of the district are reminded that the Field Crops and Good Farms Competitions for this year can remain open only for a few days. A very good entry list has been built up and it is the aim too of Stettler Board of Trade to have the level head of wheat in Alberta in its competition this season As compared with many other districts our crops have made good progress. If there are any farmers, who have not as yet made a formal entry and who have an especially good field of wheat, please get in touch with the Secretary of the Board of Trade at once and get full particulars of the contest

The Board of Trade will tender a complimentary banquet to the Stettler Elk' Band on Friday July 17 next at 8 p.m. in the National Hotel. The Band has now the undisputed right to the title of "Champion town band in Alberta," by virtue of the win in contests at Calgary and Edmonton and they are entitled to the honor in number and are asked to make reservation at once with Mr O. M. Bell at the post office or Mr. Dunlap at the Palace Pharmacy.

Camp Spirit

Over the camp hovers a spirit—A spirit of peace, happiness and good fellowship. This spirit is very real, alive. It aims to please and is seeking best whom its plans are guaranteed to do.

Camp may be compared to life—There are always storms and fair weather weather, there are some group activities which do do and life as well as others, there is some work which must be done which is not very pleasant.

We have some campers who do not seem to be happy under camping. Last week I was the rain, and as I lay awake tossing, I seemed to hear the spirit of camping really exist in a blessing and those who ground, and in the trees, in the rain, or mist, need some normal regular. Here the idea to be put into practice is necessary. If you members don't grumb—a good dose of sunshine helps you appreciate the things you have you not.

The camp spirit has a tremor of loyal happen in the person of our cabins.

Master Mrs. Kerr of Cameron is an ideal camp mother. Why she didn't even complain when we let her down—and we all know how hard that does her feet.

Daughter Miss Hanlon of Stettler, our director, a marvel at how-to-do—hasn't grumbled.

Jardin (Miss Mac of Stettler) has an aggravating way of saying "Hi, girls" which endears her to us all.

Miss Phyllis Parker having on Friday for Vancouver where she will spend a few days holiday

Horse Labor Costs

The farmer is always interested in what it costs him to operate his business and what causes change from year to year. Statistics on certain primary factors are collected and if known with respect to certain years can be readily adapted to any other period. Here-with is given the latest findings with respect to the cost of horse labour in Eastern Canada as calculated by the Live Stock Expert, Mechanical and Dairy Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Interest, $50 a horse	10.00
Depreciation, Harness, Blankets, brushes, etc.	10.75
Total cost of 10 4/10 horse,	2,250.35
Cost per hour of horse labor (cents)	14.42

At the station, the average cost per hour of horse labor during the past ten years has been 13.48 cents.

Issued by the Information Services Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

WATERING WITH THE SUN

The moisture that falls to earth is returned to the air by two means — direct evaporation and transpiration. The first loss is not considered valuable. The latter may be regulated by controlling the plant population.

It has to be thought that a dust mulch would interrupt the upward capillary movement of soil moisture and thus prevent it from evaporating. The theory has been largely discounted by recent investigations although under some conditions it may check it to a limited extent.

Moisture is found that the way best to conserve it on a summer fallow is to keep down weeds by cultivation. The latter may be regulated by controlling the plant population.

In The Nation's Parliament

From the Hansard Record

In hansard—the worst in twenty years—the work of Parliament drags on despite conditions progress is being made. Critics say it is progress backward so far as Mr. Bennett is concerned. He is reverting to many of the old ideas, which had been worsted out by parliaments of a different complexion. Mr. Bennett made a strong protest the other day in favor of the things which he had abandoned. He told the House that he believed in the turnover tax. Probably when he got on the soap box he thought that it would be free from commissions but the general authority of parliamentarians "If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do" chapels had been churches and poor men's cottages princes palaces. Truly it is a good divine that follows his own instructions.

During the week Mr. Bennett summed up the situation in regard to the Western Provinces. Conditions have been adversely affected by weather conditions. Some 100 000 people are directly affected — not only the people but their banks as well! It is perhaps one of the worst disasters that has ever happened in the Dominion of Canada. This is the problem which the parliament must now face and to which certain considerations must be given the other day. Mr. King's suggestion was that there be established a National Relief Board which would reopen this problem with the great task of relieving unemployment which also looms up as a difficulty of the coming winter. He cited the instance of the Halifax disaster occurring some years ago where relief was admitted in a similar way. Mr. Bennett's answer was that that was undertaken under the War Measures Act, and at this time there was not the machinery to do this. This would appear necessary so far as the Dominion Government is concerned. If as Mr. Bennett suggested the relief is the province of the municipalities, then the municipalities of Canada are absolutely helpless. Municipal revenues are drying up at a tremendous rate. If as Mr. Bennett made reference in the House of Commons, the Halifax disaster occurring some years ago where relief was admitted in a similar way Mr. Bennett's answer was that that was undertaken under the War Measures Act, and at this time there was not the machinery to do this. This would appear necessary so far as the Dominion Government is concerned. If as Mr. Bennett suggested the relief is the province of the municipalities, then the municipalities of Canada are absolutely helpless. Municipal revenues are drying up at a tremendous rate.

The investigation of a matter of the kind, is quite a problem. We shall have to send out agents to all parts of the world. Our investigators will visit Japan, Czechoslovakia, the Argentine, Brazil, and every other country. They will be sent into what it might be thought goods in these countries and they find it costs less, then the tariff barrier must be raised to offset these goods out. We are to battle nightly by haranguing and debating and to restrict dealings with each other accordingly.

But the evidence in these committees to be sent of production of goods of all sort, and in spite of this it must be difficult to obtain. will be given in confidence. There will be no chance to examine that evidence in court. Certainly the witnesses will be examined before the Board. A hundred and one factors must be ignored and ignored while in an investigation of this kind. The writer of this letter had the opportunity of listening to the Tariff Board while these ... have been under discussion. Time without number evidence has been brought in to show that wages were higher in this country than they were in Canada. The facts afterwards proved that much foreign labor was working under conditions equal to Canadian labor, and that the actual labor cost of production was lower in Canada than in the foreign countries.

Well, what is to happen to the gentleman who brings forward an application asking for a reduction in duty? He must bring forward evidence he has. He cannot send investigators to the other parts of the earth. that is quite impossible. There is no organization in Canada which could undertake it. The only body which could engage this problem with the great task of relieving unemployment which also looms up as a difficulty of the coming winter. He cited the instance of the Halifax disaster occurring some years ago where relief was admitted in a similar way. Mr. Bennett's answer was that that was undertaken under the War Measures Act, and at this time there was not the machinery to do this. This would appear necessary so far as the Dominion Government is concerned. If as Mr. Bennett suggested the relief is the province of the municipalities, then the municipalities of Canada are absolutely helpless. Municipal revenues are drying up at a tremendous rate.

Tariff Paved the Prairies

Tariff Paved the Prairies".

The reasons for this are obvious. Those who seek tariffs are organized they will present their appeal to the Board. This Board will go ahead and make the investigation.

Mr Bennett reached the end his 61st birthday. On his desk was a beautiful bouquet of roses. The House greeted the event with cheers and applause.

Some months ago Mr King was speaking at a dinner in Ottawa and Mr. Bennett, representative of one of the Western Canadian Young Conservative Associations, spoke on the same occasion. In complimenting Mr. Bennett on his political ability, Mr. King remarked that the first time he met this young lady was when he was speaking as a child at a public meeting she presented him with a bouquet of flowers and received the customary reward. At Mr Bennett's roses probably came from the Cabinet members, the Conservative chieftain did not say.

Mr Bennett's birthday will be remembered by the Conservative Members for some time to come. Politics has its sentimentalities as well as its babies.

MARKETS

EXAMINER'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF WESTERN MARKETS

Thursday, July 9th, 1931.

CATTLE

BEEF—A better tone has been noticeable on the Calgary market during the past week while receipts have again been on the light order. Choice heavy steers made from $6 to $6.25 with medium ones at $5.50 to $6. good $4.75 to $5. medium $4.25 to $4.50, common $3.50 to $4. Choice heifers brought from $5.50 to $6 with the good ones $5.25 to $5.75, medium $3.75 to $4. common $3.25 to $3.50. Canners and cutters sold at $1 to $2. Choice bulls made from $5 to $5.25 with medium ones at $4 to $4.50 and canners $1.50 up. The choice calves brought $6 to $7 with common kinds at $3 to $4. FEEDERS and STOCKERS—The demand in this market is slow with feeder steers selling at $4.25 to $4. stock steers at $3 to $4. stock heifers from $3.50 to $3.75 and stock cows $2.50 to $3.25.

HOGS—On the Edmonton market a firmer tone has been noted and prices have moved upward 25c to 50c. Choice hogs brought from $9.25 to $9.50 with the bulk of sales at $9.25. Choice cows went over the scales at $4.50 $.55, good $3.50 to $4., medium $2.75 to $3.25, common $2.50 to $2.75. Canners and cutters $1.50 to $2. Choice bulls sold at $2.75 to $3.50 medium $1.75 to $2 and canners from $1 up. Choice light lambs $8.50 to $9.00, common $6 to $8. FEEDERS and STOCKERS—Inquiry for feeder lambs $3 to $3.75, stock cows $2.50 to $3.25.

Prices on the Calgary market during the past week have been higher with lambs selling at $8.50 wkts $8 and butchers $8 off cars.

At Edmonton heavy offerings sold at $8.10 to $8.25 which is higher than last week. Sheep brought $5.00 to $6.75 and butchers $7.00 to $7.75 lambs and wethers.

SHEEP

Receipts have been on the light order at Calgary with prices firm, ewes bring $5 to $6, rams $3.50 to $5 and the lambs $7 to $8.

At Edmonton reports that yearlings brought $5 to $5.50 while ewes sold at $3 to $4 and lambs $7.75 $7.85.

GRAIN

At Winnipeg on Wednesday the market was about steady as a result of a featureless session. On any occasion conspicuous lack of interest in buying and on an upturn this trade disappeared.

CRAIN — BUTTER — MILK CREAM—Prices holding steady with quotations 16c; Tank 14c; second 11c. Receipts have shown a slight improvement during the past week but general belief is that peak has been reached. Large number of cans reporting for grade on account of weed taint. CREAMERY BUTTER —Sales holding very well considering the limited buying power. Few shipments being made from Alberta to B. C. and Montreal. Prices steady with No. 1 cartons 24c. No. 2, 23c; No. 1 prints 25c; No. 2, 24c. DAIRY BUTTER—Shipments from country points fairly heavy while quality is not all it might be. Fancy table has good demand others slow Price 18c for fancy table; 16c; No. 1, but other grades slow. Price 1c and No. 2, 1c.

MILK—Quotation steady at $1.80 per 100 pounds. Receipts heavy and considerable surplus reported.

POULTRY — EGGS

POULTRY—Broiler offerings are increasing steadily but market inclined to be draggy for them. Poor receipts fair while quality is not very good. Prices fair, broilers over 2 lbs. 16c; No. 1 under 2 lbs. 10c No. 1 fowl over 5 lbs. 9c; 5lbs; No. 1 under 4 lbs. 8c; No. 2, 5c; 6c. Roosters 5c EGGS—Supply is very light while no interior arrive the usual premium. Quality is not good owing to hot weather. Very few selects coming in. Sales principally to retail trade. Prices from producers to retailers basis, new laid, with cases included, 15c; 15c, firsts 13c; seconds 10c; 11c.

HAY — OATS — GREENFEED

HAY Few offerings of new reported but only last years timothy is available. Quality of most shipments is good. Upland quoted at $11—$11.50 with timothy at $16 $16 per ton at country points FEED OATS Demand only fair while the supplies are just about in proportion to the orders. Price steady at

Egg Cost Of Pullets

While the outcome next year is one of constantly new values with respect to cost of feed and prices at which eggs sell, there should be much of useful interest to farmers keeping poultry flocks in the figures supplied by the Dominion Experimental Station at Lennoxville, P. Q. with respect to the number of eggs it takes to pay for the cost of feeding a bird during the pullet year.

Records at this station, which are continuous over the period of the past 11 years, show that it takes an average of 87.1 eggs to pay for the cost of feeding a bird for a period of one year. The highest in any year in this period was 1927 when it was 1025 when it took 63 eggs to pay for the cost of feed, while in 1928 it only took 56 eggs to feed the feed bill

These records also shows that the costs on the average price at which 13½ eggs will pay for feed the cost of feeding laying birds during the four winter months.

From this it will be seen that only those eggs laid over and above what are required to pay for the cost of feed can be counted as profit In presenting these figures cost of feeding is taken into consideration as practice shows that in building up a flock laying pullets that will circle real as brooders of dressed poultry sell more than other cockerels required.

GOOD YEAR FOR SEED

Rapid growth and early cutting for hay in stands of clover and alfalfa this year are likely to prove a big help in the harvest of a good crop of clover and alfalfa seed from the second cut, the Seed Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture advise. Where these legumes are cut for hay not later than the last week in June the prospects of a good seed crop from the second cut is very promising. The provisions for home-grown red clover and alfalfa seed last year was well over $25 per hundredweight.

BUTTER FAT COUNTS

Some figures of special interest to dairymen are provided in the annual report of the Lennoxville Experimental Station which compares the relative values of production of Jersey and Shorthorn cows. A herd of 13 Jersey cows gave an average profit of $116.66 over cost of feed as compared with $73.80 for Shorthorns. The Jerseys produced only 5,961.3 pounds of milk during the period of the test as against a total of 8,164.8 for the Shorthorns, but their average percentage for butter fat was 5.76 as against 4.16, and they produced an average of 346.12 pounds of butter against 295.75 for the Shorthorns. It is also interesting to note that the total cost of feed per head for Jersey herd was only $56.25 as compared with $62.5 for the Shorthorns and only $77.50 for the Jerseys as a whole for the Shorthorns

THE IDEAL SEED EXHIBIT

With the World's Grain Show being held at Regina next year there is more than usual interest in the exhibits of the ideal seed exhibit as given in an address before the recent annual convention of the Canadian Seed Growers Association by L.H. Newman Dominion Cerealist. He stated that ideal exhibit might be defined as one consisting of kernels typical of the variety, as nearly alike as possible in size, shape and color. The whole exhibit it these general should present a uniformity, vital appearances, and it should be free from all impurities and all evidence of diseases or unsoundness."

STAKE TOMATO PLANTS

The advantage of using stakes to support tomato plants, particularly in sections subject to high winds, are shown by experimental tests made at Ranthern by the Publications Department of Agriculture Ottawa. The staked plants were found to be more productive than those allowed to trail on the ground, while the ripening season was from one to two weeks earlier than those staked plants. Staking is also found to reduce the loss from blossom end rot, sunscald and insects and diseases. Staking is somewhat more expensive than other methods and it often necessitates irrigation from light frost.

EXPERIMENTAL SERVICE

In carrying on ... work of supply the Canadian farmers with information useful to them, both the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa and ... Ottawa sent out a total of 892 ... copies of bulletins, pamphlets and circulars in reply to requests received directly from individuals during 1930 724 copies of market reports.

BEDBUG CONTROL

The control of insects is an ever present problem for the household-er and an correspondence received by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa indicates that interest in the control of bedbugs is certain parts of Canada reference to which is made in Dominion Entomological Branch circular No. 12 Bedbugs and Their Control prepared by Dominion Entomologist. This circular gives a full and superior account of the habits of the bedbug and the most effective methods of control of this bothersome insect while illustrations and diagrams enhance the value of the official order. Copies may be obtained free of charge by applying to the Publications Branch Department of Agriculture Ottawa.

FLOCK IMPROVEMENT SCHEME

FEEDER SPREAD ON LAMBS

An average spread of $1.54 between the cost of feeder lambs and the price at which they sell is necessary for profit according to a table of production costs appearing in the current issue of the Economic Annuals official organ of the Agricultural Economics Branch of the Department of Agriculture. These figures were obtained from a close study of conditions reported by nineteen representative feeders in Bentinck Ontario. The two most efficient of this group of feeders kept operating costs down to 38 cents per head while the two least efficient showed a spread of $8.04 per head. For the average feeder to make a profit he must cut his hands at not less than $1.54 per head over their cost to him as feeders.

A SOUND INDUSTRY

A review of the apple industry throughout Canada just issued by the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture contains the following observation "During the present period of depressed prices when many agricultural products have fallen to values considerably below cost of production the Apple stands out as having maintained a reasonable price level in spite of fairly high production, advancing consumer confidence and ... competition in overseas markets ... industry is fundamentally sound and provided the best methods of cultivation, control of pests, preparation for market and orderly marketing are practised, there should be no reason for pessimism and the industry should develop and keep pace with national progress."

General Pershing Judged By One Of His Peers

It has long been acknowledged that what is said of a small imitation compared with who says it. For instance, there would be a difference in value to the opinion expressed by a member of the College of Cardinals and a Grand Orange Lodge the subject being either the Pope or the Protestant Reformation. So it is with the verdicts pronounced upon military men. The value of these opinions depend wholly upon the competence to judge of those who offer them. That is why although we have already given our views on the subject of General Pershing's remarkable career we do not regard them as absolutely closing the subject. How many more articles it will be found necessary to write before the last word is said we cannot tell. We are glad in addition to what he has to say in this case the writer is Captain B. H. Liddell Hart, one of the foremost of living military authorities. Probably nobody has read more of the contemptuous output of post war memoirists and we think nobody is more entitled to assess them. We have confirmed in this opinion by reading Captain Hart's latest book "Real War" which is not merely an able and interesting account of the operations of the American Expeditionary Force, but one which presents a distinct point of view. That point of view is expressed in the chapter headed "Haig's Command" which gave the impression that Haig was never wrong and that he was the only one. Some of Pershing's criticisms are childish. For example he appears to have been full of the idea that Sir Douglas Haig should not write the same number of words about Pershing as he did about himself. Haig did not write the same number of words about himself as he did about Pershing. Haig did not write the same number of words about himself as he did about Pershing. stand and to train to greater usefulness for the crop grower. An outstanding example of the direct application of the work of the soil bacteriologist is the use of cultures of specific types of bacteria capable of providing nitrogen for growing legume crops, and thus speeding up and increasing the soil's available supply to augment the crop. The use of such bacteria has assumed a much wider use of commercial production in the application of the soil bacteriologist's discoveries to the needs of the farmer. Such cultures are known to agriculturists as "inoculants" and are made of numerous pure cultures of nitrogen-fixing bacteria, which are mixed with soil and applied to the seed before planting. The seed is moistened and the soil mixed with it, and the mixture is then applied to the seed in the drill. The bacteria multiply on the roots of the growing plants and enable them to take nitrogen from the air in the soil. Inoculants are now available for most of the leguminous crops, and their use is rapidly increasing.

THE SOIL BACTERIOLOGIST CAN HELP YOU MAKE ON THE LAND

I am Experimental Farm operation scheme about to be: far-mers, ranchers and ranchers the to assist and maintain the to agriculture in Canada and of the Canada Experimental Farms Service. Co-operation with the Soil Bacteriologist at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lethbridge, Alberta, is one of the most important features of the scheme. Farmers in Alberta should take full advantage of the facilities for co-operation with the Soil Bacteriologist at Lethbridge. Write him for information regarding the use of bacterial cultures for the inoculation of legumes, and for information regarding the best methods of soil management for the production of maximum crops.

Professor of farm mechanics in the Ontario Agricultural College and the manufacturers may be identified as the Dominion Experimental Farms Service. Anyone not clear on this question should write to the Director, Experimental Farms Service, Ottawa, for information regarding the location of the Experimental Farm nearest to his district.

For the dairyman present day methods mean a large saving in time and money. One can trace all the way from the manufacturer to the consumer and see where improvements can be made. Our farmers are learning more and more that the less men to attend and more machinery we have on the farm, the greater will be the profit. Time saved in one operation is available for another. Many operations which disappeared upon the introduction of machinery have been created and created anew. The proper care and use of machinery is now a distinct and important factor in production. Proper use of machinery requires the ability to read and understand directions and the assimilation may be divided into the following steps: (1) Knowledge of the materials the tool is to take; (2) Knowledge of the principles involved in the design of the machine; (3) Knowledge of the operation of the machine; (4) Knowledge of the adjustments and repairs necessary to put the machine in operation. Complete information on these points can be obtained from the bulletins issued by the Dominion Experimental Farms Service.

In The Nation's Parliament

(From the Montreal Witness)

There are weeks in Parliament when a man who is anxious to see things posted to the bottom, so-to-speak, brought forth instead of one, may most tear his hair and even swear if he feels inclined to, so we are given to understand, even if we have not given any instances. There was a week of such evenin. There is, too a tendency upon the part of those who are watching the proceedings that a strike is as it it were a municipal council or a meeting of the Legislative Assembly of the Public Parks. But Parliament must be treated with dignity and sometimes even if at times the arguments in the House may be considered of great weight or special attention.

The Case of Corn

Take for instance two items that came before the House on Friday. One was in committee discussing the the duty upon corn. Corn for feeding purposes has been free, but now has been made dutiable at the rate of 5 cents per bushel. In proposing the duty upon corn is to encourage the use of barley for the feeding of stock, making it 7 cents per a heavy charge in the Western Provinces. It was contended by the opposition that the duty upon the product of the farm would affect the cost of living, but the chief complaint was against the principle of taxing the food of the people. Some words were used that were not parliamentary, but the chairman was not disposed to take notice of them. Finally the duty was carried on a division by 104 to 44, the majority of the Government. The chief of this was contended by many was that the duty would be paid by the consumer. Into his office came a number of them and he had a small sack upon which were 164 tally marks of tradesmen who had called to see him on that matter. The chief complaint was against the duty upon corn, for feeding purposes had

Sawed Off Shot Guns End Sloane's Career

Bay Sloane who was murdered by unknown gangsters in New York recently was probably a more typical young hoodlum than he suppposed. It was his false estimate of his own abilities which led to his murder for it seems probable that he was no stranger to crime and some sort of training as speakeasy and moonlighter that brought about his death. He was standing in front of a liquor joint when a car containing four men and three machine guns drove up and these men opened fire with sawed-off shotguns and machine guns. Most of the bullets hit Sloane because he was standing in front of a bright light and he had no chance to get away from the fusillade.

Treatment For External Parasites Of Your Poultry

The hot days of summer is the time when parasites are most troublesome and the fowls are to be kept free from them if they are to do well.

Lice are the most common parasites that trouble poultry. If the owner of poultry will carefully examine his fowls at least every two weeks he will soon detect the presence of lice and can easily get rid of them. Lice are very small insects and can be seen with the naked eye. They are usually found around the vent and under the wings. Mites are also very troublesome parasites and are more difficult to get rid of than lice. The most common mite is the red mite which is very small and can be seen with the naked eye. They are usually found in the cracks of the roosts and dropping boards. They suck the blood of the fowls and cause great annoyance and loss. Fleas are also troublesome parasites and are found on the heads of young chicks. Ticks are also found on the heads of young chicks. Ticks are also found on the heads of young chicks. Ticks are also found on the heads of young chicks.

Lice and mites can be destroyed by the use of coal oil. Mix one part of coal oil with three parts of lard and rub the mixture on the roosts, dropping boards and under the wings of the fowls. Be careful not to get too much on the fowls as it will injure the feathers. Sulphur is also a good remedy for lice and mites. Dust the fowls with sulphur and also dust the roosts and dropping boards with sulphur. Insect powder is also a good remedy for lice and mites. Dust the fowls with insect powder and also dust the roosts and dropping boards with insect powder.

When Boss Tweed Looted New York

Now that New York citizens are organizing to make an attack upon Tammany Hall they are being reminded and instructed by the stories of the arch Tammany scoundrels and scoundrelly deeds perpetrated by them. The latest revelation is an unpublished story that which is revealed by the diary of Boss Tweed. This story was probably the most brazen and unrestrained robbery of a city by a small band of men that the world has ever known. For a period of years it seemed to be impossible to oust Tammany from power. Its methods were so thoroughly organized and so well backed by the money taken from the citizens of his plunder. The looted city of $200,000,000. The looted city of $200,000,000 is the figure attached to it by Tweed himself when he was asked how much money he had stolen from the city. Tweed declared that he had stolen $200,000,000 and that when suggested stolen $200,000,000 and that when suggested stolen $200,000,000 and that when suggested

Federal Help For Highways Certain

Executive Reveals Dominion Willing To Assist Work

SUGGESTIONS

Alberta Unemployment Relief Would Progress Best to Ottawa

Edmonton.—Federal government aid for highway construction in the city areas of Alberta may be confidently expected but the extent of this contribution cannot be revealed until the emergency relief bill goes through the Dominion House sometime this week, it was revealed Monday by Premier J. E. Brownlee, Alberta's Prime Minister was in receipt of a telegram from Hon. Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, to this effect.

The wire also indicated that the Dominion government is willing to contribute on a 50-50 basis with the province on the proposed trans-Canada highway work. Work on the Alberta end of the highway will start almost at once and will be done one of three possible routes, it was also outlined.

Premier Brownlee sent a message com- to answer to one forwarded to Ottawa by the provincial government to the effect that as far as work in rural and foreign areas is concerned, road work is the only means of providing necessary relief and this program cannot be carried out in the winter months.

In the statement sent to Ottawa the Provincial government executive asked immediate authorization of grants to municipalities for municipal work and permission to commence additional work on the highways passing through the city areas on the understanding that such work be included in any federal program undertaken.

The statement outlined a part above has forwarded to the Federal government by Premier Brownlee before leaving [illegible] on Monday morning. [illegible] to be in Vancouver on Friday, Premier Brownlee will be in charge of work which could be undertaken in Alberta [illegible] Dominion Government to deal.

Premier Brownlee [illegible] Dominion Government [illegible] for [illegible] work program under three heads as follows:

1 Agricultural relief [illegible] lets in the drought portions of the province or where crop results [illegible] so poor or bad.

2 Broad work in certain municipalities, including the program for cities.

3 Relief work that might solve the economic problem problem of unemployment.

So far as finding work is concerned the Premier outlined a large program which could be undertaken but he pointed out that the extent to which such work could be undertaken depended essentially upon the extent of the Dominion contribution.

As explained in the statement, it is not possible for the municipalities or the provincial government to finance any large program in view of the limited ability to raise money in these times.

Premier Brownlee stated Monday that on the strength of Senator Robertson's wire the government will probably authorize certain work. With respect to the trans-Canada highway Premier Bennett had asked for suggestions, which might be part of the trans-Canada highway program.

Trans-Canada Road

These alternative schemes for Alberta in this connection have been suggested as follows:

1. Banff, Calgary and Medicine Hat highways.

2. Jasper, Edmonton and Lloydminster highways.

3. Jasper, Edmonton and Wainwright highways.

Premier Brownlee declared that $4 soon as an announcement was received from Ottawa with regard to the three alternative schemes, work would begin at once in the province.

As explained by Premier Brownlee he had advanced in view of such a large amount of work already done, that the government should endeavor a north and south link to the highway as well.

Skim-Plowing To Control Weeds

In field practice the one practicable means of destroying seeds of grain or weeds is to germinate them and then kill the resultant plants. Heat, air and moisture are necessary for germination. Seeds lying on the surface are not readily sprouted, particularly if covering rain or heads that are more or less out of direct contact with the soil. Seeds plowed too deeply are unable to emergence too low a temperature and may remain unsprouted indefinitely until plowed back or dragged upwards by some tillage implement. Shattered and irregular germination results. No western field badly infested with wild oats, cutthroat or horsetail can be successfully cleaned with one season's fallowing.

To insure greatest effectiveness of the cleaning process it is important that the previous season's cultivation of grain and weed seeds be uprooted and destroyed before the land is deeply plowed. Autumn disking of the stubble is very helpful but disking does not bury the seeds to a uniform depth and where much stray chaff remains, as on stack bottoms many heads may fail to be covered by the first or even the second disking. The frequent disking involves excessive labor and sometimes defeats its purpose by unduly drying out the land.

For the fighting of wild oats there seems to be prefer autumn skim-plowing as the preliminary treatment and on its plot shows volunteering in a serious nature are to be sustained the following season. Failure has fallen back upon skim-plowing as a means of growing out and killing grain, resulting from scattering and breaking of heads retained by the removal of bodies in drills. It seems to be much more thorough than disking.

Whether it would be equally advisable in areas subject to soil drifting we are unprepared to pronounce. It may even, by removing the stubble, remove a favorable impediment to surface wash. Each condition must be studied by the operator but from the one standpoint of weed control skim-plowing has much to commend it.

Prune Supply Grows

The interesting prospect that the Canadian production will soon be able to supply the entire demand for prunes in Canada is observed from the annual report for 1930 of the Dominion Experimental Station at Sidney, B. C. It is at this station that a special study of dehydration has been developed, and while sugar, berries and black berries have been successfully preserved and dehyd and price for these fruits fresh in such as to discourage commercial dehydration, the price of prunes, however, is more in line with competitive supplies They may be grown in particular Cowichan Island and offer an excellent opportunity for developing of Canadian features in dehydrated products.

Prunes have to be fully ripe and ready to fall to the ground before picking, to be in prime condition for drying in order to obtain their full flavor and quality. Before being put in the dehydrator prunes are dipped in a hot solution of lye, 1 pound to 25 gallons of water for 15 to 30 seconds—long enough to slightly check or crack the skin in order to hasten evaporation. They are then rinsed in clear water and placed in the dehydrator at a temperature of from 115 to 125 degrees Fahrenheit. They are finished at 160 to 175 degrees Fahrenheit and remain about 30 hours for processing. The drying ratio of prunes averages 3.5 pounds of fresh fruit to 1 pound of dried.

The dried fruit is stored in bins for short works where it undergoes sweating, and the prunes are taken from under dried fruit to taken up by the drier fruits, re-squalized the product as regards moisture content.

Before being packed for shipment prunes are processed by being immersed for about a minute in water brought to the boiling point. This processing sterilizes the fruit softens it and gives it a quite appetizing color. It is then packed while still hot into paper-lined boxes and is pressed down firmly by means of a press.

LARGE CATTLE SHIPMENT LEAVES WEST FOR EXPORT

In point of numbers as well as in quality, the finests shipment of export cattle to leave the West for the Old Country, will clear from Montreal this week. The shipment consisting of 614 head was shipped by the ranchers of Senator P. In The Nation's Parliament

(In The Montreal Witness)

The week just passed has been one of the most sensational the good old capital city has witnessed for many a day. Beauharnois was the cause it. G. Brewery boomed along with the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, only to come unstuck in the end. Then there was the Customs scandal, for those poor chaps rarely have money to spend on anything, but they do love to read about it. And India rubber idol on the quay." And the Liberals cornered in the neighborhood of six or seven thousand votes. Yes, it was a sensational week for us with a contribution of Senator Beauharnois to the Conservative party. Mr. Asod, however, testified that he never made any contribution that this was for the Conservative party of the province of Quebec. He gave a very mysterious contribution of a thousand and twenty thousand dollars in bonds to the Conservative party of the province of Quebec. This was given to one, John Aird, a friend of Senator Beauharnois, for the evening to the evidence of Mr. Sweezey, it was given as a contribution to the Conservative party of the province of Quebec and for the use in the province of Quebec and for this there was

The market is decidedly dull and slow with trading unorganized and draggy. Salesmen are unable to clean up their offerings and have quite a few cattle still left over from last week's receipts. Prices are showing a lower tendency, especially heavy and particularly the plain kinds. Farmers would be well advised to keep back any cattle except those that absolutely have to be marketed as buyers are indifferent in their attitudes excepting for really choice cattle and medium to best heifers.

The bulk of the good to choice steers and heifers are selling from $4.25 to $4.75; medium kinds $3.75 to $4; common to fair $2.50 to $3.50. Good butcher cows $3 to $3.25, common up to medium $2 to $2.75, canners and cutters $1 to $2, bulls $1.50 to $2.50.

Any good quality stockers are finding a fairly ready outlet but common kinds are inclined to be slow in moving. Stocker steers and heifers are selling from $3 to $3.75, cows $2.25 to $2.50.

Calf market is again lower. Bulk of the good calves selling from $4.50 to $5 with common to medium at $3 to $4.50.

Hog market unsettled with buyers taking an air this week and unable to establish a market as re-weighs have been very light. Buyers are asking $6.00 at the country points but are unwilling to pay this for the hogs. Bacon hogs delivered at the packing plants are being discounted 50c per hundred. The following are the rule on the off-grade hogs: Sows 25 per cent off; extra heavies $4 flat; roughs $ 1 flat; No. 1 sows $ 1 flat; feeders and all other sorts 3c flat, stags 3c flat.

Sheep and lamb market decidedly slow and lower. Lambs quoted at $6 to $6.25, yearlings $5.50 to $4 and ewes $3 to $3.50.

SNOW AND EAGLES NEAR JASPER LODGE

Hikes into the mountains from Jasper Park Lodge are in vogue for the season. Recently two Alpinists followed the trail over Whistler Mountain, through the Alpinod to-ses to Indian Ridge at an altitude of almost 9,000 feet. They report that snow is still waist deep in patches at 8,000 feet. Several herds of mountain goat and a large bald-headed eagle were sighted.

Change In The Wheat Pool Policy

Following a meeting of the delegates of the Alberta Wheat Pool, the Board of Directors announce a modification of the growers' contract and a new policy of agreements effective from July 30th, 1931, to the end of the present contract covering the marketing of the crops of 1931 and 1932.

The Pool member will be given the option:—

1. Of delivering his wheat on the understanding that accepting the provisional initial payment and participating in the final payments which may accrue from the pooling thereof, or

2. Of disposing of his grain entirely, the purchase price to be paid to him in cash on delivery.

Pool members will be given the option:—

1. Of delivering his wheat on the understanding that accepting the provisional initial payment and participating in the final payments which may accrue from the pooling thereof, or

2. Of disposing of his grain entirely, the purchase price to be paid to him in cash on delivery.

One of the methods provided by the Canada Grain Act and obtainable from any market point for same. Any portion of a member's delivery may be sold for cash provided said entirely for cash.

The new policy comes into effect at once and members are now at liberty to select the above mentioned methods. As the disposal of any grain from the 1930 crop which is still undelivered is prohibited and such grain must be delivered.

Full information will be given upon application to the Pool Office.

The adoption of this policy means no deduction for elevator reserve, commission, storage or for re-payment to supply on the 1929 overdraft account will be taken from the proceeds of any wheat delivered by Pool members either for pooling or cash during the period of the 1931 crop year. Satisfactory arrangements have been agreed upon with the Government of Alberta for the re-payment over a period of years of the 1929 over-payment. This makes it possible for the Alberta Pools to make this year without taking deductions, for same from the 1931 crop.

The extremely low price of grain together with the urgent need for cash throughout the country makes it imperative that the grower get every possible cent for his product hence the decision not to take deductions.

The desirability of growers delivering every possible bushel of grain in Pool elevators is emphasized in view of the fact that members early delivered over eight million dollars in these facilities and have built up an efficient elevator system that to secure full advantage of the earning capacity of this system it becomes necessary to handle the largest possible volume of grain. The policy of service under which the Alberta Pool elevator system is operated eliminates any possibility of accounting revenues which might be collected were the system operated for profit. It will be obvious that the greater the volume handled through the elevators, the smaller the cost per bushel.

The Central Canada Pool will not be operating this year but wheat coming will be handled by the Pool elevator system on a commercial basis, full cash payment being made for same during the year.

More Eggs Per Hen

There is much of interest for Canadian farmers in the record of egg production in Belgium during the past fifteen years.

Just prior to the war Belgium imported 500,000,000 eggs a year; at the present time she exports a large proportion despite the fact that her population has increased from 7,000,000 to 8,000,000. Home consumption has increased from 1,000,000,000 to about 1,500,000,000 eggs or 60 per cent.

The remarkable change in egg production has been brought about not so much by increasing the number of laying hens as by the increase in average production which has taken place.

Poultry flocks in pre-war days were estimated at around 11 and a half hens per flock, today they are estimated at some 25 millions. But this increase alone would not be sufficient to account for the increase in egg production. As a matter of fact the average production per bird is the important factor, before the war this was 80 eggs per bird while today it is estimated at 160.

While this shows what Belgium has done it is interesting to note that the average of production in Canada in the better flocks now raises around 120 eggs per bird. God as this is it can, in the opinion of poultry experts, be materially improved.

Improvement in individual production per bird is the outstanding objective a fall the poultry improvement work being carried out by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Canada leads the world in the development of breeding for production and quality under Record of Performance for poultry. There is no longer any doubt of the value of home trap-nesting records and pedigree breeding as verified through official supervision while proof of the practicability of this system is found in its rapid growth and by world wide acceptance of the records so made as a basis of sale for pedigreed stock.

It is through Record of Performance and the associated policies of flock approval, cockerel approval and approved hatcheries that the high power blood lines being built up by this practical breeding work are being passed along to benefit farm flocks generally throughout Canada.

Complete information with respect to entry under record of performance can be obtained by application to the Poultry Division of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TO MY SUCCESSOR

By Louis E. Thayer

When it is hard I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know;
To the fellow who's going to take my place when his time for me to go.

I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be, and I've wished I could take his hand,
Just to whisper, "I wish you well, old man," in a way that he'd understand.

I'd like to give him the cheering word that I've longed at times to hear;
I'd like to give him a warm hand-clasp whenever a friend seems near.

I'd interest my knowledge by short hand work, and I wish I could pass it on
To the fellow who'll come to take my place some day when I am gone.

Will he see all the old mistakes I've made and profit by them, I wonder now?
Will he be a man or a quitter when he comes to the thing called Row?

Will he ever guess the tears I've shed or the heartaches which they have cost?
Will he gaze through the failures and fruition toll the underlying plan,
And catch a glimpse of the real intent and the heart of the unpolished man?

I dare to hope he may pause some day, as he talks as I have, wrought,
But I've only the task itself to leave with the cares for his to face,
And never a cheering word may be given to the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your health old chap I'll drink as a bridegroom to his bride—
I leave an unfinished task for you, but God knows how I have tried.
I've dreamed dreams that never will do, but never a one came true,
And my prayer today is that all the dreams may be realized in you.

And we'll meet some day in the great unknown—not in the realm of space;
You'll know my clasp as I take your hand, and see in my face
You'll know my clasp as I take your hand, and see in my face
That all our failures will be aqueous in the light of the new found dawn—
I'm drinking your health, old chap, when I take my place when I am gone.

Children Victims Of New York Gang Machine Gun Fire

Five Youngster Playing on Pavement Shivered Under Hail of Bullets Aimed Our Rails By Uptown Council In Session.

New York.—An underworld vengeance spend with a machine gun, mowed down five children at play, but none was killed in an upper East Side street Tuesday night.

Council down East 93rd Street in a hearing var the executioners turned a spray of bullets toward the sidewalk where their intended victim was waiting, and the children were hit instead.

The wounded were Salvatore Vasaio, 5, shot in the left arm, left leg and left side of his neck and face; believed to be in a dying condition in hospital; Alfred Bonfiglio, 5, shot in the right thigh; Michele Bartolomeo, 5, shot twice in the back and in critical condition; Samuel Devito, 5, shot in the left leg, attended at a hospital and expected to go home, and Florence D'Amelio, 13, shot in the right shoulder, also expected to go home after being attended.

The police attributed the outbreak to a beer war among rival Harlem gangs of bootleggers.

The neighborhood, a crowded tenement section, a short way from the Harlem River, was thrown into an uproar by the shooting.

In the confusion the fleeing car carrying three or four gunmen escaped.

The car had pulled concealed in a point near the curb when suddenly the machine gun began to spray the playing children, busy with their games on the sidewalk and pavement, some the chatter of the machine gun.

Wrapped Bodies

One red-headed youngster, about seven was hoping a homemade kite in the air when he was hit. Another, on the stand. He went down flat on his face, escaping the hail of bullets made over his head.

As the scan marked for death was Joseph Rao was not hit.

Policeman James Lee, turning off a tenement nearby, heard the burst of machine gun fire and ran to the scene.

Frightened children were sobbing and screaming as they picked up the wounded and frantic parents seeking their own youngsters.

Parts Played By Members Of Upper House Condemned

Action by Government to Provide Development of Project in Manner Back to Serve Dominion Asked—R. B. Bennett Hold Truth Is Known.

Ottawa.—Action by the Parliament of Canada to procure the development of the Beauharnois project in such a manner as will best serve the people of the Dominion is urged in the report of the select committee of the House of Commons which investigated this undertaking. Such action should not prejudice the rights of the province of Quebec, the report says, but the Dominion and the provincial authorities must ensure that the evidence from the various bank offices.

R. O. Sweezey, stated the report, submitted in his evidence that he was responsible for contributions for political purposes aggregating $884,000. This amount included $50 000 paid to John Aird, jr. Of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, for company funds and the balance was raised by Mr. Sweezey personally. Mr. Sweezey refused, however, to report, that he contributed personally $50 000 to the Liberal party, where around $600,000 to $700,000."

"This large sum was paid to Sir Henry Thornton," the report found.

The report went on to return the evidence in regard to campaign funds given by Mr. Sweezey. It also mentioned the statement that the amount received by Senator Raymond Dandurand from in the neighborhood of $200,000.

—o—

Condemnation

Condemnation of the part played by Senator Raymond Dandurand, Hon. Senator Wilfrid Laurier Mr. Lemieux, Montreal, and criticism of Premier Taschereau, Quebec, was contained in the report of the royal, constituted striking points in the report.

Dealing with prominent figures in the Beauharnois negotiations, the committee suggested that R. A. C. Henry, vice-president and general manager, be seen to fit the proper persons to continue in the management of the Beauharnois scheme if Mr. O. Sweezey, president, was dealt with at length in connection with campaign fund contributions and the declaration was made that he in association with H. B. Gerlich, and at least two other unnamed directors "was the instrument for the contribution of $350,000 of the corporation's funds was misused, so he alleges for campaign purposes."

Personal contributions by Mr. Sweezey to campaign funds which, he alleges changed, according to the evidence, amounted to approximately $884,000, were also special reference. The committee found that no promise was made that the personal subscriptions were because of the influence of Mr. Sweezey in any particular party, and he was of the opinion that they were shareholding wrongfully and needlessly made for the express purpose of obtaining favorable consideration of the company's position in the matter of entrance," stated the report.

Mr. Gerlich, as well as Mr. Henry, according to the report, was involved in the "misuse of company funds for campaign purposes."

Evidence given by J. B. Hunter, chief accountant of public works, and Kenneth M. Cameron, chief engineer of that department, was considered satisfactory. The evidence of neither of these officers "appears to be given in the manner which one might expect from departmental officials," the report stated.

No evidence was adduced, the committee found, to indicate that any of the $125,000 paid in bonds to John Aird, jr., Toronto reached any political organizations or person authorized to receive campaign funds. The report went at length into the transaction whereby Mr. Gerlich at the direction of Mr. Sweezey, paid $125,000 to John Aird. After reviewing the evidence the committee stated that Mr. Aird instead of being a mere "conduit" for the transaction, was actually a personal one. The statement of Mr. Aird, the committee regretted, was rather vague in the evidence from various bank officials.

R. O. Sweezey, stated the report, admitted in his evidence that he was responsible for contributions for political purposes aggregating $884,000. This amount included $50 000 paid to John Aird, jr. OH WHY I LEFT MY HAME?

(Words by Robert Gilfillan in Lyric Scots of Scotland. Music by Peter McLeod.)

Oh why I left my hame?
Why did I roam the deep?
Oh, why I left the land
Where my forefathers sleep?
I sigh for Scotia's shore,
And I gaze across the sea,
But I canna get a blink
O' my ain countrie.

The pain-tree waveth high,
And fair the myrtle spreads,
And to the Indian land
The bulbul sweetly sings;
But I dinna see the broom
Wi' its tassels on the lea,
Nor hear the linties's sang
On the ain countrie.

Oh, here an Sabbath bell
Awakes the Sabbath morn,
Nae song of reapers heard
Among the yellow corn;
For the tyrant's voice is here,
And like wind of the north
Gar the sun o' freedom shine
In my ain countrie.

There's nae luve for every woo
And a hailie for every pain,
But the first joys o' our heart,
They never back again;
There's a knack upon the dewy
And a tear upon the e'e,
But—the weary nicht returns
To thee ain countrie.

Mrs. J. T. Thorne, and baby daughter, of Lacombe, are visiting Mrs. Thorne's sister, Mrs. Mal Brown for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCollum and daughter, of Saskatoon, spent a few days this week with them. Mrs. McCollum is a sister.

Mr. Vic Brown of the Royal Bank at Brooks, is spending his holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Brown.

Mr. Forrest Boggs, of Innisfail, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Railway Main Street. Mr. Boggs is a member of the C. P. R. Stettler, Alberta Avenue. Mrs. Rob Street to Saunders Street and Stettler Avenue, Main Street to C. N. R. Station.

Mr. A. M. Matheson of Edmonton is holding her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matheson, Stettler, Alberta Avenue, and also her brother Mr. Jim. McDonald of Stettler.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller and family, of Regina, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Jairet. Mr. Miller is Loan Inspector for the Royal Loan Company, and is combining business with pleasure.

The cellar on the site of the old Dominion Hotel has been filled in, and the ground will be prepared for the erection of a building. This will later should be turned over to the Horticultural Society for demonstration purposes.

The Stettler Kiki Band have been requested to play a concert in front of the Municipal Hospital, on Saturday evening, commencing at 8.30 p.m. and to be over by 9.30 seriously ill at that time, the Band will play in the band stand on Main Street.

Mr. Bill Chapman has taken a lease from the C. P. R. of the five sections of grazing lands in the hills west of Penn and has 300 head of steers in the range. Mr. Chapman has made several trips to the Penn district during the past few months where he has a number of the horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Skinner of Rashew had a serious accident on the Main Highway near Wetaskiwin last week when the steering gear on the car went wrong, and the car headed in the ditch, overturning on several times. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner were severely cut around the face and hands, and Mrs. Skinner required several stitches.

Stettler baseball team lost out to Wetaskiwin at Camrose baseball tournament last week by the score of 9 to 1. Stettler found Mix, the Wetaskiwin pitcher, hard to solve them. Bozzenan hit a home run in the last ball that was one of the few hits made. Rev. J. O. Goddard acted as umpire for the tournament. Cameron was the leading batter having out Pencils 2 to 1 in the final game with Camrose yesterday.

Mr. Levi Chandler, a former teacher at Silver Prairie and Viney Ridge schools, was drowned at Cooking Lake on Tuesday, July 28. Mr. Chandler was attending summer school at Edmonton and had spent the day at Cooking Lake, where he was accidently drowned, and presumably had taken cramps. His many friends in this district will regret very much to hear of his untimely death.

The weather this week has been particularly favorable for the growing crops. For several days the weather has been hot, the thermometer reaching from 86 to 90 in the shelthouse. On Monday morning there was a heavy rainfall, amounting to .72 inches, and the total for July has been 1.66 inches. Added to the June rainfall we have had nearly 3 inches for the two months. There is a heavy stand of hay and the crops are also making rapid progress.

A news dispatch was published in the Calgary Herald of July 30th to the effect that Mr. W. B. Gray of Stettler, had been given a special grant of $200 for his services as Dominion Lands Agent for the past twenty-five years. Dating from 1906, Mr. Gray has been practically the present lands over the district mentioned but the record of his services was placed before parliament by the Hon. Charles Stewart, formerly minister of the interior, with the above results. It is quite likely that when time and funds permit Mr. Bozzenan will be given an extra grant.

Tree cutting on the By-law 2—gravelling the town streets, took place last Monday with the result that the streets on the north side are lighted. Notwithstanding the increase in taxes for 1931, the ratepayers are anxious to have the side streets gravelled in this manner, and the main highway, and they are willing to take on a little extra expense to have this done. The experience with gravelled highways has been satisfactory with dust being decreased there very favorably during the present season when the dirt roads were often almost impassable owing to the heavy rain. The assessment for 1931 amounts to about $6,000.00, and the streets to be gravelled include Main Street from the corner of Alberta Avenue to the C. N. R. Railway; Main Street to the corner of Alberta Avenue; Alberta Avenue from Main Street to Saunders Street and Stettler Avenue; Main Street to C. N. R. Station.

Botha News

The rain on Monday was most welcome, and although it was two days previous local pool pulled the moisture from the soil on a surprising manner. Summer fallow was looking fine and the growing crop is a hard task.

Mrs. Frank Meadows and children, of Stettler, are visiting Mrs. Meadows' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant Prairie. They went up with the Van Kleet family a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. D. L. Sutton is in Edmonton working on the High Level Bridge.

Mrs. Robert Grant, Mrs. Meadows and Ryerstone accompanied the Kiki Band to Red Deer last week where they played. The Kiki Band also played at Byrnan Lake on Sunday and will play in the band stand on Main Street.

When work was started on the Dominion Hotel it was discovered that a report concerning conditions was immediately phoned to Mr. Drinnan at Gadsby, and for what the report was to be. The report was to be that the cellar was in good condition, but apparently this will be cheaper to fill in than to move rather than to dig a new cellar. The old cellar was filled with water under the bridge in 7 or 8 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bertrand and children of Edmonton, are visiting old friends and relatives. Bertha, Bryan Mayed for a more extended visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bozzenan hit a home run in the last ball that was one of the few hits made. Rev. J. O. Goddard acted as umpire for the tournament. Cameron was the leading batter having out Pencils 2 to 1 in the final game with Camrose yesterday.

HALKIRK NEWS

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of the president, Mrs. L. Bolland on Thursday afternoon, July 23rd, and report a good attendance of members and a considerable sum of number of visitors. Three new members were added to the list. The afternoon was enjoyed by all present by every one.

We are sorry to report that Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McPhee were called to Birch Hills, Saskatchewan, on account of the illness of Mrs. McPhee's father, formerly of Halkirk, is serious ill. We hope to hear shortly of his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Percy Goshby, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Meadows on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Cullen and daughter Miss A. L. Peden, of Paradise Valley.

The regular meeting of the Halkirk Ladies' Aid will be held at Stanley Pair. All report a good time.

The Halkirk Ladies Aid Collect who have been attending Train Lake and Sylvan Lake and Buffalo Lakes spent Thursday afternoon at the Bennerey home, previous to leaving for their homes in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bird and daughter and Gordon Bird are visiting friends at Arrowwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Derr and Mr. and Mrs. Bolland spent a very pleasant Sunday at Sylvan Lake.

Halkirk Baseball nine expect to go to Camrose on the 10th taking part in the tournament there when they hope to bring home the honors. Best of luck, boys.

Mr. George Riles, our local pest master, attended the Pest Masters' Convention, Edmonton on Wednesday evening, reporting a real good time.

It is with very deep regret we record the death of one of our oldest of our early settlers in Halkirk for a period of years, Mrs. Della G. Upshiw. Mrs. Upshiw, who haven't been enjoying very good health for some time, had been confined to bed for a couple of weeks, and was accompanied by her nurse, Avis Hawk, when she passed away at 8.45 p.m. Her many friends who were hoping the trip would help Mrs. Upshiw, were very grieved to hear of her very sudden demise.

Mr. W. Miller left Friday p. m. on a business trip to Mexico.

HUGE MAGNET REDUCES PUNCTURE POSSIBILITIES

(United States Paper)

If motorists who are used to getting punctures on United States Highway No. 31 between Fargo and Hillsboro wonder why it is that recently their tire troubles are not so numerous, the reason can be easily explained.

This week a state operated truck equipped with a monster magnet made the last two trips between Hillsboro and Fargo and succeeded in the gathering of 450 pounds of iron of all sorts and sizes.

The truck which was unloaded at Hillsboro and the vehicle proceeded to relieve the highways between Hillsboro and Grand Forks of puncture-producing material.

Laws Against Narcotics Making Many Criminals

That there are laws whose chief effect is to increase crime need not be argued with anyone who remembers the late unlamented Dominion Temperance Act. That our narcotic laws may have the same tendency is a natural inference from what Inez Isaac Alexander, of Detroit Waste, discussed by Dr. Benjamin Karpman in the American Mercury. As an eminent psychiatrist coming into contact with narcotic addicts Dr. Karpman speaks with authority on this subject. His main conclusion is that before the passage of the Harrison Anti-Narcotic Act the Federal law dealing with the traffic in drugs, addicts were few and comparatively harmless. As a result of that law they have become numerous and a menace to society. His contention is that the law ought to be abolished and the narcotic drug problem turned back to the doctors in whose hands it was before the legislative interference. In short, drug addiction should be regarded as a disease, and the proper people to prescribe for it are those who have been trained to cope with disease.

While it is admitted that although there may have been addicts like Coleridge and De Quincey, who were men of genius, and who may or may not have been stimulated by the drugs they used, the general effect of drugs is baneful. The fact remains that those injured by them were the individuals concerned. Drug using was not a social influence. The drug user was not, formerly a criminal. He did not have the craving, the power of mental concentration of the determination which are necessary to the increased amount of crime. His whole thoughts were occupied with getting the day's supply of his drug. Since in these days drugs were cheap enough and commodity dispersed by doctors and chemists the average addict, even while incapable of earning large wages, had yet a sufficiency to buy the small quantity he required. Thus dead he was no more a menace to society than a hibernating bear. There was no noticeable increase in drug users in those days, for addicts did not need to make converts. Then came the Harrison Act, medicinally drugs became scarce and costly. There followed automatically an epidemic of breaking into drug stores and physicians' offices where the addicts knew they might gain relief from the torments that could no longer be legally approved. This was becoming aided by an outbreak of forgeries, or orders upon druggists to which the names of doctors were signed by the addicts. Some few doctors also found themselves aided of the law. They had patients whom they felt should be supplied with the drug even if in lessening doses. They chose to acknowledge their duty to their patients rather than their duty to the state. In consequence scores of them were sent to jail. Drug users began to be found out and heavily fined into prisons. Here their common necessities drove them into a kind of brotherhood. They began to share their recognized dope with each other, and exchanged information as to where the supply could be replenished. Hence there grew up a kind of orderly or organization which did not exist before, when each drug user was ashamed of his vice and reticently remained mute about it.

Men in prison noting the elation that possessed the drug users after they had secured a supply were curious and anxious to find out the thing that would give them even for a short time a sense of comfort and importance which dope bestows upon its victims. Hence the vice was spread as it never spread before, and generally in the class already recognized as criminals. In another respect also the law increased the evil. The drug user who could not get his dope cheaply will not commit a crime to get it. The drug user may make him a liar and a thief but if had not before that made him a criminal. But when the source of supply dried up the user would stop at no violence to procure it. Then it began to happen, that things, temporarily inspired by the use of drugs, were done, increased up their nerve and their courage, and those murders which would either provide them with drugs directly or provide them with the large sums of money that later necessary for their purchase.

But Dr. Karpman says that on the whole the Volstead Act has produced more desperate criminals than the Harrison Act if it has but produced so many. The liquor-begotten criminals are ready for wholesale crimes of violence, for they are criminals for gain. The addict on the other hand, wants only the money that will supply him with the drug and if he can pick up a few fifty dollars a day this will be enough for his modest needs. He has not the mentality to gain largely for the future, though he is keen enough when his daily ration is threatened or withdrawn. A large part of the present prison population of the United States consists of drug addicts, and for every addict in prison there are many more outside according to Dr. Karpman. The habit is spreading far and wide, pervading all strata of society from the workingman to the bookkeeper and from preacher to the movie actor. The writer says with confidence that unless some drastic reform is undertaken in the near future, we shall soon have the children using drugs. Indeed some are using them already.

Why Roumanian Queen Visited United States

If any one is curious as to the reason Queen Marie of Roumania visited the United States, and has evidently Canada — a few years ago he should read the series of articles which Konrad Bercovici is writing for the Outlook. If he does not like the Queen Marie he should certainly read them, for Mr. Bercovici does not like her either and continues to give her majesty many a nasty knock. Our own view of visiting monarchs is one can view ourselves mentally so long as they come that is enough. As regards Queen Marie's visit to this continent the memory that remains most poignant with us is that at the banquet arranged for her in Buffalo Mayor Schwab was not present. This fact was dinned into us and all other radio listeners by the announcer who seemed to think that no banquet even that graced by the presence of royalty could be complete without the presence of Mayor Schwab. We have never noticed since on this score And would never miss Mayor Schwab from any banquet.

At the heart of the Queen Marie's visit to the United States was Queen Marie herself. Mr. Bercovici pictures her as the born coquette and Mr. Bercovici is an authority on that from being a gentleman of the old school. Besides the Queen Marie's own daughter, the Queen of Jugoslavia, is the same age as the International Border line west of Cuttis, Alberta, and extending north west to Macleod, Calgary and Canmore, then north east to Rhein, Consort and into Saskatchewan near Wilkie; from here the line runs to Kyder and then Southern turning south east and through Dana, Lemsden, Rosthern, Grenfell and then south to the International Boundary last west of Estevan.

While all this area will not be devastated with pale western cutworm it is quite probable that a portion of Alberta and Saskatchewan as roughly enclosed by a line drawn at the International Border east west of Cuttis, Alberta, and extending north west to Macleod, Calgary and Canmore, then north east to Rhein, Consort and into Saskatchewan near Wilkie; from here the line runs to Kyder and then Southern turning south east and through Dana, Lemsden, Rosthern, Grenfell and then south to the International Boundary last west of Estevan.

While all this area will not be devastated with pale western cutworm it is quite probable that a portion of Alberta and Saskatchewan will be heavily infested with this pest. Just what portion cannot be generally stated within this boundary area as some districts will be very heavily infested and the farmer will suffer very severe. Generally speaking the south west corner of Saskatchewan and the south east corner of Alberta will have the least trouble while the heaviest infestation will be found somewhere over an area with a one hundred mile radius from Regina, Saskatchewan. Other districts reclaim damage will centre on Saskatoon, Rosetown, and Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, and on Lethbridge and Drumheller, Alberta.

HOW TO CONTROL THE PALE WESTERN CUTWORM.

There is at present no adequate method of controlling the pale western cutworm so as to reduce the numbers below the danger point. The most agreed almost entirely on weather conditions during 1932. No method of cultivation, no poisoned bait or seed treatment has yet been found that will successfully destroy the cutworms after they have once been laid in the soil.

The Only Control At Present is To Be Sure That Some Fields Are Not Suitable For The Moths When Eggs Are Being Laid.

When laying eggs the female moth seeks areas where The Soil Surface is Loose And Dusty. Any field, road or pasture where the top quarter inch of surface is dusty during the egg laying period may receive thousands of eggs which will hatch into cutworms the next spring. On the other hand, any field which is not touched in any way and which has received sufficient rainfall to form a light crust over the surface will be free of pale western cutworms the next spring Provided The Crust Is Not Disturbed Between August 1st and September 15th.

Anything which tends to disturb the crust will result in cutworms. Cultivation, harvesting, walking across the field, allowing stock to run on it, or the action of heavy winds, may destroy this crust and allow the moths to lay their eggs. Even in some instances of ground squirrels being so numerous as to break up a light crust and cause the infestation to be severe in fields that were otherwise safe.

There is some confusion regarding what is meant by the term "crust." Some farmers have the idea that the soil must be soaked and baked hard while others think that the light crust which is cracked is all that is necessary. Experiments carried out differently but all types of soil when packed sufficiently to settle the dust form a crust on the surface. The moths do not lay their eggs in the cracks in the crust. If the field surface is such that there is no loose dust, and it remains that way through August and the first half of September very few eggs will be laid.

DO NOT TOUCH SUMMER FALLOW AFTER AUGUST 1st—

The best method of securing a crop during years of cutworm outbreaks is to Seed Only Summer Fallowed Fields Which Have Been Well Cultivated. Land which is being summer fallowed should be kept free of weeds until the last of July and Then Left Entirely Alone. Any showers which occur during the first week of August will tend to crush the soil surface. Weed growth may start after August 1st but will seldom reach a point of seed production by September 15th after that date the weeds can be cultivated without fear of cutworm infestation. No attempt should be made to remove weeds by hand nor should the summer fallow be used as a pasture during that time. Nothing should be done to disturb the soil surface in any way between August 1st and September 15th.

CUTTING LATE CROPS OR GREEN FEED—

Fields which are to late crops or green feed should be left until on or near September 15th before being harvested as possible. If there has been sufficient rainfall to penetrate to the soil surface and form a firm crust each fields will not be suitable for egg laying and will be safe to seed the next spring.

There were some cases this season where cutworms infested such fields. This was found to be due to the very heavy growth which prevented the light showers from creating the soil surface.

SEEDING FALL RYE.

Fall rye can grow on summer fallow land provided it is seeded before August 1st or after September 15th. The Pale Western Cutworm Will Destroy Fall Rye that is seeded during the ege laying period. Many fields of fall rye were seeded last August were destroyed this season after the rye had started to head out.

INFORMATION.

For detailed information on the pale western cutworm write to the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge Alberta; Saskatoon or Indian Head, Saskatchewan; Treesbank, Manitoba, or the Provincial Department of Agriculture at Regina or Edmonton.

MARKETS

EXAMINER'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF WESTERN MARKETS

Thursday, July 23rd, 1931.

CATTLE

BEEF—Trading on the market at Calgary has been somewhat on the slow order during the past week, with prices easier. Choice heavy steers brought $4.00-$4.50; choicest light $4.00-$4.25; good $3.75-$4 and medium $3.25-$3.50. Common $2.50 @ $3. Choice heifers brought $4.25 @ $4.50, while good kinds made from $4@$4.25. Choice cows went over scales at $3@$3.25, good $2.75@$2, medium $2.50@$2.75, common $2@ $2.50; canners and cutters $1@$2. Choice bulls brought $2@$2.25, medium $1.50@$1 and canners from $1 up. Choice light calves sold at $5 @ $6.50 with common $3@$4. FEEDERS and STOCKERS—Trading in this section of the cattle market has been on the quiet side lately. Feeder steers made $3.25@ $3.75; stock steers $3@$3.75; stock heifers $2@$3.50 and stock cows at from $2.50@$3.25.

BEEF—On the Edmonton market a slow trade has prevailed while the prices were easy. Choice heavy steers brought $4.50@$4.75; choice light $4@$4.25; good $3.50@$4; medium $3@$3.25; common $2.50@$3.00. Choice heifers went over the scales at $4.50@$4.75; good $4@$4.25. Choicest cows brought $3@$3.25, good $2.75@$3.00, medium $2.50@$2.75, common $2@$2.25, canners and cutters $1@$2. Choice bulls brought $2@$2.25, medium $1.50@ $1.75, common $1@$1.50, canners $1 and under. Choice calves sold at $5@$6.50, common $3@$4 and STOCK—Choice $2@$3.75; stock steers $3@$3.75 and stock heifers $2.50@$3.50, stock cows from $2.50@$3.25.

HOGS

Prices on the Calgary market ex-ler. Bacon offerings brought $7.50@ selects, $6 and butchers $7 off cars.

At Edmonton prices were lower this week with sales being reported $7 below, $6 and butchers $6.50@$6.75, fed and watered.

SHEEP

Lambs at Calgary brought $6@ $6.50 this week while yearlings sold at $4@$4.75 and ewes $2@$2.

Prices at Edmonton were easier with lambs bringing $5@$6, ewes $2@$3.

GRAIN

$2@$3, yearlings $4@$4.50.

Prices on the market at Winnipeg were lower on Wednesday owing to lack of buying power. Offerings were not large but it required very free supplies to drop values. Closing prices were from 3-8 to 3-4 cents lower.

CRAM — BUTTER — MILK CREAM

Cream — Delivered at Stettler, special 1c; first 1c; second 1c at the country points and centralizers. Prices: No. 1 patrons basis 20c; No. 2c and No. 3 patrons 2c. DAIRY BUTTER—Offerings in this market heir liberal but quality of some supplies very poor. Good butter of fancy table grade finding ready demand but other grades slow. Prices unchanged with jobbing table 18c; No. 1 fc and No. at fc. MILK—Receipts holding up very well despite hot weather. Grade fairly good. Considerable surplus over requirements. Quoting $1.30@$1.60 per 100 pounds basis 3.5.

POULTRY — EGGS

POULTRY—Broiler receipts are fairly plentiful but food shipments on light order with latter block being in fairly good condition but the former lacking in weight. Trading rather slow as hotels and restaurants only limited buyers while housewives practically uninterested. Prices unchanged: Broilers 12c to 14c for over 2 pounds; and 10c under 2 pounds; fowl No. 1 over 4 lbs. 9c@ 10c; No. 1 under 4 lbs. 7c@8c; No. 2 at 5c@6c and roosters 3c. EGGS —Deliveries continue to be light while quality has declined considerable during the past few weeks owing to hot weather. Demand is moderately active owing to the low prices. Quotations unchanged with extras, 14c@15c; firsts 13c@14c and seconds 9c@10c.

HAY — FEED OATS

HAY—Very few offerings of new prairie hay arriving on the market while as yet no timothy sales have been reported. Quality of the few arrivals good. Cutting is holding back shipments. Prices unchanged with upland at $11@$11.50 and timothy $14@$16 per ton at country points. FEED OATS—The movement is fairly liberal but movement is also in keeping with the demand. Prices unchanged at 16c per bushel delivered.

BIBLES — WINE

BIBLES—Rainfall easier tone to market as far as country bidse are concerned but packer skins are kept well cleaned up. Quality of offerings very good. Calf skins are very difficult to turn over. Prices unchanged. WOOL—No change in the situation during past week in the country primarily over. Quality on the whole is good although some shipments are dirty owing to wet storms early in spring. Price unchanged at 4c per pound at the country points.

Bank Of Montreal Crop Report

Rains will be found a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports received at the Head Office of the Bank of Montreal from its Branches. Bank Branch Managers have complete and intimate knowledge of each local district and their reports dealing with crop conditions in all sections of the district is unequalled.

GENERAL

Due to favorable weather and sufficient moisture in most districts, crops are making good progress. Insects or hail, crops in those areas, or the Prairie Provinces not at present threatened with attack. Continued to make satisfactory progress during the past week. Potatoes and feed crops have improved. In all other provinces the crop generally continues in a highly favorable condition though in some districts rain is needed and in other districts, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless, very soon you know more about baby than it is today. Keep Castoria handy.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

ALBERTA—Southeastern Area. Wheat 15 per cent to 75 per cent headed and an average crop is indicated. Southwestern Area. Crops for about fifty miles northeast of Medicine Hat and some miles south of the main line of the C. P. R. are promising, but " poor elsewhere. Western Area—Crops making good progress, 85 per cent to 70 per cent headed with moisture conditions satisfactory except in southern sections is needed. Sugar beets definite a 80 per cent average crop. SASKATCHEWAN — Northern Area. Crops generally are fairly satisfactory. The Prince Albert section and the veterans' colony in the Meadow Lake district are showing rapid growth and promise good yields with coarse grains improving. Wheat is generally heading out above. Southern Area. Further precipitation is needed to permit the growth of late crops. In some districts east of the large south central area little more than seed is expected and in others feed only, while in isolated areas there will be sufficient feed for seed. MANITOBA—Wheat is practically all in head and is filling well. Satisfactory crops are indicated in scattered districts of northern and eastern areas, particularly on summerfallow. Yields generally will be light with total failures in parts of the western area. Coarse grains have improved but are light; the hay crop is light.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Cereal crops are progressing favorably, barley and oats are heading out well. Pastures and other conditions. Potatoes and other roots are making good crops. Corn looks well after favourable growing weather. Fruit trees have a good appearance, small fruits and berries. Tobacco shows good growth.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Heavy rains have delayed the wheat and the late hay harvest. Early threshing reports indicate a very satisfactory yield of fall wheat. A heavy stand of barley is ready for cutting. Root crops are showing exceptional growth over recent rains have damaged raspberries but an average yield is indicated. Grapes are heavy and tree fruits making satisfactory progress. Pastures are in above average.

MARITIME PROVINCES

Potatoes, continue to show satisfactory growth. Pasturage continues in good condition. Apples are rising up well and while some spotting is in evidence, prospects are still satisfactory.

PROVINCE BRITISH COLUMBIA

A heavy crop is being harvested under excellent conditions. Grain crops are making good progress and yields are exceptionally fine. Fall of tomatoes is expected to be above average. Root crops are making a good progress. Pasturage is still plentiful in nearly all districts.

RAM CLUB POLICY

With a view to developing uniformity in breeding on a community basis and also to improve quality and volume in the production of wool and market lambs the Department of Agriculture has instituted a ram club policy. Under the terms of this policy three members of the club may purchase and use a pure bred ram for a period of two years. The ram is supplied by the Department of Agriculture to club members at stated prices. The clubs will comprise, as far as possible, members who are coming on least breeding ewes each. The federal Department assumes any additional cost over the amount of the stated deposit and also pays the freight to the nearest railway station to the Club. Further information may be obtained by writing to the Department at Ottawa, or from the nearest field representative of the Sheep and Swine Division of the Department.

R. O. P. PROVES QUALITY

With the increasing demand for high production laying flocks the demand of Pedigreed sires is growing. Poultry farmers are realizing that the supply of high grade male birds to head breeding pens for the coming season are largely available. With the present trend toward efficiency in production the male bird plays an increasingly important part. It is the male bird more than any other single factor upon which success in breeding for production depends. It is estimated that, on a basis of seven male birds for every one hundred females, over 1,000 pedigreed cockerels will be required to meet the demand of the coming season.

BUTTER EXPORTS

The extent to which butter is again growing as a factor in the export trade of Canada is shown by the market report issued by the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch for the week ending July 4, 1931. Total exports from May 1st to July 4th this year were 83,756 packages as compared with 1,000 packages for the corresponding period last year. Receipts at Montreal for the same period totalling 261,519 packages, show an increase of 80,000 packages.

GETTING MORE MILK

The outstanding feature about corn testing as applied to dairy herds at the Illustration Stations operated under the supervision of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is the increase in production which has been made. Records kept for 10 dairy herds in Eastern Ontario for the month of December totalling 256 head, show an average production in 1930 of 1,944 pounds as compared with 7,972 pounds last year, an increase of practically 1,000 pounds during the short period under review. Not only are individual animals culled but advice as to feeding rations and the choice of stock is available through the supervisors.

DAIRY HERD PROFITS

A profit of $1,408.02 over cost of feed from a dairy herd of ten cows is an item of special interest in the annual report of 1930 for the Dominion Experimental Farm at Indian Head, Saskatchewan. This represents an average profit over cost of feed of $140.80 after the difficult conditions of last year on the prairies. The feed cost per head averaged $42.73 and on most farms practically all this cost would be grain and feed. The herd's marketing of available feeds through the dairy herd. The low producer in the record was only milked 116 days showing a profit over feed cost of $66.21, while the high producer was Tullochgorum Dorothy, in milk 333 days, showing a profit over feed cost of $371.41. The average age for the herd was 4.34 per cent.

INCREASING YIELDS

An average increase of 618 per cent. during the past six years in the egg production through the use of fertiliser is reported by the Dominion Experimental Station at Cap Rouge, Quebec. Using a mixture of 3 pounds o f nitrate of soda and 6 pounds of superphosphate per tree the largest average increase in the volume of apples per tree was for summer varieties and amounted to 1,521 per cent., while the increase for winter varieties (Fameuse) amounted to 1,140 per cent. Using 3 pounds nitrate of soda per tree only produced an average increase during the six year period of 641 per cent. This fertilizer stimulated production in the summer varieties particularly, the increase in six years for "Lowland Raspberry" being 1,979 per cent. and for "Red Astrachan" 1258 per cent.

FARM PRODUCTS TRADE

Canada's total trade in farm products (exports and imports for the year ending March 31st, 1931, amounted to $644,720,156. Of this amount $440,732,952 were imports and $200,487,502 exports. Trade with the United Kingdom amounted to a total of $213,10,800, of which $90,- 220,180 were imports and $123,074,- 611 exports. During the same period imports of farm products from the United States totalled $60,507,- 776 and exports amounted to $62,- 776,616.

HELPS IN WEED CONTROL

An interesting feature in connection with the use of commercial P. the bulk of the available supply of nitrogen, come from the flanks of R. O. P. breeders. For the most part the male birds available from the pens of breeders entered in Registration are not available at prices which will make them substantial competitors with R. O. P. breeders, while R. O. P. breeders have agreed to a large extent to supply suitable male birds for mating with breeding pens at attractive prices.

This means that the R. O. P. breeder will a flock of chicks this year is going to have a chicken to quality his male birds for something better than breeders and hatchers. It also means that with the term being out of the ten-cent pile by pedigree poultry breeding along the practical lines of Record of Performance because a much more attractive financial proposition for the farmer who is interested in poultry and has the time and disposition to give to the work the necessary amount of attention which alone brings success.

A REAL BOOST FOR R. O. P.

With the broadening out of the industrial poultry policy with the Dominion Government, Provincially and otherwise in the attention and distribution of high grade male birds in a Dominion flock improvement scheme Record Of Performance for poultry gets a real opportunity.

While the supply of pedigreed males can come from only two sources, the progeny of flocks of breeders entered in Registration are not available at prices which will make them substantial competitors with R. O. P. breeders, while R. O. P. breeders have agreed to a large extent to supply suitable male birds for mating with breeding pens at attractive prices.

This means that the R. O. P. breeder will a flock of chicks this year is going to have a chicken to quality his male birds for something better than breeders and hatchers. It also means that with the term being out of the ten-cent pile by pedigree poultry breeding along the practical lines of Record of Performance becomes a much more attractive financial proposition for the farmer who is interested in poultry and has the time and disposition to give to the work the necessary amount of attention which alone brings success.

Make Your Work Count

If the farmer is sufficiently informed on producing poultry in the doing any long-nothing on his plant at all he should make his work count by being enlisted in Record of Performance for poultry. This is a system of production recording on an efficient basis as the result of which certificates are issued for those birds which conform to requirements as to number and size of eggs laid and freedom of disqualifications for the breed.

The Department at Ottawa supplies the farmer with leg bands for his birds, with report forms, and with the services of an inspector in entering the entries, and checks any errors which may crop up in his work. All the farmer has to do is to keep his records, sending an official copy weekly to headquarters at Ottawa.

Every month for six weeks the breeder entered in R. O. P. receives a visit from an official inspector. Whose duty it is to check up on the records and work. As a regular feature of their special duties these inspectors give the breeders all the information and help possible from one such visit the farmer gets more vital and useful information about breeding stock than he obtains in any other way.

The work of organizing entries for the forthcoming year 1931-32, is now proceeding, and headquarters in the Poultry Division of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, from which a recent number of entries may be expected.

Blanching Celery

Before any blanching preparations are commenced for celery, all lateral growth should be carefully removed. Experiments have been conducted using boards, paper and soil in order to produce white, tender celery required for table use.

Boards are costly, do not result in crisp celery and the crop must be harvested at first sign of frost. Paper rots readily and is generally disinfluenced. At the Dominion Experimental Station, Brandon, blanching with soil has been most satisfactory. Although it cannot be considered an ideal celery area. With soil, celery could not be successfully built up as plants increase in size.

In using soil it is advisable to tie the tops temporarily before adding a bank of soil so that no earth falls in the centre. Leaving the plants on would result in an undesirable rub formation. Late in August the final banking is done when the soil is firmly banked with a slight slope and the plants covered to within three to four inches of the tops.

Soil blanched celery can remain in the trenches until early in October however, if unit frosts become quite pronounced—ten to twelve degrees.

NO MANSION THERE

In a mansion grand and stately,
On a wide and handsome street,
Lived a man of vast possessions
With his little daughter sweet.

He had lots in many a city,
He had houses by the score.
He had bread and rolling acres,
And a dwelling by the shore.

And he oft would tell his daughter
As she sat with wondering eyes,
Of their worth and cost of their beauty
Till the child mind almost fancied
That the stars were upon the earth
But a smile said not a country
Where her father did not own.
Farms and lands, stately mansions,
Fruits of labor he had sown.

But into this home of comfort
Came a sorrow, as a cloud—
Death will neither stay nor hurry
At the mandates of the proud.
The rich and poor, the high and lowly,
Each must answer to his call—
Enters he the meanest cottage
As he does the stateliest hall.

And this man of vast possessions
In his study chamber lay,
Resting on a bed luxurious,
Wasting by disease away.
Skilled physicians walked on him,
Leeting lips pressed cheek and brow
But the utmost skill and yearning
Could not change the verdict now.
Then, one day the learned physician
Called aside the little child,
Tenderly he stroked her tresses,
Spoke in accents soft and mild:
"Do you know, my little darling,
That your father dear, must go
To a far off distant country?
Little darling, do you know?"
Turned then the eyes with wonder
With a sudden, strange surprise,
And with tears, and fears, and trembling
To her father's side she flies.

Gently upon the bed beside him,
Lays her curly head close to his cheek,
In a sudden, fearful anguish
That would scarcely let her speak.
Then she thinks of all the mansions,
Of the lands so broad and fair,
Of the homes that must await him,
And the beauty rich and rare,
Slowly now her head she raises,
Runs she across and the door,
Once again she smiles, then laughs, darling,
Darling from her eyes a tear
As she asks in accents tender,
"Papa, tell me, I would know,
Do you own a lovely mansion
On the land where you must go?
Have you three a mansion gay?
Are the going will be pleasant,
And you need not be alone
If it is in your own mansion
In that land so vast, so fair?"

Then the sickness father faltered,
For, though he had built with care
Many fine and stately dwellings,
He had yet no mansion there.
What to him were now the acres
With their wealth of golden grain?
What to him were farms and country?
What to him were earthly gain?
What, to him, now he lay dying,
Were the many mansions here?
He must leave them all forever—
And he had no mansion there.

Printer's Ink Is a Gooey Mess

PRINTING INKS are basically a coal tar product. By addition of varnishes and dyes, by exhaustive research and the introduction of ingenious mechanical devices in publishing, printing inks are today procurable in any desired shade or tint. But to the uninitiated they are "a gooey mess."

¶ Yet this mess has enabled mankind to preserve its memories and history for posterity through the centuries; carries the Christian word in every language unto the ends of the heathen in every corner of the earth; keeps hundreds of millions of people informed every day of the vital happenings in every country in the world. It has made printing "the art preservative of all arts," by its unperishable reproductions of the world's gems of art. It is the greatest single unit in the simplification of the keeping of business records and in merchandising and education.

Breaking Brome Sod

Three methods of breaking brome grass sod have been under observation for a number of years past at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Indian Head, Saskatchewan. In the cropping system almost follows the brome and sods the wheat.

Under method number one a hay crop is first removed, then the land is plowed, disked and worked as required during the balance of the season. Over seven years past this method yielded 1.66 tons per day; 34.4 bushels of wheat and 39.3 lbs. cheds of oats. This preparation does not properly fit the land for growing a wheat crop nor does it eradicate the brome grass, and of the grass appears in the following crops. Moreover the wheat is largely pitched.

Method number two is similar to number one except that the sod is backsetted about the middle of September. The yields in this case were 1.67 tons, wheat 34.6 bushels and oats 46.5 bushels. The wheat was inferior and though the grass was much more effectively controlled than in the previous method. Nevertheless, the difficulties of the following crop was not entirely overcome.

Method number three consists of plowing in the fall, then early spring and maintaining a black fallow until the ground is frozen. The yields under this method were 2.07 tons, wheat 39.2 bushels and oats 66.4 bushels. This is the most satisfactory of the three methods. Although the wheat was pitched. Although the brome has not been controlled entirely the method has the best. Moreover throughout the entire season has proved considered preparation for the wheat crop following.

FALL FERTILIZER FOR STRAWBERRIES

The proper fertilization of a strawberry plantation may require fall applications of a commercial fertilizer. In September the strawberry plants are forming their fruit buds for next year's crop and due to this period they require good nutritional conditions to make their best effort. On land which is well supplied with fertility, particularly nitrogen, it is quite possible that further applications of fertilizer are not necessary, but very frequently a light application of a good fertilizer in late August will result in a big increase in next year's crop. An application of 200 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre, early in late August, will assist most plantations in fruit bud formation. The nitrate should be broadcast on the plants during a perfectly dry day, and immediately after the plants should be brushed by dragging a piece of matting, or a broom over them to dislodge any nitrate which may have adhered to the leaves. In this way little, if any, burning will result. The recommendation is based on experiments conducted by the Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm.

BILL GOT IN THE LEGISLATURE

I've got a letter, parson, from my son
Way out west,
And my old heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast;
To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned
Should wander from the paths of right and come to such an end.

Bill made a faithful promise and allowed
He'd build a reputation that would make us mighty proud;
But it seems as how my counsel sort o' faded from his mind.
And now the boy's in trouble of the very wurstest kind.

His letters cause no seldom that I somehow seem incensed
That Billy was a-trumpin' on a mighty rocky road;
But I never once imagined he would bow my head in shame
And in the dust would wallow his old dad's honored name.

He writes from out in Denver, and the story's mighty short.
I just can't tell his mother, it will break her poor old heart;
And so I reckoned parson, you might break the news to her—
Bill's in the Legislature, but he doesn't say what for!

ENGLISH TRADE COMMISSIONER ARRIVES FROM ENGLAND

Returning to Winnipeg after a visit to England where he went last winter to receive his instructions, and to indulge in a little holiday, W. D. Lomax, Officer in Charge of His Majesty's Trade Commissioner's Office at Winnipeg, arrived in that city last week on the lines of the Canadian National Railways.

In speaking of economic conditions in the Old Country Mr. Lomax stated that the newer industries such as automobile manufacturing concerns, are doing something under the depression much better than the older industries. He also stated that the English people are in goddessing his resources for a drive to keep the markets of the world open to English goods, and to working in closer co-operation with the scientific side of manufacturing in an endeavor to keep his products in the forefront of up-to-date commodities.

GET RID OF THE BUGS

Household insects are causing a great deal of annoyance and concern, since in homes in certain parts of the country they are increasing rapidly, reports received by entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. One such report, a correspondent reports that about the middle of July the homes in the district are infested with bed bugs, while other insect pests are also very troublesome.

One of the services of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is to assist farmers and householders in meeting problems such as this. The Entomological Branch has prepared a special bulletin dealing with bedbugs and their control, which may be available without charge to any resident of Canada. On an earlier date, Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture requesting a copy.

The Bulletin deals in a practical manner with the whole subject of bedbug control. The various classes of such insect, the habits especially, the nature of the injury each does, and the directions and methods for the eradication and control. Each type of insect pest are dealt with in a similar practical manner.

Issued by the Information Service Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE HOLLEDAYS

Geo: whist! I'm glad the holledays is come around at last.
I thought them last few days in June
Would never git a-past.

Our teacher drowned a great big sigh
As school was gittin' out.
I heard her say just kinda low:
"My gracious! I could shout."

Us kids, we yelled, you bet your life
We mighty near went crazy.
To think that exam times was done
And we could just be lazy.

Now 'spose July name 'round and August
Would keep right on, they said.
We wouldn't call that holidays,
But "holiew-days" instead.

BLESSED ASSURANCE

Blessed assurance—Jesus is mine!
Oh what a foretaste of glory divine,
Heir of salvation, purchase of God;
Born of His Spirit washed in His blood.

This is my story, this is my song,
Praising my Saviour all the day long.

Perfect submission, perfect delight,
Visions of rapture burst on my sight;
Angels descending, bring from above
Echoes of mercy, whispers of love.

Perfect submission, all is at rest,
I in my Saviour am happy and blest,
Watching and waiting, looking above,
Filled with His goodness, lost in His love.

WARMLY RECOMMENDED

Customer: "Are those eggs strictly fresh?"

Grocer: "George, just feel if those eggs are cool enough to sell you!"

TO FIX HANDLE

When an umbrella handle is loose put a little melted resin on the stick, heat over a flame and put the handle on while still hot.

Make Paving Budgets Produce More MILEAGE

Your community can afford just as much for paving. How much NEW MILEAGE results each year depends on the material used.

Concrete, by practically eliminating upkeep, makes budgets produce more NEW MILEAGE. Sums formerly spent for maintenance, refinishing, replacements, are released for the broader appreciation purpose.

Advocate concrete in your community for productive and economical road-budgeting, for safer driving, for reduced wear and tear on tires and cars, for lessened gas consumption and as an attraction to profitable tourist traffic.
